LOCAL NEWS.

FROM TUESDAY'S DAILY, MAR 23

Indictments at Provo.—Two indictments each have been found in the First District Court at Provo against R. C. Kirkwood and N. H. Groesbeck, the former a resident of Provo, the latter of Springville.

Prest. Cannon's Bonds.—President Cannon's attorneys were notified this morning that their client would be wanted in court to-morrow morning, to plead to additional indictments found against him. It is safe to say he will not be there, and that the additional $20,000 will be declared forfeited.

First Company.—The first company of Latter-day Saints for the season will leave Liverpool on the steamship Nevada, which sails on the 17th of April next. The following fares have been arranged:

Through fares from Liverpool to Salt Lake, Ogden or Provo, $33.75; from Copenhagen to any of the above named points, $56.25; half rates for children over 5 and under 12 years of age; under 5 years half of sea fare only. Infants under 1 year, $3.

Sea fares from Liverpool, $18.75; from Copenhagen, $21.25. Railroad fares, $33.

The fares quoted are for members of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints only.

Mrs. Dinwoodey's Funeral.—The funeral of Mrs. Ellen Dinwoodey was very numerous attended this morning, the large meeting house of the Seventh Ward being densely packed with friends and mourners. The speakers were Elders John Nicholson and George Romney and Bishops H. B. Clawson and Wm. Thorn. The first three having been companions with Brother Dinwoodey in the incarceration which he has lately been enduring for conscience sake, were able to fully enter into his feeling at the sad event which had overtaken him in the death of his wife. Brother Dinwoodey was present, having been permitted to come out of the penitentiary this morning to attend the funeral.

The remarks made on the occasion were all very appropriate and highly instructive as well as encouraging. The cortege which followed the remains to the grave was one of the largest which we have witnessed in a long time.

Grand Jury.—The following names were drawn from the jury box to serve as grand jurors for the April term. This exhausted the list in the box. The venire is made returnable Monday, April 12th:

131 George A. Remington,
132 Wm. Maribagh,
133 Robert Skelton,
134 Nephi Sargent,
135 Wm. Crook,
136 A. E. Keeler,
137 James Fowler,
138 James McKnight,
139 Joseph Tanner,
140 J. D. Gilliland,
141 Oliver C. Lockhart,
142 Geo. W. Carver,
143 Ralph Maxwell,
144 E. H. Read,
145 James G. Thompson,
146 George Denton,
147 Wm. Boyer,
148 Richard Gundry,
149 Edmund Eldredge,
150 Robert McMichael,
151 Abraham Fawson,
152 John B. Robertson,
153 Otis L. Brown,
154 Wm. McIntosh,
155 E. H. Allison,
156 Andrew Forsyth,
157 Isaac Elkington,
158 Peter LeCheminant,
159 S. P. Isaacier,
160 F. W. Hayt,
161 John Eckert,
162 Isaac Post.

FROM WEDNESDAY'S DAILY, MAR 24

Arrests in Malad Valley.—The Laramie Boomerang contains a dispatch from Oxford, Idaho, dated the 22d inst., which announces that "Deputies Grierson, Green and Lester made a raid in Malad Valley on Thursday, and J. J. Williams, Charles Josephson and Joseph Harris, all charged with unlawful cohabitation, were captured. They were held under bonds for the United States grand jury."

Almost a Big Fire.—The Co-operative store at American Fork was discovered on fire yesterday by some school children at the rear of the building. The fire originated through a defective stove pipe. No great damage was done, the only injury being to the roof, which was slightly burned. Had it not been for the timely aid of a number of men who were at the time engaged clearing off the public square, the whole premises, with goods, etc., would have been destroyed.

Her Sufferings Over.—The many friends of Sister Marinda Hyde, the aged wife of the late Apostle Orson Hyde, whose life has been hauging in the balance for some time, with the beam liable to tip at any moment, will, though pained at having to part with her, doubtless feel relieved at learning that her sufferings are over and that her spirit was released from its tabernacle of clay at 9 a. m. to-day. She was one of the noble mothers in Israel, who endeared herself to all with whom she became acquainted. Her life has been an interesting one, and her obituary will be published hereafter.

Her funeral will take place on Friday, the service being held in the Seventh Ward meeting house, commencing at 2 p. m.

Epidemic in Arizona.—We have mentioned before that several of the settlements in Arizona inhabited by the Saints were afflicted with an epidemic in the form of scarlet fever. Brother L. A. Pace writes from Nutriso, March 12, 1886, concerning the scourge in that place as follows:

We have had a sad gloom cast over our little town for the last six weeks. About January 20th the scarlet fever put in an appearance here, and since that time the fever has taken off ten of our little ones, and the end is not yet we fear, as there are several cases now here; the last death occurred on March 10th, being the daughter of Bishop Benjamin Noble, aged four years six months and twenty days. The sickness among us and the persecution that is waged against us as a people certainly have a tendency to make us feel gloomy, but we trust in the Being who has the governing of all things, and all will yet come out all right.

An Honorable Exception.—A correspondent over the nom de plume of Justice calls attention to the exceptional example set by one of the speakers at the laudation meeting held in the Opera House on Monday evening, as follows:

"In the report of last night's meeting at Salt Lake, to endorse Gov. Murray and his infamous acts, I was glad to see that one man out of all the 'Mormon-eaters' there, had the courage to stand on his convictions of justice toward our people. I refer to Rev. T. C. Cliff, of the Methodist church. While he could not altogether brave the displeasure of his associates and the anti-'Mormons' of the Territory by declaring the acts of Governor Murray an outrage upon the people and upon the flag he professed to love so well, yet he had the sense of justice strong enough to declare himself friendly to our interests. Mr. Cliff is certainly to be commended by all the Latter-day Saints for his friendly attitude toward us, especially since the Methodist church and Methodist preachers are our bitterest enemies. We trust his counsel may restrain the hostility of the other Methodists of this Territory."

A Vile Wretch.—A highly respectable lady who resides in the Sugar House Ward, while proceeding to the city yesterday morning on the street just east of Liberty Park, was surprised and horrified at seeing a man spring over the fence from the Park in front of her and after making an indecent exposure of his person start toward her as if with the intention of assaulting her. There are no houses in that vicinity, the nearest one being towards the north, to which she attempted to escape, but was headed off three times by the vile scoundrel, who seemed bent upon compelling her to go in the other direction where her cries for help would be less likely to be heard. She dodged his efforts to lay violent hands upon her, but was hindered by him in that lonely place at least half an hour, during which time she resorted to various stratagems to get rid of the presence of the fiend, such as telling him that her husband had just called at the house which she had just passed and would overtake her in a few moments, when he would certainly kill her assailant. She finally kept him at bay by striking at him with sundowner stalks, and managed to escape from him without getting into his clutches, and reached the end of the street car line almost overcome with fright and fatigue. It is a pity she did not arouse some of the neighbors and have a search made for the dirty wretch, and it is to be hoped that he even yet will be apprehended.

She describes him as being a young man, apparently not over twenty-two years of age, with a smooth face, and dressed in a light grey suit.

A Bilk.—Brother Robert A. James, of Hennefer, informs us of a bilk by whom some of the too confiding Saints living along the Weber River have lately been gulled, as follows:

If this is the first warning you may have had concerning a bilk that is going around among the settlements, I hope you will give it space in your valuable paper. He came here on Tuesday, the 9th inst., and said he was around buying mustang horses, for which he claimed there was great demand back east. He offered to pay a good price for them, and there being quite a number of the kind here, the owners thought it would be a good chance to make some cash out of them. He purchased quite a number here, gave his note for them and told the parties to have them ready by the following Monday. He stayed with the Foster Brothers that night, and in the morning asked how much his bill would be. They told him he could settle when he came back and got the horses. He went away Wednesday to Morgan, to buy some more, telling the boys here to all be ready when he came back, and also hired one or two of them to help him to drive them back east.

After he got to Morgan he went through the same dodge, telling the people to get their horses ready on a certain day. Excitement ran rather high, and the demand for mustang was quite brisk. Some even exchanged wagons, clothing, etc., for horses, in the hope of turning the same into cash, and now they have the horses on their hands and do not know what to do with them.

On the day appointed for the "round up," from 150 to 200 head of horses were brought together, when, lo and behold! the man had decamped, and no one knows where.

He was well dressed, would weigh about 180 pounds, was about 5 feet 10 inches in height, rather stooping shoulders, and had plenty of gab but no money.

MORE ARRESTS

ON THE CHARGE OF UNLAWFUL COHABITATION.

About 4 p. m. yesterday, deputy marshals called on the family of Mr.

STANLEY TAYLOR,

and subpoenaed them to appear before Commissioner McKay. Mr. Taylor was also arrested, the complaint against him alleging that he did unlawfully live with and claim Hannah Howard Taylor and Mary Ann Taylor as his wives. Mr. Taylor waived examination and was released on furnishing $1,500 bail, James E. Malin and A. F. Barnes being sureties. The witnesses were also placed under bonds, in $200 each, to appear before the grand jury. This morning, however, Mr. Taylor himself went before the inquisitors and told the facts in the case.

Shortly after 8 a. m. to-day, deputies visited the residence of Mr.

T. E. TAYLOR,

in the Fourteenth Ward, subpoenaed his wife, Mrs. Emma Harris Taylor, his mother, Mrs. Elizabeth Taylor, his brother, and the hired girl, Mary A. Humphreys, of the Twentieth Ward, was also summoned. Deputy Vandercook arrested Mr. Taylor, and 10 a. m. was the hour set for the examination before Commissioner McKay. The warrant of arrest having been issued for "Edward Taylor," he evidently thought he would be safe in arresting every one who answered to that name, so called on Mr. E. Taylor, in the 10th Ward, and placed him under arrest. That gentleman stated that he could not be the person meant, as neither of the names in the complaint were at all similar to his wife's name, but he was brought along despite his protest; and even after it was discovered by the Commissioner that he was not the person wanted, he was held, the pretense being that he might be wanted as a witness. Mr. Taylor waived examination, and was placed under $1,500 bonds to await the action of the grand jury, the witnesses being instructed to present themselves before that body at 2 p. m.

FROM THURSDAY'S DAILY, MAR 25

A Murderer Admitted to Bail.—Reuben A. McBride, who killed Oliver Speed a few days ago, has been indicted for murder in the first degree, and was yesterday admitted to bail by Judge Powers, at Provo, in the sum of $10,000.

Kind.—Dr. C. W. Higgins, on being arraigned before Alderman Pyper this afternoon, pleaded guilty to the charge of assault and battery on the person of John W. Lowell, and paid a fine of $25 for the same.

His brother, Tom Higgins, arraigned on a similar charge, admitted to having struck Mr. Lowell, but claimed that it was in self-defense. The trial was accordingly set for 4 o'clock this afternoon, and a number of witnesses notified to be present.

A Good Piece of Work.—After the close of a recent meeting of the Deacons of the Eleventh Ward, a number of them got together and decided to plant shade trees on the sidewalk and inside the fence of a newly-acquired piece of property for Ward purposes. Accordingly a number of them met last Monday evening and dug the holes, and on Tuesday the trees were purchased and planted by them, assisted by a friend who has had some experience in tree planting. The trees are of the North Carolina poplar variety, and when five years old form a beautiful pyramidal top, with large dark leaves.

Court Proceedings.—In the Third District Court to-day, in the case of James Trihay vs. The Brooklyn Lead Mining Company, the jury returned a verdict of $5,000 damages for the plaintiff, and 30 days' stay of proceedings was allowed the defendant.

Luia S. Horrocks vs. John W. Horrocks; return upon order for motion that the defendant be committed in default of payment of alimony set for hearing on Saturday at 10 a. m.

Louis Oviatt vs. Evan Phelps; submitted and taken under advisement by the Court.

Owen Hogle vs. Hugh Anderson; on trial before a jury.

The case of Hallstrom vs. Larkins was continued for the term.

$5,000 Damages.—The jury in the case of James Trihay vs. The Brooklyn Lead Mining Company, who retired shortly before noon yesterday, after hearing Judge Zane's charge, returned a verdict between 3 and 4 o'clock this morning, having been out over 15 hours. The suit was brought by Trihay for $50,000 damages, for injuries received in the Brooklyn mine, Bingham, by a rock falling on his back, permanently disabling him. It is understood that the jury stood 11 to 1 in favor of giving the plaintiff damages even higher than the amount agreed upon, but the single dissenting juror hung out until the time stated, before consenting to the verdict given.

Beaver Items.—The following is a special per Deseret Telegraph line:

BEAVER, Utah, March 25, 1886.

Editor Deseret News:

Orrick has been found guilty of murder in the second degree, and sentenced to twelve years in the Utah Penitentiary.

Robert Easton, arrested on the charge of unlawful cohabitation with his wives, has been put under the usual bonds.

Carter has been tried on two more indictments charging him with receiving stolen property, and has been acquitted.

Watson has been sentenced to six months in the Pen., and fined $300 and costs.

It is a costly situation to be a lucky to a deputy marshal. A man named Stubbs, of Parowan, was requested to guard Watson while the deputy procured a warrant. In the meantime Watson escaped, and poor Stubbs was indicted, and though finally acquitted by a jury, was saddled with $125 as attorney fees, besides costs and time in court.

John, the Italian, accused of grand larceny, on being brought to trial, set up the insanity plea; the jury tried the issue and brought in a verdict that the defendant was insane. This is the character who attacked Sheriff Hutchings in the Beaver jail recently.

The petit jury has been discharged, and the court is expected to adjourn to-night.

Poor House.—For a number of years past a large proportion of the county funds have been expended in the care of paupers, there being quite a number of persons in Salt Lake County who, from various causes, have been unable to earn a livelihood. Relief was extended by the County Court to these unfortunate people, and recently the number has been so increased that the county officials in dealing with the matter, arrived at the conclusion that if their wards were gathered together in one building, under supervision of the County Court, such labor as they might be able to perform could be so directed as to aid in sustaining themselves.

In furtherance of this object the purchase was made, a short time since, of ten acres of fine tillable land, on the State Road, about two and a half miles south of the city. Plans of a building were considered, and finally one adopted and the contract let for its erection. The building, which is to be two-story, and of brick, will cover about 75x35 feet of ground, the first floor having 11 rooms—kitchen, parlor, bed-rooms, dining and bath-rooms, closets, etc.—and the second story 14 rooms, providing in all accommodations for 40 inmates. It is the intention to utilize the labor of those provided a home in the institution, in tilling the soil, raising vegetables, etc., and by the means adopted the county anticipate that considerable outlay will be saved, as now a round sum weekly has to be paid for the support of the indigent, of whom about 30 are cared for.

A Life Sketch.—Sister Marinda N. Hyde, whose death occurred in this city yesterday morning, was the daughter of John and Elsa Johnson, and was born in Pomfret, Windsor Co., Vermont, June 28th, 1815.

In February, 1818, her father and several neighbors took their families to Hiram, Portage Co., Ohio, where she grew to early womanhood. In the winter of 1831 her father and mother saw the Book of Mormon, and were so interested in it that they went to Kirtland to see the Prophet Joseph Smith, and were baptized before their return.

In the following April she also became a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, in which she continued a faithful member till death.

In 1838 she removed to Kirtland, and the next year was married to Orson Hyde. In 1837, when she had a three-weeks old babe, her husband started with the first company of Elders to carry the Gospel to England, leaving her to realize what so many "Mormon" women have since felt, the cares and anxieties of the wife and mother when the husband is on a mission in a foreign land, and the sustaining influence of the Holy Spirit that enabled her to bear cheerfully—even happily—the many scenes of hardship and persecution that all the old members of the Church have endured.

In 1838 she went to Missouri, and in 1840 to Nauvoo, and, when driven from there in 1846, to Council Bluffs, where she remained till Apostle Hyde migrated with his family, in 1852, to this city, where she has lived ever since as a member of the Seventeenth Ward. In 1868 she was appointed President of the Relief Society of that Ward, which position she has held ever since with satisfaction to the members. She was also one of the board of directors of the Deseret Hospital in which institution she took great interest till the last.

She was true and faithful, and looked forward with pleasure to meeting the loved ones who had gone before in the reunion of the just.

A RINGING RETORT.

A NON-"MORMON" WOMAN OF OGDEN REPLIES TO THE STATEMENT OF A LYING REPORTER.

A contemptible anti-"Mormon" sheet issued in Ogden published a sensational screed last Saturday about the poverty and suffering of the family of J. C. Grow, an employe of the street car line in that city, in which the writer abused the officers and stockholders of the street car company and the "Mormon" Church generally for allowing the family to live in a poor dwelling in an unhealthy location, and rot in some far-fetched slurs on religion. In yesterday's issue of the Ogden Herald, the mother of the family whose pitiful condition had been made the excuse for the scandalous article referred to, published the following letter as a reply:

Editor Herald: The Ogden News seems determined to wantonly injure and insult us, apparently for the sole reason that we are poor, unfortunate and comparatively defenceless. The local editor of that paper must be a very cruel coward, or he would not so maliciously wrong a family in distress.

Let me state the facts: We came here from Idaho, after having been impoverished there by fire. My husband found employment with the Street Car Company through the kindness of Mr. J. S. Young and Mr. O. P. Arnold, to both of whom we have occasion to be particularly grateful. We chose our own place of residence, without compulsion or instruction from any one, and being governed by our financial circumstances and my husband's convenience. The Street Car Company has no responsibility for the filth which is emptied under our windows from the adjoining hotel, or by parties who occupy rooms above ours.

It is true that one of our children is sick; but that fact does not justify the lie of the News in his brutal work of dragging our misfortunes before the public. Other families have sick little ones without seeing their best friends abused on that account by the newspapers.

The local editor of the News came to our place without any invitation from us. While he was there the worst smell in the whole locality was from his breath; and even long after he was gone it deadened all other odors about the place. I always knew that whisky was no good; but I did not know how badly spoiled it could be until I caught a whiff of Mr. Hæfeli's breath.

In our trouble the only free help we have received has been from Mormons. My husband and myself are not Mormons now; but if we should ever join the Church I guess we would stick to it, and not turn traitor as Mr. Hæfeli has done.

We have rented a small farm, to which our mother, myself and the children expect soon to move.

Yours respectfully,
ROSANNAH A. GROW,
Wife of J. C. Grow,
Ogden, March 24, 1886.
