MERCUR'S THIRD VEIN.

It is to be Developed Though a Shaft is to be Sunk Immediately.

NEW POWER PLANT AND HOISTING WORKS

Contracts on the Highland Boy Smelter—Brisk Day in the Pit—Lucky Boy's Big Ore Chute.

The Mercur company broke ground today for the installation of a power plant and hoisting works at its mine in the Mercur district. This work is made imperative through a determination of the company to at once run on veins, which will enable it to get into the third vein, discovered some time ago in the mine's development.

Manager Dern came in from Mercur last evening after having assisted in pouring a kiln for the power plant. To a "News" reporter this morning he stated that the decline—or main working shaft, rather—would be pushed with all possible speed, to the end that another source of ore supply would be opened up by contact with the third vein.

Of the mine in general, Mr. Dern said it was looking well. The General working, said he, are very productive, and ore is constantly being shipped from there to the mill. The engineman inspected the Ophir-Mercur, and found things running smoothly, and all in all, conditions at the properties were highly satisfactory.

THE HIGHLAND BOY SMELTER.

Work Going Ahead Looking to Its Early Erection—Contract for Brick.

Although at the offices of the company it is stated that no contracts have yet been let on the erection of the Highland Boy smelter, it is a well known fact that two at least have been awarded and that brick and lumber to be used in the construction of the big plant are now being delivered on the ground, a tract of 80 acres in southwestern Murray.

A gentleman speaking to a "News" reporter last evening, stated that the smelter site was fast assuming an air of activity and that all preliminary work was being attended to as speedily as possible. The Salt Lake Pressed Brick company, said he, has secured a contract for three million brick to be used in the erection of the plant and they are now being delivered on the ground. The lumber contract, said the gentleman, has also been let, and this material is likewise being hauled to its destination. The company, he continued, is making arrangements for the hauling in of its steel structural work, and to that end a switch from the main track of the Rio Grande is now being put in. Conditions are such said the "News" informant, as to make it quite apparent that the company means business from the very start.

At the Highland Boy office this morning Messrs. Newhouse and Weir were in close consultation when a reporter called, hence neither could be seen. Mr. Fischer, who has charge of the smelter work, was not around, hence a talk with him was impossible. It is said, however, that all contracts will be let inside of a few days, the entire work to be pushed through with all possible speed. On the ground, which the company purchased from E. R. Tripp, houses are to be erected for its employes, and, before six months expire, the probabilities are that that portion will be a busy hive of industry caused through the great productiveness of the Highland Boy mine at Bingham.

BRISK TRADING TODAY.

Brokers Get Down to Business and Fill Orders—Galena's Activity.

With Joe Bamberger handling the gavel in place of Charlie Hudson, the stock brokers got down to business today, and exercised themselves on the bulls both bleed and unbleed, until 1,000 shares had been sold, the same footing up to dollars and cents to the liberal little sum of $1,149.50.

It was a day fraught with more animated trading than has yet characterized proceedings in the new pit. Business Block had a healthy tone, but no actions, and it was not until 11 o'clock was reached that business was indulged in. At this point 400 shares changed hands, six sales being recorded at figures ranging all the way from 41 to 43 cents a share. Closing, the stock showed a decided depression, the bid being but 38½ cents as against offerings at 46. Grand Central held its own quite well to the bidding and was wanted at 56½, but as no offerings materialized under $1.25, sales were not made, and the brokers passed on down to Mammoth, where 200 shares came out at $1.90 a share. This closed the trading for local stocks, although there was a good demand for Mercur, Comstock and Utah, as evidenced by the figures recorded.

Emerald was a starter for the other sides and handed out 500 shares at 7 cents. Chloride Point, though strong, did no business, but Lower Mammoth created quite a flurry and did a fair amount of business at 49 and 47½ cents. Dexter also figured in the trading, 100 shares changing a owner at 21.46. The Swansea were both strong, South Swansea especially showing its popularity in a yearly bid of $1.25. Neither Ontario took part in the trading.

The closing figures were as follows:

IMMENSE ORE CHUTE.

The Lucky Boy Mine Develops One Carrying Good Values.

John D. Ross accompanied by Mrs. Ross, left for their home in Pittsburg Monday after a trip of inspection to the Lucky Boy mine near Idaho City, which he and his associates recently took hold of. Mr. Ross was highly pleased with the showing made by the property. When he began work on the claim a year ago it made a good showing in the upper works, but since then the mine has been opened much deeper. They now have an ore chute 80 feet long and 230 feet deep, with every indication that it will prove equally good as greater depth is gained.

The pay chute varies in thickness from 3 to 4 feet and the ore averages $24 a ton in gold. Mr. Ross estimates there is now 3,000 tons of ore of this character in sight. In addition to the high grade chute there is from 7 to 10 feet of ore that carries from $7 to $15 a ton.

The company will eventually put in a mill to work the ore, there now being enough in sight to keep a 10-stamp plant running 12 months. It is thought they will be able to handle the lower grade ore at a profit and that it will in time constitute a very important portion of the revenue of the property.

In talking about the Lucky Boy, Mr. Ross said a great drawback in the locality where he is operating is that property is held at too high a price. In many cases men are asking $25,000 to $50,000 for claims that will require an expenditure of at least $1,500 to demonstrate whether they are worth anything or not.—Boise Statesman.

BUFFALO HUMP EXCITEMENT.

It Still Continues Owing to the Discoveries Made There.

Buffalo Hump, the new mining camp in the vicinity of Florence, Ida., still continues to excite attention, and favorable reports are being received daily concerning the finds there. A letter from Florence published in the Spokane Spokesman-Review says that the old pioneers of the camp do not know what to make of the new discovery. They say that they have tramped on the Big Buffalo ground while hunting and fishing and have traveled over the country for years. They cannot comprehend how latter comers should discover the ledges where they never dreamed gold was to be found. The enormous size of the ledges up there fooled the old timers who had reached the conclusion years ago that a vein to be valuable must be a pinched up affair with a knife blade streak of pay ore.

"Hundreds are scouting that section," the letter-writer said, "and it is just possible that ere long we may be able to chronicle the finding of the old forty-mile placer which was lost so many years ago and which the local legend says is wonderfully rich. It has been often searched for but never found. Some placer gold is being found in the near vicinity of Florence and already taken in rockers and are working them and getting considerably better than a day's wages out of it.

"The Warren has been located about a mile and a half north of the Big Buffalo by Frank Harnett and Ed. Hellman. The showing is said to be a good one. The vein is about eight feet wide and crops out fifty feet along the surface. The quartz brought in from their prospects well by panning after being burned.

"Late reports brought in last night were that George Ostrfeld had struck it about eight or ten miles south of the Buffalo Hump. This confirms the opinion expressed by a local citizen that the mineral bearing zone extends on the south to the Salmon river and possibly beyond to Warren or near there. To the north is the south fork of the Clearwater and owing to the creeks being so rough, but little prospecting has been done over there. It is believed by experienced prospectors that the belt will extend to Newsome creek.

"Last Sunday evening the miners of the camp held a meeting and formed a new district. The attendance was over 200. Charles H. Scott was elected district recorder. It was agreed to call the new camp Idaho and the district Bubbles after the names of the discoverers of the big ledge on Buffalo Hump which started the wildest stampede Idaho has known for years."

DIPS AND SPURS

Silver, 65 bid, 69 asked.

The Mammoth mill has closed down for a clean-up.

Hon. F. T. Farnsworth is expected up from Provo this evening.

During the month just closed the Grand Central shipped 1,800 tons of ore.

The Swansea has declared another dividend of $1,000, payable on the 10th inst.

The Geyser-Marion and Mammoth yesterday distributed dividends of $8,000 and $10,000 respectively.

W. C. B. Allen, who is pushing development on the Silver Lode, came in from Mercur last evening.

Fred Dern, permanent pro tem of the Mercur company, went out on the camp this morning to get the time.

The Fitzpatrick Bros. of Beatrice, Neb., returned this morning from their ranch in Idaho, and are now mingling with local mining men.

Joe Bamberger, who officiated as caller on the exchange today, is to be congratulated on his lusty lungs and resonant vocal organs.

The Star mill in Pine canyon is going ahead and will be ready by Oct. 15. The new plant promises to make of the mine a dividend payer.

The Red Wing company, operating a well known Bingham mine, sends the last payment on its bond yesterday under the terms of which they agree to pay $20,000 inside of four months.

Will Orr, the Cyanide company's expert, came in from Robinson yesterday, and is now experimenting on ores for the Glasgow and Western company, at his laboratory in the basement of the Atlas block.

LAGOON ENCAMPMENT.

Men Who Attend Will Get No Pay—Complete Arrangements as to Details.

The following order issued to the National Guard is self-explanatory:

Headquarters, First Battalion, First Infantry, Salt Lake City, August 31, 1898.

Orders No. 4:—In pursuance of orders No. 3, headquarters First infantry, N. G. U., companies D, A, E and H, comprising the First battalion, First infantry, N. G. U., will assemble in an encampment of instruction to be held at Farmington, near Lagoon, Davis county, Utah, for a period of three days, commencing Sept. 5, 1898.

Transportation for troops and baggage will be furnished by the Salt Lake and Ogden railway company. Subsistence for three days, commencing at supper time, Sept. 4, 1898, will be furnished also. There being insufficient funds, no officer or enlisted man will receive any pay for participating in this encampment, hence the attendance will be entirely voluntary, but never-theless each member of the battalion will understand that after they have once reported for duty, their obedience to military law is compulsory, and strict conformity thereto will be enforced.

Captain J. A. Hemel is hereby appointed camp commissary and Lieut. Lawrence Smeltzer, camp quartermaster, both of whom will report as soon as possible at these headquarters for further instructions.

The undress uniform with forage cap and leggins will be worn and each enlisted man will take with him, rifle, belt, cartridge and haversack.

Each man will provide himself with, not to exceed three blankets, which will be rolled and marked with the owners name and company, and same must be delivered at the place of camp not later than 9 a. m., Sunday, Sept. 4, 1898.

No men not duly enlisted or properly armed or equipped will be taken to camp.

The commanding officers of companies A, E, and D, will detail a non-commissioned officer and private to report to the camp quartermaster at the armory at 8 a. m. Sunday, Sept. 4, 1898, to receive and take charge of blankets etc., of their respective companies and to assist in the loading of same and other baggage on the train.

Companies A, E and D will report at the armory ready to go into camp, Sunday, September 4, 1898, at 10 o'clock p. m., sharp.

Company H will board the 2 o'clock train at Bonneville on the same date ready to be loaded on the same train.

Company commanders will see that each member of their respective commands is made familiar with this order and will report not later than Friday, September 2, 1898, how many officers, non-commissioned officers and privates they will take to camp.

By order of Major H. M. H. Lund,
First Lieut. R. R. Carter, Adjutant.

Watermelon Excursion.

There were watermelons galore at the Lagoon yesterday evening. The occasion being the melon feast of the A. O. U. W. The melons were brought to the brewery by the wagon-load and a force were kept busy serving them up. When they were through the usually neat pavilion bore the appearance of the back yard of a negro restaurant.

When the A. O. U. W. lodges of Salt Lake exert themselves to have a good time they generally "get there," and yesterday was no exception to the rule. There was a full representation of the order at the resort and those with their wives, sweethearts and babies made a jolly a crowd as the Lagoon has seen this summer.

George M. Scott Sued.

As was expected, Hugh Anderson, assignee of George M. Scott & Co., has commenced action in the third district court against George M. Scott, James Glendinning and the Lily Park Stock Growers' association to recover $14,223.35, alleged to have been diverted from the Scott company to the Lily Park association, which Anderson alleges is still owing the defunct corporation and for which judgment is prayed for.
