SUPREME COURT.

Business Transacted at This Morning's Session.—The Case of the Receiver of Big Cottonwood.

At this morning's session of the Territorial Supreme Court the following motions came up:

A Judgment.

Judge Anderson rendered the decision of the court in the case of James Pratt, respondent, vs. Samuel M. Jarvis, appellant, being an appeal from Judge Miner's court at Ogden. The facts were reported in the News on the argument at the case last week. This court now affirmed the order of the court below.

Postmaster's Bond.

The case of the United States, appellant, vs. Sidney Stevens et al., respondents, was, on motion up. Dwight Asbury Valentine representing the former and Lewis Rogers and Bateman the latter. The action was originally brought on the bond of an alleged defaulting postmaster for the sum of $917.22. On the 7th of September, 1891, the court directed the case to be dismissed and judgment was entered accordingly. The appeal was taken from the final judgment directing the re-instatement of the case, but imposing certain conditions, against which protest was now made.

The matter was submitted after argument of counsel.

A Question of Mining Peek.

The case of the People vs. James T. Monk, prosecuting the alleged illegal taking of ores by the defendant, as manager of Big Cottonwood mining district, was then taken up on appeal. Defendant (now appellant) was arraigned in the Third District court and pleaded not guilty. A jury was waived and the case tried by the court. He was fined $10 by Judge Zane, together with costs amounting to $16.35, and it was against this judgment that the appeal was taken. L. R. Daniel, Attorney Varian represented the People and Judge Henderson appeared for the appellant.

Summit Democrats.

The Democrats of Summit County held a mass convention at Coalville on Saturday evening. The attendance was large. Speeches were made by ex-Governor West, Hon. C. C. Richards and others.

MR. ELLIS IN THE THEATRE.

He Talks to a Large Audience on American Political Parties.

The series of lectures now being delivered at the Salt Lake Theatre by Mr. Charles Ellis is attracting wide attention. His popular last night on "American Political Parties" was the last attended of the season, the Theatre being nearly full. In the audience were several persons well known in local political and religious circles. There were present also a number of the members of the Territorial Legislature. The Union Glee Club, Mr. C. J. Thomas, leader, and twelve voices, was introduced by Mr. Ellis as gentlemen who had come from his Ogdenites to exhibit themselves or their talents and skill, but not as a desire to aid him in his wigs—an set of kitchens which all who were interested in the lectures would appreciate. The club sang "Tis day is declining" in pleasing style and the audience had good cause a second number. Then Mr. Ellis gave his lecture which was listened to with a good deal of attention. After closing the lecture the speaker announced that the subject for next Monday evening would be "The Church and the State"—covering the relation of the Church and State from Colonial times down to the present. It was also announced that the Glee Club would be present next Monday evening and possibly some instrumental music which had been volunteered, but the refusal of whom Mr. Ellis had all arranged for.

Fred Collins and Fred Hoffman are awaiting trial for petit larceny.

A Painful Accident.

A small boy of nine years met with a painful accident in our No. 14 of the Salt Lake Street Railway company, at 5:00 yesterday afternoon, near the corner of First West and First North streets. At the time and place indicated, the lad got up from his seat to accommodate a lady who had just entered the car. He remained standing on the platform for a time. After the conductor passed through the car he closed it with unusual force. Unfortunately the lad's fingers were between the door and the frame and were badly mashed. His name was not learned.

HOW TO SEE THE COUNTRY.

The Choice of Routes to Different Railroads to Reach the Country.

There is a chance of rude in the case of almost every railway, so the account of one or more, not for what it is to be seen, but for the accidents that happen to people who find themselves side is to be seen.

The Pullman car has run through such a careful some journey that it is difficult to choose, either one will do—it will take a ticket this week if all, especially on the Western North Dakota road to Asheville and the Warm Springs.

On the Queen and Crescent route one of Cincinnati is sent on the left is last so far as Hot Springs, Tennessee the scenery is for the most part on the right hand side of the cars in Chattanooga and around Lookout Mountain, though the other end of the train affords the only good view of the historic hills, these sentiment the left side is the best.

On New York Central trains leaving New York the seats on the left side of the car are the ones best for scenery along the Hudson to Albany and all the way to that city through the Mohawk valley.

On West Shore trains the very opposite seats are to be chosen, those on the right hand side afford the best views of the scenery.

On the Lehigh Valley road it is best to take a seat on the right, so far as Mauch Chunk, on the left from there to Parrtree, then on the right as far as Wilkesbarre—after that on the left.

On the Erie going west, take a left hand seat as far as Port Jervis, and on the right.

The bulk of the Baltimore and Ohio scenery is best enjoyed from the left windows from New York to Washington, also westward from the capital.

On the Pennsylvania railroad, from New York to Harrisburg, a seat on the left is best, thence to Altoona on the right, again on the left to Crestline and on the right to Pittsburg.

On the Iron Mountain route, south from St. Louis, a seat on the left side of the car will show the fine views of the Mississippi river. The great Iron Mountain and Missouri is on the west side of the track.

The Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul runs through a beautiful lake region, to be seen from either side of cars, but beautiful Lake Pepin and the Mississippi are to be seen from the right hand windows of a west bound train.

In Mexico the serpentine winding of the railroads render it impossible to offer any suggestions, but a seat on the right side of a Mexican National train bound south is the best, certainly it is between Toluca and the City of Mexico, where the grandest views are.

On the Mexican Central the best general views are on the right west as Zacatecas as far as Tajo de Nochistongo. Gives the first view of the plain and city of Mexico and the whole country from the windows on the left.—Exchange.

Parliamentary Wages.

In Germany both houses receive about $2.50 per day. In Austria the pay is about $1 per day. In Greece the members get $100 per month and the deputies $50. In France members of each house receive the same—$4 per day. In Denmark the members of lower house receive about $3.75 a day. In Belgium both members of the chamber of representatives get $4 a day. In Portugal the peers and commoners are paid the same sum, which is about $300 a year. In Spain the members of the cortes are not paid for their services, but enjoy many advantages and immunities.

In Switzerland the members of the national council get $5.20 per day and the council of state for lower house, $4.80. In Italy the members of deputies are not paid at all, but they are allowed traveling expenses and certain other privileges. Egypt is the only country where members of parliament are not only not paid, but have no special fees or privileges whatever.—Boston Transcript.

INTERESTS IN SPAIN.

The Soldiers Sent Not to Be Engaged.

LONDON, Jan. 16.—The arrangements made for a public and sympathetic procession through London, to convey the remains of the Duke of Clarence from the Great eastern to the Southwestern railway station, has been changed in consequence of the general sickness of influenza prevailing now. Queen Victoria and the Princess of Wales have been advised to remain in bed, lest the mere in consequence of their leaving the exposure of the house would probably result in a general attack of influenza. The Prince of Wales immediately gave orders that the projected military honors be abandoned. The Prince of Wales is showing greatest solicitude that the members of court should not be exposed to the unnecessary risk which the procession through London would entail and which would be certain to seriously affect the health of many of the aged courtiers. It is reported that the Prince of Wales and George of Wales was not sufficiently robust to allow his exposing himself to any way, and the Prince of Wales has decided that he will go that city through the Mohawk valley.

On West Shore trains the very opposite seats are to be chosen, those on the right hand side afford the best views of the scenery.

On the Lehigh Valley road it is best to take a seat on the right, so far as Mauch Chunk, on the left from there to Parrtree, then on the right as far as Wilkesbarre—after that on the left.

Activity in the Navy Department.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 16.—The navy department today is in a great deal of activity. The secretary had frequent consultations with his bureau chiefs, and several eight clerks that a great deal of work is being done. The greatest activity prevails in the bureau of naval intelligence, the agents of which are said to have been at work on a plan of a portable cabinet, to serve collecting all imaginable information from abroad. Through this bureau the secretary has kept himself thoroughly informed on the movements of the agents of Chile, who, it is rumored, for some time have been remitting funds for war material. A comprehensive operation now contributed by the department largely for the purpose of ascertaining just what the naval system can accomplish in the event of hostilities.
