KILLED BY THE CAT.

A Dairyman Attacked by a Mad Maddened Animal.

WOUNDS RECEIVED IN THE BATTLE

Prove Fatal After Two Months, Having Resulted in Hydrophobia.

CINCINNATI, OHIO, Dec. 13.—Albert Lutz, a dairyman, residing on the Reading road, died last night of hydrophobia, resulting from a battle with an enormous cat. His agonies prior to the end are unforeseeable. Two months ago Lutz encountered a tangled cat of unusual size in his barn loft and attempted to drive it away. The animal was mad from hunger. It sunk its teeth in his left calf, inoculating it badly. Lutz finally killed the creature. The wounds were cauterized and no ill effects manifested themselves until Saturday last, when the left leg began swelling up. In his dying struggles, the dairyman mewed and yowled like a cat and attempted to bite and claw those about him.

PEACE NEGOTIATIONS.

Japan Reluctant to Listen to the Suggestions of Other Powers.

TOKIO, Nov. 28. (per steamer Gaelic via San Francisco, Dec. 14.)—It is with the greatest reluctance that Japan listens to suggestions for mediation from any quarter. The size of the Chinese government has always been to delude its people into the belief that the emperor rules all nations, and that when one particular vassal state becomes troublesome, he has only to grant its subjugation by the others and thus restore tranquility without unnecessary disturbance of his own composure. If Japan were to treat India directly through western powers, it would in course of time be given out that China had commanded the tributary states of Europe to bring the rebellious Japanese to terms, and had thus petted the insolence without requiring her own dignity. This convinced, once established through out the empire, the court of Peking would resume its habitual insolence, and block the wheels of progress in the East.

This explains one phase of Japan's refusal to receive the Peace Commissioner Detring, an English employe at the custom house at Tien Tsin.

The inquiry of the United States as to Japan's willingness to accept a proffer of assistance is regarded rather as retarding their accelerating the satisfactory conclusion of the war.

The need of more money is asserting itself, but the minister of finance has called for a second war loan of fifty million yen. The official announcement states that the bonds will be for one hundred each, and ninety-five yen will be the lowest price accepted. The interest will be 5 per cent. The indications now are that, no matter what the response may be to this appeal, no further efforts will be made to raise funds exclusively at home.

The Mitsui family, one of the oldest mercantile houses in Japan, has contributed twenty thousand yen to the Red Cross society, and in addition has fitted up great machine works at Miji for the special requirements of the war and presented the entire establishment to the government. This example of munificence is evoking, if not surpassed, by the Marquis Miyoshi, who under the feudal system was the richest nobleman in the empire, but who now ranks fourth lower in the scale of wealth. He has given one hundred thousand yen to be divided between the army and navy funds, six thousand yen to the families of men enlisted from the three provinces which he once ruled, and three thousand yen of flannel to be made into underclothing for soldiers and sailors. Furthermore, he promises, when his clansmen die in battle, to pay fifty yen to the family of each officer, twenty yen to the family of each petty officer and five yen to the family of each private. No other individual has gone so far as this in actual amount of donation; though thousands have been equally generous in proportion to their means.

Application for Appeal Denied.

WASHINGTON, Dec. 14.—The application of Captain Hayden for an appeal from the decision of Judge Coxe overruling demurrers to the indictments against him, was denied today by the district court of appeals. An additional indictment was rejected by the grand jury today, charging Hayden with forging the name of Roswell P. Rochester, treasurer of the Western Union Telegraph company, to vouchers to the amount of $11,800.

ARMENIAN INVESTIGATION.

The United States Council Will Take No Part in It.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 14.—The United States will take no part in the investigation in the Armenian outrages. Fearing that the limitations imposed by President Cleveland upon the functions of Consul Jewett were such as to prevent his joint action with the representatives of the other countries, the sultan has withdrawn the invitation to the United States to appoint a commissioner, and consequently Mr. Jewett's appointment lapses. As an extra precaution against interfering the United States to say European disagreement, Mr. Jewett was instructed to move an independent inquiry and report only to the same superiors. The last restrictions were apparently unpalatable to the Porte, and after the withdrawal of its invitation, Mr. Jewett's appointment is cancelled.

Seely in Jail.

NEW YORK, Dec. 14.—Samuel C. Seely, the ex-bookkeeper and detective, arrived tonight. United States Commissioner Shields fixed his bail at $25,000 and Seely was taken to Ludlow Street jail.

COMPLETE CHANGE OF SEX.

Dr. Parker's Alleged Unprecedented Case.

KANSAS CITY, MO., Dec. 14.—In the Parker case the Scimitar, Dr. Kirg, Parker's family physician, testifies that he had examined Parker at the latter's solicitation long before the alleged drowning, and that he found there was a peculiar physical formation upon which Dr. Parker might be termed a hermaphrodite.

The defense later put in evidence a letter written to a newspaper which a dozen experts have already sworn is that of Dr. Parker, though it bears the date of May 31, 1893, nearly a year after Parker's disappearance. The defense has the deposition of Charles J. Mohler, son of Senator Mohler, of Kansas, and will present it tomorrow. Mohler states he saw Parker at the World's Fair, called him by name, and that Parker requested him to say nothing about the meeting.

Dr. H. H. Sullivan, a dentist, who studied with Dr. Parker for years, swore that while in the office of Dr. Parker, the latter told him that every seven years there occurred a complete change of sex in his case; that changes came at 14, again at 21, and also seven years later. In cross-examination Sullivan was unshaken in his testimony, getting this together with the testimony of Dr. King that he had treated Parker for women's diseases, making the case unprecedented. Local physicians state Parker's case is one of three similar ones ever recorded.

Killed by a Woman.

CHICAGO, Dec. 14.—The body of Charles Miller, hanging head downward from a cemetery window at 115 State street, with blood dripping from a wound over the heart, collected a crowd shortly before noon today which blocked State street traffic for half an hour.

Miller had been shot by Maggie Tilden, who claimed that he ruined her, and she put the shooting in self-defense. In attempting to jump from the window after he was wounded, Miller's foot caught and he hung until the police arrived. He died soon after being conducted him.

CONFUSION IN CHINA.

The Emperor Ready to Sue for Peace Directly.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 14.—From Yokohama by steamer Gaelic—The fall of Port Arthur was unfortunately known to America before the news was circulated in Japan. Several of the non-combatant watchers for proceedings, among them the United States steamer Baltimore, which, it is reported, was on one occasion mistaken for a Chinese vessel and came near being torpedoed by the Yoshino and Yaeyama. The Germans and British ships were also all fired, and again an ugly story is told of the action of Admiral Freemantle, who it is alleged, gave a premature alarm to the Chinese by requiring a salute to the Alacrity while the survey of the Japanese troops was debarking.

Efforts are pouring out from the palace in Peking with a recklessness and lack of coherence which affords the strongest conclusion that reigns at court. Officials who a fortnight ago were mere generals are promoted and degraded, seemingly without the slightest understanding of the transactions in which they have been engaged. Occasionally, however, a chief is in fly which seems to indicate that glimpse of truth now and then penetrate the imperial precincts.

General Wei, one of the masters of the Fabian strategy in Corea, has lost his head. General Yeh, who ordered the murder of the French priest, Josiah, is in prison. General Nieh, another of the fugitives from Corea, has been compelled to disgorge ten thousands of taels prematurely bestowed on him by the Empress Dowager. Admiral Ting, who was heaped with favors for having been beaten at Yalukan harbor, has been stripped of these unmerited honors and ordered to follow hereafter the instructions of an Englishman, Captain McChung, who accompanies him nominally as vice-admiral, but who really controls the fleet.

On the other hand, General Sung, whose tale of pilfering have not yet reached his sovereign's ear is ordered to "dispersing the vermin" and purifying Corea, and is ordered to "encamp on the banks of the Yalu river and await the arrangements for peace by the various powers." Li Hung Chang is appealed to and recalled to the same day. Prince Kung is for the moment the nominal center of authority, being appointed commander of all the forces, military and naval. But before any practical result can follow the consultation of a decree, it is liable to be cancelled in contradictory rescript.

The report that arrangements have been made for the flight of the imperial family from Pekin in case of a Japanese landing at Tientsin is so far confirmed that it is accepted as trustworthy by the Japanese authorities. Chang Chih is said to be the chosen place of retreat.

Seditious placards have been posted in Chang Kiang denouncing the Manchu dynasty and demanding its overthrow.

The latest report from Chiva states that the emperor is at last prepared to appeal directly to his victorious foe, and will ask for an armistice, while Prince Kung and Li Hung Chang proceed to Japan to make terms. This rumor is officially confirmed.

What Shall We Buy for Christmas?

[ALICE HARPER.]

WRITTEN FOR THE DESERET NEWS.

We shall have to encounter somewhere else, but we all expect to buy something for the children for Christmas, and there is much love and wisdom to be used in selecting the best gifts. Many toys are as useless to the child as to you—they serve no purpose and should never be bought.

Every child who wants a doll should have one—but the only satisfactory doll is one that can be treated as a child, dressed and undressed, washed and combed, a doll who lives in some definite place. A place to keep toys is more desirable for most children than more toys. A dry goods box can be made into a very good house, or even a box of Christmas can change into a bedroom-covered doll's house; a shoe box on end with two shelves and a curtain will make the little man's books and tools.

The little child who has been taught habits of order, and neat, tidy ways has gone a long way towards clear thinking and tidy with God and nature, and enjoys all the delights of ownership in his small possessions.

There are charming small articles of furniture—dolls' bedstead, bureau, chairs, etc.—they are cheap, but look at them down to us, then go home and make something nicer for half the money. Let the doll have a bed, sheet and night gown, let the chairs set bottom, and give she a paper of pins and a pair of scissors. Tool chests, pasteboard, dolls, toys, balls, blocks, paint boxes, crayons, blackboards, pencils, paper, knives—things to do something with, and shove all tacks, are what a child needs.

The child's taste for good literature should be formed by the stories his mother reads and tells him before he can read much himself. And nothing is too good for him. The mother should read aloud what helps and interests her and continue her own spiritual life. This will test help her child; and if good literature forms the basis of much of the conversation of the home, the pain is inappreciable. While a child is quite too young to appreciate the choice of books is all in our own hands; and what truth we give him, bad in grammar, bad in style, bad in coloring, often false in sentiment!

A gift should express the time, thought, care and love of the giver, a bit of her love and life, her special interest, her very self, and be loved and preserved because of the giver and because it expresses her love and ideal of life. It should be a continual remembrance between them. It should be worthy when she is dead to speak for her, as the young man or woman, who was ever the little child, recognize it, and recall the conversations had together about it. Such a book, and all books allowed to come into the family, should be selected with great care. It may not speak or sing; it should be a book fit to keep, well-bound, with good type, and good pictures if there are any; an honest book, representing life, care and the money you can afford to give. A child's book should be a simple, pure, happy expression of the living truth of nature, art, life and God. All truth is one, told by masters of style who are also earnest thinkers, strong lovers and in sympathy with child nature.

Child and Child Nature—Bailey, $1.50;

Children's Rights—Wiggins, $1.00;

Leonard and Gertrude—Pestalozzi, 90 cents;

How Gertrude Teaches Her Children—Pestalozzi—very good, $1.25.

Least of all can the mother, confined to the house, surrounded by her children, afford to do without good books or deny herself anything that will lift her life to higher ideals. What life wounds fills the home, and nothing so helps her, after the love of God, her husband and children, as good books.

COUNTY TEACHERS.

Interesting Subjects Instructively Treated by the Pedagogues.

The regular meeting of the Salt Lake County Teachers' association was held in Superintendent Allen's office at 10:30 this morning. First on the program was the subject of physical geography by Miss Caroline Smith, who presented a clear idea as to the method of teaching this branch, and illustrated her method by a well-executed map, drawn on the board.

Following came arithmetic by Mr. Perdue, who treated properties of numbers and fractions, and also devoted a short period to the presentation of the first steps in percentage. Both Miss Smith and Mr. Perdue did justice to their subjects.

The next meeting will be held at the University on Saturday, Dec. 15th, at 11 o'clock. Mr. Perdue will continue the subject of arithmetic, and Prof. Cummings of the University will speak upon the subject, "How to increase one's vocabulary." At the close of the meeting, Superintendent Allen spoke to the teachers upon matters which pertain to their profession. His instructions, if carried out, will be a great benefit to the work of education in the county.

Commissioner of Schools Lewis spoke to the members of Morgan county today, and will address a public meeting this evening. Prof. Lewis is certainly taking a commendable course in keeping in touch with the teachers and patrons of the public school system, and his labors in endeavoring to unify purposes and harmonize educational factors are meeting with gratifying success.

Canvassing Salt Lake.

There are no further results to record in figuring up the returns for the Constitutional Convention. Today the Utah Commission occupied the time in checking up the returns in Salt Lake county, and in due season the totals of the count in the various districts will be announced. There was no development of anything of special interest up to the time of going to press.

By a typographical error in last evening's issue, the priority of F. J. Cannon for Delegate in Congress was given as 2,819; it should have read 1,819. The figures as given in detail for counties for the various candidates were accurate.

About Croup.

Croup is a terror to young mothers. To post them concerning the first symptoms and treatment is the object of this item. The first indication of croup is hoarseness. In a child was is subject to croup it may be known as a sure sign of the approach of an attack. Following the hoarseness is a peculiar croupy cough. If Chamberlain's Croup Remedy is given as soon as the child becomes hoarse or even after the croupy cough has appeared it will prevent the attack. It has never been known to fail.

Parks' Hair Cure is the best and always cures rheumatism. For sale by F. J. Hill & Co., and Nelden Jackson Drug Co.

Geo. W. Jenkins, editor of the Santa Maria Times, Cal., in speaking of the various ailments of children said: "When my children have croup there is only one patent medicine that I ever use, and that is Chamberlain's Croup Remedy. It possesses some medical properties that relieve the little sufferers immediately. It is, in my opinion, the best cough medicine in the market." If the remedy is freely given as soon as the croupy cough appears it will prevent the attack. It is also a great remedy for whooping cough. There is no danger in giving it to children, as it contains nothing injurious.

In the presidential election of two years ago and this one just passed, should teach the men who are chosen to represent the people in their national affairs, that the people are keeping tabs on them very closely, and will mind no more sneaking.

In times of general prosperity, people become very lax in keeping themselves posted on what their public representatives are doing; but when it becomes hard for them to make both ends meet, a pretty thorough investigation is sure to follow, and the unfaithful servants are pretty effectually weeded out, and the interests of the people, an honest administration is obtained and general prosperity again resumed.

We are now of the opinion that the radical changes in the congress will probably say neither radical tariff legislation, nor a free silver coinage, but rather a tendency to the manufacturing interest and financial crises and a to great measure restore prosperity and value to property. To be sure,

Abnormal commodities will advance in price, wages will advance, work will be more plentiful and the enjoyment prices will not be so much noticed.

We shall, however, continue for a time at least, our hard times prices and continue to make clothing at twenty-five per cent. lower than most of our competitors, but how long we shall be able to give the splendid suit we are now offering for the price is a question not answerable at the present time. But anyone who will call and examine the quality of our $13.75, $15.50 and $16.50 suits, will be convinced that such goods can't continue long. Our Overcoats at $15.50 are beauties, though we have some even lower priced.
