A stop of one week will be made in Chicago, where the travelers are to be entertained by Prof. William Apmadoc, the former secretary of the world's fair eisteddfod. From Chicago they go to Scranton, and for a week or two will be the guests of Prof. Haydn Evans, who will be remembered as the conductor of the winning chorus at the great contest, and also one of the adjudicators of music at the Elsteddfod held in this city in the fall of 1895. About four weeks will be devoted to visiting friends and taking in the sights of New York, and about the middle of March they expect to take steamer for England. The numerous friends of Prof. Stephens and Mr. Christopherson unite in wishing them a pleasant journey, a pleasant time while abroad, and a safe return home.

HE LOST HIS WHEEL.

But Found it Again-Great Piece of Detective Work.

Last Thursday Al. Cowan at Browning Bros, reported to Officer E. Davies that his bicycle had been stolen and asked the officer to look it up. Davies replied that he would be pleased to undertake the job. After plying Cowan with questions concerning the wheel began to hunt and soon found the missing steed of steel. It was in the store! It had been taken in out of the cold along with others when the store was closed up for the night. The it reposed innocently for days, while Cowan and the officer were in a cold hunting for it. It is obvious

John Rousch Taken Into Custody-Purloined from the 0. S. L.

John Rousch, a young man who has been in the employ of the Oregon Short Line Railroad company at the shops, was arrested today by Officer Gillespie on the charge of petit larceny. In default of $25 cash bond he was assigned apartment No. 1. It seems that Rousch has been carrying on systematic stealing for a number of On going home from work weeks. each evening he would carry away various parts of machinery, pieces of brass, copper, Iron, wire, brushes and hammers. led him to suspect Rousch as being the thief. This morning the officer located a sack full of stolen property, which was in Rousch's possession. He made no denial of the charge against him and appeared to take matters guite coolly when arrested. It is difficult to understand why the young man should be addicted to stealing, for he has been earning $00 per month from the railroad company. He was, it is said, married just recently. "I think I would go crazy with pain were it not for Chamberlain's Pain Balm." writes Mr. W. H. Staple-ton, Herminie, Pa. "I have been afflictwith rheumatism for several years and have tried remedies without num-ber, but Pain Balm is the best medicine I have got hold of." One application re-

Heves the pain. Had Scarlet Fever.

Salt Lake City, Utah, Jan 24, 1900. The little son of Mrs. John Nelson, 563 W. 1st South Street, this city, had scarlet fever which left him with catarrh of the stomach. It was decided to give him Hood's Sarsaparilla and when he had taken two bottles he was cured. Mrs. Nelson says she has taken the medicine for indigestion and constipation and knows it to be just as and had known him ever since, and he knew him to be an honorable and upright man. A more faithful man the speaker had never known. Whenever erred it was the error of the head and not of the heart.

George B. Wallace joined the Church in Boston in the lifetime of the Pro-phet Joseph. He sacrificed all for the truth's sake, and has left a record be hind him of which his relatives may be proud. He was an honest, upright, virtuous man, indeed a man of God. Elder C. W. Penrose followed. He said he had great respect for his brother who had gone into a better sphere. The speaker first met the deceased in London, when the latter or-dained him an Elder, at which time he said: "Bro. Penrose, it is expected that the Elders of Israel will wear themselves out in the service of the Lord," and the deceased, the speaker said, had lived up to that motto all the days of his life. He not only taught the Gospel by precept, but he lived up to all the principles revealed by the Prophet Joseph Smith The speaker seld he regarded George B. Wallace as one of the great men of Israel, and his spirit will continue to be active in the great beyond. The speaker closed with a few comforting remarks to the family of the Elder Nathaniel V. Jones then spoke briefly. He said that the character of George B. Wallace was a landmark in Zion. The speaker had always appre-ciated the wise counsel and friendly help of the departed one, and rejolced that he had hear approximated with the that he had been associated with such Few men have left so numerous and faithful a family as George B. Wallace, and they will be a greater monument to his memory than anything that man can erect. He has left a fame and a name for sterling integrity that shall never perish President Angus M. Cannon felt honored in taking part in doing honor to the memory of George B. Wallace. The speaker indulged in reminiscences of the deceased. In his house many of the Apostles were ordained, President Lorenzo Snow being one of them. He presided over the emigration of the first company of Scandinavian Saints that arrived in Utah. "George B. Wallace has worn himself out in the cause of God. He had known Brother Wallace ever since his briefly hildhood, and he had had the pleasure and privilege to live for many years a near neighbor to him. The testimonies regarding the life, and integrity and faithfulness, of the good man who had passed out of this mortal state, he could testify were true.

President Smith, spoke of the resur-rection, in which he knew the deceased would participate, and would enter the paradise of God.

The speaker had felt for the past few years that the deceased needed rest, he had suffered much, had toiled much, but never did a single word of com-plaint ever come from his lips. He was valiant Saint, and now he has gone to his rest, and his good works will live after him. The speaker read a passage from Revelations, relating to the resurrection of the dead, and especially the first resurrection, which passage, said he, relates to men like George B. Walen 14 President Smith felt that it would not be right to mourn on this occasion

Brother Wallace had kept th faith, had fought the good fight, and had a crown of glory laid up for him in the heavens. He felt to say to the ons of that departed man, that their father was right in his religion, was right in his convictions, and if they would follow in his footsteps they would again unite with him, and be with him throughout all eternity. President George Q. Cannon did not desire to occupy much time, but felt like he would like to say a few words before closing. It was a privilege to live in an age when such testimonies as those concerning Brother Wallace can be borne. The speaker crossed the plains in company with the deceased in 1847. George B. Wallace, continued the speaker, was a man of integrity, of plains in company with the deceased in 1847. George B. Wallace, continued the speaker, was a man of integrity, of courage, yet great humility, but his greatest virtue was his spirit of obedi-ence, for never in all his life did he

The biggest-and best-calendar ever issued by any American railroad is now being distributed by the Burlington

It has twelve sheets, one for each month of the year. On each sheetds a striking illustration of some feature of the Burlington's service or of the ter-ritory reached by its lines-the government fast mail running at full sy ment fast main running at full speed; a tourist car on its way to California; engine 1591, the largest passenger en-gine in the world; a library car; a com-partment sleeper; the Burlington sta-tion at Omaha; a dining car; a mon-ster freight train; Estes Park, Colo.; the plunge bath at Hot Springs, S. D., Vallowstone Falls ato owstone Falls, etc.

The drawings from which the pictures were made are by Louis Brauthold, of Chicago, and cost several hundred dollars.

The size of the calendar is 22x28. The dates are in big type which can be read at a distance of 50 feet. For business offices the Burlington calendar is simply invaluable.

Purchased in large quantities, the calendars cost the Burlington Route 27 cents aplece. With postage, packing, etc., they represent an investment of about 35 cents. Our price is 25 cents-10 cents less than cost. Write for one; stamps will do. If it is not satisfactory, send it back and, be promptly refunded. J. FRANCIS, tory, send it back and your money will
