AMUSEMENTS.

Theater—Momus, Thalia, Melpomene, Terpsichore, aided and abetted by John Critchlow, Lester Freed, Dana Smith and several others more or less guilty, joined hands and indulged in high jinks at the Salt Lake theater last evening. It was the annual charity fund benefit of the Elks and nothing in the history of recent Elkdom has equalled the event for general enjoyment, first-class entertainment and interest on the part of the public. The house was well filled, and the audience and performers seemed to vie with each other as to which should get the best possible time out of the evening's program. The hardest worked man of the night was Director Shepherd of the orchestra, whose hairs are no doubt perceptibly grayer this morning. The stage presented a great bouquet of loveliness when the curtain arose and disclosed all the seats occupied by ladies in white, the customary minstrel ring in front, with J. C. Leary mounted on a small throne as interlocutor, and with Messrs Critchlow, Freed, Smith, Redman, Dunbar and Wood as the tambos and bones on the end. The jokes, the repartees and the local "gags" went in fast and furious order, interspersed with songs and choruses for the next hour; while the taste of some of the "gags" may be questioned, everyone took them goodhumoredly, especially those who perpetrated them.

The cleverest things of the night were the song with the local allusions by Mr. Freed, Mr. Critchlow's ballet and walk around, Mr. Smith's "If the Man in the Moon Were a Coon," "The Cow Boy" act of Mr. Sullivan and his charming group of girls in frontier costumes, and the wooden shoe dance and song by the group of Dutch girls. Mr. Homer tried to make a talk, but the audience was so determined on getting fun out of the event that he speedily desisted. Miss Kathleen Fitzpatrick scored in several charming numbers and the group of ladies who rendered "In Timbuctoo," and the other group which sang, "I Love You All the Time," were encored to the echo. Mr. Sibley, accompanied by seven charming girls, made another hit in "Love's Bouquet." A most attractive number was "Oh, Mr. Moon," led by Mrs. Davis and Mrs. Boukofsky, assisted by 57 children. "The Society Leaders" in the song "Are You Coming Out Tonight, Mary Ann?" also caused any amount of merriment. The French cake walk by the "Little Dears" was immensely applauded, and the rainbow song and dance by a very charming octette had to be repeated again and again. Mrs. Pitt and chorus in the "Kalamazoo" number added decidedly to the enjoyment of the occasion, while Mrs. Eagan in her "Do Re Mi," assisted by the chorus, was graceful and charming throughout. The "Would You If You Could?" number was excellently done. At the box-office there was some trouble, and a demand for the return of money, because Joel Priest, who had been liberally billed, failed to appear.

The affair was under the management of Mr. Rufus K. Love, who showed himself an indefatigable worker as well as a stage manager of decided attainments. Miss Nettleton presided at the piano.

The same bill goes tonight and ought to draw a heavy turnout.

* * *

The advance indications at the theater are that Lillian Russell will be greeted by a royal audience when she appears tomorrow night in the "Butterfly."

* * *

The advance sale for next week's opera season by the San Carlo company is running thus far between the $2,500 and $5,000 mark.

* * *

Blanche Walsh comes to the theater next Thursday in Clyde Fitch's new play entitled "The Straight Road." In her company is the well known English actor, Chas. Dalton.

* * *

Orpheum—The Orpheum management announces the following bill for next week: May Tully and company, presenting "Stop, Look and Listen;" Olivotti Troubadours, European instrumentalists; Lillian Shaw, talented and popular comedienne; Johnny Johns, "the little man in black;" Mark Sullivan, mimic monologuist; Norton, magician, and the kinodrome.

* * *

Grand—Mr. Harry Leighton and his company are meeting with great success this week in their presentation of "Incog." Next Monday evening will see the opening of the engagement of "Zorah," a play dealing with Russian life and claimed as one of the best Mr. Leighton will present in Salt Lake.

* * *

Lyric—One of the features of the new bill to be put on at the Lyric vaudeville theater beginning Saturday is the illusion act by Roland Travers. He is said to be one of the cleverest magicians in the business. The messenger boy trio have made a reputation as funmakers. Two performances are given every evening.

WHITESIDE SCORES IN BUTTE.

(Special to the "News.")

Butte, Mont., April 10.—Liebler & Co., this evening presented their latest acquisition in the starring line, Walker Whiteside, and a remarkable company in their latest production, "The Magic Melody" at the Broadway Theater, and won an instant and distinct success. The play is a strong, healthy, clean, virile drama of the day, embodying some of the more attractive features of the modern commercial play with an artistic atmosphere created by the tale of the musical world about which the vehicle revolves. Mr. Whiteside made a strong personal impression in the first modern role he has played in years, and the members of his company; Howard Gould, Henry Bergman; Leslie Kenyon; May Buckley; Olive Wyndham and Martha George, all scored individual hits in trying and difficult roles. It looks as if Liebler & Co. had put another big winner over the plate.

NEWS BOYS ATTENTION!

By courtesy of Manager Love the Deseret News invites all the newsboys of the city to attend the big Elks' show at the Salt Lake Theater tonight free of charge. The circulator of the "News" will meet the boys at the third circle door, at 7:30 and "pass them in."

ST. ANTHONY BOOMING.

Prest. Spiers of the Commercial Club Tells of Its Attractions.

St. Anthony's prospects are being boosted and its attractions shown up in Salt Lake by W. W. Spiers, president of the Commercil club of that growing Idaho city.

Since the completion of their third new bank and a large elevator, the latter being one of the biggest in the west, this little city is commanding the attention of capitalists both east and west. With one of the finest water powers in the west, new capital is commencing the establishment of an immense light and power plant, one that can furnish light and power for the entire Snake River valley should occasion require. With plenty of water for irrigation purposes and soil equal to the best, the farmers of this locality are becoming quite independent. The farmers of this locality expect 1907 to be their banner year, and that it will bring prosperity to all lines of business in this part of the state. "We have the liveliest little city in the state," said Mr. Spiers, yesterday, "and expect to be heard from more in the future than in the past. We have one great need, however, a venture that would prove very profitable—that is a new hotel. Someone with capital could do well to look over the prospects at this point."

St. Anthony now has a live commercial club which expects to do much for the interests of the town and county. Fishing was never better than right within the gates of the city, and Mr. Spiers has the promise of many Salt Lake anglers to try their luck there this summer.

THROWS UP CONTRACT.

Utah Fireproofing Co. Declines to Continue Laying Cement Sidewalks.

The board of public works received notice from the Utah Fireproofing company yesterday that it will not complete its contract for the laying of cement sidewalks in this city. The contract was let in 1905 and was originally for approximately 200,000 feet of walks. The council and the board of public works increased this amount to 1,200,000 feet and the company has completed 700,000 feet, but refuses to complete the rest. As it has done more than its original contract called for, City Attorney Hiles has advised the board of public works that the company cannot be compelled to do any more work. Part of the work left undone is on the north bench from South Temple street north to Sixth avenue and another portion is in the southwestern portion of the city near the Jordan river.

From all indications the board of public works will have to declare the bond of J. W. Mellen forfeited and the city will have to complete the work of grading north Main street. The contract was let to Mellen about two years ago for $1,250 and was to have been completed by Mar. 31, 1907. It is not completed yet, but is far from it and the board has notified Mellen that his bond of $4,000 will be forfeited unless he fulfills his contract.

The work of grading and macadamizing Second avenue was commenced by Contractor P. J. Moran yesterday and he expects to have it completed by July 31.

Y. M. C. A. BANQUET.

Second Annual Event Occurs With Due Eclat in the Gym.

The second annual banquet of the Salt Lake Y. M. C. A. was held last evening in the association gymnasium, with 75 members in attendance. L. C. Miller was toastmaster, and excellent vocal music was furnished by a glee club composed of Phil Thompson, Art Bowen, Earl Neilison, E. A. Roberts, Mr. Brook, Earl Morris, C. C. Verity, C. E. Angel, M. M. Saxten, E. S. Davidson, J. H. Wilson and J. M. Morley, under the direction of M. M. Brines.

Dean Brewster of St. Mark's cathedral offered the opening prayer, and toasts were responded to by Col. C. G. Plummer of the First regiment; Rev. Elmer I. Goshen, International Secy. J. R. Thompson, Hon. Stephen H. Love, Secy. O. L. Cox. In his response, Secy. Thompson said in part:

"The problem of the world is the city, and the problem of the city is the young man. Five out of six young men in the city are away from home and boarding. There is only one place the young man can go and be clean; that is the Y. M. C. A. One-half of the young men never go to church; 10 per cent attend only fairly well; 25 pe rcent attend regularly and 5 per cent do the work of the church. The best organization to help the young man from 7 o'clock Monday morning until 7 Saturday night is the Y. M. C. A. My advice to young men is to tie up with the Y. M. C. A. movement and never leave it. The Y. M. C. A. has the best gymnaisum in the country. The army man says that when the Y. M. C. A. comes in it depletes the guardhouse. It has helped the miners; there is less drunkenness among them and more saving of salary; the railroads are in favor of the movement, the strongest business men of the country are back of it."

CHASE AFTER BURGLAR.

Exciting Times on the East Bench This Afternoon Early.

Mrs. Alfred T. Egan of 620 east Second South street, was luxuriating in her bath tub at 1:45 this afternoon, when she heard the front door open. Thinking it was her liege lord, she called out, "Is that you Fred?" There was no response but silence; so jumping out of the tub, and hastily donning her attire, Mrs. Egan hurried down stairs, just in time to see a strange young man making a hasty exit through the front door. Mrs. Egan gave the alarm as the stranger ran swiftly down Sixth East street. A gang of pavers "took in the situation" and tried to surround the runner. But the latter climbed over several fences and disappeared through a back yard.

The police promptly responded to the call with the wagon, seven policemen and a "News" reporter, and at last accounts the vicinity was being scraped with a fine toothed comb in the effort to capture the would-be burglar.

RAILROAD NEWS.

FIRST THROUGH TRAIN.

Conference Visitors From Points South May Take Salt Lake Route.

Parties returning to Arizona, New Mexico and Mexico will be glad to learn that the through train starting out to night over the Salt Lake Route will make direct connections with Southern Pacific trains in the southern Nevada country for all points in the territory mentioned. The first through train leaves the Salt Lake station tonight at 9 o'clock, and will carry passengers for southern points with schedule connection with the Southern Pacific for Arizona and New Mexico points. Many conference visitors will take advantage of this service.

The train tonight will be composed of the regular equipment and two standard Pullmans and one tourist sleeper. Reservations have been made for this train as far east as Denver, connection being made with the D. & R. G. from that point. Among the local people who have secured berths on the first through train are E. L. Godbe, J. W. Neill and Mrs. John Greaves of this city.

The express companies resume this evening, business between this city and Los Angeles, over the Salt Lake Route.

People wishing to go to Saltair will have to take the West Second South street cars, instead of the First South street cars as in the past, as the tracks west of Third West on First South are torn up, and there is no passage westward.

HOTEL GOSSIP.

F. A. Flint, of Yerington, Nevada, is at the Kenyon. "Yerington is a new town," said Mr. Flint today, "but it is a good town, and is coming rapidly to the front. Railway surveys have been completed to the town from two ways and this helps the town considerably. The boom is not an inflated one, but a permanent, steady growth. The railroad situation is this," said the gentleman. "A syndicate of Philadelphia and New York capitalists, who are heavily interested in the Yerington mines, has organized and financed a company which will furnish electric power and lights for the mines and will build and operate a freight and passenger road from Wabuska. A contract has been entered into with the Truckee Light and Power company for power, and the post holes for the line have been dug and the poles shipped. It is expected that the railway will be in operation by mid-summer. Both the Southern Pacific and the Clark roads have surveyed a line into the district, and it is the belief that the former will commence construction at an early day. The development work in several of the older mines has progressed to such an extent as to prove up a big tonnage in such properties as the Ludwig, which is shipping regularly, the Nevada Douglas, Mason Valley (Spragg mine), the Bluestone, Malachite, Gallagher and McConnell. Yerington is most favorably located for cheap mining, being practically surrounded by an agricultural country of unrivaled richness, and within striking distance of the railroad. The ore bodies are unusually large, and carry very high values in copper. The formation is lime and porphyry, and there are not lacking quartz ledges carrying good values in gold. The conditions are so favorable for big mines that Newhouse, De Lamar, Schwab, Heinze, Snyder, the Guggenheims and many lesser lights have gotten in already, and are engaging in development work on a large scale. Salt Lake and Goldfield people were among the first to realize the possibilities of the district, and are well represented in the heart of the proven district."

Alex Toponce, an old resident of Ogden, is registered at the Wilson. Mr. Toponce is one of the number who witnessed the driving of the last spike at Promontory in April, 1869, which welded together the bands of steel uniting the east with the west. He says he will never forget the impressiveness of that occasion. There were present Stanford, Crocker, Adams, Villard, and a number of the old railroad warhorses who built their roads through the mountain fastnesses and plains of wilderness to bring civilization to the great west, cementing the Union by the driving on that occasion of the last, the golden spike.

Fred Wood, the obliging Apollo-like clerk at the Kenyon hotel, is in receipt of some unique letters. One of his correspondents addresses him as "F. Six-Footer Wood," while another simply pasted one of Fred's postal photos on a card and wrote "Salt Lake City" under it and let it go at that. Mr. Wood received the letter without any trouble.

H. Bullen, Jr., state senator from Cache, is registered at the Wilson. Senator Bullen reports everything prosperous in the north end of the state, and says that he is out of politics temporarily, at least, until he can get the fag ends of his personal business bound together again, after the neglect they experienced while he was helping kill the consolidation and other bills in the legislature.

* * *

F. J. Bailey of Hillsboro, Oregon, is autographed at the Knutsford. Mr. Bailey says the people of his state are very well satisfied with the results of their new primary election laws, and the indication by popular vote of the people's choice for national senator. "This plan resulted in choosing Jonathan Bourne as senator from Oregon last fall," said Mr. Bailey, "and the people expressed themselves very generally on the question. The representatives in the legislature abided by the decision of the ballots and elected Mr. Bourne senator." It further appeared that Mr. Bourne is not only an astute politician, but a splendid advertiser, and his press agent and private secretary is none other than John C. Young, sometime of this city.

WESTERN MARKET LETTER.

Special Correspondence.

Kansas City Stockyards, April 8.—The run of 23,400 cattle last week was practically the same size as during the previous week, and slightly smaller than same week last year. The general market advanced 10 to 25 cents during the week, beef steers getting most of the gain. Only a small proportion of the supply came from the range country, and the same is applicable to the run of 12,000 head today. The market today is weak to 10 cents lower on fed steers, while she stuff and country grades are strong to a shade higher. Some medium class 1,300 pound Colorado fed steers, on the rough order, sold at 5.00 to 5.40 last week, good Oklahomas brought up to 5.75, while few beef steers sold to below 4.50. Cows range from 3.00 to 4.60, heifers mainly at 3.50 to 4.75, with a few sales up to 5.25, and yearlings today at 5.35, bulls 3.00 to 4.25, range stockers 4.25 to 4.75, feeders 4.50 to 4.90. Demand from outside sources was heavy last week, and local packers met competition at every turn, indicating a healthy state of trade in killing stuff, while demand for country grades was a little larger than the supply last week, especially for weighty feeders.

Mutton supplies fell below 30,000 head last week for the first time in several weeks, and the market closed the week 10 to 20 cents higher. The run is 11,000 today, market 10 to 15 cents higher, and record prices were paid for lambs today at 8.20, highest price ever paid on the Missouri river for fed lambs. Four carloads were sold at this price, weighing 85 pounds, from the Drake, Spencer and Wagner feed lots, in the Arkansas valley. Other lighter lambs today sold at 7.80 to 8.00, fair to good ewes at 5.75 to 5.90 yearlings recently at 7.00 and wethers are quotable at 5.80 to 6.25, very few included. One lot of 700 yearlings wethers, weighing 84 pounds, sold today at 6.84. Small numbers of clipped stock are coming, selling 1.00 to 1.25 below wooled stuff, and a few feeding lambs arrive, and find ready sale at 6.80 to 7.25. Traders here can see nothing but moderate runs and strong prices for the immediate future.

We can fill orders promptly.
