Do You Take A RIDE?

No more pleasant ride can be found anywhere than that to the suburbs Southeast of Salt Lake City. If you drive, ride horse back, or use a bicycle, the nicely sprinkled roads afford continual pleasure. The popularity of the East Boulevard is attested by the hundreds of wheels and thousands of people that daily throng it.

Why not combine business with pleasure? If you buy a home in Forest Dale, you can enjoy the ride to and from your residence that hundreds are anxious to take for pleasure alone.

What is more invigorating during these warm days than a ride on an open electric car? Try it early any morning, or after your work in the evening; and then if you wish a home, buy in Forest Dale. By doing so you can enjoy the canyon breeze, and still be near your work. Can have water belonging to yourself piped to your door and still not pay city taxes. Can have the benefit of good schools, and of pleasant associations, and yet have none of the smoke and discomfort of confinement in a city.

Inducements to build. Small payments and long time at low interest will be allowed desirable parties.

Call at CANNON'S office, 111 Constitution Building, and get plat and prices.

The Sci Pere Reservation.

Stay the Idaho Birds. The date of the opening of the Sci Pere reservation will be a great day for Idaho. It will witness the planting of some 5,000 families in the state, and in addition, thousands of others, constituting the overflow from the gathered crowd, will settle on the best lands in this and adjoining counties. Many people are already to the reservation looking over the undesirable to spend for settlement. The old Pierce City wagon road, which up to the year has been stage the 500 Bills better than a series of Indian trails, is now a well-travelled road. It traverses the Boise land on the reservation. Down towards Lewiston considerable land has been taken from the Indians and is now in grain, and one can now see fields of grain that cannot be excelled even in the Palouse country.

THE NEW SCHOOL HOUSES.

A Visit To and Description of the Beautiful Squirrel.

It Will Be Ready for Use on Monday as Will Also the Garfield, Lincoln and Bonneville.

Passing down Fourth East street the tourist is attracted by the appearance of a lovely looking building, situated on the east side of Jackson, Hy. M. and over the intervale leading from Jackson to the Sugarhouse Seminary. Upon entering he is ushered through a spacious vestibule, opening into which are three large, extremely well-lighted school rooms on each side. Between the rooms are ample wardrobes, roomy and admirably adapted for the purpose designed.

Passing to a landing between the first and second floors, is a good sized class room which can be duplicate on the opposite side of the hall way. Proceeding to inspection the visitor ascends to the second floor, where is seen an exact counterpart of the first floor. On the third floor is found a room intended for library purposes. In the basement there are two large, airy school rooms on the south side, while on the north are found the kitchen, sewing and vocational rooms. The heating is effected by means of a large engine, fitted with good exact apparatus, that gives ample room and rest for the engineer.

Immediately in the rear of the engine and boiler rooms is an immense tank, ten feet in diameter. From these large windows the fresh air is admitted through a fan conveying into a small enclosure containing a system of coils, by means of which the air is heated, and then driven by the fan into western rooms, including the library, principal's room, class rooms and halls. The fans, unlike the arrangement in the other buildings, are built in the solid wall, and are not in view in the different rooms, as in the case of metal pipes.

Viewed from the exterior, as it stands in its beauty and substantial attractiveness, of from its spacious grounds, the walls of which are admirably fenced, and the walks and finished in the best species of gravel, or from its beautiful and perfectly ventilated school rooms, the structure is a fitting evidence of the intelligent judgment exercised in its erection.

The edifice is intended as a Ward meeting structure. The cost of the building is $51,134; the heating and ventilating plant is to cost $5,725, making the total cost $56,859.

Those who have visited the Squirrel unite in the statement that it is a magnificent modern structure and one of which the citizens of Salt Lake may well be proud.

THE EMERSON SCHOOL.

In the Annex, in the southeast part of the city is another school building which like all of the new structures is to be ready for use on Monday. It is to be known as the Emerson school. The building is situated on the corner of Young and Bateing streets and faces the west. It is constructed of brick with stone trimmings, is one story in height and has four rooms. In the center of the building is a wide corridor, and on each side are two well lighted and ventilated school rooms. Each room has six windows lighting the room so that a pupil does not "cast a shadow." The size of the building is 60 x 60 feet, the rooms 28 x 32 feet, the corridor, 28 x 20 feet, and the wardrobes, 8x8, and which are four in number.

The structure is finished throughout with California pine, and is heated by means of steam. The cost of the building completed is $5,170.

THE UINTAH.

The Uintah building, also to open next Monday, is an exact counterpart of the Emerson, and is situated in the Pioneer Grove addition; it will cost $5,500.

THE BONNEVILLE.

The Bonneville school is the same of the new one-story building just erected in the Superior addition in North Salt Lake. Like the larger buildings it is also of brick and stone, and its interior arrangements are entirely modern, having a spacious hall, teachers' room, cloak room, closets, etc. It will be heated by a furnace. The building complete will cost about $3,000.

SPECIAL BOARD MEETING.

The board of examiners held a special meeting last evening at 8 o'clock, at which the following teachers were elected permanent:

Grace Bailey, first grade; Fanny Knowles, first grade; Clara Williams, second grade; Grace Neal, fourth grade; Dollie Harper, fourth grade; Ray Chase, fifth grade.

W. T. Eddingfield was chosen as principal for the Quincy school and Dr. Minnesch was given authority to employ an office boy to assist him in his work.

The committees on school buildings was authorized to have gravel hauled and placed on approaches to the new buildings.

A SHOCKING ACCIDENT.

A Child Trampled by a Horse in a Sleigh and Strangled.

Special Correspondence.

GARDEN CITY, Rich Co., Utah, Sept. 8.—A sad and fatal accident occurred in a little eight-year-old boy at Brother Hyrum Reckana's of this place. They are spending the summer on Bear Lake, Wyo., where the firm of Cook Bros. & McCann have their cattle ranch. Little Arthur and his elder brother were out riding on a horse ranch, and necessary to ride down to cross a slough in which the mud was very thick and deep and the opposite bank quite high. While trying to get up the bank on getting out of the slough, the horse Arthur was riding began jumping about, throwing the little fellow down and back into the mud. The animal, still struggling to reach the bank, got the lad under its feet and trampled him in the mud to such a frightful manner that death was instantaneous. The elder brother was perfectly powerless to render any assistance whatever, and rode as fast as possible, back to the ranch house for assistance. When help arrived the animal was still in the mud, and the little fellow under the horse. It took over an hour to get the horse away so that the boy could be taken out of the mud in his lifeless condition.

The parents of the deceased are grief stricken to their home of deep affliction. The body was brought to Bear River, where the funeral was held on Wednesday afternoon, and all that was mortal of the dead little fellow, was laid to rest. He was named beside his grandfather, Thomas McCann, who passed away several years ago.

WEATHER AND CROPS.

We do not know what this country is coming to yet. Such a season for rain as this past one has been is something unheard of in this high altitude. Last week we had twice the heaviest rain showers that we have ever seen here, and at the writing and ever since last night about 9 o'clock, the rain is descending in one continuous stream. Some snow fell in the mountains. The crop is nearly all in stack in the field and is being kept too wet to be gotten up. Some second crop hay is also being stacked. But many of the farmers are refusing an amount of the expected price set for fall grain cutting. Fall crops in consequence are in abundance and it is a much safer crop to city farms, which are running the land above the canal for raising grain.

POLITICAL NOTES.

The Democrats of this precinct held a primary on Tuesday evening last for the purpose of sending delegates to attend the Democratic county convention, Sept. 8th. The following were selected: Wm. Cook, David S. Cook, George A. Whitington, Jno. S. Brownwell and Emil Vaterlaus; Hyrum Cook, George Hall and Nephi Dustin, as alternates.

Politics promise to be exceedingly lively again this Fall. However, we are in hopes that there will be no rough sailing as there were two years ago over politics. Yours truly,

V. LITE.

PROVO, UTAH, - Sept. 8, 1894.

DIVORCE SUIT.

Business in the First District Court.—Notes.

Mrs. Williams, of Heber, Wasatch county, has commenced a divorce suit in the First district court against James Williams. Plaintiff alleges that a marriage was contracted between plaintiff and defendant in Bellevue, Idaho, in 1890, and that shortly afterward the defendant deserted her. For that reason she prays for a decree of divorce and that she be allowed to resume her maiden name of Emma Kinney.

Mrs Hannah C. York, aged 85, died at the residence of her daughter Mrs. A. Roberts, in the Third ward of this city, on the 5th. She came to Utah in 1851 and has resided in this city since that time. The deceased died as she had lived, a true Latter-day Saint.

Miss Belle Graham left for Grand Junction yesterday to visit friends.

The militia company held their first drill last evening on the academy grounds. The boys used the guns belonging to the academy military company and will continue to do so till they receive arms from the government.

Complaints have been filed in Justice Wolgamott's court by Fletcher Jones against Commissioner Newell against Chris Jensen and Kelsey Bird, seizing the officers taking of fish from Utah Lake.

The First district court opened yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock. A large number of citizens were naturalized and the criminal calendar for the September term was set.

The Stake Sunday School conference convened here today, and will continue to session over Sunday.

The funeral services over the remains of ex-Chief Justice Richards, Provo, took place yesterday afternoon at the First ward assembly room, under the auspices of the A. O. U. W., of which order the deceased was a member. The speakers were J. P. R. Johnson, M. S. Johnson and J. D. Jones. A large number followed the remains to the cemetery.

LOOK OUT!

Strayed from Z. C. M. I. yesterday a few days ago one bay horse, eight years old, about fifteen hands high, and weighed well. If found let him be left in Z. C. M. I. and be rewarded, or give such information as may lead to the recovery of this animal.

Peculiar to Itself

Hood's Sarsaparilla is peculiar to itself, in a strictly medicinal sense, in have important curatives, viz: First, in the combination of vegetable agents used; second, in the proportion in which they are mixed; third, in the process by which the entire curative properties of the preparation are secured. These three important points make Hood's Sarsaparilla peculiar to itself in a medicinal sense, as it seems, has never hitherto unknown.

But it is not what we say, but what Hood's Sarsaparilla does, that tells the story. What Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for others is reason for confidence that it is the medicine for you.
