

OGDEN DEPARTMENT

Manager: E. A. Larkin
46 8th St. Telephone 138-W.

Circulator, John J. McGregor
245 Wash. Ave. Telephone 66-2.
Office with Lambert Paper Co.

Advertisements for the Daily,
Saturday and Semi-Weekly News accepted on the same terms as at the Salt Lake office.

CONTEST OVER HORROCKS ESTATE.

Settlement Expected to the Satisfaction of All Concerned—Daughter Provided For.

DAMAGE SUIT COMPROMISED.

Mr. Frank J. Cannon Entertains Old Ladies—Primary Festival Saturday day at Lester Park.

Ogden, Weber Co., Utah, June 29.—Before Judge Howell in the Second district court all of yesterday was occupied in the hearing of the contest case of the will of the late James E. Horrocks, who died March 8, of this year. The last will and testament of deceased was filed in the district court by Mrs. Anna Martin his mother, probate. The will provided for the distribution of the estate of deceased which is valued at $15,000 to his mother, excepting $100 to be given to his 11-year-old daughter, Beatrice L. Horrocks. The testator directed that she, who was then an infant while working as a brakeman in the defendant company in the Union Pacific in this city August 26, 1902.

The case was heard in November, 1903 and the jury brought in a verdict for $12,000 in favor of the plaintiff. The defense was sustained and the case was sent up for rehearing today, but on the filing of the stipulation and its approval by the court the case was settled for the sum of $4,000.

OLD FOLKS ENTERTAINED.
Annual Tea for Old Ladies of Ogden Given by Mrs. Cannon.

A day that is enjoyed and looked forward to with the fondest anticipation by the old ladies of Ogden each year is the reception and banquet given every summer by Mrs. Frank J. Cannon, a man of numerous parlor. That day, 28 days in this year occurred yesterday, when Mrs. Cannon received and delightfully entertained about 40 old ladies of Ogden, ranging in age from 70 to 90 years. They began to arrive at the home shortly after noon, and were seated at tables in the dining room, when the men who worked some months in 1902 for the Beekley Marble company and disappeared, after drinking to excess in singing songs, short speeches, and the telling of reminiscences of their by-gone days. At 2 o'clock a bounteous dinner was served in the dining room, after which the time was spent in social chat and merrymaking.

PRIMARY FESTIVAL.
Little Folks of Weber State Given a Festival in Lester Park.

The Weber state Primary association gave a very grand reunion and picnic at Lester park Saturday July 1. The little folks from all parts of Weber county will join in a day's pleasure and feasting. A good program consisting of songs, recitations and instrumental music has been arranged, to commence at 11 o'clock, continuing in the pavilion. After its conclusion the will be had under the trees and the afternoon will be spent in dancing.

JUNE WEDDINGS.

Marriage licenses have been granted by the county clerk to the following couples:

Castle Dale, Emery Co., June 27.—Benjamin E. Tyree, 24, of Ogden, and Miss Emily Clark, 24, of Salt Lake City.

John F. McGuire of Memphis, Tenn., and Mrs. Alice M. Reilly, Oklahoma, O. T. They were married by District

TEA
Buy a lb Schilling's Best
—don't like it? It costs
you nothing.

Your money returns your money if you don't like Schilling's tea.

Judge Howell at his chambers in the county court house.

A committee of the state Butchers and Grocers' association visited Ogden last night and held a meeting with the local association, at which the latter agreed to join hands with the former for the purpose of protecting each others' interests.

PROVO DEPARTMENT.

The "News" is delivered by carrier in Provo at 5 cents per month. R. J. Dugdale, Agent.

AWAITING IDENTIFICATION.

Skeleton of Unknown Man Found on Mountain Side—Burglary at Alpine.

Special Correspondence.

Provo, Utah Co., June 28.—The remains of a man's body found in the mountains east of Provo Tuesday by the Price boys were brought down yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Rasmus Dean Strong, Sr. and Vernon H. Holloman, Jr. of Lincoln Thomas C. Granahan and Ed Jackson, Jr. both of Provo.

BURGLARY IN ALPINE.

Sheriff Harmon went to Alpine yesterday to investigate a burglary of the Chipman Mercantile company's branch store that occurred Saturday evening. He found that the burglar had entered through the front door, to which they evidently had a key, although they had broken the glass to unfasten a latch on the inside. The safe had been drilled at the lock and the door placed in it and the knob had been knocked off, but it had been held in place by the burglar apparently being frightened away before they succeeded in forcing the safe open. Sheriff Harmon believes the work is that of a man of home talent, especially as the signs were entered a few days ago and some money taken from a purse belonging to the clerk that had been placed behind the counter.

On a hillside just above the town three years ago an old man, with one or two other men, was selling pictures. He left the Grier house, where he was staying, suddenly and left an unpaid board bill.

There are strong indications that the remains are those of Tracy. The majority of the people, however, believe them to be those of a man by the name of John Johnson, who worked some months in 1902 for the Beekley Marble company and disappeared, after drinking to excess for some days. Johnson was a Scotchman, who had returned from the Klondike. He was an expert workman, and was a member of the Masonic order, and was well known throughout the country when he disappeared, but did not find him. Some of the articles and clothing brought down, it is claimed, correspond with articles owned by him and the clothing is said to be of similar material as the suit he wore. The postoffice receipt and the memorandum books are again believed to be his, but how ever think the remains are those of Johnson, the man he picked the book up on his way to the canyon or at the Grier hotel before leaving. The spot where the bones were found is in a very rocky place just south of Rock canyon, and it is believed the man, whoever he was, fell from a ledge to the place where the remains were found, and was killed in the fall. There was

GARDEN CITY NOTES.

The home of Mrs. Ida Smoot Dusenberry was broken into Tuesday night,

about 10 o'clock, and the burglar

was nothing but the skeleton left and only part of that was brought down, as the bones had been scattered and lodged in crevices of the rocks, presumably by animals and could not all be collected.

One of the pieces of clothing

was a small piece of

material.

It is believed the burglar apparently

was frightened away before they succeeded in forcing the safe open.

Sheriff Harmon believes the work is that of a man of home talent, especially as the signs were entered a few days ago and some money taken from a purse belonging to the clerk that had been placed behind the counter.

On a hillside just above the town three years ago an old man, with one or two other men, was selling pictures. He left the Grier house, where he was staying, suddenly and left an unpaid board bill.

There are strong indications that the remains are those of Tracy. The majority of the people, however, believe them to be those of a man by the name of John Johnson, who worked some months in 1902 for the Beekley Marble company and disappeared, after drinking to excess for some days. Johnson was a Scotchman, who had returned from the Klondike. He was an expert workman, and was a member of the Masonic order, and was well known throughout the country when he disappeared, but did not find him. Some of the articles and clothing brought down, it is claimed, correspond with articles owned by him and the clothing is said to be of similar material as the suit he wore. The postoffice receipt and the memorandum books are again believed to be his, but how ever think the remains are those of Johnson, the man he picked the book up on his way to the canyon or at the Grier hotel before leaving. The spot where the bones were found is in a very rocky place just south of Rock canyon, and it is believed the man, whoever he was, fell from a ledge to the place where the remains were found, and was killed in the fall. There was

GARDEN CITY NOTES.

The home of Mrs. Ida Smoot Dusenberry was broken into Tuesday night,

about 10 o'clock, and the burglar

was nothing but the skeleton left and only part of that was brought down, as the bones had been scattered and lodged in crevices of the rocks, presumably by animals and could not all be collected.

One of the pieces of clothing

was a small piece of

material.

It is believed the burglar apparently

was frightened away before they succeeded in forcing the safe open.

Sheriff Harmon believes the work is that of a man of home talent, especially as the signs were entered a few days ago and some money taken from a purse belonging to the clerk that had been placed behind the counter.

On a hillside just above the town three years ago an old man, with one or two other men, was selling pictures. He left the Grier house, where he was staying, suddenly and left an unpaid board bill.

There are strong indications that the remains are those of Tracy. The majority of the people, however, believe them to be those of a man by the name of John Johnson, who worked some months in 1902 for the Beekley Marble company and disappeared, after drinking to excess for some days. Johnson was a Scotchman, who had returned from the Klondike. He was an expert workman, and was a member of the Masonic order, and was well known throughout the country when he disappeared, but did not find him. Some of the articles and clothing brought down, it is claimed, correspond with articles owned by him and the clothing is said to be of similar material as the suit he wore. The postoffice receipt and the memorandum books are again believed to be his, but how ever think the remains are those of Johnson, the man he picked the book up on his way to the canyon or at the Grier hotel before leaving. The spot where the bones were found is in a very rocky place just south of Rock canyon, and it is believed the man, whoever he was, fell from a ledge to the place where the remains were found, and was killed in the fall. There was

GARDEN CITY NOTES.

The home of Mrs. Ida Smoot Dusenberry was broken into Tuesday night,

about 10 o'clock, and the burglar

was nothing but the skeleton left and only part of that was brought down, as the bones had been scattered and lodged in crevices of the rocks, presumably by animals and could not all be collected.

One of the pieces of clothing

was a small piece of

material.

It is believed the burglar apparently

was frightened away before they succeeded in forcing the safe open.

Sheriff Harmon believes the work is that of a man of home talent, especially as the signs were entered a few days ago and some money taken from a purse belonging to the clerk that had been placed behind the counter.

On a hillside just above the town three years ago an old man, with one or two other men, was selling pictures. He left the Grier house, where he was staying, suddenly and left an unpaid board bill.

There are strong indications that the remains are those of Tracy. The majority of the people, however, believe them to be those of a man by the name of John Johnson, who worked some months in 1902 for the Beekley Marble company and disappeared, after drinking to excess for some days. Johnson was a Scotchman, who had returned from the Klondike. He was an expert workman, and was a member of the Masonic order, and was well known throughout the country when he disappeared, but did not find him. Some of the articles and clothing brought down, it is claimed, correspond with articles owned by him and the clothing is said to be of similar material as the suit he wore. The postoffice receipt and the memorandum books are again believed to be his, but how ever think the remains are those of Johnson, the man he picked the book up on his way to the canyon or at the Grier hotel before leaving. The spot where the bones were found is in a very rocky place just south of Rock canyon, and it is believed the man, whoever he was, fell from a ledge to the place where the remains were found, and was killed in the fall. There was

GARDEN CITY NOTES.

The home of Mrs. Ida Smoot Dusenberry was broken into Tuesday night,

about 10 o'clock, and the burglar

was nothing but the skeleton left and only part of that was brought down, as the bones had been scattered and lodged in crevices of the rocks, presumably by animals and could not all be collected.

One of the pieces of clothing

was a small piece of

material.

It is believed the burglar apparently

was frightened away before they succeeded in forcing the safe open.

Sheriff Harmon believes the work is that of a man of home talent, especially as the signs were entered a few days ago and some money taken from a purse belonging to the clerk that had been placed behind the counter.

On a hillside just above the town three years ago an old man, with one or two other men, was selling pictures. He left the Grier house, where he was staying, suddenly and left an unpaid board bill.

There are strong indications that the remains are those of Tracy. The majority of the people, however, believe them to be those of a man by the name of John Johnson, who worked some months in 1902 for the Beekley Marble company and disappeared, after drinking to excess for some days. Johnson was a Scotchman, who had returned from the Klondike. He was an expert workman, and was a member of the Masonic order, and was well known throughout the country when he disappeared, but did not find him. Some of the articles and clothing brought down, it is claimed, correspond with articles owned by him and the clothing is said to be of similar material as the suit he wore. The postoffice receipt and the memorandum books are again believed to be his, but how ever think the remains are those of Johnson, the man he picked the book up on his way to the canyon or at the Grier hotel before leaving. The spot where the bones were found is in a very rocky place just south of Rock canyon, and it is believed the man, whoever he was, fell from a ledge to the place where the remains were found, and was killed in the fall. There was

GARDEN CITY NOTES.

The home of Mrs. Ida Smoot Dusenberry was broken into Tuesday night,

about 10 o'clock, and the burglar

was nothing but the skeleton left and only part of that was brought down, as the bones had been scattered and lodged in crevices of the rocks, presumably by animals and could not all be collected.

One of the pieces of clothing

was a small piece of

material.

It is believed the burglar apparently

was frightened away before they succeeded in forcing the safe open.

Sheriff Harmon believes the work is that of a man of home talent, especially as the signs were entered a few days ago and some money taken from a purse belonging to the clerk that had been placed behind the counter.

On a hillside just above the town three years ago an old man, with one or two other men, was selling pictures. He left the Grier house, where he was staying, suddenly and left an unpaid board bill.

There are strong indications that the remains are those of Tracy. The majority of the people, however, believe them to be those of a man by the name of John Johnson, who worked some months in 1902 for the Beekley Marble company and disappeared, after drinking to excess for some days. Johnson was a Scotchman, who had returned from the Klondike. He was an expert workman, and was a member of the Masonic order, and was well known throughout the country when he disappeared, but did not find him. Some of the articles and clothing brought down, it is claimed, correspond with articles owned by him and the clothing is said to be of similar material as the suit he wore. The postoffice receipt and the memorandum books are again believed to be his, but how ever think the remains are those of Johnson, the man he picked the book up on his way to the canyon or at the Grier hotel before leaving. The spot where the bones were found is in a very rocky place just south of Rock canyon, and it is believed the man, whoever he was, fell from a ledge to the place where the remains were found, and was killed in the fall. There was

GARDEN CITY NOTES.

The home of Mrs. Ida Smoot Dusenberry was broken into Tuesday night,

about 10 o'clock, and the burglar

was nothing but the skeleton left and only part of that was brought down, as the bones had been scattered and lodged in crevices of the rocks, presumably by animals and could not all be collected.

One of the pieces of clothing

was a small piece of

material.

It is believed the burglar apparently

was frightened away before they succeeded in forcing the safe open.

Sheriff Harmon believes the work is that of a man of home talent, especially as the signs were entered a few days ago and some money taken from a purse belonging to the clerk that had been placed behind the counter.

On a hillside just above the town three years ago an old man, with one or two other men, was selling pictures. He left the Grier house, where he was staying, suddenly and left an unpaid board bill.

There are strong indications that the remains are those of Tracy. The majority of the people, however, believe them to be