EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Chicago Tribune estimates the land bill recently signed by Queen Victoria, will add about $160,000,000 to the value of peasant holdings and reduce the rental of landlords from $60,000,000 to $40,000,000.

The Post's special on the condition of the President is in our view a little sensational. The bulletins do not bear it out. But then, neither the doctor's bulletins nor the press dispatches are much to be relied upon.

An additional evidence of the growth of commerce between the United States and foreign countries may be found in the recent establishment of a line of steamers between New York and Bordeaux, France. The experiment of a line of steamers between these ports has never before been tried.

The London correspondent of the New York World writes that trade throughout the midland counties of England is very much depressed, while the harvests have apparently been ruined by the frequent storms Crops have been lying on the ground in some places for two weeks, the rain making it impossible to house them. Farmers and landlords will both suffer to a ruinous extent.

The Arizona Gazette, speaking of one of the spots made beautiful by the "Mormon" colonists, says: "A view of the growing grain fields, the orchards and vineyards in the Salt River Valley would make the eyes of many an eastern and northern farmer grow green with envy. And agriculture in Arizona is in its incipiency. It has been estimated that there remains a quarter of a million acres of land along the Salt and Gila Rivers that can, by a proper system of irrigation, be cultivated."

Everything will soon be done or attempted by electricity. An electric cooking range has been invented by M. Saligna, of France, which is pronounced a great success. An enthusiastic writer says that this gentleman now broils his steaks by lightning and warms his coffee with the aurora borealis. The heat in the range, generated from the electric current, may be adjusted to any degree of temperature, and it is claimed will cook more evenly and satisfactorily all kinds of food, than will any coal or wood stove now in use.

The electric street railroad in Berlin, the work of Dr. Siemens, which was opened last May, is pronounced a successful enterprise. The cars are said to be narrow and short, carrying from fourteen to twenty passengers each, and can be propelled easily at an average speed of twenty miles an hour. The cars are propelled by a dynamo-electric machine, which receives electricity through the track and a suspended cable, from an electric generator, one at each end of the line, each generator driven by a sixty-horse power engine.

The Arizona Globe-Chronicle says: "The Atlantic and Pacific Railroad will be running trains to Brigham City, ninety miles northwest of Prescott, Arizona, in a few weeks. This line from that point goes northwesterly sixty miles, thence to California, crossing the Colorado River at the Needles. Graders are scattered over the entire unfinished part in Arizona, and but a short time will elapse before the second railroad across Arizona will be completed. Prescott is striving to have a branch line sixty miles long constructed with good chance of success.

REPLY TO "A LIFE MEMBER."

We published last evening a communication from "A Life Member of the D. A. and M. Society," complaining that the greatest premiums at the coming Fair were offered for "that which is not so much for the benefit of industry as for the gratification of the senses." The cause of this complaint seems to be the prizes offered for flowers, viz., "three silver medals and two diplomas," while for the silk industry there is "nothing but one diploma and three bronze medals."

We had no space to spare last evening for any comments on that communication. We have to say now that we are surprised at the rashness of the charge brought against the Society by one of its members. Careful reading of the pamphlet containing the list of premiums will show to any one that the "gratification of the senses" cuts but a very small figure in the arrangements of the Fair, by the side of the regulations concerning live stock, manufactures of various kinds, agriculture, minerals, implements, furniture, ladies' work and a hundred and one useful things enumerated in the catalogue.

Grumbling is a very common vice. It is so easy to find fault. It requires no particular genius to complain. But those who take it upon themselves to make objections should always be sure they are right before they open their mouths or rush into print. Now in addition to the prizes enumerated by our correspondent in favor of the silk interest, we find the following in the published list: "The $25 prize offered by Mr. Geo. A. Lowe will be awarded for the best and largest display of silk products, raw and manufactured."

As to the flowers, considering how beautiful they are, how necessary to the adornment of a home, how much they enhance the appearance of the display at a Fair, the loss which is entailed upon exhibitors by the handling and fading of the flowers and many other considerations, we think the Society has offered nothing too much as an inducement to florists, amateur and professional, to show their skill in the cultivation of floral products.

We hope that instead of trying to pick flaws, all that are able to do anything towards making the Fair attractive and valuable will co-operate with the Society by presenting all they can for exhibition, and thus sustaining and encouraging those gentlemen who are doing so much—and doing it so well—with a pure desire for the public benefit.

NEW VARIETIES OF WHEAT.

THE following communication from the United States Department of Agriculture and the announcement from the Deseret A. & M. Society, will prove of interest to our farmers and others who pay attention to the progress of the culture of cereals in this Territory. First, here is the letter from the Department:

WASHINGTON, D. C.,
September 8th, 1881.

To the Directors of Deseret Agricultural and Manufacturing Society, Salt Lake City, Utah:

Gentlemen—This Department is giving especial attention to wheat and other grains, and it is hoped that some of the new varieties, now for the first time distributed, and others not new, but which are introduced into new localities, will be found of great value when they are received.

Trusting to have your co-operation in this matter, I send for trial under your direction, 32 qts. Gold Medal Wheat; 32 qts. Glass Wheat, and 32 qts. Gaines Oats.

I shall be glad to receive reports of your experiments with the above.

Very respectfully,
E. A. CANNAN,
Acting Commissioner.

To this the Society makes the following response:

"This grain will be distributed at the approaching Territorial Fair to responsible parties who will agree to test it merits in a thorough manner, giving it every facility our varied soils and climate will afford, to develope its genuine qualities; and to amplify its opportunities, we will apportion it to thorough farmers in the several counties, who, after it is harvested, will agree to send us a concise report of its fruits, accompanied by the several conditions under which it was raised, and the esteem in which it is regarded by the grangers raising it.

A. M. MUSSER,
Secy. D. A. & M. Society,
Salt Lake City."

LATEST FROM LONG BRANCH.

Some Progress.

ELBERON, 15.—At the morning's dressing at 8.30 to-day, his temperature was 99.4, pulse 100, respiration 20. He passed the night comfortably, sleeping until 8 a.m., when he was wakeful for two hours, during which time his pulse rose to 120, but without the marked elevation of temperature which has characterized the febrile disturbance heretofore. After this time he slept till morning. More nourishment was taken during the night than for several nights past. In reviewing the case of the President since his arrival at Long Branch it may be said, in spite of various septic accidents which have for several weeks and do still complicate his case, that he has certainly not retrograded, but on the contrary has made some progress towards convalescence.

Private Secretary Brown says the Presidents feels brighter this morning. The weather is cool.

Impurity of the Blood.

LONG BRANCH, 15.—The President passed a comfortable night and Bliss says if he did not make good progress last night he is not competent to judge. There was no foundation for the rumor of an operation contemplated to relieve the lung. Agnew also denied the story and said the first he had heard of it was in the morning papers. Bliss goes to New York for a few hours to-day. Hamilton ventured the opinion on the President's chances of recovery to a friend this morning, which briefly stated in substance is that the septic poison in the President's blood will necessarily cause fluctuations of pulse, temperature and respiration from time to time until it is entirely eliminated. He considers it safe to say that the President will overcome the disturbances which may occur from impurity of blood, but it is altogether probable that various annoyances will be occasioned before the patient is entirely rid of the blood poison. He believes the President will even overcome the effects of the poisonous blood, and as soon as that is accomplished, his recuperation will be more rapid. It will probably be five weeks. Present indications give every reasonable ground for believing the President would ultimately recover and be as well as before he was shot. The President expressed a desire for a porterhouse steak, which is being prepared for him. Boynton considers that as long as the President holds his own, the chances are in his favor, and that while his condition to-day is as well as yesterday, there cannot be said to be any marked change. The President was placed in his reclining chair at noon.

No Change.

The President was replaced in bed after having remained in the chair three quarters of an hour. Hamilton says he is having a good day. No material change in his pulse or temperature since the morning bulletin.

Porter-House Steak.

The President's condition continues favorable. He has eaten three teaspoonsfull of minced porter-house steak, and swallowed the fibre.

Favorable Symptom.

The World's Long Branch special says: A symptom in the President's case which is extremely favorable, and which has not been much spoke about as yet, has recently appeared; this is the almost entire disappearance of sweating when he is asleep; when he was in Washington, and for a day or two after he arrived here, he never went to sleep without a profuse perspiration making its appearance. During the last week, however, this has been steadily lessening, and now when he wakes up his body has a natural moisture upon it and nothing more. This symptom is the strongest proof of general improvement which has yet appeared, and his physicians are very greatly encouraged by it. It is said on good authority that Doctors Hamilton, Agnew and Bliss are privately of opinion that there is no doubt of his recovery.

Blood Poison.

The Post's Long Branch special says: One reason for the delay in the bulletin this morning was the care expended by the surgeons on its phraseology. For the first time the surgeons commit themselves to a statement that the President suffers from chronic blood poisoning. Their language is intended to be reassuring, but it is easy to see that they feel anxious as to the issue of the complications to which they refer. The various septic accidents of the case is a matter of merely subsidiary consequence. The President suffers from the constitutional disturbance, which follows a well defined course and generally results in a lingering death. No fact of the complications supplies ground for hope.

Fire in the West.

SAN RAFAEL, 15. — A dispatch says: A brush fire started to-day in Baltimore Gulch at the foot of Mount Llamalpais and swept over a tract of country three miles wide by seven miles long. Farm houses and country residences of San Franciscans in the vicinity were surrounded by fire, but have thus far escaped destruction, though the fire is still raging. The new depot of the railroad company Corte Madera was burned. The railroad company sent up a fire train and a gang of men to aid in checking the spread of the conflagration. William Pixley, brother of Frank Pixley of this city, who started the fire while clearing his land is missing, and it is feared he has perished.

A Stock Gambler.

NEW YORK, 14. — The Tribune says: Charles Baxter, junior partner of the firm of Joseph Schiena & Co., manufacturers of clocks, disappeared last Saturday, and it is reported fled the country with a large amount of money belonging to the firm. During last year, it is said, he had been speculating in Wall Street.

FOREIGN.

The Czar and the Emperor—War to the Knife on the Socialistic Assassins.

NEW YORK, 14.—The Herald's St. Petersburg special says: On the meeting of the Emperors, as soon as the imperial sovereigns were alone and had embraced each other, the Czar addressed to the Emperor the following words which I repeat almost exactly: "I have come to tell you I have inherited all the sentiments my father ever cherished toward you. I will hold to them all my life. I am happy, most happy to have an opportunity of saying this to you myself. To show that there was no wish to make a mystery of it." This speech was repeated to Prince Bismarck. Nothing was signed at the meeting of Emperors, but nevertheless, solemn engagements have been contracted The Czar has promised that if ever Germany finds herself dragged into a war, Russia will maintain the same attitude as she did in 1870. After the Emperor William had replied to his imperial visitor's greeting the conversation fell on Nihilists. The Emperor William advised his grand nephew to have recourse to the same means of combating the evil as he himself had adopted. Since Nobling's attempt, that is, war to the knife. "In the year which followed the adoption of this policy," said he, "the German law courts passed sentence on 3,000 socialists. Now, however, cases of socialism are much less frequent."

"Pernicious" Jews.

An official decree has just been issued to-nigh, convoking various commission appointed to study the relative situations of the Jews and the rest of the people. To show how pernicious to the masses the Jews have been and are in Russia, the word "pernicious" is used in the decree.

Another American Victory.

The chief topic of the conversation was the grand victory of the American horse to-day. Innumerable excuses were made for the way he has been operated against. Some said that Archer would at the last moment ride for Lord Bradford, others that the horse was still suffering from a stoppage Pincus gave him the week before last. Seldom has such a reception been accorded to any but a north country horse as that given to Iroquois when he returned to the paddock. Hearty cheers were given for Lorillard, Archer and Pincus finishing with perhaps still louder cheers for America. Pincus was quite overcome with his reception. He deserves the greatest praise for the method he adopted in training the horse, as nobody but one who perfectly understood his constitution could have brought him to his past as fit as Jacob Pincus did to-day. When the excitement had somewhat cooled down, I spoke to Archer, who I might mention, had 600 sovereigns laid on himself, about the way he won. He said he held a good position on the rails until he asked Iroquois to go, when the latter responded gallantly and with the greatest ease sailed past the post as winner. It has been the most exciting and interesting race of recent years.

300 Tons of Human Bones.

A New York special from London says: A sensation was caused at Bristol by the discovery of a cargo of 300 tons of human bones being discharged there to the order of a local firm engaged in making manure. The bones were shipped from Rodosto at Constantinople, and are supposed to be the remains principally of the defenders of Plevna. There are complete limbs among this horrible cargo, and in some cases hair still adheres to the skulls.

Will Never Cease to Struggle.

The Herald's London special says: The convention which assembles at Dublin on Thursday is expected to be the most representative meeting ever held in Ireland. The following resolutions will be recommended by the executive of the League for adoption:

First—That this national convention, assembled by the will of the people of Ireland, acting in their name, declares at the outset of its meeting, that the cause of the political and social evils which afflict and impoverish our country is to be found in the system of alien rule, so oppressive and unjust to our people; that this country solemnly declares its full conviction that Ireland can never be either prosperous or content till her people enjoy the right of national self-government,—a right which they have never forfeited and never abandoned, and for the restoration of which they will never cease to struggle with all their power.

Mayor Leatherman, of Arkansas City, and James Rucker, a prominent attorney, fought a duel. Both were wounded at the first fire, Rucker probably fatal.
