EDWIN GOULD IN IT.

A Company Formed for the Manufacture of Matches

AND OTHER WOODEN ARTICLES.

New Machines Turning Out 150,000 Matches a Minute to Be Used.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—Not satisfied with owning a large share of the railroads of the country and holding a virtual monopoly of the telegraph lines, the Goulds are preparing to enter the fields of manufactures and compete with one of the biggest commercial monopolies in the country—the Diamond Match trust. Edwin A. Gould's name appears in the articles of incorporation of a new company which were filed in Trenton, N. J., September 1st, by the secretary and treasurer of the new concern, Lieutenant-Colonel Wallace Downs of this city.

The new organization is called the Continental Match company and has its offices in Temple Court and a plant erected on Bloomfield avenue, Passaic, N. J. According to its charter it is formed for "the manufacture of matches and other wooden articles," capital, $1,000,000; president, Edwin A. Gould; vice president, W. W. F. Hutchinson; secretary and treasurer, Wallace A. Downs.

New match-making machines will be used, each slightly larger than a sewing machine, having a longer table, and all that seems necessary to make matches is to feed a roll of veneered wood in one end of the machine and match splits, all cut, fly out of the other at the rate of 150,000 a minute. Mr. Hutchinson, the inventor, who is a direct descendant of Robert Fulton, the inventor of the steamboat, said briefly about his invention: "These match machines are patented in every country in the globe and are fully protected. How much they are in advance of other match-making machines, I can show you by telling you that the highest speed attained by any machine is 5,000 matches a minute."

SUGAR BOUNTY.

The Question to Be Brought Before the Court.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The Mike Fleming sugar manufacturing company of Louisiana, engaged in the planting and growing of sugar cane, this afternoon applied to Judge McComas in the district supreme court, for a mandamus against the secretary of the treasury and commissioner of internal revenue to compel them to continue the inspection of sugar plantations required by the McKinley sugar bounty law.

Judge McComas directed that Secretary Carlisle be required to show cause October 4th why mandamus should not issue.

A Sensational Shooting.

PINE BLUFF, Ark., Sept. 19.—Dr. C. McIntosh, the co-respondent in a sensational divorce suit in which J. T. Jenkins, of Sheriff, Ark., is plaintiff, was today at this place shot by Jenkins while standing among a crowd of people and almost instantly killed. Jenkins, a few days ago, sued his wife for a divorce on the ground of adultery with Dr. McIntosh, who is also married. His wife at the same time filed suit for $50,000 damages against F. N. Vaughn, a wealthy planter and merchant, for slander and for alienating her husband's affections, alleging that by Vaughn's libelous remarks about her relations with McIntosh, which had only been of a neighborly nature and done at a family gathering to her on his part, her husband became estranged from her and deserted her. Jenkins a few days ago left for Texas. He returned today and the shooting of McIntosh follows.

Terrorizing the Chickasaw Nation.

WICHITA, KAN., Sept. 19.—A special to the Eagle by way of Kiowa-We-We-Ka and Tecumseh from Stonewall, in the Chickasaw Nation, brings information to the effect that King Blue, the leader of the Chickasaw negro Indians, is in open rebellion.

The insurrectionists have gone out on a marauding tour, and are terrorizing the Indian citizens and especially the squawmen. Last Saturday the band, headed by King Blue, swept down on the farm of Gen. H. Truax, postmaster at Stonewall. The negroes came down on the farm at midday. Truax, a white man, and his squaw were led from the house and bound with rope and hog fetters. King Blue and his band then proceeded to destroy everything in the house they could not eat and drink, and after satisfying themselves, rode off howling and screeching. Neighbors found Truax and his wife and released them.

Other Indian citizens have been similarly treated, and the western part of the Chickasaw Nation is in a state of terror.

Letter Carriers' Convention.

CLEVELAND, O., Sept. 19.—Pandemonium reigned supreme for a time at today's session of the national letter carriers convention. When chairman Powers of the legislative committee started to make a supplementary report of the work of his committee at Washington during the past year, which has apparently been unsatisfactory to the members, a dozen delegates jumped to their feet and howled him down. Chairman Powers then was fired so rapidly that it was impossible to keep a record of them. Two of the chairman's colleagues on the committee were accused of ghost [illegible] in Washington. It was finally [illegible] to lay the matter aside temporarily. Later the charges against Powers will be taken up and acted upon.

Nine Posts Abandoned.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—It was perhaps with a view to the unexpected execution of the plan for the concentration of troops and the reduction of the number of army posts that the formal orders give it effect was withheld until Congress had adjourned and not few senators and representatives remained in Washington. By the terms of the order nine posts are abandoned. They are in the West, namely: Fort Maxey, N. M.; Fort Bowie, Ariz.; Fort McKinney, Wyo.; Fort Duncan, Tex.; Fort Custer, Mont.; Fort Sully, S. D.; Fort Supply, Okla.; Fort Mackinac, Mich., and Newport Barracks, Ky. These posts were much too numerous in Western states, causing expenditure with regularity of large sums of money by the garrisons and encouraging business generally. It was not supposed they could be abandoned without some opposition, and already a flood of protests have begun to pour in upon the war department, remonstrating against the changes in every case. Secretary Lamont, who is acting as secretary of war, has to bear the brunt, but he is laying aside the papers until the return of Secretary Lamont, who must pass upon them in the end.

A Sanguinary Feud.

KENNEDY, TEX., Sept. 19.—Sam Bradley and Bill Bosworth, while driving home from town, met R. E. Hurtle and Tom and Foster Butler, with whom they had a feud. Bradley opened fire, which was returned by Hurtle. Two of the Butlers, Bosworth and Bradley were killed.

JAPAN'S FURTHER PLANS.

An Invasion of China Looked for by Army Officers.

European Powers Alarmed and Looking for a Way to Terminate the War.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The confirmatory news received today by Secretary Gresham of the defeat of the Chinese by land and sea, with the further notice that telegraphic communication between Peking and Corea had been cut off by the Japanese, is taken here as an evidence that the Chinese forces are in a miserable plight. The small remnant of an army in Corea is cut off from reinforcement by the sea as a result of the defeat of the Chinese fleet at the mouth of the Yalu river; they cannot communicate with their own government by wire, and as their escape from the Corean peninsula by the northern overland route is prevented by the advance of the mountain passes by the Japanese, their surrender seems to be inevitable.

The Japanese, therefore, are now in force on the border and coast of their enemy, and an early transfer of the scene of war from Corea to China is looked for by army officers, unless the movement should be prevented by the early advent of winter. The military experts believe that as soon as the invading Chinese troops in Corea have surrendered, the Japanese will transport the main body of their troops by sea from Ping Yang to the Manchurian coast, and making a rapid advance on Mukden, the capital of the province, will soon be in a position to organize a campaign on Peking itself. It is believed here that the Chinese troops are almost demoralized, and that the only obstacle to the triumphant campaign of the Japanese, apart from the inclement weather of northern China, is to be looked for in the interference of the great powers. There is reason to believe the feeling is growing in Europe that the war has gone far to go beyond bounds unless some influence is brought to check it, and some nations having large interests in China have already taken the alarm. They fear the result on their own interest if so overwhelming a victory by Japan, that must be followed by the demolition of Japanese interests, and actuated by commercial territorial jealousy they are seeking a way to terminate the war.

THAT NAVAL ENGAGEMENT.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The Chinese northern squadron, under the command of Admiral Ting, left Port Arthur last Friday night, having under convoy seven transports. All the troops on board the transports were Honanese, most of them infantry. There were also a number of artillerymen with their batteries on board. Several Europeans accompanied the fleet. The object of the expedition was to land the troops near Wiju, whence they were to be sent to the front. Nothing was seen of the enemy until the mouth of the Yalu river was reached. Then a fleet of warships was reported to be in sight and bearing down on the Chinese squadron. Signals were hoisted on the Chinese flagship ordering the transports to make all possible speed for a place of safety. Signals were also set for the Chinese fleet to meet for action. This order was obeyed. In the meantime the Japanese squadron was coming up rapidly, making direct for the Chinese vessels. The transports had run in towards the shore and hurried preparations were made to send the troops ashore. Many of them were landed before the battle commenced.

The Chin Yuen, one of the most powerful vessels in the Chinese navy, fired a shot at the Japanese as soon as the latter came in range of her guns. The fire was promptly returned and soon the Chin Yuen was fully engaged with two large Japanese cruisers, one of which is said to have been the Chiyoda.

The other Japanese vessels got into the position they desired and the fight then became general. For six hours the battle was waged furiously, the deep boom of the great guns commingling with the sharp reports of the rifles. Nearly all the vessels on both sides were engaged for the whole six hours.

The splendid cruiser Chin Yuen took a prominent part in the engagement. Her Krupp and Armstrong guns were well served and she poured a hot and well-sustained fire from her auxiliary batteries. One of the Japanese vessels discharged a torpedo at her. The missile sped well toward its target and struck the Chin Yuen fairly. When it exploded it was apparent that it had done great damage, for the Chin Yuen began almost immediately to settle. Her crew, however, stuck to their guns and delivered a very effective shot before the vessel sank.

The belted cruiser King Yuen met a similar fate, being struck with a torpedo and sinking shortly afterward.

Many of the crew of both vessels went down with the sinking of their ships. Only a few on board were saved, and it is reported 600 officers and men were drowned by the sinking of the two vessels.

After the Chin Yuen (not Chin Yuen) and King Yuen had gone down the cruiser Yang Wei and Chao Yung ran aground while maneuvering for a position. They were helpless and a destructive fire was poured into them from the big guns of the Japanese. Some of the Japanese warships devoted themselves for a time to the transports which had not time to get out of range. It is believed several of the transports were sunk, including one from which the troops had not been landed. It is estimated the total loss in killed and wounded is 1,500. It is reported the Japanese loss was 1,000 killed and wounded.

Up to the time of sending the dispatches it was impossible to learn the course of the Japanese vessels the Chinese allege were destroyed in the engagement.

ON TO PEKING.

NEW YORK, Sept. 20.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says: Field Marshal Count Yamagata, commanding the troops in Corea, is marching with 45,000 Japanese troops on Shikien, from the southeast. The treasure captures at Ping Yang amounted to $4,000,000.

AS HAS NOT BEEN STATED.

LONDON, Sept. 20.—A Tokio special from Berlin says the statement that Viceroy Li Hung Chang had committed suicide in consequence of reverses that had been met by the Chinese army and his displeasure in consequence, is denied here. As a matter of fact, he communicated yesterday with the Chinese legation in this city.

ALIX MAKES THE RECORD.

The Fastest Heat Ever Trotted—Time 2:08¼.

GALESBURG, Ill., Sept. 19.—Fifteen thousand people gathered themselves hence this afternoon when the great trotting queen Alix beat the world's record by coming under the wire in 2:08¼. It was 5 o'clock when Alix paced in front of the grand stand for a little preliminary work. McDowell was her driver. When all was in readiness Williams announced: "Alix will now go against the world's record, 2:08¼."

The start was made in splendid style. Alix came up regularly and steadily as clock work with bare down and her short pointed ears twitching nervously. Alix was given the pole with the runner just to the right and a trifle behind. When she approached the wire for the start she seemed to be going a little slow, but the moment she increased her pace. She was working like a machine and yet so easily and gracefully that one would hardly imagine she was going at such a tremendous clip. When the quarter was reached there was a general exclamation: "Thirty and a nail; she will beat it."

From that to the half she seemed to fly, making it in 1:04. The third quarter she increased her pace a trifle, making it 1:03. Words are utterly inadequate to describe the greatest excitement. Alix was meeting cows without apparent effort. She seemed to fairly fly to get away from the robe that came thundering just behind. As she neared the wire many men glancing at their watches said, "she will make it." The last few rods she again seemed to increase her marvelous speed, and, as she darted under the wire one short second ahead of the thousands, "She's done it, she's done it."

The cheering was prolonged and it was some time before Williams could quiet the crowd so as to make himself heard. He then announced: "You have witnessed the latest, best ever trotted by any trotter on the globe, just trotted by Alix. The first quarter was made in 34, the half in 1:04, the three-quarters in 1:33, and the mile in 2:08¼."

One of the judges caught the time at a glance sec than the official figures and sang to the audience loud in 2:08¼.

A WELL-KNOWN WOMAN.

Mrs. Phebe J. Ellis, nee Phebe Clark, a Forty Years' Resident of Utah,

Makes a Public Statement of the Great Benefit Received From Mrs. Shores & Shores New Treatment.

MRS. PHEBE J. ELLIS, of Bountiful, whose maiden name was Phebe Clark, has lived in Utah forty years, and numbers friends and acquaintances in all sections. Mrs. Ellis is a good daughter of Percy Emmons and a sister of Iowa's famous war governor, the late Samuel J. Kirkwood, whose decease so recent is still mourned by the whole nation. In a recent interview, Mrs. Ellis said:

MRS. PHEBE J. ELLIS, BOUNTIFUL, UTAH.

"I have had much trouble since childhood, due to nearly forty years. Later I contracted catarrh, which ruined my general health and aggravated my other trouble to such an extent that when I went to Drs. Shores & Shores for relief I was certainly just as badly off as any one ever was. I was as near the grave as could be and still live.

"Besides all the misery resulting from catarrh, I suffered and was confinedly sick from my sickness, or experienced what was without the terrible fear that that moment was my last in life. For fifteen minutes at a time I would be dead, seemingly to stay, and I would be like one dead.

"Drs. Shores & Shores have actually done wonders for me. I was almost a physical wreck and now I feel as if I had a new lease on life. My hearts all so much better I look the moment they see me. The medicine performed a very skillful operation to remove a polypus from my nose without pain or bleeding.

"I am very glad indeed to recommend the Drs. Shores & Shores to my friends and the public."
