AMENDE HONORABLE

A Horrible Story Related of Things at Rio.

J. H. ECKLES ON THE SITUATION.

The Anarchists of Chicago Held a Meeting, and Advise Arbitration of Labor Troubles.

WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 12.—Secretary Gresham gave out the following tonight: When authentic information was received of the firing upon the American mail steamer Costa Rica at Amapala on the 5th inst., because of the refusal of the captain to deliver up Bonilla, a passenger, Young, minister to Honduras, under instructions from Gresham, by direction of the President, protested against the act and demanded an apology. The government of Honduras promptly disavowed the conduct of its officers and expressed sincere regret at the occurrence. The apology of Honduras was expressed satisfactorily to the United States.

YELLOW FEVER PATIENTS.

Two Americans Said to Have Been Buried Alive.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—An American, who recently returned from Brazil after a long residence, was visited by an Associated Press representative. The gentleman insisted that his name should not be used, as his large business interests in Brazil might suffer.

"It seems to me," said he, "that it is an outrage to enlist men at this time of the year to go to Brazil. Yellow fever a month hence will be raging furiously in all sections where fighting takes place. I predict 90 per cent of the men going on the Brazilian fleet will never return alive, even if they escape the bullets and torpedoes of the insurgent fleet.

"Besides the heat, which is intense from November to March, the scenes daily in those cities are sickening. The funerals of the victims of yellow fever, smallpox and [illegible] (a species of African leprosy) are seen in every street.

"The Brazilian authorities take especial pleasure in exercising brutality upon Americans, for the reason of the lack of co-operation among the American colonists at Rio, whereas the English, French, German and other European colonies are a unit. I have personal knowledge of the fact that two Americans, employes of a firm of American manufacturers sent to Brazil, met death through the unscrupulous and inhuman neglect of the sanitation authorities. They were taken ill, packed off to a foul hospital as yellow fever patients, the cases pronounced hopeless and they thrust, against all entreaty, into coffins and buried before life became extinct. These are two instances out of an almost daily list of similar occurrences. The attendant's at the hospitals are so lazy and thoughtless and so accustomed to the scenes that they become hardened and thrust a human being alive into a coffin thinking it is no difference if the patients end is hastened a little. Thousands of lives might have been saved at Rio de Janeiro alone had any kind of decent health regulations been observed.

"Everybody in the army and navy and civil service of Brazil is actuated by the pettiest kind of jealousies and selfishness. There is the cause of the whole present trouble, and it really does not matter much to the Brazilian government which side wins in the present struggle. Peixoto is undoubtedly an autocratic tyrant, who is not competent to act as the executive of a territorial village in any other country than Brazil. He was placed in power merely on account of being a leading general in an army that had never seen service. His spokesman was Barbosa, a man whose patriotism consists of looking after the spoils of office. He was one of the leaders in the bloodless insurrection which resulted in the deposition and exile of Dom Pedro. He then became secretary of the treasury under the present reckless and corrupt administration of De Fonseca. Barbosa is gathering around him a lot of adventurers, who have carried on a series of wild financial operations. If Mello succeeds this man will undoubtedly come to the front again. If Peixoto retains power his inner circle of friends will continue to keep the commerce of Brazil disturbed for a good many years to come.

"It has simply been a fight between the army and navy. Barbosa and his crowd of politicians were with the army as long as that side opened the way to new money, and grabbed everything in sight. Now that that game is at an end they have gone over to the navy.

"Salaries in Brazil average very much lower than in the United States, while living costs four times living in New York, which is the most expensive place in the United States. I hope the good men who are going on this expedition will become informed what is ahead of them and fully realize the terrible risks they take before engaging in the thankless task."

RECOVERING SLOWLY.

$50,000 Withdrawn from National Banks Alone.

BOSTON, Nov. 12.—James H. Eckels, comptroller of the currency, came to Boston today to address the bankers of Boston tomorrow evening. To a reporter of the Associated Press he said this evening, concerning the late financial depression and the consequences: "I measure my position when I mention the fact that there are usually from eight to ten failures of national banks a year. When I assumed my position they began, one after another, until in four months there were 155. I am glad to say that of this number ninety have resumed business and the others undoubtedly will. A majority of those that will not ought never to have been organized. The withdrawal of money deposited went steadily on. In six months over $350,000,000 was withdrawn from national banks alone.

"The repeal of the Sherman act had much to do with alleviating the situation. There was a change for the better when the bill passed the House. Look at the figures: July, 72 failures; August 32. After the 28th of August there was only 2. The country is now in the condition of a man who has been sick. He is recovering, but slowly. I look for an advancement about the 1st of January."

CHICAGO ANARCHISTS.

Memorial Services in Memory of the Executed Ones.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Services in commemoration of the anniversary of the death of the five anarchists, August Spies, Albert Parsons, Louis Lingg, Adolph Fischer and George Engel, were held today at the monument erected to their memory in Waldheim cemetery, where some 1500 persons gathered. The occasion was made notable by the fact that Samuel Fielden, Michael Schwab and Oscar Neebe, comrades of the executed anarchists, who were sentenced to Joliet, but pardoned by Governor Altgeld, were present, Fielden and Schwab being the orators of the day. When the men were pardoned it was said that a condition of their release was that they should make no more anarchistic speeches, but they made them today nevertheless.

The ceremonies at the cemetery were preceded by a procession through the down-town streets. The ceremonies at the cemetery began by a rendition of Annie Laurie, Parsons's favorite song. Schwab delivered an address, part of which was an account of the last night in jail prior to the execution of the anarchists. He said: "It was the most wretched night of my life. The clicking of telegraph instruments conveying every act of the martyrs throughout the world were alternated with the monotonous hammerings of the scaffold and the awful thumps when the ropes were tested. At last day dawned. The servants of the law, with distressed faces, were running back and forth, smelling of the schnapps which they had taken in order to be inspired with courage for the murder in the execution of which they were the instruments. At 11 o'clock Sheriff Matson appeared. Spies, Parsons, Fischer and Engel were handcuffed and the death cap thrown over them. As they stood before the rack they called to us a last farewell and the march to the gallows began."

The speaker then reviewed the causes which led up to the Haymarket massacre. He said: "The preparations of the capitalistic class caused our leaders to advise us to arm and defend ourselves. This advice was perhaps foolish and imprudent. It cannot be called wise, under the circumstances, for in the sphere of physical power the capitalist is far superior to the workingman."

In relation to the pardon by Governor Altgeld, the speaker said: "The action of Governor Altgeld brings to us a hope that there are yet men of stern honesty of purpose who have the courage to stand up for truth, and that there is a bright future before us, in which truth and right shall prevail."

He concluded by earnestly appealing to the audience to submit all questions of difference between capital and labor to arbitration.

Fielden next spoke and said: "Today we stand in the face of a society based, not on equal rights, but on the rights of privilege, and the only thing that gives us courage is that here and there a man rises up, like Governor Altgeld, who has the courage of his convictions."

After singing the assemblage dispersed.

Bombardment Renewed.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—The Herald's Montevideo dispatch says: Word has just been received from Rio that all the banks were closed today and the bombardment renewed. There was some heavy fighting between the rebel forces and the royal troops at Nictheroy. The fire from the fort finally sank the rebel torpedo boat, though not before the insurgents' gun had inflicted considerable damage on Nictheroy.

Castillo and the Cuban Rebellion.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Leaders of the Cuban revolutionary party in this city say they have private advices which state the rebellion against the government is already well under way. The movement is thought to be premature, but enthusiastic Cubans predict success. The leader of the revolutionary party in America and the most trusted adviser in Cuba, Jose Marti, editor of La Patria, says the revolutionary movement is worthy of consideration. The government kept close watch on all communications from the island, thus revealing the gravity of the state of affairs. The Cubans in the United States are anxious to help their country establish a lasting republic. General Castillo, leader of the rebellion, is said to have succeeded in creating a general uprising in the province of Villas. It is not believed that the difficulty has yet extended beyond the central portions of the island.

Bloodshed Inevitable.

CHICAGO, Nov. 11.—Lorin A. Thurston, Hawaiian minister to the United States, is in Chicago, and today said in relation to the Hawaiian matter: "I do not hesitate to reiterate that the American troops took no part in the revolutionary movement in Hawaii. The revolution was initiated by the queen and forced upon the people of Hawaii who, in self-defense, took action, terminating the condition of affairs menacing to life and property. The provisional government today is the only government of Hawaii and is regarded as such at home and abroad, and any attempt to forcibly overturn it by a foreign power is in the nature of a declaration of war against a friendly government, which I understand requires the consent of Congress. There will be no safety for the supporters of the provisional government if the queen is restored, and if the attempt is made I believe bloodshed will be inevitable. In such a case American and American property and American interests in Hawaii will be most hurt."

Congressman O'Neill's Dispatch.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 12.—Whatever recourse the administration may have determined upon looking to the restoration of Queen Liliuokalani, it is very evident that Secretary Gresham does not expect that extreme measures will have to be resorted to. The course proposed to be pursued seems to be to request the present government, in the name of the United States, to give way quietly to the restoration of the queen. The Hawaiians in this city are very firm in the conviction that the government will refuse to yield to any such gentle persuasion. They assert an earnest belief that it will require at least a show of force to induce them to resign the reins of authority.

Congressman O'Neill of Massachusetts has laid before Secretary Gresham an appeal from a Boston house having large interests in the islands, which shows that all those acquainted with the conditions are not so hopeful as to the outcome of the effort to restore the queen. The dispatch reads as follows: BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 11.—Please call on the proper officials and request, in behalf of great commercial interests, property in Honolulu and throughout the kingdom, that instructions be sent the minister to protect the same. We believe there is great danger of bloodshed and destruction of property. We have telegraphed Senator Hoar these facts. CHARLES BREWER & Co.

AMERICANS IN PRISON.

Fed with Food that a Dog would Refuse.

NEW YORK, Nov. 12.—The World this morning prints a letter received from P. C. Ogleby, who is undergoing confinement in the Royal prison at Havana. The charge against him is "assaulting the military police."

Proceeding, Ogleby says: "There are the simple facts in the case. On the evening of October 24th, I was assaulted by two soldiers, who bound my arms behind my back, ransacked my pockets, dragged me before an officer and preferred a charge against me of assaulting them. Meanwhile, I am confined in ward 24, with the rabble, and for a bed have soft granite. Twice daily the prisoners are fed with food a dog would decline with disdain. There is the amount of variety and filth to be expected under the circumstances. Now confined in the same ward with myself is a young American, Harry Howard, a native of Boston. He has been waiting trial five months, with no prospect of getting one. The charge against him is [illegible] He defended himself when attacked by four soldiers. I am a native of Georgia, 29 years of age, well known at Nashville, Birmingham and other cities south as a printer, editor and newspaper man."

The Russian Refugees.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 12.—The ten Russian refugees picked up by American whalers in the Okhotsk sea after escape from a Siberian penal colony, have been taken into custody by the police on request of the immigration commissioner, and will be held pending an investigation at Washington. The escaped convicts, who at first admitted that they were banished for serious crimes, several committing murders, now insist that they are political exiles, guilty only of offenses against the Russian government.

"ESCAPE FOR THY LIFE."

This was the Minister's Text while the Church Burned.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—During the services tonight in the Indiana avenue Baptist church a fire broke out and a panic was narrowly averted. The Rev. Harbour was preaching on the text from Genesis "Escape for thy life," when he was warned that the church was on fire and he requested the congregation to leave as rapidly as possible. Although the exodus was hurried no one was injured. Damage $1500.

NEWS BROUGHT BY CABLE.

Three Anarchists Arrested at Barcelona Yesterday.

The "Times" Says Cleveland Refused the Bait.—Mrs. Roosevelt Dead.—Another Bomb.

MADRID, Nov. 12.—The authorities having been informed that the anarchists of the city were threatening to blow up the Bourse, all strangers will henceforth be excluded from that building unless identified.

Three anarchists were arrested today at Barcelona. One of the anarchists arrested was the keeper of a tavern where anarchists have been meeting. It is reported that a clue has been found to the location of the head centre of the anarchists' conspiracy, which, it is said, exists all over Europe, with branches in the United States. It is reported that there is connection between the anarchists of Europe and Chicago. In the future no reports of trial of anarchists will be allowed to be published.

Anarchists at Trafalgar Square.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—A meeting of English and foreign anarchists was held today at Trafalgar Square. Twelve hundred "Reds" assembled to honor the memory of the Chicago "martyrs." The base of the Nelson column at the center of the main portion of Trafalgar Square was surrounded by anarchists, bearing red and black banners. There was a large number of police and detectives among the crowd, listening to the speeches and taking notes of sensational remarks. The speakers were less violent than usual.

A Bomb in Lisbon.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Lisbon correspondent of the Times says the police arrested three anarchists who were distributing a manifesto, calling a meeting at the theater on the anniversary of the execution of the anarchists at Chicago. About the same time a bomb exploded on one of the principal streets of Lisbon. No damage was done and no one was [illegible].

Against the Anarchists.

PARIS, Nov. 12.—M. Anterite says Spain has proposed the appointment of an international commission to draft a common code of measures against the anarchists.

Surprised at Our Action.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Daily News editorially says: The American government and people acted in the Hawaiian matter with astonishing self-control. Hawaii was theirs if they cared to stretch their hands for it. They wanted Hawaii, and were aware that other powers had coveted it, yet President Cleveland refused to take it, such is the strength of national tradition against the policy of annexation. President Harrison thought he might annex it, and did his best to pledge his successor to do so, but President Cleveland refused the bait. The deposed queen has not protested in vain.

Mrs. Roosevelt Dead.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—Mrs. Roosevelt, wife of the secretary of the American embassy, died at Ascot this afternoon.

Mrs. Roosevelt has been ill for some time, and it was said she had taken an overdose of laudanum to alleviate her pains. It is supposed that, owing to her weakened condition, the drug proved fatal.

Mrs. Roosevelt was a prominent New York society woman, and before her marriage was Miss Helen Astor, one of William Astor's daughters. Her sister is Mrs. J. Coleman Drayton.
