ENGLISH HIGH LIFE.

Great Preparations for Welcoming the Czar to Balmoral.

THE DONCASTER ENTERTAINMENTS.

Lib Presents to Queen Victoria—Selling the Venezuela Case—Arbitrator Disgusted—Sports.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—[Special London cable letter. Copyright, 1896, by the Associated Press.]—The weather during the past week in all parts of the United Kingdom has been miserable and has greatly interfered with the pleasure of partridge shooting, etc., with racing, and in fact with all kinds of sport.

PRINCE AT DONCASTER.

There was a great gathering, however, at the Doncaster races. At nearly all the places in the vicinity there were large house parties. The Prince of Wales was a guest of the earl of Crewe at Frymen hall, and the earl of Rosebery entertained the duke of Cambridge and a party at Woodley hall. The Wilkins had a large party at Tranlycroft. The hosts took their guests by special trains daily to Doncaster. At the Prince of Wales incidentally has not visited Doncaster since the famous Tranlycroft scandal, in which of the St. Ledger stakes, with Persimmon, while for a while almost a tongue condemnation, was very popular.

Mr. Richard Croker and his friends had a very bad day on Thursday. They hoodoo to make a coup and in consequence Americus was heavily blown to win the Portland plate, but the American colt, late Bay del Carmen, came in second.

WELCOME FOR THE CZAR.

The visit of the czar of Russia to England is eagerly looked toward to in many circles. When he has landed here, at the time of the wedding of the duke and duchess of York, he seemed to be a simple, unaffected boy and enjoyed himself thoroughly. He drove in the drag of Rosebery and paddled with the little Rosebergs at Osborne. But now the greatest preparations are being made for his reception in Balmoral. Additional horses, carriages and servants have been dispatched from the royal stables in London, and during his majesty's stay in Scotland, a numberless number of footmen and outriders will be especially assigned to his case. It is whispered on all sides that Queen Victoria is projecting unusual lavish hospitality and that the visit will have a political significance. The marriage of Miss Rosebery and the lord of the treasury, Mr. A. J. Balfour, with the Prince of Wales and other members of the royal family, will be guests at Balmoral during the stay of the Russian magnate.

VENEZUELA CASE IS SETTLING.

The presence in London of Mr. Bayl, the American expert in the Venezuelan case, and his colleague, Dr. Rosa, together with the expected arrival of Mr. Frederick Coudert, one of the boundary commissioners appointed by the United States government, has given fresh impetus to the Venezuelan question during the week. All interviews between English and American high diplomats on the subject indicate that both sides agree that matters are rapidly nearing a settlement. Mr. Bayl has been receiving extraordinary facilities from the Foreign office and expects to return to The Hague in September. He said: "At The Hague we are approaching the completion of our work. The latter is to be very full. I have completely shut my eyes and ears to the British and Venezuelan pretensions. I have only to ascertain the facts and it is not my business to say what is the tendency of those facts."

LIB PRESENTS TO VICTORIA.

Li Hung Chang's presents to Queen Victoria have just been arranged in the bridal room at Osborne. They are valued at £5,000. The superior of China's gifts comprised an old white porcelain vase adorned with red dragons, an antique bronze goblet, two unique blue lacquer buttons, two unique blue-green porcelain poles, a magnificent white jade vase decorated with chrysanthemums and fruit, and a green yellow porcelain decorated with flowers.

The gifts of Li Hung Chang to her Majesty are almost as valuable as those of the emperor. They include exquisitely embroidered satins, enameled jars on a dragon stand, a massive blue and gold vase, a red porcelain fish bowl of the seventh century, a green porcelain flower vase, and an enameled portrait of the fairy Mazow.

A ROYAL FISHERSWOMAN.

The duchess of Fife is very busy indeed fishing and taking snap shots with her camera. She is a most expert fly fisher and has landed a dozen salmon, the largest weighing thirteen pounds, in a single afternoon.

DISGUSTED AT FAIR PLAY.

During the week the royal Victorian medal has been bestowed on one of the queen's domestics for suppressing an outbreak of fire at Buckingham palace, on the eve of the wedding of Princess Maud of Wales to Prince Charles of Denmark. In consequence there is considerable disgust manifested among the aristocratic medal holders of royal Victorian medals.

FOOTBALL AND BOATING.

Football has succeeded cricket as the popular sport of the season and it receives almost as much public interest.

The Gaudeau-Stanslory race hardly found the sensation predicted, so far as general interest is concerned, and, as a comment was passed when, after the race, Gaudeau went to everybody on board the umpire's boat, only to hand, collecting money on any speculation might have done after rowing some through a performance.

AN EXPLOSIVE DEAD.

Prior Jerome Vaughan, a brother of Cardinal Vaughan, whose death has just been announced, only recently returned from collecting funds in Australia and the United States in wandering the east end of London. He was taken to his San Francisco, reached Chicago in the middle of the great hot wave and was never well since he arrived.

DRAMATIC SUCCESS.

George Alexander is having a most successful trip with his The Prisoner of Zenda in the provinces. Speaking of the dramatization of successful novels, Mr. Alexander recently said: "Character is to be sought everywhere. No one knows how the idea of a novel impresses itself upon a manager. The dramatic drama is to be a combination of what is real in history and the successful fiction of the day."

Opposes a Silver Sale.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 12.—W. W. Kurtz, a member of first mortgage bonds of the Philadelphia, Reading and New England railroad company has filed a bill to enjoin the sale of the road, to convert the sale of the Philadelphia & Reading property under foreclosure of the general mortgage. He alleges that the terms of the proposed sale are inequitable.

NEW CUBAN ATROCITIES.

This Time the Insurgents are in the Butchering Business.

Non-Combatants Horribly Maltreated by Orders of Gomez—Men Must Fight or be Murdered.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—A dispatch to the Herald from Havana says:

It is the rebels now who are making war upon Cuban pacifists. Under a late decree of Maximo Gomez, those who have attempted to preserve a neutral position must show their colors and come out openly for one side or the other. A horrified once are now confronted and they must take a machete in hand and strike for Cuba and independency, or abandon their home, take refuge within the cities and live in hold by the government troops, and consider a title to defense of Spain and the crown. Neutrality in Cuba will not be respected in time of war. The order says there should be no pacifists save as those women and innocent children. By a strange coincidence he and Captain General Weyler have upon their respective identical lines, and stranger still, each is opposed to allowing planters to gather their sugar, coffee and cocoa crops until after the war is fought to a finish.

All over the island disquietude bring reports of a silence Weyler Gomez's orders are being carried out. Beyond the Vibora, on the Herrera sugar estate, but a few leagues from Havana, Salvador Varela, a poor peasant, was dragged from his humble hut, shot and afterward horribly machetied by an insurgent band before the eyes of his wife and children, whose appeals for mercy awaken naught. His crime was failure to obey a previous intimation from the insurgents that he should either join them or move into town.

On the Fortuna estate one old widow with a house full of children was driven out of her home and home. Its torch being applied to the building while their humble plantings were destroyed.

In Matanzas province Rafael Hernandez, employed in La Espana plantation, which was owned by former Minister Romero was lynched and left dangling to a tree.

An Actor's Funeral.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The funeral of James Lewis, the actor, will take place from the Church of the Ascension Monday morning. The interment will be in Woodlawn cemetery. Dr. Houghton will officiate. The music will be furnished by the orchestra of Daly's theatre under the direction of William Wheeler. Honorary pallbearers will be Augustin Daly, John R. Scheidel, Henry E. Abbey, John Drew, Henry Miller, Dr. Hubbard Curtis, William Sampson, Sol Smith Russell and George Clark.

Brazil and Chile in Trouble.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—A dispatch to the Herald from Buenos Ayres says:

The Herald's correspondent in Rio de Janeiro says that President Moraes of Brazil has had a conference with General Cerqueira, the minister of state, over the Chilean trouble. It was the opinion of the conference to devise a plan to avoid trouble in the diplomatic relations between Italy and Brazil. Congress has adjourned until October.

Meeting Spanish Troops.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—A dispatch to the Herald from Madrid says:

The Spanish transport Montserrat has arrived here from Barcelona and sailed again. She has 1,187 troops on board.

French Warship Movements.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—A dispatch to the Herald from Paris says:

The French third class cruiser Wallingerie arrived here today and is going to Candia to relieve the Lorraine. The Lorraine will leave on departure for Italy and will be replaced by the Marceau at Candia.

No Relief for England.

LONDON, Sept. 11.—Sir Mr. James Gordon, commenting on the rise in the bank rate and the causes of the outflow of gold, says: "At any rate it is the American wire dominates the financial situation, and he is likely to continue to do so until the election in November and after wards. As regards the prospects of the election, most Englishmen assume confidently that McKinley will be elected, and he probably will be. I think it seems to be undeniable to speculate too freely on the election in a country where public opinion is so easily directed by anything to the nature of Kinfield. Englishmen have no particular reason to regard with affection a party leader whose platform includes a violent denunciation of England and the open threat that English debts will be paid in depreciated currency. On the other hand, there is no reason why they should sulkiness over a statesman whose chief political aspiration may be found to raise Cuban wall paper and American industries in order to make and possess the British exports. If McKinley is supposed to have w with the cry of English gold and influence, the result will be all the more intense when Bryan comes in, as is not improbable in 1896, even though insists in November."

$1 ON FREE SILVER.

What the Chinese Minister Says of the Money Question.

BAMFF, N. W. T., Sept. 11.—Dr. Hosney, the chief minister of the Chinese government, had a long interview with Li Hung Chang while en route here.

In discussing financial affairs, the viceroy asked many questions, and in turn was asked for his opinion on the silver question in the United States. He replied:

"My opinion is no doubt different from yours, because I look at it from a Chinese standpoint. If a silver President is elected in the United States it will benefit China, in that it will enhance the value of silver money, and that is the interest of China. It will benefit all the great silver nations."

"Do you think," he was asked, "that the election of a silver President would make a silver dollar worth as much as a gold dollar?"

"No, but it would make it worth more than it is at present."

"What is your excellency's opinion of a union of all governments to respect silver as a currency?" he was asked.

"That is the correct solution, I believe," answered the viceroy. "I am in favor of international bimetallism."

The viceroy was later asked by a correspondent:

"What did your excellency think of President Cleveland?"

Ten reply came very quickly:

"I think he is a great man with much moral courage. There can be no doubt that he is the head of his cabinet."

Massachusetts Democrats.

BOSTON, Sept. 11.—The Democratic primaries for the selection of delegates to the state, congressional, senatorial and county conventions were held pretty generally in the cities and towns around Boston tonight, as had as in the city. The result of these, combined with the executive call on Thursday night, shows that the eastern Massachusetts democrats have taken sides for Bryan and against the nomination of the Chicago platform, one for George Fred Williams as their standard-bearer in the coming gubernatorial campaign.

Bisons Scenured in Alaska.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 11.—Information received at the treasury department indicates that bears is likely to be much suffering among the natives at Cook's Inlet, which are subsisting from the Alaska Commercial company. The commercial companies which took them with provisions for their passage home. It is said that if all of the cubs on the Herring Bay reserve should be taken, there would not enough to feed the Indians.

DOBBER AND SURRENDER.

George Brice of Portland Supposed to be Wm. Halpin of Chicago.

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 12.—George Brice, who is wanted here for the robbery of D. D. Gilpatrick & Company's common room in July, turned out to be a murderer wanted in Chicago, if Mr. Brice, who is said to be a man of unknown in his identification of Brice by means of a photograph sent to him.

Brice was arrested in Spokane and after much difficulty was brought back to Portland to answer the charge of robbery. Brice remarked that he came first to Chicago, and Chief Hixon immediately sent his photograph to the Chicago police. Superintendent of Police Fitzgerald of Chicago wired Chief Minto that it looks like a picture identified a person known to that city as Wm. Halpin, alias John Brighan, who is wanted with three murder Graham Collander there on the night of November 7, 1894.

THE WRIGHT BID IT.

Prevented a Test of the Albatross Flying Machine.

MILLSBO, Ind., Sept. 12.—Blustering winds prevented the expected test of the Albatross flying machine from the Lake Michigan bluffs. With the exception of the Wright brothers and the other campers from Chicago have been experimenting with for some days, interesting results were obtained, the report of 250 feet was established in the tests. Often an alliance of forty feet was reached, starting from a point thirty feet above the beach.

Launching the W. G. Gresham.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—The revenue cutter W. G. Gresham will be launched at 3:30 p. m. today. The launching will take place this afternoon. A few of the treasury department officials will be in attendance. The contracting company will be performing Miss Ruth Hanna, daughter of M. A. Hanna. The Gresham will take the place of the Andy Johnson and will patrol Lake Michigan. The cutter will not be completed until late in the fall.

More Gold Coming.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—The World this morning says: There was a report that arrangements were under way and well advanced for the shipment of a million pounds in gold from Europe to this country. Like all the recent shipments of gold to the same direction, it would be simply a gratuitous setting back, which is of course sent in gold as the only international medium of exchange. Inquiry among the foreign houses which handle the shipments of that kind met with a general avowal of ignorance of any such contemplated shipment. This was not regarded as playing match, as the gold from here are previously more than movements not yet consummated.

An American for African War.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—A special to the Herald from Cape says:

Lieutenant J. Bacon of the Third U. S. infantry, now on leave of absence, who accompanied the Japanese army in the field during the late war between China and Japan, arrived here today. He hopes to join the Dulgoin expedition.

DEPOSE THE SULTAN.

Only Step Left to Restore Order in Turkey.

GREAT BRITAIN WILL ACT ALONE

If the Other Powers Delay—The Critical Stage Reached in the Dardanelles—Warships Ready.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 12, via Sofia, Bulgaria.—[Copyrighted, 1896, by Associated Press.]—A feeling of the greatest anxiety prevails in all quarters here. There is no doubt that a crisis of extreme gravity has been reached, the powers discussing the deposition of the sultan, that being apparently the only means of restoring quiet and confidence within the Turkish empire. The British fleet of fifteen warships is off the island of Tenedos, within easy striking distance, should an emergency arise. It is believed that Great Britain will not hesitate to act alone in putting an end to the present disgraceful state of affairs, if the other powers delay too long.

As generally expected, the extraordinary tribunal which is trying men accused of massacring Armenians in the streets of this city and suburbs has turned out to be merely a whitewashing court. Men arrested for brutally killing two Armenians before the guard house of the British embassy, and in full view of several British officials, have been acquitted. As there was no possible doubt of their guilt, their acquittal is regarded now as showing that it is useless to expect Mussulmans to be punished for crimes committed against Armenians.

The last massacre caused great indignation among the foreign population, and has served to greatly increase the uneasiness. The Europeans see that the sultan's promises are worthless, and that in appointing these murderers shows that the peaceable residents of Constantinople are absolutely without any assurance for their lives or their property as any, and must henceforth depend almost entirely upon the warships of the powers for protection. Such conditions, it is admitted, cannot last any length of time, as business is at a standstill in all interests and purposes, and the uncertainty overshadows the Turkish capital. Only nothing is left to the discontent prevailing but an army and navy but in Turkish official circles deposition is talked of.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 12.—The British fleet, originally intended to be ready to Kavala day, numbers 15 warships, of which 10 have been ordered to Smyrna. The warships arrived off Kavala yesterday.

THE SULTAN DESPONDENT.

Says the Powers Virtually Support Him in an Assassin.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—William H. Gladstone has written an open letter condemning the sultan of Turkey. Gladstone says: "In my opinion the sultan, and not the Mussulman populace, is the author of the massacres. From first to last their severity has had no parallel in recent history. Personal advantage has substrate, degrading mockery, and sovereignty and government have given direct support to the assassin. Indeed the presence of the two great fleets is practically is in itself a substantial countenance and support to him and his guilty proceedings. That curious word, the sick, has not been applied to him might even now be the means of averting another series of massacres."

DISGRACE ON TURKEY.

Detests the Government Under which Armenian Massacres are Possible.

LONDON, Sept. 12.—Lord Rosebery, Liberal leader, has written a letter condemning in strong terms recent Armenian massacres. He says: "It is far above party question—one of common Christianity, humanity and civilization. I do not doubt her majesty's present advisers will, as the representative of the United States in the detestation of a government under which such things are possible, and of the cowardice by which accomplished by diplomatic than by public meetings. I must hope of a general settlement on the young emperor's accession to power, when the sultan power and such responsibility."

CALIFORNIA WINE.

The Product to be Much Less Than Average This Year.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—The vintage of 1896, which will be gathered in Fresno, Madera, Yolo and Sacramento counties, will be commenced next week in early localities in the Bay counties. The vintage will be followed by other unfavorable climatic conditions, causing ruinous to all sections, so that the yield will be much less than last year. The yield will be of very wine. Present estimates range from 3,000,000 to 8,000,000. Better weather for the vintage than that which now prevails could not be desired and on its continuance depends in large measure the quality of the wine of 1896. Some winemakers are offering only $18 a ton for grapes but no purchases at that price are reported. On the other hand many sales have been made at from $20 to $25, the latter figure for the choicest varieties.

The Los Angeles Bank Robbery.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—John J. Hanlon, now alleged bank robber, leaves here today, accompanied by Detective Bradish of Los Angeles and to Oregon soon.

Bradish said that from what he knew about the attempt to rob the first national bank of Los Angeles and the nature of the evidence against him, he was satisfied that there would be no difficulty in convicting McCarthy.

Regarding McCarthy's accomplices in the attempted robbery and the steps that have been taken to capture them, Detective Bradish was somewhat reticent. With a significant shake of his head he said, somewhat, "Men who had been on my mind have not left there to go to another street or two within a few days. Louis Mathesey, the Orthander who is the person who was in the bank robbery scheme with McCarthy, is believed to be in Chicago. The Pinkerton men have been wired to get him if possible.

ALASKAN BOUNDARY.

Important Action of the United States Secretary.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—A local paper has the following: Charles Hilton, secretary of the North American Transportation and Trading company, is en route to Washington to present to the authorities there ample evidence that American interests in Alaska are being seriously jeopardized by the failure of the government to demand the boundary of a decided line compatible with the law and rights under which Russia ceded Alaska to this country. Chicagoans are financially interested in the North American company. The Chicago are heavily interested in it. E. E. Webb, president of the Nassau City Banking company, is its president, C. A. Weare is treasurer and J. J. Healy manager.

Secretary Hamilton issued Washington a valuable document in the form of a copy of the report made by the Canadian surveyor, William Ogilvie, and May, to Inspector Constantine, in charge of the Canadian police along the Yukon river. Monumentals are the Canadian police authorities as to their rights in arbitrating disputes along the disputed boundary line. Inspector Constantine deemed this report to be necessary. Without it he felt that arrests and other police duties devolved of the British representatives on the Klondyke line could not be had.

The men who won the immense capital of the city now interested in sending miners' outfits, hydraulic machinery, provisions and clothing to the new settlements of the Alaskan world, have for the last of action that immediate action on the part of the government is necessary, owing to the fact that a great rush of gold miners into the disputed territory is expected next month.

FROM BAD TO GOOD.

Scrapped Worthless Land Suddenly Becomes Worth Millions.

CHICAGO, Sept. 12.—For many years E. B. Greenard, of the firm of E. B. Greenard & Co., stone contractors of Chicago, has paid a yearly tax on the tract of land in Virginia, because he could not get rid of it without giving it away, the land dating into the jaws of a deep pit in a sea dell. A few days ago Mr. Greenard went east with a view to disposing of this tract if possible, but on making closer inspection of his hole, it appeared that a vein of coal was found, the extent of which is supposed to be also at millionaire, with what is estimated to be a million dollar wealth in the land he had paid taxes on. It is the most valuable deposit of anthracite ever uncovered in this country. A Wilkes-Barre syndicate has offered to either buy the property outright or lease it on a royalty basis. The work will begin at once.

A Legislator Dead.

QUINCY, Ill., Sept. 12.—Hon. Michael Deady, ex-member of Illinois legislature and present Democratic candidate for second term died yesterday. He was 70 years old.

Goodwin's Sweetheart.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—As the result of the information of Maxine Elliott, which she gave in a Chicago club dinner here, Nat Goodwin has lost his leading lady, Blanche Walsh, and the latter actress is now temporarily replaced by Miss Ethel Barrymore, who sailed on August 27. It appears that Miss Walsh took exception to the actions of the complaint Nat Goodwin, in telling the fair Maxine that he was "the American beauty and leading lady," long before the arrival of that so-called beauty.

A ROYAL TRAIN COLLISION.

Emperor William is in It, But Escapes Without Injury.

BAUTZEN, Saxony, Sept. 12.—As the Emperor William entered his special train at Loebau, 15 miles from here, today, after bidding farewell to the King of Saxony, the Dresden express train collided with his majesty's train. No one was injured.

Mr. Bryan En Route.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., Sept. 12.—Mr. Bryan arrived in Kansas City at 9:30 this morning. At the depot were gathered nearly a thousand workingmen from our shops and factories. Addresses were demanded a speech. Mr. Bryan addressed them from the rear end of the platform.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 12.—The Bryan party and members of the reception committee boarded a fully-he at the Union depot and were driven to Eleventh street and Walnut, where fully 12,000 people were massed. A temporary stand had been erected, but the crowd was so dense that it was deemed best to have Bryan speak from the coach. Standing on the middle seat of the fully-he with his overcoat collar turned up about his chest Bryan spoke. The party then boarded the special car engaged by the St. Louis committee the train starter.

General Sargent Dead.

QUINCY, Ill., Sept. 12.—Major Gen. James B. Sargent, prominent commander under General Sherman in the war of the rebellion, and a veteran of the Mexican war, is dead, aged 86. He was president of Amy of Tippecanoe land and treasurer of the Soldiers' Home.

Notifying Palmer and Buckner.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Sept. 12.—Incoming trains this morning brought large crowds to attend the notification tonight at the auditorium of Senator Palmer and Buckner as their nominees by the National Democrats for President and Vice President respectively. City John H. Follows will notify Buckner, Senator Caffery will notify Palmer. The two candidates mingled with the crowd at the Gall House today, and were most enthusiastically received. Senator Lindsay of Kentucky who has just recovered from prostration by the heat, announced that he will take his stump for the National Democratic ticket. From 1 o'clock to 2 the wives of the executive committee held an informal reception at the Gall House.

Supposed to be Murderer Bonham.

ORANA, Cal., Sept. 12.—A telegram from the Sheriff of San Jose, Cal., to W. C. Hotler, caused the latter to arrest W. D. Henry under the suspicion that he is James Bonham, who murdered a family of six persons. His photograph was taken and sent to San Jose. Henry has been here considerable. He has not left the hotel to have been in California in ten years.

A. P. A. Officer Mortally Assaulted.

KANSAS CITY, Sept. 12.—A. J. Dawson, state president of the A. P. A., was found lying in the street near his home at 5 o'clock this morning, unconscious from wounds inflicted by an unknown assailant. He was badly battered about the head and stabbed.

Assassinated by an Insane Clerk.

BOSTON, Sept. 12.—Bernardo Armenti, proprietor of a famous Italian restaurant here, was assassinated today by his clerk, Charles Bachignalupo, who is insane.

BESSIE LITTLE'S MURDER.

Evidence Fastening it on Her Lover Almost Complete.

Only Missing Link is the Revolver, and the River Wootton is Being Searched for That.

LAYTON, O., Sept. 12.—Although Bessie Little was murdered over a week ago, there is still interest here in the case which is developing into a murder of much deliberation as that of Collentine ting at Minneapolis and into almost as strenuous a disposition of the body as of Jean Bryan, whose bones are never found. When it was proved that Bessie Little was last seen on the night of Thursday, August 27, riding with her lover, Albert Finch, the latter said she had left him at home while they were in the buggy together. There were circumstances against the young man in the beginner and that Finch did not carry out his part of the contract, but every day evidence is accumulating to show that Finch deliberately drove the girl out to a lonely spot on the Hillsdale river, shot her and threw her body from the bridge into the river. The best sight Finch's team turned, destroying his borderland buggy and other traces. His own family testified that when Finch returned home about eight o'clock the morning of the murder he was greatly excited. He left his horses and on being revived he told them he had shot about Bessie shooting herself while they were out riding and that in his fright he threw the body over the bridge into the river and ran home. He said he had taken the girl to the Pearl Hyan case was the head. In this case it is the revolver which Finch admits he threw into the river with the body. Chief Jones of Warren knows where Finch bought a revolver previous to the murder and is using everything to find the missing weapon. If it is found and identified as the weapon that Finch bought, then the evidence is complete. Chief Jones of Warren, Chief Ferrell had the river dragged. He reported to strong magnets and strong grapples. Yesterday people from Lower the River Road, while Drive Graham of Cincinnati was going down and searching the bottom of the river, Mr. Clevenger received a letter to the effect that he was the last seen in the community.

CLEVELAND TO SPEAK.

He Will Furnish the Strongest Campaign Document to the Gold Democrats.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—The members of Mr. Cleveland's cabinet now in the city are of the opinion that he will contribute while the campaign of the national Democratic notification meeting at Louisville today. It is known that Secretary Lamont expects to receive from Cleveland a letter to the meeting that will be one of the strongest campaign documents the gold standard Democrats will have. The President's contribution will be already outlined by Secretary Lamont, Secretary Francis and Attorney General Harmon, and it was supposed that Mr. Cleveland would have a letter to be stand as the authorized expression of Mr. Cleveland's opinion. It is stated now, however, that Mr. Cleveland has concluded to withdraw his opposition to the Bryan ticket by a hearty indorsement of the Indianapolis platform and of Palmer and Buckner. The letter to be sent to Chairman Hinton will be W. D. Bynum, it is said, instead of Senator Caffery, as at first reported.

TWO MEN DROWNED.

Discovery Made Through a Parcel Sent on a Young Lady.

SEATTLE, Wash., Sept. 12.—There is little count that W. S. Anderson and D. McDonald, the former a traveling man, and the latter formerly of San Francisco, but presumably resident of Tacoma, were drowned about 150 miles north of Vancouver, B. C., August 25th or thereabouts.

At the time the wreck was discovered there was a package in it addressed to Dolly McFarland of Seattle. This person proves to be Miss Dolly McFarland. Anderson had known her and her sister for three years. A short time before he left Seattle he set out on his cruise from Victoria he called on Miss McFarland and said he would soon come shortly. She never heard from him until the announcement of his death which was made yesterday. Anderson came here from New York originally. Previously he had lived at St. Louis.

Miss Barton Comes.

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—Among the passengers arriving this morning on the Umbria from Liverpool was Miss Clara Barton, representative of the Red Cross society, who has returned from the scene of the Armenian troubles. She is well, and is intensely enthusiastic about her work.

THE AUERBACH WILL

Filed in the Office of the Clerk of Salt Lake County Yesterday Morning.

A LARGE NUMBER OF LEGATEES.

Relatives and Employes Are All Remembered—Mrs. Rosa G. Meyer the Largest Beneficiary.

The last will and testament of Frederick H. Auerbach, deceased, was filed with the county clerk this morning and Judge Ricketts set Saturday, October 10, as the day for hearing the petition for probate of the paper.
