C. C. GOODWIN REMOVED.

The Logan Commissioner's Official Head Falls to the Ground.

The Territorial Supreme Court Will Have Him on "No Account" No Longer

It is no longer United States Commissioner Goodwin of Logan.

Charges of a serious nature were preferred against him by a goodly number of influential citizens of Logan, who believed that he was not fully qualified to discharge the duties of United States Commissioner for the Territorial Supreme court, because of certain acts which it was alleged he had committed, and which reflected upon his official integrity.

The commissioner found a good many people who stood by him, so an investigation was ordered and made. The report of Mr. Burbe, the examiner, was filed with the Supreme Court yesterday, and was not made public, but will be this afternoon.

The effect which it had upon the court was not favorable to the commissioner, for the judges were convinced that he was no longer competent to discharge the duties of commissioner that he was summarily removed from office.

He is thought to be numbered among the "Pure Democrats" and not a few people are satisfied with the result of their efforts to effect his removal.

Of Course, He Kicks Late.

An overofficious commissioner has been devoting the most of the day of grace to kicking on the work of the city railway company in laying its curves over the sidewalks at the intersection of East Temple and First South streets. The curves are necessary, he says, and are not built in a little over the crossings. He has spoken or at least has been in a position to know the condition of affairs for years, but Independence, he kicks after work has been done and thousands of dollars expended.

The matter, he threatens, will be brought before the City Council tonight.

Sent to the Asylum.

This afternoon Miss Amelia Rasw was adjudged insane by the Probate court and ordered sent to the insane asylum at Provo.

District Court Orders.

In the Third district court this afternoon, in the case of Louis Rothschild vs John Beck et al, leave was granted for the receiver to bring suits for rents.

Park City vs Hay Mitchell, was continued at plaintiff's costs, upon payment of costs by defendant.

Bankrupt, J. P. Dreibant discharged and ordered sent to his parents.

PROVO.

New County Physician and Superintendent of Schools—County Court Items.—City Council. — Various Matters.

Special Correspondence.

PROVO, June 5.—A session of the county court was held yesterday. The following items of business were transacted:

On the petition of David Evans et al, residents of Salem, the matter of exploring certain parties from Salem to the county road was referred to Selectman John Jones.

The matter of establishing a new school district on American Fork bench was referred to Selectman Evans and the county superintendent of schools.

James Allred resigned as constable of Lehi precinct and D. W. Thomas was appointed to fill the vacancy. H. B. Rhees resigned as justice of the peace of Center precinct and appointment.

Assessor Lund was granted additional time until June 2, 1893, to return his assessment roll.

M. C. Newell, fish and game commissioner, reported that the fish and game law was being observed in Utah county, but that Provo river was being stock with grand trout in Wasatch county. Report accepted and the clerk instructed to communicate the report to the Wasatch authorities.

Commissioner Evans represented that the bridge on the road between Spring Lake and American Fork had been washed out and that Jones was authorized to put in a new bridge.

Commissioner Evans recommended the appropriation of $100 to Allen to pay for the completion of the Alpine-Dry Creek road. Lost on a vote of two to two, Selectman Evans and Judge Jones voting aye, and Judge Jones and Commissioner Dean nay. There was some discussion as to whether the judge had a right to vote except when there was a tie, but he maintained his right so to do, and the claim was disallowed.

Bonds of selections were presented and approved, and new appointments made. A number of claims were allowed.

CITY COUNCIL.

At last night's session of the city council, business was transacted as follows:

The question as to whether electric light, telegraph and telephone poles on the streets should be placed from the middle of the streets to the sidewalks up on the report of the committee, was discussed and referred back for further investigation.

The city treasurer reported the collections of $270 in May. Adopted.

On motion of Mr. McEwan, the superintendent of streets was authorized to employ his teams to the council, to compute the amounts of other performed or means expended on the streets of the several municipal wards.

The bill to provide revenue for Provo city was passed and the title of the bill was made the title of the ordinance.

The council adjourned until Thursday evening.

NOTES.

The three-year-old son of Charles De Meyer died on Sunday night of diphtheria. The death was entirely unexpected, as it was discovered a very mild case.

Oliver Edwards was brought in from van Juan county yesterday by Sheriff Dale, to be imprisoned in the county jail until the grand jury can investigate the quality of the offense against him. It is alleged that Edwards eloped with Mrs. Carson of Goose Junction, Colorado, to San Juan county and there committed the same without so charge. He took with him $2,000 which he could not give. Mrs. Carson gave a good deal pouting in action of the grand jury.

William Hill has taken charge of the Cosmopolitan dining room. Mr. Hill having served time in Salt Lake, where he will undoubtedly take the best business.

The university land commissioners are at work adjusting the university lands of Utah county.

A license to wed has been issued to George G. Gilbert and Ella Kilpatrick of Salmon, Idaho.

Alonzo Smith, an American Fork shoemaker, was tried before Justice McNeil on Saturday last on the charge of battering Mr. Hunt, a fellow shoemaker, and guilty, and fined $25. It is reported that Smith gave Hunt a severe drubbing.

On the recommendation of the committee on examination, Judge J. H. Jones has been appointed to the bar of the First district court.

A young gentleman of respectable parentage who is noted for his tendency to appropriate property not his own, has been engaged in his light-fingered work again, a dressmaker showing a coverage of $10. No arrest has yet been made.

OGDEN.

John L. Stevens Talks.—Minister Blount Interrupted.—City Council.—Damage Suit.—Notes.

OGDEN, June 5.—Ex-United States Minister to the Hawaiian Islands John L. Stevens arrived in Ogden, accompanied by his wife and daughter, at 11:15 this morning on their way home. Ex-Minister Stevens was seen by a News representative at the depot and in a conversation said he was glad once more to be in the United states, after an absence of over four years. Said he, "I left my successor, Minister Blount, feeling more depressed in spirits and do not think his stay on the islands will be very protracted one. The sentiment of the people is very strong in favor of annexation. All the principal whites and the better portion of the natives are continually agitating the question, and their demands will never cease until annexation has been granted." Speaking of Paul Neumann, the queen's envoy, the ex-minister said he was now in San Francisco, and it was doubtful if he ever his way to Japan, although when he left Honolulu it was uncertain he would return. Said Mr. Stevens, "Neumann made himself very unpopular among all classes on the island of reading his sad as offering to the opium ring gang." The health of the ex-minister and family is excellent. On the train accompanying the party are the remains of his daughter Grace Lu, who was drowned off the Honolulu last summer, by the capsizing of a small boat which was to have taken her on board a steamer. Mr. Stevens is a native of Augusta, Me., and is sixty-four years old.

The city council met in regular session last evening and among other things transacted the following business: The petition signed by many citizens to extend the waterworks on Lincoln avenue, from Twenty-seventh street to Thirty-first was granted. Sergeant Brown, recently appointed by the mayor to the Weber Fair police force, was liquor and the same was ordered to extend the paving district from North to Washington avenue on the east side of the city limits, was introduced. A communication was read from V. M. C. Silva, vice president of the Salt Lake and Ogden Gas and Electric Light company, accepting the ex-mayor of franchise recently passed on the council. The officers and members of the Veteran Firemen's association asked that their poll tax for 1893 be refunded them. Referred to committee on fire department.

The police department received a telegram yesterday from the sheriff of Butte, Mont., stating that two men had been put under arrest at Red Rock. In their possession was found considerable cloth and men's clothing. The officers asked if the men were wanted in Ogden. Wires were sent back asking for a description of the goods returned to.

H. N. Mayo was arrested on Saturday, charged with cash larceny in having stolen a suit from H. W. Sheriff. From what could be gathered at the time yesterday, it seems that Mayo agreed to sell clothing each, commission in payment. Mayo, after reflection, changed his mind and retained the most desirable stock and small order. Sheriff, on receiving the suit, got impatient and had Mayo arrested on the aforementioned charge. Justice Colton decided there was no criminal intent on the part of the defendant and dismissed the case. Now Mayo strikes back and has placed a suit against Sheriff, the city hall jailer, and the officer who arrested him, for false arrest and imprisonment, claiming $500 damages.

Preparations for a grand time on the Fourth of July have already begun. The Veteran Firemen's association has taken the matter in hand. A committee has been appointed to make necessary arrangements.

It is stated upon good authority that the Hand is to will be reopened in the public within the next few days.

A fair house greeted the reappearance of the House Dramatic club at the Grand last night. The piece "The Hawk's Daughter," went off smoothly.

WITHIN OUR GATES.

J. W. Sanborn, head of the Agricultural college in Logan, is here for a longer stay and quartered at the Culbertson.

***

Assistant District Attorney Williams and A. V. Holmes of Ogden were down on business and yet engaging the services of the Kimballs.

***

R. C. Lund, of the Grange is spending a few days at the Culbertson. He is one of the leading citizens of the Dixie country, in which he has large and variegated interests.

***

William Gibson, all the way from Accry, where he is the owner of milk which may not range upon a thousand kine but he range upon a good many of them, is here for the time being.

***

Daniel Hoagstiller, one of this city, who can be still well and favorably known despite the changes wrought by "Uncle Sam's mail," is up from the southern country as mountaineer and healthy as of yore.

***

Charles Crane, who was at the head of the Republican campaign plateau in Utah, stopped in for a short call today and presented us a brief recital of optimism he shows on the head situation. The business committee on is telling on him slightly with others, but he seems also and willing to see the situation through. He believes it a bright for Utah and thinks the best thing to do is to let whether the present administration lock legged it.
