TODAY'S COUNTY COURT.

Petitions are Presented on a Variety of Subjects.

Reports of County Officers—The Naming of a Street at Murray—Miscellaneous.

The County court met in weekly session this morning under the chairmanship of Probate Judge Blair. All the other members were present.

A petition, numerously signed, was read from the farmers and tool raisers of West Jordan precinct, asking for the extension of the Rio Grand Western railroad switch in front of Cooper's shops, on the county road, so as to meet the demands of the petitioners. Referred to Selectmen Morris and Harrington with power to act.

The probate judge now submitted to execute a quit claim deed to Wm. G. Ashmore.

A letter was read from George Stringfellow calling the court's attention to the fact that they were allowing two separate roads to run through his land at the south end of the state road, without his consent, and contrary to a former order of this court, for which he now claimed damages $700, or in lieu thereof the erection of a good and substantial fence, extending from the present fence along the new road, as laid out, to the west side of his line, thence north to the present fence, so as to prevent travel other than on the proper road. Referred to the selectmen.

A letter from Fred Bennett regarding clogged up ditches at the intersection of Tenth South and Second West streets was filed.

County Treasurer Lyne reported that he had funds on hand sufficient to pay all registered county warrants up to register number 2,700.

County Physician Worthington reported two county patients now in St. Mary's hospital and one in St. Mark's.

A number of Murray property owners petitioned for the approval by the board of the name of a certain street there to be known as "Murray street." The request was granted.

The petition of O. S. Olsen for a liquor license at Murray was laid over. Those of Jake Newman & Co. (Bingham canyon), J. A. Cushing (Carr Fork, Bingham Junction), and S. A. Evans (Big Cottonwood, west side of Bingham canyon) were granted.

OPENING OF THE SCHOOLS.

The First Day's Attendance Generally Large—Everson School Postponement.

Throughout the city the opening day in the public schools has been characterized by an unusually large attendance, especially at the new and large buildings. The intention of the board of education and superintendent is to have the pupils leave the old buildings and "flock" to the new ones.

At the Emerson school the enrollment was taken this morning, but the formal opening was postponed until Thursday to give time to fully complete the building, and to allow the paint to become sufficiently dry so as not to place the children's health at risk.

The attendance at the high school today reached between 325 and 350. It is expected that when the full enrollment be made the number will be swelled to about 375 or 400, and may grow closely the 400 mark.

Will Be a Big Train.

The special train run by the Union Pacific for the delegates to the big Republican convention at Provo tomorrow promises to be a very large one. It will be highly decorated and will carry several bands of music and delegations from all the counties of Utah north of Utah county. The train will leave Ogden at 7:30, Salt Lake at 8:30, and arrive at Provo about 9:30.

The Salt Lake Business College.

The above named institution opens its fifth year under encouraging auspices. The interior arrangement of the building has been materially changed, so that the college occupies the entire front and also the west side. All rooms have been artistically fitted up, and are well arranged for the purpose designed. There is quite a large increase in attendance over that of last year.

Twenty-Third Quorum.

The Twenty-third quorum of Elders, comprising those residing in the Fourth, Fifth and Fremont wards, will meet in the Fourth ward assembly rooms at 8 o'clock this (Monday) evening.

Marriage Lines.

The county clerk issued a marriage license today to Jacob Lechtenstein, 25, and Jenny Stoenmaker, 22, both of Salt Lake City, to John Nelson, 21, and Anna Anderson, 20, of Sanpete; John Dudley Miller, 25, and Effie J. Keller, 18, the former of Salt Lake and the latter of Helena, Montana.

In Matrimonial Bonds.

Probate Judge Blair this afternoon united in marriage Nils Nilson and Anna Anderson, both residents of Sanpete.

His First Sermon.

The good people of Brighton ward, Salt Lake county, were treated to an interesting experience in their Sabbath meeting yesterday. Among those who were present with the regular home ward officers were Bishop H. C. Darrell and Lorin Pratt, respectively superintendent and assistant superintendent of the Sunday school, which school is held in this city. Bishop Pratt is a son of the late Elder Orson Pratt, and was deprived of hearing and speech at an early period of life, by sickness. He has made his living by intelligent work as a compositor. He can address (he faint), and yesterday, in common with the other visitors, he was called to address the congregation. He responded, and in a speech of some ten minutes' duration, bore a strong testimony of the truth of the Gospel and intimated to his attentive audience the Divine providence in his behalf in placing him under what most people regarded as an affliction, but in which he realized a blessing for the situation in life which he has occupied. It was Brother Pratt's first sermon, and notwithstanding the difficulty in the way of expressing himself, his remarks were clearly understood by every one present, and his testimony made a deep and lasting impression upon the people, who felt the force of a remark by him to the effect that his apparent affliction was proving a blessing from which the disgrace was being removed to his own comprehension.

TERRITORIAL PARAGRAPHS.

Two Little Children Cremated—News from the Park—Serious Accident.

Park City Record: Sheriff Harrington states that Summit county's jail is little, if any better than no jail, and that when he has a prisoner whom he desires to keep, he is forced to incarcerate him in the Park City jail or take him to the penitentiary. Only the other day a prisoner confined in the county jail on the charge of housebreaking, dug his way out and is now at liberty. The fellow slept on a straw mattress placed on the floor. Moving his bed he turned a hole through the floor and commenced to dig. Each night he would dig a little, remove straw from the mattress, replace it with dirt and burn the straw in the stove. He continued to work until he had the hole through to the outside, when he left for parts unknown. The jail is no earthly good and a new one is badly needed.

The weather during the past week has been warm enough to cause an old Oregonian homesick. It has been a constant downpour and has ruined many tons of good hay.

Last Wednesday Joe Marin closed the doors of his cigar factory and quit business, dull times and poor collections forcing him to the wall. It is his intention to move his family to Salt Lake and look for something to do there.

The writer visited Eureka, Tintic district, this week and found the camp rather dull, and it was so reported by all the boys with whom conversation was held. At the depot at Mercur matters appeared lively, owing to the construction of the new railroad to connect with the Union Pacific at Fairfield siding. The grade is nearly completed and the ties are being strung along the route. It begins to look as if Mercur would have a more substantial connection with the outside world than a telephone, in the very near future.

Yesterday (Friday) morning's Utah Central passenger train met with an accident at the switch of the Park City ice company just below Kimball's crossing. The switch became misplaced in some manner and the engine and tender, together with the forward trucks of the baggage car, left the rails. Prompt action on the part of the engineer averted what might have been a bad accident. As it was, nobody was hurt and no particular damage resulted. The train did not reach Park city until about 2 o'clock in the afternoon. The mail and some passengers were brought to town by the Kimball Bros. transfer. A wrecker had to be sent from Salt Lake to replace the car derailed.

W. J. Hosiere, timeman at the Ontario mine, is carrying his hand in a sling, the result of having it badly squeezed in the cage at the Daly shaft yesterday (Friday) morning.

The Record also reports the return from the Union range of a prospecting party comprising Frank Kessler, James Pace, Frank Moore and "Shot" Harper, and says they found no mineral, but an interesting trip. The women indulged a wonderful bee cave and a tumbling mountain.

Vernal Express: On Tuesday afternoon of this week a young lady named Iva Iron rolling in a yard and whipping her home into a blood-red speed, with her mother behind her. The widow McCurdy's daughter and dotal were on fire and two children were burning up. A crowd was soon upon the scene, but were too late to save anything. The children were taken from the fire by Ted Watkins, and their feet and hands were turned off, the brains were protruding from their heads, making a sickening sight to look upon. One of the children was Mrs. McCurdy's little five-year-old girl, and the other was the oldest boy of George Bird, and was six or seven years of age. There was a hole in the haystack next to the stable and the children were supposed to have been playing in it and set fire to the hay and could not get out, and thus met their horrible fate. The blow fell so heavily on Mrs. McCurdy that up to this time she is in a critical condition. All of her hay, grain, and stables were a total loss, and thus a large portion of the means of a destitute for the poor woman and a large family of children is destroyed.

Coalville Times: A very serious accident has happened to Martin Bell, aged sixteen years, son of James Bell, of this city. He was riding home on horseback along Main street when a dog ran out and snapped at the heels of the horse, causing the animal to suddenly jump, and also increase its speed. This scared Melvin and he was violently thrown to the ground, striking on the side of his head, and chipping several feet. In a direct condition he staggered to the water ditch. It was found that the left ear was almost completely severed from the head, and hung only by a small piece of skin. Dr. Hooper was immediately summoned, and replaced the ear in position, the operation requiring sixteen stitches. The injured boy is getting along nicely, and it is thought the ear will grow in place again. A few bruises were all the other injuries sustained.

Bears are becoming quite numerous of late. A few nights ago a bear that, from his tracks must have been a monster, entered the corral of E. Robinson at Croydon. The dog made for him, but bruin was after bigger game, and for a time put no attention to the dog. On reaching the object of his search, a sow, he struck her a blow in the ribs, breaking quite a piece of the ribs and about five inches long and two inch and a half wide. The sow, however, did not kill her. He nonchalantly turned and hit the dog a swipe that sent him up for repairs, and he hasn't recovered yet. The bear then finished the sow, taken. His track, on being measured proved to be fourteen inches long and eight inches wide.

Park Elder Tribune: On Wednesday of this week the model for an oak and a bar of wheat in the Coliseum was finished. It was a first class article, plain clean and averaged about [illegible] in the area. Receiver Rowe is justly proud of it.

OGDEN.

OGDEN, UTAH, SEPT. 10, 1894.

Political.

On Saturday afternoon the Weber county democratic convention was held. Speeches were made by Territorial Chairman McMillan and also by Chairman David Evans. After the election of delegates to the Salt Lake convention, Judge McIntosh offered the following resolution:

That the delegates from the Weber county in the Territorial convention be instructed to cast a unanimous vote for Hon. Joseph L. Rawlins as a candidate for Delegate to Congress and be loyal to the interest of Democracy upon his accepting the nomination and making the race.

The convention was in favor of Mr. Rawlins for delegate, but there was considerable opposition to the resolution. The motion was carried, however, 53 voting aye and 22 nay. Upon motion of Judge McMillan the adoption was made unanimous.

Notes.

A warrant was sworn out by Joseph Barton, charging James O. Smyth with assault, he having struck Barton a vicious blow just below the eye.

Phil Ford was before Commissioner Terrio charged with petit larceny by P. M. Wessing, special agent of the U. P. R. R. The charge was that Ford had taken some lumber used in road cars, which he admitted but that A. Y. Rose had given him permission. Mr. Rose corroborated the statement. Ford was discharged.

LOGAN.

LOGAN, UTAH, Sept. 10, 1894.

ASSAULTED BY A MADMAN.

Severe Experience and Narrow Escape of a Cache Valley Matron.

On Thursday afternoon last, a man entered the residence of Andrew Allen at Coveville, and asked the lady of the house for some supper, which she prepared him. As she entered the room with it, the man arose and struck on the head with a stick of wood, stunning her. He then left the house and went through the fields toward Franklin. The lady's daughter, a girl about seventeen years of age, entered the room immediately afterwards and took the necessary steps to revive her. An alarm was raised and word sent to Franklin to arrest the man if seen there. The alarm was taken, and on Friday morning he was taken to the Utah line by Deputy Sheriff Rose, of Oneida county, Idaho, and turned over to Constable Cunningham, of Coveville, who brought him to Logan. The man's actions clearly prove his insane. When questioned as to his motive in striking an unoffending woman who was doing him a kindness, he said his friend was to jail her, marry the girl and assume possession of the property. When he reached Logan he was recognized by one of the jurors in attendance at the district court as Ned Joseph, who was sent to the asylum from Brigham City over a year ago. He enjoyed his mental vagaries, and was injury received throughout attempt to commit suicide, when he shot himself through the body. He had so far recovered after a few months' treatment that his brother had agreed to care for him, and he has been living with his brother until one day recently, when he acted wild. He will probably be returned to the asylum. Mrs. Allen is rapidly recovering from the effects of the blows and the shock and nervous depression.

Court Rulers.

In the district court to-day three criminal cases have been called. On Wednesday James Keach, of Lewiston, Ben Ow, charged with adultery, and were released on bonds. On Thursday the bonds of Z. Scott Collins, charged with adultery, were declared sufficient, but no cause court later and no decision satisfactory explanation the case was terminated. The case of James Black vs the Farmer's Union Home mills was called on Friday morning, and is not yet concluded.

A Big Electric Plant.

The electric power site near the mouth of Logan canyon has already been described in the News. The name of the company owning it is the Riverside Electric Power company, and the power is capable of generating 1,000 horse power. On account of lack of capital the work has not been pushed very rapidly, but now this is to be changed. Contracts have been signed by the local company and the Missouri Electric company of St. Louis, whereby the Missouri company has subscribed for $50,000 of the stock in the local company, the money to be expended in building the canyon, Hyrum, Wellsville, Smithfield and intermediate towns, and also to connect them all by an electric railway. Actions or the franchises are secured, which will be within two or three weeks, work will be commenced and prosecuted vigorously. Logan will have a line from the depot to the A. C. of U.

Run Over and Killed.

A three-year-old daughter of John Neal, of Clifton, either fell or was thrown out of her mother's jaik of a wagon loaded with grain. One of the wheels ran over her head, fracturing the skull so badly that the brains protruded. She lived but a few moments.

City Lads Reverted.

The city and county authorities are considering the propriety of modifying the contracts made with purchasers of lots in the City Park and College View additions, for the benefit of the buyers, the majority of whom have forfeited the partial payments already made, according to their contracts. It is proposed to apply the partial payments to the full payment of a portion of the lands, the remainder of the lots to revert to the city. This involves a number of Salt Lake parties, who purchased a large proportion of the lots in question.
