KILLED OUT-AND-OUT

Railway Legislation Given a Permanent Quietus in the House.

MR. CRITCHLOW'S BILL IS BURIED

After a Storm of Denunciation By Nearly All Members—Session After Renegade Indians.

If there had previously been any idea that some sort of railway legislation would be passed by this legislature, that thought received an unmistakable burial in the House this morning in laying away, without regrets, of Mr. Critchlow's bill regulating railways. The ceremony was conducted with Messrs. Critchlow and Morrison as chief mourners and gave rise to little speeches under the calm surface of which there was sometimes a flame which was ready to show itself on the slightest added provocation.

CLAIMS.

Mr. Egan presented House claim 48, from Davis county, in the sum of $165.95 for one-half of cost of [illegible] maps and plats for the county assessor during the years 1894 and '95.

House claim 49 was presented by Mr. Thorne, by request, and came from the Provo Lumber Manufacturing & Building company in the sum of $1,221.10 for additions to the asylum building authorized by the Legislature of 1895.

Both claims were referred to the State board of examiners.

COMMITTEE REPORTS.

The judiciary committee recommended that Senate bill 111, to protect newspaper reporters and journalists in obtaining news, be not passed. Adopted.

The same committee reported favorably on Senate bill 109, authorizing the storage and sale of unclaimed freight, recommending the passage of the bill with amendments. Adopted.

The judiciary committee also recommended concurrence in amendments to Senate bill 71 relating to levy and sale on execution. Adopted.

The passage, with amendments, of Senate bill 104, amending the laws of Utah relating to the appointment of administrators, was recommended by the judiciary committee. Adopted.

The highways and bridges committee recommended the rejection of House bill 75, amending the laws of 1888 on highways. Adopted.

The same committee reported adversely on House bill 132, appropriating $1,000 for repairing the bridges over the Duchesne river. Adopted.

An adverse report came from the same committee on House bill 140, amending the laws of 1888 in relation to the law of the road. Adopted.

The committee on horticulture reported a House bill 104, creating a State board of horticulture, and House bill 110, authorizing county courts to appoint fruit tree inspectors. The committee offered a substitute for the two bills and recommended the rejection of the original bills. Consideration was postponed until the substitute is printed.

The appropriations committee recommended the passage of House bill 113, providing for a farmers' institute. Adopted.

The committee on public health recommended the passage of House bill 141, to prevent the adulteration of candy. Adopted.

The municipal corporations committee recommended the passage of Senate bill 117, amending laws of 1888 relating to the incorporation of cities.

THE GOVERNOR APPROVES.

A communication from the Senate announced executive approval of Senate bills 15, 28, 34 and 75 and of Senate joint memorial 3.

A communication from the secretary of State announced that the Governor had signed House bill 24, regulating the manufacture and sale of dairy products.

RENEGADE INDIANS.

Mr. Stevens presented the following memorial to the Congress of the United States, which was referred to the committee on federal relations:

"Be it resolved and enacted by the Legislature of the State of Utah.

"That your memorialists, the Governor and Legislature of the State of Utah, would respectfully represent to your honorable body:

"That there are in San Juan county in the State of Utah, about seventy-five (75) renegade Pah-Ute Indians who belong to no reservation and have claimed said county as their home for many years.

"These Indians are in destitute circumstances, living by hunting and begging. They are a great menace to the inhabitants of the county and during the winter the settlers have to either feed them or let them starve.

"We respectfully represent that these Indians are proper charges of the government and should be placed upon some reservation and compelled to remain there.

"We would suggest the Southern Ute reservation in Colorado as a fitting place, as these Indians are closely allied to, friendly, and intermarried with each other.

"And your memorialists will ever pray.

CORPORATIONS BILL PASSED.

Senate bill 17, amending the laws relating to private corporations, was placed upon final passage and passed unanimously.

RAILWAY BILL DEFEATED.

Nearly every member of the House had a say on House bill 131, Mr. Critchlow's measure authorizing and establishing the office of State transportation agent and regulating the business and charges of railroads and common carriers. The burden of every speech was the inadvisability of railway legislation and indignant replies to a statement by the author of the bill that members were opposed to it because certain "prominent men and people high in authority" were at present holding railroads "on paper." Messrs. Critchlow and Morrison conducted the defense of the bill, and with the exception of an occasional moving of the previous question by Mr. Nye, to shut off the flow of oratory, they were alone. The opposition to the measure, however, had numerous adherents, as was shown in little speeches, sometimes quite vehement, by Messrs. Mansfield, Rollins, Cushing, Howard, Thorne, Thompson of Sanpete, Robinson, Clark, Mercer and Andrus. The bill was placed on final passage after every member had been given an opportunity to speak, and the measure was defeated as follows:

Ayes—Andrus, Beard, [illegible], Birchwood, Cannon, Curtis, Cushing, Coker, Clark, Egan, Ferguson of Salt Lake, [illegible], Green, Hepper, Howard, Lewis, Lowery, Morrill, Monson, Naegele, [illegible], Mansfield, Nebeker of Salt Lake, Rollins, Robinson, Stevens, [illegible], Shurtz, Seavy, Snarr, Thorne, Thompson of Sanpete, Thompson of Millard, Mr. Speaker—34.

Nays—Critchlow, Ferguson of Uintah, Lowe, Morris, Nye, Taylor—6.

Absent—Lemmon, Nebeker of Rich, Stevenson, Wilson—4.

At the opening of this afternoon's sitting Mr. Cushing moved the appointment of a committee of five on arrangements for the Provo trip. The Speaker will name the committee later in the afternoon.

The State auditor sent in a claim from Iron county in the sum of $74.42 and a claim from Uintah county for $31.25, both in payment of expenses connected with the assessor's office. The claims were referred to the board of examiners.

SALARIES FIXED.

Mr. Nye, by consent, introduced a resolution fixing the salaries of officers and employes of both houses as follows, per day each: Member, $4; Chief Clerks, $6; Minute Clerks, $5; Bill Clerks, $4; Engrossing Clerks, $4.00; Committee Clerks, $4.00; sergeant-at-arms, $5; Messengers, $3.00; Page, $2.50; Janitor, $2.50; Watchman, $3.00; Doorkeeper, $3.00; Chaplain, $3.00.

On motion of Mr. Rollins, a matter made this morning, by which consideration of the county government bill was postponed until Monday, was reconsidered and the bill taken up on third reading, which was in progress at press time.

An effort was made to amend the bill so as to make the State pay the costs of criminal prosecutions in district courts, thus placing the major portion of the burden on the more populous counties. Mr. Mansfield fired the first gun in the contest and Speaker Denny called Mr. Ferguson of Salt Lake to the chair in order to enlist himself on the side of outside counties. He claimed that in small counties with a revenue of from $500 to $1,500 the prosecution of a single murder case would bankrupt them.

Mr. Critchlow desired to arrange the law so as to make the counties interested in the matter to a sufficient extent to guarantee economy in these prosecutions. If the counties can't bear 50 per cent of the cost he was willing to make it 25 per cent—anything to cause the counties to be interested.

Mr. Monson thought even 25 per cent was more than the outside counties could bear and nearly all members representing the outlying districts were anxious to have the bill amended.

Speaker Denny held the floor when our report closed.

POLICE COURT.

A Condemned Building Not Yet Torn Down—Bill Nixon at His Old Home.

L. B. Anderson, the expert accountant, appeared before Judge Wenger today to show cause why he should not be punished for contempt in failing to appear in court at the time which was set for hearing the grievance which the building inspector had against him. Inspector Folsom had Mr. Anderson arrested for refusing to tear down a condemned building, of which he was the owner, on west First South street.

The accountant explained to the court that he had appeared in the court room on the last date for which the hearing was set, but that for some reason, unknown to him, no court was held. He had no desire to act contemptuous, but only wanted to know when the hearing would be set for, and wanted his honor that he would be present.

The case was set for Saturday, April 4th, at 10 a. m., Mr. Anderson being given to understand that if the building in question was razed to the ground between now and that time, no hearing would be necessary.

Bill Nixon, the inebriate, got twenty-five days for a repetition of that act which has many times landed him in the city jail.

N. G. U. Meeting.

The lecture before the meeting of officers of the National Guard of Utah tomorrow morning at 11 a.m. will be by Lieut. Burr, 16th U. S. Infantry. Prof. J. F. Menlin will also favor the meeting with a patriotic recitation.

The Republican Call.

The following is issued by order of the executive committee of the Republican State Central committee, George M. Cannon, chairman; Lillie R. Pardee, secretary:

In accordance with the call of the Republican National committee, a Republican State convention is hereby called to convene in Salt Lake City, Tuesday, April 7, 1896, at 10 a.m., for the purpose of choosing six delegates to the Republican National convention to be held in the city of St. Louis, state of Missouri on Tuesday, the 16th day of June, 1896, at 12 o'clock noon.

Each county is entitled to representation in said convention on the basis of one delegate for every 50 votes cast for

Delegate to Congress ... at the ... election, 1895, the apportionment among the various counties being as follows:

[illegible]

The chairmen of the respective committees are requested to call county conventions ... for the election of the delegates to which their respective counties are entitled.

Where Is Brownlee Now?

S. H. Brownlee, editor of the Eastern Utah Advocate, at Price, who some time ago was convicted of criminal libel, is wanted, and wanted badly by Tom Lloyd, the sheriff of Carbon county.

At the time of Brownlee's conviction his attorney gave notice of appeal and a thirty days' stay of proceedings was granted him in which to file a bond. At the expiration of the thirty days, he had made no attempt to file the bond, but instead has asked the State attorney general for an additional thirty days, which was granted.

This action was looked upon by Judge Johnson, who tried the case, as one which the attorney general had no right to make and he accordingly issued an order of commitment for Brownlee and placed it in Sheriff Lloyd's hands.

The sheriff, having heard that Brownlee was in this city, came here yesterday with the understanding that the much-wanted man would meet him at the depot—but he didn't, and the question which now puzzles the sheriff is "Where is he?"

A report was current today that Chief Pratt's men were looking for Brownlee, but a talk with the chief of police, elicited the information that such was not the case.

NEWS OF THE STATE.

Davis County Clipper: A letter dated Woodruff, Utah, March 13th, 1896, was received here the first of the week which contained the following: ... Cyril Call's oldest boy came out here from the sand ridge, arriving ... He had gone out ... and tried to kill himself last night by cutting his throat with a pocket knife. He was not dead when brought..." We understand the young man has been sick a long time and had a great deal of trouble of a domestic nature.

Mount Pleasant Pyramid: Measles and whooping cough combined have become a fatal epidemic in Fairview, a number of children having died. One of the Terry families have lost four.

Fillmore Progress: A little boy who says his name is Joseph Hallard, 12 years old, has been stopping at the home of George A. Penney, Kanosh, for the past ten days. He claims he is from Salt Lake and on his way to Parowan to see his grandmother. It is thought however, that he has run away from home at Salt Lake, as he has told different stories concerning himself. Anyone wishing information concerning him can receive same by writing to George Penney, Kanosh.

St. George Stake Conference.

The proceedings of this conference extended over a period of three days, Saturday, Sunday and Monday, the 14th, 15th and 16th of March.

On the first day the Stake gathering of the Relief societies convened in St. George Lyceum; as the former Stake president had died, it became necessary to organize the Stake presidency. Sister Ann Cannon Woodbury was unanimously elected Stake president, vice Sister Anna L. Ivins, deceased. Sister Emma F. Morris was unanimously elected first counselor and Sister Mary A. L. Judd was unanimously elected second counselor in the Stake presidency of the Relief societies of St. George Stake. Sister Melinda Cohorn Milne, counselor to the former Stake president, earnestly asked to be released from acting longer in this Stake capacity and her sisters reluctantly yielded to her request. The whole organization approves the faithful devotion of this retiring officer and manifested this feeling in the Stake conference on Sunday.

The Priesthood meeting of the Stake also convened on Saturday, the 14th, and, under presidency of Daniel D. McArthur, transacted such business as the Stake presidency and the Bishops submitted for consideration.

The Sunday (15th) morning, afternoon and evening sessions of the regular conference were characterized by replete instructions, earnest testimony and fervent exhortation. This also continued at the morning meeting of Monday, 16th. The afternoon meeting of Monday was devoted to the giving of information to the people relative to plans and prospects for placing southern Utah in railway communication with the north and southwest. Thus at this conference we have had spiritual and temporal pabulum, and this was handed out by the dispensers with that direct earnestness which ... united endeavor and good results.

The general authorities of the Church and the Stake authorities were heartily sustained, and without one dissenting vote. The only ... we had to aid in ... the great work was our ... fellow citizen Edwin D. Woolley, president of Kanab Stake. The Spirit of the Lord was manifest on speakers and hearers.

JAMES G. BLEAK,
Stake Clerk.

LITERARY NOTES.

The April McClure's will publish what is about the first really authoritative and direct account yet given of Professor Röntgen and his discovery of the cathode rays. Immediately on the announcement of his discovery, the editor of the magazine cabled Mr. H. J. W. Dam of London, to hasten to Würzburg, and talk with Professor Röntgen in his laboratory, and learn all there was to be learned of the new marvel in photography. The paper will be illustrated with a portrait of Professor Röntgen and numerous photographs by the new process. A supplementary article by Cleveland Moffett will tell what has been done in America with the cathode rays.

The April number of the Forum will have for its leader a noteworthy paper by Senator Sherman entitled "Deficiency of Revenue the cause of our Financial Ills." The senator maintains that the President and Secretary Carlisle mistake the cause of our present financial condition in attributing it to the demand for gold for United States notes, and he thinks that the facts which he submits in his paper will convince every one that the true financial policy is to supply the government with ample means to meet its current expenditures and to pay off each year a portion of the public debt. He criticises the Wilson law very severely, declares that it has produced a deficiency every month since its enactment, and attributes our financial ills—especially the continued export of gold—solely to its workings.
