THE BRYAN MURDER.

A Student Suspected of the Revolting Crime.

THE TESTIMONY OF A VALISE.

The Deceased Body Identified—Probable Reason for the Murder.

CINCINNATI, Feb. 5.—Late tonight chief of Police Dimmitt received from Newcastle, Ind., a telegram signed by one of the detectives who are working upon the mysterious murder of Pearl Bryan, directing him to arrest at that place, directing him to arrest one Harry Jackson, a student at the Indiana college, and to charge him with the murder of Pearl Bryan. The chief of police was also directed to arrest Wilbur Wood, a friend of Jackson and a supposed accomplice. The detectives stated that they were on their way to South Bend to search there for Wood, who is a trade associate and friend of twenty years. The detectives are informed here. The detectives are the clinching evidence here that the clinching link in the headless trunk of the murdered girl has been positively identified by Pearl Bryan's relatives.

All church tonight young Scott Jackson, an effeminate-looking man of 22 years of age, of light complexion, and having a nasty mustache, was taken to the mayor's office here and put through a most rigid examination by the mayor and chief police, though no actual police until midnight, he was taken with apparent reluctance. Jackson was then committed to the city prison without bail.

It is the major and chief of police that he will denied any knowledge of the Bryan murder as threatening, though admitting that he knew Pearl Bryan. He claimed to have slept at his lodgings on last Friday night, the night of the murder, and sent for an acquaintance at the same house, a Mr. Lambert, to verify his statement. Lambert stated that Jackson came in on Friday night, but that he had no means of knowing whether Jackson remained in his room all night.

In your part of Jackson's story—he voluntarily put in it—is that about his account on Saturday. On Saturday he took a valise and left his room saying he was heading home. This valise he carried with him all over the city that day and evening. The theory is that the head of the murdered girl was probably in that valise, and he was traveling about with it to destroy it without being discovered. The reasoning for this valise and why he carried it all day and night puzzles the more than anything else. In fact, he pretended and answers so bewildered that he had lied.

A special to the Commercial Gazette from Greencastle, Ind., says: The family of A. H. Bryan, a leading Democrat here (who lives two miles from this city), have identified the mutilated right hand by scratches from Clarence Bell and Newport, Ky., as that of their daughter, Pearl Bryan. They think their information and circumstances which leave no doubt in the minds of the officers, who have been here since yesterday, that the body of the woman murdered and beheaded near Fort Thomas, opposite Cincinnati, on Friday night, is that of their daughter Pearl, aged 23 years, who left home January 30th, ostensibly to visit friends in Louisville, Miss Jane Fisher, on Central avenue, Indianapolis. They have made every possible inquiry here and find that she did not visit Miss Fisher, but that she was taken to Clatham by Scott Jackson. She took with her a valise of lost, which was bought here by the officers and identified as well as the clothing and locks on the valise. Therefore that were brought here by the officers were bought of Louis & Hays by Pearl Bryan, Nov. 15, 1895, and the marks were identified by the clerks.

On the 15th the street of Jackson and Miss were given to the officers by William Earl, the Western Union messenger here. He saw a letter written by Scott Jackson to William Wood, in which the former told the latter to write Pearl Bryan. The officers received from the postmaster at Newport, Ky., that the murdered woman was about to become a mother, and they at once took the clothing and other articles to the parents of the girl to identify to the letter. They identified the shoes, clothing and hair, and gave such information as to lead to the arrest.

It was learned tonight that Scott Jackson was seen with Miss Bryan at Dave Wallingford's saloon at the corner of Center and Pearl streets, this city, Friday night, between 8 and 9 o'clock and Jackson borrowed $5 from Wallingford. This man will be the most important, if not the most important, witness against Jackson.

Referred the Nomination.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—By a vote on the floor today in executive session rejected the nomination of George D. Newman of Tennessee to be United States Civilian agency, Washington. The vote was preceded by a long and animated debate, in which President Wilson of Washington led the opposition to confirmation. He based his opinion on the violation of the civil service principle.

There was also some discussion of the nomination of C. C. Lennan of Indiana to be agent at Neah Bay agency in Washington, but no vote was taken on this.

The Republicans generally voted against Newman's confirmation and the Democrats for him.

THE GOVERNMENT LOAN.

The Bids Cause Astonishment in London.

LONDON, Feb. 5.—A New York dispatch to the Daily News says: "The success of the loan is astonishing, and shows that the investing public does not fear that the country will adopt a silver currency."

The Daily News says in an editorial on the same subject: "Certainly, considering the previous uneasiness of the city, its popularity is remarkable, and President Cleveland's message has fully justified. Its success will repair the damage to credit and will revive public confidence. Still, Secretary Carlisle will not fail to improve upon his success in the confidence of these capitalists in maintaining the integrity of the United States.

Probably the most satisfactory feature to President Cleveland and Secretary Carlisle is the need of public confidence in their financial policy.

Hammond III.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—A dispatch to the World from Cape Town says: Hammond, the American prisoner in Pretoria, is very ill. The best in existence and the condition of the jail is unwholesome.

MRS. SPAULDING'S SUIT.

The Defendant's Side of the Story Told.

CHICAGO, Feb. 5.—"We did not know that a bill of particulars had been filed in the case of Mrs. Lydia Spaulding; nor do we know who her attorneys are," was the statement made at the law offices of the Pullman Palace Car company today.

The allegation was in the suit begun yesterday by Mrs. Spaulding, a San Francisco hotel-keeper, against the Pullman company for $100,000 damages for alleged false arrest and imprisonment, in which the Denver & Rio Grande officers is made a codefendant.

"The reason Mrs. Spaulding was removed from the car," continued the car company's attorney, "was that she appeared to be mentally deranged and had to be guarded to prevent her doing herself injury. The railroad employes, not the Pullman Car company's employes, telegraphed the Leadville authorities for assistance. At Leadville the sheriff and his men came aboard, made an inventory of Mrs. Spaulding's effects, and removed her. They took her, I believe, to some place of detention. Her effects mentioned amount $300. The inventory was made in the presence of witnesses and their names are on record."

Questioned about the alleged conspiracy among the car porters, the attorney said that there was nothing in it. The porters, he affirmed, had nothing to do with the affair beyond guarding the women in transit.

Fired Upon by Apaches.

DENVER, Feb. 5.—A special to the Republican from Fort Thomas, Ariz., says: The San Carlos Apaches are again on the rampage. Yesterday evening Sam Hinton, a cowman, while riding along the reservation was fired upon from ambush at a point about fifteen miles from San Carlos agency. He avoided the shots and arrived safely at San Carlos, the seat of station agency and reported the fact. All settlers in this vicinity are confidently expecting an attack in the near future.

Ordered to Leave Cuba.

HAVANA, Feb. 5.—Captain William E. Stanton, of the Army and Navy Journal, and correspondent of the Washington Evening Star, came here with letters from the United States state department and from officials of the state of New York, as well as from President Cleveland. Nevertheless he was ordered yesterday to leave Cuba on account of having entered the insurgent lines, contrary to the orders of the government. He went to the mountains to interview Senior Salvador Cisneros, president of the Cuban republic. Recently he went again to the insurgent camp for the purpose of obtaining an interview with Gen. Maximo Gomez.

Earthquake on Cuba.

HAVANA, Feb. 5.—An earthquake shock of an alarming nature was experienced today at Santa Cruz del Sur, province of Puerto Principe. Houses rocked and furniture was thrown about. People of the city and vicinity ran in terror to the streets and fell on their knees in prayer for mercy.

The case of the Sanellinos, father and son, charged with conspiring against the government, has been turned over to the criminal court upon representations having been made that they were American citizens, and as a result of the resolution introduced in the United States Senate by Senator Call.

Germany and the Monroe Doctrine.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—A dispatch to the World from Catania says: The German government says it will recognize the Monroe doctrine, but will not release Venezuela from a just debt. Germany demands that the railroad claim be paid, but does not threaten force. It is said that Venezuela will pay the claim.

Trinidad Question Settled.

NEW YORK, Feb. 5.—The Herald's correspondent in Rio Janeiro telegraphs that the English minister has received a dispatch from England ordering him to recognize the sovereignty of Brazil in the island of Trinidad. It is now probable that Brazil will permit Great Britain to establish a log coaling station on the island for her south Atlantic squadron, and that she will grant the right to lay a cable on its shores. The Herald's correspondent adds that in diplomatic circles there is great satisfaction expressed at the amicable settlement of the question.

Condition of the Treasury.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Feb. 5.—Today's statement of the condition of the treasury shows: Available cash balance, $175,774,376; gold reserve, $97,060,911.

VENEZUELA DISPUTE.

Cartographic Evidence in Possession of the Royal Geographical Society.

LONDON, Feb. 6.—Clements Markham, president of the Royal Geographical society, contributes a two-column letter to the Times this morning, minutely describing all the cartographic evidence obtainable in the society's possession bearing upon the disputed boundaries of Guiana from the year 1570 onwards. He says that by the treaty of 1814 the Dutch ceded the portion of Guiana including the Essequibo basin to Great Britain, and that Spain, the sovereign of Venezuela, was a party to the treaty.

"As the inherit from Spain of that sovereignty," the letter goes on to say, "the Venezuelan republic is found to have no witness to the treaty of 1814, which abrogated all previous claims ever made by Spain, and assigned to Great Britain the sovereignty of the whole of the Essequibo basin."

After then quoting Robert Schomburgk's exploration, Mr. Markham concludes that the contention of the Venezuelan valley within was British territory, in Venezuela, shows that no one ever knew even earlier from the thoughts of English statesmen than say the promulgation of the Monroe doctrine. He concludes that even if the boundary which Venezuela claims belonged to Spain, it does not belong to Great Britain, it does not belong to Venezuela, but belongs to the Dutch.

A Railroad Official's Experience.

MR. EDWARD EDMONDS, long connected with railroad construction in Kansas, writes: "My heart troubled and pained me for 18 years. Shortness of breath was the constant and most noticeable symptom. I coughed, vomited, pain, palpitation followed any exertion. Fainting, because without any apparent reason, would take my breath, and palpitation that often stopped me as if I would fall, were frequent attacks. Again, everything would turn black if I bent from a sitting posture quickly. Sleepless nights with this painful heart trouble were common, sometimes and I could get no rest day or night. I consulted leading physicians and took a great many liquid nostrums. They all failed. Dr. Miles' specimen sent me by mail exactly that I took Dr. Miles' New Heart Cure and I am now a well man. I feel every one troubled with heart disease not to be prejudiced, I will gladly give them full details of my experience." Edw. Edmonds, P. O. Box 61, Garden City, Kansas.

—of the union of medicine, or vegetable compounds, upon the stomach, and rate in many hundreds of cases, long ago convinced Doctor R. V. Pierce, Chief Consulting Physician to the Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., that all cases of Indigestion, Dyspepsia and Liver Complaint could be cured permanently if the right treatment were given. Hundreds of his letters bear testimony to the fact that he had discovered an effective extract which he called "Golden Medical Discovery," that would cure diseases of the stomach, liver and digestive organs, be employed from all parts of the country the evidence of those who had used the medicine, and he has asked the public to prescribe for themselves, as he would be glad to furnish the names and addresses of thousands of people who have used Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. All interested should send for a little medical treatise on Dyspepsia, Chronic Indigestion, "Liver Complaint," Biliousness, Constipation and Piles, published by the World's Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y., and contains an abstract of all cases to exercise stamps. This book also contains the photographs and testimonials of many persons who have suffered from the cases of the digestive organs.

Thomas Hendricks, Esq., of Milton Station, Penn. Co., Pa., writes:

"I suffered the most terrible agony for two years. Nothing would relieve me. Doctors said I was incurable. I took 10 bottles of your 'Golden Medical Discovery' and 5 of 'Pellets' and I am now well and able to do my work. I cannot say too much in your behalf."
