Breer year:
Nor do Summer blessons quicken.
Nor does Autum fruitage thicken
As it did—the consens sleken Every year. It is growing cold and colder

And I feel that I am o'd r And my limbs are less classic, And my fancy not so plastic-Yea, my habits grow monastic Every year. 'Tis becoming bleak and breaker Every year,

And my hopes are waxing weaker Every year; Care I now for merry dancing, Or foreyes with passion glaneins? Love & less and less entrancing Every year.

Oh, the days that I have squaedered Every year, And the friendships rudely sun b red Every year; Of the ties that might have twine I me, Until time to death resigned me,

My infirmitles remind me Every year. Sad and sad to look before us Every year, With a heavier shadow o'er us

Every year: To behold each bosem faded And to know we might have made it Many a spectral, beckening finger,

Year by year, Ch'des me that so long I linger, Year by year; Every early comrade sleeping

In the churchyard, whither, weeping, I-alone unwept-am creeping, Year by year.

NOTES FOR THE LADIES One of the lights of Washington

yano, wife of the Japanese charge d'affairs. There is said to be con-siderable celestial sweetness about Said an old gentleman to his hopeful daughter: "Be sure, my dear, you never marry a poor man; but remember that the poorest man in the world is one who has money and nothing else." Two little girls were comparing progress in a catechism study. "I've got to the original sin," said one. "How far have you got?" "Me? Oh, I'm way beyond redemption." and the other. tion," said the other.

Mistress (at kitchen stairs)-"Su s.m, a little less noise, if you blease." Susan (from below) please." Susan (from below stairs).—"Law, Misses, I was only singing psalms." I have no objections, Susan, if you have no hymns." Several leading ladies of fashion in Washington signify their inten-tion of emulating the example of Mrs. Attorney-General Williams by announcing verbally that no wine will be served at their receptions this winter.—N. Y. Express. has quit the peeping business, whether she gets her money or not.

A gentleman, in search of a man a lady not as young as she once was, and asked her "Can you tell me where I can find a man?", 'No, I cannot," she replied, "for I have been looking for one these twenty

The name of Roger Tichborne will be handed down to posterity by other means than by the fame of the great trial which is now going on. The returns from the local registrars in England show that nearly 100 children have, by their parents, been named Roger Tich-

A Van Wert, Ohio, couple, recently divorced, were walking out of the court room together, chatting about their separation, when the old lady suddenly, as if having forgotten something, said, "I say, old man, can't you treat to the beer?" "Of course," answered the liberated lord of creation, and off they jogged together, to wash away the memory of the past in a glass of lager.

The Woman's Educational and Industrial Society in New York proposes to manufacture garments to be sold at market price, and the money received from the sale to be divided among the makers after deducting the cost of material. In this way thousands of women will be furnished with employment, and those who are interested in the subject are requested to co-operate with this scheme.

A little girl was once asked the A little girl was once asked the following question; "What is faith?" She replied, "Doing God's will and asking no questions."

At Charle I, a few evenings ago, a splittrill lecturer observed a lady in deep mourning costume leaving the hall during his lecture. He called her back, saying the spirit of her husband wished to

He called her back, saying the spirit of her husband wished to communicate with her. She replied "she knew it, as he was waiting for her at the door to escort her home."

A faw days ago a fascinating young lady wishing to visit Lynch-burg at the time of the meeting of stockholders in that city, forgetting she was addressing an eligible widower in the person of an old acquaintance, asked him if he could loan her a certificate of stock entitions her to a free ride over the railroad. "Certainly," he replied, "provided you are willing to travel under my name." With the blush which mantled her cheek came the posing retort:—"Thank you, sir, I will consider your proposal."

A Pennsylvania paper gives the following: "Mrs. Sally Taylor, in Westtown Township, is the grandmother of eight twin grand-children, which fact we regard as remarkable. These four sets of twins are divided among her children as follows: Elizabeth Williams, wife of Gideon Williams, in Birmingham Township, is the proud mother of two sets, the fire being girls, the second boys, Jane, wife of Washington Yearsley. re-

In speaking of the recent raid on the photographs in the window of a London shopkeeper an English paper says: "We are one with them
