An Insane Asylum Patient Fatally Gored by a Bull.

SUMMARY TREATMENT OF TRAMPS.

Interesting Find of Ancient Relics at Richfield.—A Phenomenal Cat. —Boy Crushed to Death.

A meeting of wool-growers, to assemble in Reno, Nevada, September 26, is called to consider all questions of interest to men in the business.

Last year the production of beet sugar in California amounted to 15,000,000 pounds. This year it is estimated the product will reach 21,000,000 pounds.

As T. N. Seckel of Fresno was on his way to ... a jump, near Sinnesville, he was thrown from his buggy, alighting on his head and shoulders, sustaining severe injuries.

A boy named Mike Donnelly, about twelve years of age, was crushed to death on Sunday by a pile of lumber toppling over on him at Horrigan's sawmill, twenty-two miles southeast of Carbon, Wyoming.

Ada M. Huber, an electric healer, has been arrested at San Francisco on a charge of embezzlement. Her former husband, Charles W. West, accuses her of having appropriated a quantity of household and office furniture.

Tommy Connolly, a fourteen-year-old boy, while hunting on the San Bruno road at San Francisco, had his left hand blown to pieces by the accidental discharge of his gun. The injured member was amputated at the wrist.

A distressing accident has happened to Judge William Humphrey of Loveland, Col. He had wandered to the Union Pacific railroad track some time before the arrival at the evening train from Denver, and lying down went to sleep with his left arm across the track. When the train passed the arm was cut and mangled to such a degree that it had to be amputated near the elbow.

Mr. McDaniels and Mr. Prinert did a little prospecting on the Indian mound just east of the court house, says the Richfield Advocate. They found several samples of pottery, some arrow spikes, charred corn and corn cobs and other things. A great many articles have been picked up around this old mound, the samples of pottery with very fine, white glaze, of different colors, and surpassing any pottery made in Utah by Anglo-Saxons.

Miss Tillie Sitters, the daughter of a widow, was burned quite badly on Monday evening by her clothing catching fire, at Laramie, Wyo. The young lady was preparing supper and was lifting a pan with the corner of her apron wrapped around the handle when the garment caught fire and in a moment her clothing was burning. She was soon given assistance, but is painfully though not dangerously burned about the chest and on her limbs.

On Saturday afternoon Charles Booth of Greenville met with a severe accident, says the Beaver Chronicle. He has caught his shoes, and had used a lariat with a large loop. He then tied the other end of the rope to the horse, dropping the lariat in coils at his feet. The horse took fright and the loop caught one of Mr. Booth's feet. The horse jumped a fence, pulled Booth up against it, breaking the rope. Mr. Booth was taken up unconscious.

From Sheridan, Wyo., comes the strange story of a phenomenal cat belonging to a merchant of that city. This cat—a big tom, of pure maltese blood—has for some time past habitually driven up every night from their daily ranges his owner's milch cows, the latest report at hand being that a few evenings ago, Tom, after corralling the cows as usual, was noticed blocking his claws on a large stone preparatory to milking the animals!

A colony of fifty families from Kansas will soon be planted between Boise city and Nampa. "The heads of these families," says the Idaho Daily Statesman, "are all sturdy, honest, hard-working farmers, who have become thoroughly disgusted with drouth stricken Kansas, and who have expressed a willingness to cast their lot in Idaho. They are glad to avail themselves of the colonization scheme, for without assistance it would be next to impossible for them to leave the scenes of their many misfortunes."

While Engineer Shanks was hoisting water from the dump of the Bull Domingo shaft at Westcliffe, Colo., with a large iron tank used for that purpose, the engine by some means was thrown out of gear just as the last tank of water was on the top, and first a slant the tank dropped from sight, and was at the bottom of the shaft, 600 feet below. There was a hum and a crash as the cable, 1000 feet in length, went falling down on top of the tank. The accident will cause a shut down for some days pending the arrival of a new tank.

Two notorious criminals, one of them reckoned the most dangerous man ever captured by Colorado authorities, have broke jail at Canon City, Colorado, and are still at large. They are James K. Stanton, the desperate mail robber, and John E. Mecnan, highwayman. In the dead of the night they sawed through the bars of their cell doors, escaped from the building, climbed the high wall and let themselves into the outside world by means of an improvised rope of torn bedding. So cunningly had the escape been planned and so adroitly was it carried out that when the absence of the two men was finally discovered they had at least a few hours' start on pursuit and not even a trace of their course could be found.

Ernest Smith, a patient at the California State Insane asylum who was sent from El Dorado county in 1885, was gored by a bull on Monday and will die. Smith was employed in the dairy of the asylum and tried to lead a Holstein bull in from pasture by taking hold of a ring in the animal's nose. Smith was angry and gave the ring a twist, which caused the bull to butt him. The patient gave the ring more twists, when the bull went at him and horned him in the right breast, penetrating the lung. A bystander ran to his rescue and the bull was led quietly to his stable. One of Smith's ribs was broken, and as he had a hemorrhage from the lungs before the accident there is no chance for him to live, the doctors say.

MORE LOTS IN East Waterloo

At the remarkably low price of $250 per lot, one half cash, thereafter at the regular $325 per lot. Better times are in sight. A better feeling has now come. Our vast and varied resources MUST be appreciated. Outside capital will seek Utah investments; several large irrigation companies are now formed, and thousands of acres of rich land will be reclaimed—hundreds of new homes will be added to our Territory. Utah is in its infancy, her population will rapidly increase, wealthy people are seeking our genial climate for homes, they are pleased with the beauty of our surroundings and the enterprise of our people.

Strangers appreciate our advantages, why should we not?

If you will call we will add more, which space here will not permit.
