LOCAL BRIEFS.

Russell Wilson, the legal adviser of Mrs. Leland Stanford of California, passed through Ogden yesterday on route to New York.

A "refrigerator" car on the street railway today was the cynosure of most admiring attention, since the running of open cars is a stockstorm is something Salt Lakers are not used to observing.

Mr. Joseph A. Silver, of the firm of Silver Brothers, left for the Pacific coast on a business and pleasure trip at 12:30 today, over the Rio Grande Western. He was accompanied by his wife and daughter, Miss Mamie Silver, together with his niece, Miss Rosie Silver. They expect to be absent from this city for some two weeks.

The L. D. S. business college lecture room in the Templeton will be the scene of an interesting proceeding this evening, to the hearing of a mock trial, the title of the cause being the First National Bank, a corporation, sue J. H. Burnham, cashier, plaintiff, vs. H. C. Smith, defendant. The suit is a promissory note. Court opens promptly at 7:30 o'clock.

The funeral of Phil Martin, who was found dead in his room at the New State lodging house yesterday, will take place from the Evans undertaking parlors on Saturday. The deceased was the proprietor of the rooming house at 42 east Second South. He had been drinking heavily and had been away from home. Justice McMaster held an investigation yesterday morning and decided that death was due to alcoholism. Martin came from California about nine years ago and has been engaged in the rooming house business ever since.

Charles W. Miller, who was taken to the Holy Cross hospital some time ago, died Tuesday night of tubercular nodes. His mother came from the east the first week and was at his bedside at the time of his death. Miller's domestic troubles are said to have hastened his end. About two months ago his wife obtained from him a conveyance of the printing plant he owned and then sued him for a divorce owing to disagreements between them. Mr. Miller was formerly a member of the Concordia lodge of Knights of the World, who will take charge of the body.

Walter U. Shupe, the eldest son of Senator Shoup of Idaho, was in the city yesterday coming down from Salmon City. Mr. Shoup was captain of company D, of Torrey's rough riders, and was considered one of the best officers in the regiment. At the opening of the war Mr. Shoup was in Salt Lake but was called to the position of first lieutenant of the Idaho troops. When the regiment was organized he was made ordnance officer and later adjutant of the third squadron. He therefore held the position of judge advocate of the regimental court martial. Upon the resignation of Captain W. H. Norbich he was appointed captain by the President. Mr. Shoup is in the best of health and will make Salt Lake his home.

BEGINS A SUIT.

Wm. Levy of New York Says It. W. McOne Owes Him $8,200.

William Levy, a citizen of the State of New York, has entered a suit in the Federal court against A. W. McOne and in his complaint states that the defendant is indebted to the plaintiff in the amount of $8,200, the money being due August, 1897, which he has so far failed or neglected to pay.

The case was filed late last night.

In reference to a morning contemporary having intimated that the office sought to suppress the publication of the foregoing Mr. Letcher, clerk of the Federal court, says that the suit was filed about the middle of the office hours yesterday—and after all the expenses had gone—the entry filing the complaint required that the complaint be held until service should be accepted by the attorneys for the defendants—and that no summons be issued.

It is a general rule of the office not to give out any information of the issuing of summons or arrests, as may be the case, are made, and hence the course was followed. The attorneys for defendant having notified the clerk that they would enter appearance, the ball was in our court.

M. I. A. LEAGUE.

Change in Policy Proposed by the Directors.

The new directors of the Mutual Improvement League held their first meeting last evening, when Mr. Frank Brerton was unanimously elected treasurer of the League. An entirely new policy was agreed upon, and although the details of the proposed plan have not been communicated, it is asserted that the League rooms on Main street will be closed to the general public. They will be refitted and refurbished throughout, overhauling, and when in shape the institution will be the property of Mutual Improvement associations. Every member in good standing in the various associations will be entitled to the use of the gymnasium, reading room and free baths as often as they desire, and thus have a live and working interest in the same and thereby have some place to spend their evenings when they come from the mutual of promenading the streets. If the scheme goes through, as the directors have decided to think it should, a notice to the above effect will be sent to the presidents of the various Mutual Improvement associations of the Stake.

KILLED BY A R. G. W. TRAIN

Mrs. Serena Anderson, of Birch Creek, Struck by a Locomotive.

Was Crossing the Track in a Blinding Storm and Neither Saw the Train Nor Was Seen.

Mrs. Serena Anderson, widow of Archibald Anderson, died with a frightful and fatal accident, 20 yards from her home at Birch Creek, Sanpete county, yesterday afternoon. The woman had been to Fairview, a mile and a half distant, and was returning home in the buggy in which she was struck by the Rio Grande Western northbound passenger No. 4, with the result that the horse was killed instantly, the buggy was demolished and Mrs. Anderson sustained injuries from which she died early the morning.

J. J. Taylor of Manti was a passenger on the train. In talking with a News reporter last night Mr. Taylor stated that there were no real eye-witnesses to the affair, as it happened in such a place and at such a time as to be almost purely accidental. The woman, he says, was driving home in a blinding snow storm, and had reached a point some 20 yards from her residence when the train came upon her. At this place there is a house quite close to the track, and this Mr. Taylor says, served as an obstruction to both the train and the woman, with the result that just as she drove onto the track, the engine struck the horse. The force of the collision had landed it on one side several rods from the crossing, while the buggy remained on the other side, completely demolished, with its lone occupant hanging out in a mangled and bruised condition.

The frightful occurrence brought the train to a standstill, and the unfortunate woman was extricated as quickly as the improvised litter and carried into her home. Her head, which was wrapped in a shawl to keep out the storm, gave evidence of a fearful blow, the skull being thrown open, laying the brain bare and oozing from its cavity. Mr. Taylor says the whistle was sounded, but not, however, as a warning to the woman, so, says he, the trainmen failed to notice her until she was struck by the locomotive.

Mrs. Anderson was given prompt medical attention, but it was thought she would not survive the shock. Mr. Archibald Anderson, committed suicide four years ago in a fit of insanity, leaving her with eight children. Her son James is said to be on a mission in Kansas and Indian Territory.

The unfortunate lady lingered till this morning, when she quietly passed away in sunshine from her home. It is stated that the time of the funeral has not been set, as two of her children were absent from home, and it was decided to communicate with them.

TRAVEL ON THE C. P.

Brunge Treatment by Trainmen Complained of—Accident at Elko.

Mrs. Ellen Jakeman of Utah county came down today from Ogden on her return from a trip to California. The lady complained bitterly that she not her fellow passengers were pissed at the train officers on the return trip. The curtouse of the conductors is complained of, and an instance given in the last twelve hours of the run before you—quote Mrs. Jakeman—"The weather was very cold and for twelve hours there was no fire in the passenger coach. The conductor was appealed to, and replied brusquely that there was no fire when the train came into his charge. He pushed a piece of paper into the car stove, lit it, and pertinently inquired whether the passengers did not feel the air warming up. He also said that if they were not warm enough they could go into the smoker."

An accident occurred to the train at Elko, Nev., on Monday night near midnight. By a misplaced switch the train was run into a freight train on a side track, with the result that passengers were disturbed, and the caboose on the freight was wrecked. The freight locomotive was attached to the passenger train, which continued on its way.

SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENT.

Definite Steps Towards Filling Office Vacated by Dr. Millspaugh.

Several weeks ago there was a great deal of discussion in educational circles as to filling the office of city school superintendent, made vacant by the resignation of Dr. Millspaugh, who left to accept a better and more lucrative position as president of the Minnesota State Normal school. Applications by the score came in from professors from nearly half the States of the Union. Among them was one from Professor Mills, formerly principal of the Salt Lake High School, now a resident of Ohio. At one time it was practically conceded that the position would go to certain members of the board of trustees, but he should be chosen and it is the sentiment of the school people that the wisest choice has been made.

Considerable agitation arose from the discussion to select an outside man who should be a man of established ability and a man of home making the place. This came a lull during which little or no progress was made towards filling the vacancy. Meantime Miss Adelaide Hulton, superintendent of the primary department, performed the duties of the office of superintendent and was done, it is said, excellently well for the trying and difficult position. But children are now such that it is necessary to take immediate action towards filling the place so long vacated. At a twilight meeting of the board of education a resolution was adopted to appoint a committee of the principals of the public schools to the committee of teachers and school authority to inquire into the advisability of the appointment of a principal. It is understood that this committee will be in a position to act at early date and report to the board. The committee will report to the board, at a meeting to be held in the near future. This action by the committee is considered a highly commendable one in view of the fact that the course of studies now being pursued by the grade teachers will need to be modified from a one to a two months' period and in order to do it properly and well it is necessary that a competent school man be at work without delay.

ROW OLIVER TWIST GOT HIS NAME.

(Pall Mall Gazette.)

Two new anecdotes of Dickens have recently come to light. The first is as follows: He one day related how the boy in "Oliver Twist" had chosen his name. The author had long puzzled his brains to know what name to be chosen on the peculiar occasion, when one day sitting into one of shillinger's omnibuses, they not long enlisted, he overhear two children in the door and shouted out to the driver, "Go on, either Twist." The originality of the exponent struck him, and Dickens "and I said to myself, 'That is the name for my new hero.'" Upon another occasion Dickens asked a friend of his what "a veritable giant of just size, and of a proportionate strength" Captain Cattle Hall was, just writing saying if I will go and take one with me."

ENTICING GIRLS TO UTAH.

Large Male Against Mormons Investigated in Wales.

Accusation Proves to be Unfounded—Lady Connected in a Resident of Carbon, Utah.

The Western Mail, published at Cardiff, Wales, gives an account of alleged "enticing young girls from Wales to Utah" which doubtly concerns Mr. Mary Stevenson of Carbon, Utah, and will be interesting to a great many people in this state. Although the circumstances are not new, a recent Cardiff contemporary has an interview with Mr. A. W. Trenchard, of 46 King's Road, Canton, Cardiff, in which Mr. Trenchard states that his daughter, Miss Mary Elizabeth Trenchard, was "enticed away." Both he and his daughter were members of the "Mormon" Church, but Mr. Trenchard for some time past has left the Mormon Church's story.

"It alleges that the authorities at this mission pressured his daughter into marriage, that meetings was held, and then believed her to leave her home and go into hotelage. Next she was married to a man twice her age, with a Quaker-street tradesman (which she had held for six years), and in company with Mr. Taylor, who served as an elder, she left for Liverpool, proceeding first to Glasgow and thence to Salt Lake City. My child was gone without her being consulted, and he would have remained in utter ignorance of her whereabouts, but for information in young man working in the same yard as himself happened to see a letter addressed to Mr. Stevenson lying on the table. Next she took place on Sunday about twelve months ago between the daughter and the elder Taylor, and Mr. Trenchard learned of the ceremony. Next she sent a letter to Mr. Stevenson, in the quarter in one train for the North of the train by which emigrants usually left, but his daughter did not go by that, and he concluded that she had thought better of it. Subsequently, however, she left Cardiff, and with the assistance of the police and the American consul, he ascertained that she had arrived at Salt Lake City, near Salt Lake City, and that she had not married after she had been there a few weeks.

Mr. Trenchard also asserted that there were "many other cases" of girls being enticed away. The Cardiff newspaper, however, with a fairness not always characteristic of publications in their dealings with accusations against the "Mormons," determined to sift the matter, and learn the truth. Mr. Jeremiah Stevenson, D. D., President of the Welsh conference, and located at present in Cardiff. There the interview was informed that the Elder had learned that Miss Trenchard had gone to Brigham City and for several months lived at the home of Mr. Hicks. She became acquainted with Mr. Hicks' brother, and some months afterwards became his wife, the following being a copy of the wedding card sent to Wales and published in the Mail:

"Mary E. Trenchard—Moses Morrison. Married at Salt Lake City, Wednesday, June 8, 1898, and also after June 26, 1898, at Corinne City, Utah.

Elder Owens further stated that no girls had been enticed from Wales. The newspaper also ascertained that Mr. Philips, American vice-consul, had investigated the case, and had sent a letter to Mr. Trenchard, which was delivered by State Attorney General Bishop (who, by the way, is not a "Mormon") and which made the response:

"Brigham City, Box Elder Co.,
Utah, February 7, 1898.

D. T. Phillips:

"Dear Sir—Your letter to hand, which I now desire to answer. I thank you for your kindness in writing to me. I can have my child back if I want her therefore, I have no desire to return to Wales. I am perfectly satisfied to remain in the place she has selected for my own free will, and I am just as free to return if I wished to do so, but with my own free will I prefer to stay. I am perfectly contented to remain here. If you have any further communications, you may address me at Brigham City, Box Elder county, in the care of anyone, as the mail rules are just as good here as they are in England. I am, yours, etc.,

"M. E. TRENCHARD."

Attention is called by the Mail to the fact that Miss Trenchard's letter and the wedding card show that she had been away from Wales at least six months before she was married, and that her father was mistaken in his assertion on that point. It also says that the date of the letter and of the American consul's office failed to elicit cases of girls or women being enticed from Wales. Mr. Trenchard also being in error on that point.

The gentleman who makes these charges, and his daughter, are bright, intelligent girls—are well known to quite a number of people in Utah. They lived in Cardiff for six or seven years since. Mr. Trenchard while recognized as a well-meaning man, is in his mental make-up of a peculiar and impatient of restraint, and when other people do not move exactly as he thinks they should, it does not take much imagination to see how such a man would be subject to the weakness of which it is hoped time and experience will cure him, that he may become a better man. He is perfectly honest in his opinions and in his desire to secure the happiness and welfare of others, but he is a man who, if others relate to, and it is hoped there will be a restoration of amicable relations between the parties, daughter and wife, his and others whom he has wronged greatly.

MANAGER OF OCEAN TRAFFIC

Mr. Lederer, of the International Navigation Company, in Salt Lake.

Mr. Arthur Lederer, passenger manager of the International Navigation company of New York, called in at the Ticket office of the Rio Grande Western on his way overland from San Francisco to New York. Mr. Lederer went to the Pacific coast via New Orleans in the interest of his company, which is actively engaged in shipping the troops from San Francisco to Manila. Mr. Lederer is a man of the world, and is well acquainted with the Latter-day Saints, and never fails to put in a good word for Utah on both sides of the Atlantic, in the course of his numerous travelings. The International Navigation company embraces in its fleet the American line ships sail every week in and from Southampton and New York, and runs between the West Indies, Central America, Paris, New York, St. Paul, St. Louis, and Chicago, four of which are the celebrated Finnish lines of the overland special operations against Russia in the Baltic sea. The company's passenger also includes the fleet of Red Star Line steamers that sail from Philadelphia and Liverpool weekly, under the Dutch flag.

Mr. Lederer after a pleasant call at the company's office, was escorted to the Tabernacle, where he listened to an organ recital by Prof. Dupuis. He expects to leave with all his accustomed speed. He leaves tonight for a flashing through New York from where he intends to shipment of the big consignments of human freight that suffer from the various diseases and symptoms of "sea de ease," while crossing the rolling Atlantic.
