goddige to a Mr. and Mrs. Hanson, of Central street. She was at that time in company with Harmon and the parting took place in front of the study. It appears that the girl was engaged to be married to the pastor and said something to Mrs. Harmon when going in there to the following Sunday to do some sewing. In her own words "I had to go on Tuesday morning, sure." When Tuesday morning came, instead of Mrs. Clawson presiding behind at the residence of the pastor, Mr. Harmon was there instead. He had heard the girl's promise and wanted to explain why she didn't come, therefore he met her in person.

WHY HE DID NOT COME.

Mr. Harmon said he had a secret to tell the Hansons—something that must be kept absolutely inviolate at his home departed upon it. Then under the strictest injunction he was asked to say that she the pastor M. the day day go on Sunday night perhaps they intended his home together and visiting over various matters. Finally, he said his ministerial duty was momentary he should go at a proper to the out of Mrs Clawson to go to their but tell who has that night. He asserted that he became indignant and intimate Mrs Clawson that her conduct was most disrespectful and that one of these nor left the place at once. Mrs Clawson, he says, broke down and sobbed bitterly and said that she would go, whereupon he informed her that he did not want to be unduly harsh or cruel to her and that she need not go that night. But he further declares that the girl standing under her cloak, put on her wraps and left and that after that he saw her no more.

HOW THINGS AT THE HOME.

Of course the pastor's story was believed and the young girl was severely scolded for her alleged misdemeanor. A strange coincidence is that her trunk remained at the preacher's study for several weeks. Then it, mysteriously, Harmon said an unknown experienced called for it with a note from Mrs Clawson and that he gave it to him without asking any questions at all. When seen by the friends in the girl to produce the note he said he had misplaced or destroyed it. Mrs Clawson had a value of the house a friend, Herman got the sheriff and the trunk was taken away and had it conveyed to his room, but no one seems to know what eventually became of it.

HERMAN'S DEPARTURE.

Herman left here for Montana in February last. He went to Butte, Helena and Conkdolin, Minnesota, in the order given. A month ago he was summoned back to Salt Lake by inscrutable circumstances. The demand for his return was made by telegram. The man was a very urgent one and related to financial matters. He was short in his accounts but settled up as far as he was able and was allowed to leave the city.

SAID HE SAW HER CLAWED IN HELENA.

In a recent letter to a Salt Lake friend he says that he accidentally met Mrs Clawson in Helena while in that city. He described the incident in this way: While walking along the street he had his attention directed in front of him by a young woman gaily clad in the latest of fine fashioned garments. She turned her face somewhat and to his astonishment he discovered that this person was none other than that of Miss Clawson. He says she gave her head a haughty toss and went on. He hastened his pace and endeavored to overtake her but failed. She disappeared by going into one of the most handsome buildings on the street. That night he passed a variety theater and had the curiosity to go inside and there, again, he was astonished by seeing Miss Clawson in paint and powder and adorned above breathing a guitar and emoting to the music she was made. He waited until the performance was over and then presented himself at the back door where he was inhospitably received. There he passed another glimpse of Miss Clawson, on an again seeing him she disappeared behind some of the scenery and slipped out of a side door, where he gave up further efforts to see her.

WAS HER LOST JEWELRY?

Immediately after the disappearance of Miss Clawson from this city another story was rife to the effect that a big fire had in the basement of the church furnace. It was very blazing all day. Persons passing in the neighborhood remember it also distinctly as a very smoky one. It was ascertained that no effort was made to put the fire out before night and next morning, it was found that the furnace had burned well, together with the wood, savage, furnace and some other rubbish. Upon the blackened debris, a locket and chain and a pair of a woman's garter. The Rev. Mr. Mills, with another member of the church made the ghastly find and immediately it occurred to them that Mrs Willie Dowdle, who had worn in the place and had the same, lost and which cannot be accounted for in the police station where they now are in stated.

New East Tintic Railway.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state last evening by the New East Tintic Railway company with a capital stock of $50,000. The incorporators are James A. Anderson, Jr., Frank H. Cowan, Hyrum E. Young and William H. Dewey.

The proposed projects to construct, operate, maintain and operate a line of railroad from a connection with the Denver, Rio Grande and Western, Salt Lake and Utah Northern Railway company and the Rio Grande Western Railway company at Mammoth Siding in Tintic Mining District, Juab county, and running thence in a general westerly course to Mammoth Siding, by way of the Mammoth and Eureka with the Mammoth mine and the Alice mine to the Dixie mine, and on the line of said Mammoth Siding, in the same county, the capital stock is twelve hundred and fifty thousand dollars, divided into twelve hundred and fifty shares of the par value of one thousand dollars each. The principal place of business is Salt Lake City, Utah.

Petit Jurors.

Upon being arraigned in the police court today, M. A. Fairchild, F. J. Cates, A. Fairchild and W. H. McCarron pleaded guilty to begging. Sentence was suspended in the cases of the Fairchilds, but the other two were sent to Detroit as Justice Wenger fines each $10.

W. M. Martin stood up to a charge of petit larceny, in the theft of a quantity of coal, to which he pleaded guilty. There was extenuating circumstances in the matter which, we believe, will not cut him into the penitentiary and it deserved his remarks.

Tom Kind, the man whose shadow ultimate receives the pulpit of Sunday jail, pleaded guilty to petit wrongdoing—drunkenness—and was allowed twenty days' lodging with Kimball's hostess. John Green, with a similar setting, allowed a five dollar deposit to be declared forfeited.

Sam Perry admitted his guilt to two charges—loitering with intent to commit crime, and having chisels in his possession. The former cost him $5 and the latter $10.

Five Japanese, note similarly charged, but by interpreter, were allowed to go on their way rejoicing, the city jail being inadequate to give them the necessary accommodations.

THE PACIFIC ISLANDS.

Reunion of Missionaries Who Have Labored There.

The following invitation is being sent to returned Elders from the Polynesian Islands and also to the families of Elders now laboring there. The committee also requests all Saints who have gathered from any of the Pacific Islands to send in their names, and cards of invitation will be sent to them. It is anticipated that robust rates will be secured on the street cars and an enjoyable day is promised to all participants.

"All our returned Elders from New Zealand, Australia, Tonga, Friendly Islands, Samoa or Sandwich Islands do not receive invitation cards the committee will excuse it a little if they will report themselves to the secretary.
