THE STUDENT'S SOCIETY.

Interesting Lecture on Mars—Program of Exercises.

The program of the regular session of the Student's society last night was as follows:

First the society was favored with a recitation by Miss Josie Morris.

Then came a lecture by Prof. Joseph Nelson, his subject being The Planet Mars. He said he did not believe there is any older science on the earth than astronomy. Man had studied the maps of the bodies of the heavens, before he knew anything of his own creation. He had learned that some of the planets moved, and to these he gave the names of Wanderers. They were first supposed to be openings into the heavenly places where the gods dwell.

We can hardly comprehend the distance to the moon. If we were to undertake a journey through space and travel on an express car, we would die on the way and our generations after us, until about the seventh, before they would reach any of the heavenly bodies. In starting out on an imaginary journey from the sun the first planet we would reach would be Mercury, the fleetest of the planets. Next, we would meet one of the most brilliant ladies, Venus, the goddess of beauty. Then the earth would be next and after that we would come to Mars, the war-god. His signs are the shield and spear. When this planet shown more brilliantly than usual the ancients believed that war was coming and that some great king was going to fall in battle. It is about 140,000,000 of miles away from the sun. If we take the distance when the earth and Mars are in conjunction, or in a line with the sun, we will find that the planet Mars will be 141,000,000 of miles from the sun. Add to this the distance between us and the sun, 92,000 of miles, and we have the distance that lies between us and Mars.

The diameter of Mars is supposed to be 4,100 miles, a little less than one-seventh or one-eighth the size of the earth and it is not so dense, only about three-fourths. It is about three-fourths land and one-fourth water. An individual from our earth would move about more easily on Mars. It would be easier for a man of about 150 pounds to exercise himself on that planet than it is for a man of 150 pounds to move around on our earth. In the year 1887 when Mars was nearest the earth, the time when it was more easily examined, an Italian astronomer claimed that he found continuous seas in it, and said that he could locate and bridge, and many persons the idea that there must be people there who carried on their commerce in the way. At the same time it was said to have a family of two children, or moons, the one farthest away being about 12,000 miles and the inner one 4,000 miles from Mars. The latter one revolves faster than Mars does, so that it revolves about three times in one night and day. Modern astronomers are trying to solve the question of how we are assigned to the inhabitants of Mars.

A motion song by Mr. Loren Pratt, assisted by his daughter, was well received and last was an organ solo by Miss Elma Carey. Adjourned for one week.

Information Wanted

Of the whereabouts of Mr. Joseph Butkishaw or his family. He left Eastwood, Nottinghamshire, England, in the early 60's and emigrated to Utah. His nephew, Mr. James Butkishaw, 18 Bennett street, Hornsey, England, is anxious to hear from him, or any of the family.

Educational Items.

The students of the school of Expression, of which Miss C. Louise Hogden is principal and Miss Ruth Eldredge, assistant, will give an open recital at Unity church rooms on Wednesday evening next, at 8 o'clock p.m. The public is cordially invited to be present.

A committee has been appointed by the Salt Lake County Teachers' association to investigate and report a course by which music may be taught under the direction of a competent teacher in the schools of Salt Lake county.

James Sanders, one of the corps of teachers in the Murray schools, is the new justice in the precinct in which he resides.

A Compromise.

In the matter of the estate of Arthur Pickering, deceased, Georgiana Sittingham Pickering, the administratrix, has filed a petition in the Probate court, representing that she was able to compromise a suit which is pending against the Rio Grande Western Railway company, for damages for the injury and death of the deceased, for $3,000, and asked that she be allowed to do so. She further prayed that she be allowed $75 per month for the support of herself and children. The petition was granted.

The Teasdel Assignment.

William F. Nolen has filed a suit against the firm of S. P. Teasdel & Son, together with Wells, Fargo & Co., Joseph Geoghegan and John E. Dooly in the Third district court. Plaintiff for himself and other creditors prays that all the undivided property and assets of Mr. Teasdel be ascertained and determined by a decree of the court before any distribution of the assets of either S. P. Teasdel or Teasdel & Son be made in order that the trust imposed upon Joseph Geoghegan and John E. Dooly be administered under the provisions and control of the court. Also that the claim of the plaintiff in the sum of $25,318.18, for which judgment has been entered, be adjudged to be a claim against S. P. Teasdel and not against the firm of Teasdel & Son, and that it be adjudged that a certain of Wells, Fargo & Co. in the sum of about $26,000 be against the firm of Teasdel & Son.

Plaintiff further asks that the assignee be enjoined from distributing any funds now in their hands, and that a receiver be appointed to take charge of the property.

The Contributor.

The November number of this magazine—the first of volume 15—is out. Its leading feature is a biographical sketch of President Wilford Woodruff, accompanied by an excellent half-tone portrait. The article is the first of a series under the heading "Shining Lights—How They Acquired Brightness," and is to be followed by others during the volume. It epitomizes the principal events and traits of the life of the remarkable man who is its subject, so grouped and commented upon as to show by what methods and rules of action success in life was achieved.

Travels in northern Norway under the heading, "Beyond the Arctic Circle," are interestingly described, and "Seasons," which is charmingly written, is true as to its main incidents. Then there is the first installment of a history of the work of the Gospel in Denmark; the continuation of the subject "Preaching and Preaching," "College Department," and under the head of "Temple Manifestations" a number of remarkable occurrences well calculated to increase the faith of those who read of them. The number altogether is a rich one.

Will Stay at the Old Hall.

At the meeting of the board of fire and police commissioners, held yesterday afternoon, it was decided that as soon as the Mayor's and recorder's offices are transferred to the new city and county building, to turn over the old hall to the fire and police departments. Just how the building will be divided between them has not yet been agreed upon.

Joint Building Affairs.

The joint building committee held its regular meeting last night and transacted considerable routine business. It was expected that some action would be taken with reference to the proposed elevators but the matter went over without receiving so much as a mention.

PROVO.

PROVO, UTAH, Nov. 3, 1894.

Court Proceedings.

The first case called in the First district court yesterday afternoon was the First National Bank of Nephi vs Chas. Foote, W. A. C. Bryan, U. S. Tingey and Alma Hagen. Default was entered in the case of Jerendante Tingey and Hague. The suit is made to collect $5,000 on a promissory note, and plaintiffs allege that the note was endorsed by Hague for the purpose of obtaining money and credit from the plaintiff corporation. Defendants make lengthy answer, amounting in substance that Hague had misrepresented the circumstances under which the note was given. The principal question of law involved was to what extent the bank was bound by the acts of the cashier Hague, and numerous authorities and decisions bearing on the case were presented. Judge Smith instructed the jury to give a verdict for plaintiff for $5,000, there being no issue for the jury to consider.

In the case of the Fish Springs Mining Co. vs Chas. Crismon et al, motion for a new trial, the court ruled that plaintiff should remit judgment to $2,500 and interest from the time of its rendition within three days or defendants' motion for a new trial to be granted. The case was tried last fall and a verdict given in favor of plaintiffs for the amount of $12,000.

Martin Allred, of Fairview, was sentenced to one day's imprisonment in the penitentiary for the offense of adultery. The offense is charged to have been committed on July 1st, 1894, and he was indicted in that year, he was not arrested, however, and this year he came in and pleaded guilty. His attorney, Mr. King, stated that defendant had obeyed the law since the time charged in the indictment, and argued that he was not liable to punishment, by reason of the amnesty proclamations of Presidents Harrison and Cleveland. Judge Smith was in doubt as to how this question should be brought before the courts, and imposed the lightest sentence he could.

Llewellyn Thomas and John H. Thomas, both of Spanish Fork, were admitted to citizenship. They have exercised the rights of citizens ever since they became old enough; but the election cases recently recorded to be investigated, and the gentlemen found that they would be challenged, because of a claim that their father's naturalization papers were not valid. The Messrs. Thomas, upon looking up the papers, found that they had been issued by the county court of this county in 1874. They took no chances on being challenged, but took out their own papers and will vote next time.

The account of the U. S. Marshal, amounting to $222.60 were approved. This account represents the expenses incurred in the execution of Enoch Davis.

The Counterfeit Money Man.

Edward Meyers, on being taken before Justice Woodwood on the charge of passing counterfeit money, declared that if he had done such a thing he did not know it, and was not intended to do so. He finally consulted Attorney Knight, and the further examination was continued till some time to be agreed upon. Meyers is evidently a Scandinavian. Joseph B. Thomas yesterday recognized Meyers as a man who had worked for him last winter, under the name of Elias Anderson. He claimed to come to Spanish Fork from Wyoming. Mr. Thomas was surprised to hear of Meyers being in trouble, as he looked upon him as being a simple trustworthy fellow, when he worked for him. He left Mr. Thomas last spring and went to Castle valley. At the time of his arrest he was employed by Bullock Bros. of this city as a shepherder.

In the city council, last evening, the committee on judiciary presented a report recommending that the mayor and city attorney attempt to sell, by agreement, with the Provo Woolen Mills Co. the injury liability to the city for the damages contended by Dr. W. H. Pike, on account of driving into the factory race one night last winter, and for which he obtained a verdict of $500 against Provo City. And in case a settlement could not be arrived at to commence suit against the Provo Woolen Mills Co. The report was adopted.

The popularity of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy and the high esteem in which it is held leads us to believe it to be an article of great worth and merit. We have the pleasure of giving the experience of three prominent citizens of Redondo Beach, Cal., in the use of the remedy. Mr. A. V. Trudell says: "I have always received prompt relief when I used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy." Mr. James Orchard says: "I am satisfied that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy cured my cold." Mr. J. M. Hatcher says: "For three years I have used Chamberlain's Cough Remedy in my family and its results have always been satisfactory."

For sale by all medicine dealers.

Mr. J. R. Fowler, secretary and treasurer of the Cutlane Mill, Canal and Stock Co., of Cutlane, Utah, in speaking of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, says: "I consider it the best in the market. I have used many kinds but find Chamberlain's the most prompt and effectual in giving relief, and keep no other in my home." When troubled with a cough or cold give this remedy a trial and we assure you that you will be more than pleased with the result. For sale by all medicine dealers.
