A HORRIBLE DEATH.

The Expedition to Find Colgate Returns From Its Search.

THE UNFORTUNATE MAN'S FATE

Some Evidences Found of His Last Sufferings but the Body Not Recovered.

MISSOULA, Mont., June 12.—The expedition which left Missoula on May 21 in search of the body of George Colgate, the cook to the Carlin party, and was was abandoned by that party last fall in the Big Clear water country, one of the wildest forests in North America, has just returned. The body of Colgate was not found but sufficient evidence discovered to justify the conclusion that he died a horrible death. On the bank of a tree which projected into the eddy of the middle fork of Clear Water, was found one sleeve caught under a huge boulder. The indications were that the body was turned down stream about half a mile from where the unfortunate man was abandoned by Carlin and his party and caught in the eddy. A sleeve caught in the limb of a tree and the current being extremely rapid, the arm was torn from the body and remained there. The clothes left for the unfortunate man by the Carlin party were found and indicated that Colgate must have died a raving maniac, as the blankets had been stripped to his back by the Carlin party, and when this expedition found them they were just beyond mile water mark.

Hanna Spencer, who was the guide to the Carlin party and who also guided this expedition, became sadly affected when the expedition arrived at the spot where Colgate had to be abandoned. The statements furnished by Ben Conley, a member of the Carlin party, have been proven false by this expedition. He claimed the abandonment of Colgate was entirely unnecessary and due to young Carlin. A dispassionate investigation was made by this expedition, and it is quickly evident that it was a miracle that any of the Carlin party came out alive. The mountains come right down to the edge of the river and rise 4,000 feet high almost perpendicularly. A portion of young Carlin's story was found, which read: "Dying by cold is not 'Mr. Carlin, I am afraid you will never forgive me for all the trouble I have caused you. Do you think we will ever get out?' I told him no one could tell, but that I hoped so."

He replied: "If it comes to a pass where I cannot be carried you must save yourselves. I have been a soldier before and can be one again."

This page was found under a boulder which had evidently rolled on it, and was much worn, and the writing was scarcely legible.

This expedition was extremely hazardous, having been made, as it was, in a season of the year when the streams are much swollen and the snow making travel dangerous. The expedition encountered twenty feet of snow in places. There can be no question but that the home of the unfortunate George Colgate saw now is somewhere at the junction of the middle fork of Clear Water river, and that no winter will not have the sad opportunity of giving them a decent burial.

AT THE SIGHT OF A KNIFE.

How a Young Man Lost the Power of Speech and Hearing

GALVESTON, Texas, June 22.—William Foster, a young man about twenty years of age, went to the Sealy hospital to have an abscess lanced upon one of his elbows caused by the sting of some poisonous insect. After being placed upon the operating table young Foster caught a glance of the surgeon's operating knife and instantly was seized with convulsions, and he had seven in rapid succession until his vitality ran down so that life had to be maintained by artificial respiration. He was resuscitated with great difficulty and after he had fully recovered it was found that he had lost the power of speech as well as of hearing.

Foster, on leaving the hospital, wrote a card that without the use of these faculties life was not new worth living and he was going to drown. The police authorities were communicated with and informed of Foster's threat and that he had started towards the bay with the evident purpose of putting it into execution. Two mounted officers were dispatched, and arrived in time to see Foster throw himself into the water. He was fished out and subsequently taken home.

The Assassin Charged to the Executive of the Order.

ST. LOUIS, June 22.—Alvin Reed, an A. P. N. Melbide, recording secretary of the council, was waylaid in a lonely spot by four masked men, but he caught his way out of the trap with the aid of a loaded revolver and escaped unharmed. Compton Hill council is one of the largest branches of the A. P. A. in St. Louis. It was organized some three years ago and has ten hundred members. Meetings are held every Tuesday night.

Saint Kevins branch of the Continental league meets every Thursday night near the meeting place of the A. P. A. council. Its members are all AHNA. P. A. men and for a long time there has existed a feeling of the bitterest enmity between the members of the two organizations. Of late the feeling has grown so strong that boycotts have been declared by members of Saint Kevins against any merchant that is known to belong to the A. P. A.

Wills Reed and Mefflide claim to have heard of threats being made by members of Saint Kevins lodge against A. P. A. officers and surgeon that organization of being implicated in the assault, neither has any proof of the fact.

For Free Coinage.

OGANA, June 21.—In the Democratic conference for the purpose of organizing a state free coinage league, the committee on resolutions offered a report which was adopted. It says: "We send greetings to our fellow Democrats of Nebraska and invite their earnest co-operation and aid in electing delegates from every county in the state to the Democratic state convention of 1894, pledged to vote for the insertion in the Democratic state platform of the following:

"We favor the immediate restoration of the free and unlimited coinage of gold and silver at the present ratio of 16 to 1, without waiting for the aid or consent of any other nation on earth.'

H. Ward.

At the opening of the afternoon session of the convention Timothy Guy Phelps introduced a resolution eulogizing the late Senator Stanford, praising his benevolence in founding the Stanford University, and expressing sympathy for Mrs. Stanford. If something is not done many deaths may be expected.

LYNCHING TO BE PUNISHED.

OMAHA, Neb., June 21.—The federal grand jury left for Fort Sidney to try the 200 'Westers confined there for boarding an Union Pacific train at Ogallala last week. Complaints were prepared by the district attorney, charging each man with conspiracy, conspiring, interfering with interstate traffic and delaying the United States mails. During the past few months many quack doctors and specialists have tried to prejudice the public against the new and wonderful treatment used by Drs. Shores & Shores, saying it was an experiment, that the cure would not last and so on. The following case of Mr. G. W. Sharp will convince the most skeptical.

MR. G. W. SHARP, 130 PARK ST.

For ten years Mr. Sharp had suffered from catarrh of the head, throat and stomach, he was in fact ten years treated by perhaps a hundred assorted specialists, to no avail, treating him for every disease but the right one. When he came to Drs. Shores & Shores, he described his case as follows:

"For ten years I was one of the most miserable sufferers any person could imagine. I had been troubled with catarrh so long I had been given up by physicians as being incurable.

"Large patches of mucous had formed in my nose, making it impossible for me to breathe through my nose and for four years I had to breathe through my mouth, making my sleep disturbed and restless.

"Can you imagine, dear reader, the inconvenience and suffering of being unable to breathe through the nose on account of an impediment in the throat? Can you imagine how it feels to awaken in the morning tired and worn out and have to do a day's work. Do you realize the suffering of having dyspepsia, being unable to eat what you are hungry, because you are far worse after eating than before.

"Can you realize your feelings when every doctor has told your case was incurable after they had tried to kill you in an effort to effect a cure or a case they knew nothing about.

"Then after you have suffered ten years, without any hope of ever being cured can you imagine the happiness you will experience by being cured, being able to breathe through your nostrils after four years.

"Drs. Shores & Shores, in the Harmon block, have cured me, taking at least a dozen polyps out of my nose, after the much specialists had tried for three months to find out what was the matter with me.

"Now under the new treatment used by Drs. Shores & Shores, I am cured. I can now breathe through my nose, sleep well, eat well and feel like a new man. In fact, I am willing to go before any physician in Salt Lake and show them this remarkable cure."

This demonstrates the difference between real and the imitation, when falsely and selfish self go to the reliable specialists in the Harmon block, Drs. Shores & Shores.
