ANOTHER UTAH VOLUNTEER DEAD.

Alexander A. Sibley of Salt Lake Dies from Fever in Far Away Cuba.

Two words, "Returned Dead," appeared upon an envelope which was received yesterday by the family of Alex H. Sibley of this city one of the men who joined Harvey Hoode's rankers and went to Cuba.

The war the Sun intimates they had that he was dead and had gone to another world. Such it could be vaguely felt. But the last hope was crushed. George L. Sears, who was a member of Hoody's rankers, verified the story on the envelope and said that Mr. Sibley's death took place at Rio Blanco, Cuba, on November 26th. The letter which was received bore the date of November 29th. Mr. Sears says these only he remembers and that Sibley's body now lies in a lonely grave in the Cuba. The family of the deceased is a son of Mr. Sibley's, who is now in Cuba, at Rosario, Cuba, where the news was broken to them yesterday by Mr. Sears.

SERVICES AT THE TABERNACLE

Returned Elders Report Their Labors in the Mission Field.

The Work Progressing at Home and in Great Britain—Remarks by President Lorenzo Snow.

Elder President Angus M. Cannon presided over the services at the Tabernacle Sunday afternoon, Dec. 18, 1898.

The choir sang the hymn:

Guide us O thou great Jehovah,
Pilgrims through this barren land;
We are weak and need Thy strength and power,
To bring us safely home at last.

Prayer was offered by Elder George Goddard.

The choir further sang:

Lead Thou me lest my feet stumble,
I am weak and need Thy strength.

Elder Edward Stagg, a returned missionary from the Northern States, was introduced to the congregation as the first speaker. He said he felt the great responsibility resting upon him in the presence of the Lord and the Saints, and asked for the prayers of the Saints that he might be enabled to do his duty. He was glad to be home again in the mountains of Utah. The Lord had preserved the work in what nations and although he was absent, there was nearly one hundred missionaries in the South and the cause of Zion was progressing. He was glad to be in the presence of the Saints and found many old friends and acquaintances. He was glad to be in the presence of the Lord and found many old friends and acquaintances. He was glad to be in the presence of the Lord and found many old friends and acquaintances. He was glad to be in the presence of the Lord
