

view, said that there was not now any excuse for yellow fever spreading in the south.

There were early reports of two deaths at the emergency hospital and the prospect was that with numbers of serious cases rooted out yesterday by the inspectors, there would be still more fatalities during the day. No physical clash has been reported by the armed forces of Louisiana and Mississippi, and there is an increasing likelihood that good judgment will prevail, and that hereafter there will be no trespassing by the people of either state. The marine hospital service is gradually bringing about a better quarantine understanding with the authorities in other states with the end of enabling the travelers to proceed in their destinations after due detention. Aside from prosecuting vigorous sanitary measures all the energy of the commercial public health service is devoted to the effort to educate the panic-stricken people of the south that they are running no risk of infection through commercial intercourse with New Orleans, and that the only way to prevent the spreading and spreading of sickness was forward with great vigor and enthusiasm today.

TAGGART DIVORCE CASE.

Testimony Does Not Show Lady in a Favorable Light.

Wooner, Ohio, Aug. 3.—With a request from Judge Taggart's attorney that the court order Mrs. Taggart to permit her husband to see their two sons, the Taggart divorce hearing was resumed today. Judge Easton ruled that both parties had equal rights in the children, though they were temporarily under the mother's care.

The first witness, Howard Taggart, brother of the defendant, said he lived with the Taggarts at Fort Thomas, Ky., from 1893 to 1898. He described a visit of Lieut. Ritter to the Taggart home, where he had an interview with Mrs. Taggart in the parlor at 1:30 a. m., while Capt. Taggart was away. The witness discovered Ritter's presence, he said, and the latter hurried away and did not call again.

A week later Mrs. Taggart handed the witness an anonymous letter asking him if he knew the writing. The letter advised the captain to watch his wife, declaring that Ritter was taking her to a resort in Newport. The witness said he never mentioned Ritter's early morning call or the letter to his brother.

Mrs. Taggart's alleged capacity for beer was given as five glasses at one sitting, when the witness described a drinking bout between Mrs. Taggart and the wife of another officer at Fort Thomas. The contest was for the championship of the parlor, the witness said, and the contestants were backed by officers. Mrs. Taggart told him afterwards, the witness said, that her opponent won the match, drinking nine goblets of beer to Mrs. Taggart's five.

Howard Taggart also testified that his sister-in-law drank habitually with the officers and prided herself on taking her whiskey straight, laughing at the man for using water with it. The captain, the witness said, objected to his wife giving them beer.

Sweet Marie won the second heat by a neck, in 2:04 1/2, equalling her own record. Time by quarters: 1:34 1/2, 1:02 1/2, 1:33 1/2, 2:04 1/2.

BIG MOUNTAIN BLAZE.

Swept Over into City Creek from Parry's Hollow this Afternoon.

Early this morning some thoughtless person started a fire in the vicinity of Parry's Hollow north of the cemetery. The brush and grass being dry, the blaze spread rapidly and soon the whole face of the mountain was a seething mass of flames. As the day advanced they passed over into City Creek canyon and filled the great gorge with smoke and heat to the danger and discomfort of many. In the course of a few hours an area of several miles was swept and every vestige of verdure destroyed. Altogether it was one of the worst brush fires of the season. The relief is that it was deliberately ignited and with no other purpose than to see it burn.

LOADS OF CIRCUS MONEY.

National Bank of the Republic Handed Over Thirty Thousand Today.

The Bank of the Republic caught the circus cash this morning, as the treasurer brought in the proceeds of the exhibitions this far, with which to buy eastern exchanges. There was $20,000 in silver and about $10,000 more in gold and paper, making a neat little sum for the bank to handle in one morning. There will be more cash before the circus departs, so that the bank seems to have struck a good thing. It is also a fair indication of the amount of money taken in by visiting circuses. The sums above given represent what was gathered in at Provo and Salt Lake. The proceeds of this afternoon and tonight are not included in the $30,000 estimate.

TO CHOIR LEADERS.

Meeting with Prof. Stephens Has Been Postponed for the Present.

The choir leaders meeting at one time intended to be held tonight has been postponed for a week or two, owing to several conductors being out of town. Due notice will be given that all may be present and by working together from the first all may have a similar interpretation of the choruses, avoiding any confusion where all the choir shall unite.

BROKEN CONTRACT

THE COMPLAINT.

Grace B. Finn Says She Has Lost $3,500 on That Account.

MINING CLAIMS INVOLVED.

Charges as to Placing of a Deed in Escrow—Value of Property—A Lien on It Asked For.

Grace B. Finn filed suit in the district court today against Joseph Nelson and wife to recover the total sum of $3,500 alleged to be the damage sustained by plaintiff because of the breach of contract on the part of defendants for the sale to plaintiff of the Illinois Chief, Maney, Milton, Hogg and Syndicate land claims located in the West Mountain district, Salt Lake county.

The price at which plaintiff agreed to purchase the claims was $35,000, of which amount $10 was paid when the contract was delivered and $250 only July 1, 1904, and the remainder in installments at various intervals before May 1, 1906.

It is alleged that defendants agreed to place a deed to the property in escrow when the payment of $350 was made on July 1, 1904, but they failed to do so and it is claimed that they own but a small fraction of the Milton and Hogg lands, which are the most valuable claims in the group. Because defendants have failed to furnish a deed to the property as agreed and because they failed to represent to plaintiff that they owned all of the said Milton and Hogg claims judgment is asked for the money paid on the purchase price by plaintiff also for the sum of $2,500 expended in developing the claims under the agreement. It is also asked that the claim of plaintiff be made a lien against the property, and that the defendants be restrained from in any way encumbering or clouding the title to the same.

NOTICE TO ADVERTISERS.

Owing to pressure on our columns, news advertisers are requested to band in their advertisements for the Saturday News as early as possible to secure insertion in all editions.

Classified advertisements cannot be assured publication in all the editions, and in proper classification, unless received in this office before noon on Saturdays.

LAW IS SEVERE.

The explanation, however, affects the case but slightly, as the federal law has a way of covering just such points. It states in specific detail that it is just as bad to send an advertisement telling how and where level books may be obtained as to send the books themselves. The statute on this point includes "every article, or thing intended or adopted for any immoral use and every written or printed card, letter, circular, book, pamphlet, advertisement, or notice of any kind giving information directly or indirectly where or how or of whom or by what means any of the hereinbefore mentioned things may be obtained or made."

HEARING ON MONDAY.

Mr. Shepherd has taken the matter of his arrest very much to heart, and is noticeably indisposed on account of it. As Commissioner Baldwin is out of town he was taken to Ogden for arraignment before Commissioner Muloney. His hearing is set for next Monday when it will be determined whether or not he shall be bound over to await action of the grand jury on the case.

CAME FROM KANSAS.

Shepard came to Salt Lake from Kansas a few years ago and for a long time before engaging in the book business practiced law and engaged in politics. In the latter field he was active in the campaign of 1902, and one time a member of the Utah state legislature. His friends who know him best as "Dick" Shepard, are much surprised to find him in the present trouble. It appears that the friends of Uncle Sam have been on his trail for a long time, and that they have a strong case against him. They say, also, that it is in elements that are particularly damaging, and that they will make the most of them. Mr. Shepard and his friends are now in a state of confusion, and are trying to get out of the state as soon as possible.

UNCLE SAM RUNS HIM DOWN

Said to Have Been Guilty of Many and Continued Offenses—Evidence Strong Against Him.

R. B. Shepard, proprietor of "Ye Olde Bookie Store," was arrested yesterday afternoon, on a warrant from the United States commissioner's office, charging him with violating the United States statutes regulating the sending of literature through the mails. The accused is charged, in detail, with sending through the mail information as to how certain "obscene, lewd, lascivious books, pictures, writings, prints and publications might be obtained," the letter being addressed to G. G. Latimer, box 848, Denver, Colo. Latimer is a United States postoffice inspector, and opened correspondence with Shepard last May. The information is alleged to have been given by Shepard in a letter written June 2, 1905.

Mr. Shepard was arrested by Deputy Marshal Palmer, and bail in $500, to answer Aug. 7, with J. P. McCreath and G. W. Moyer as his bondsmen. The accused claims that the books advertised in the catalogue are sold by dealers generally; moreover, that there is not an objectionable picture or expression in the printed advertisement.

The Custer massacre, reproduced by the employment of United States regular soldiers and Umatilla Indians in a sham battle, will be the big event of Aug. 10 at the Lewis and Clark exposition. This promises to be the most realistic and thrilling sham battle performance ever undertaken anywhere in the world.
