DESERET EVENING NEWS.

LITTLE, . . . January 5, 1894.

FRAGMENTS.

Pleasantries floating connection to the 5.

The board of education was locked for a special session at 4 o'clock this afternoon at which time the new standing committees will be appointed.

The remains of "Bill" Dawes were forwarded out last night for interment. They died on Saturday, some time the previous week.

The regular monthly meeting of the Utah Mathematical society has been postponed until Friday evening, January 12th.

Dr. Jerome Harrington, a young chemist from Russia, on his way to the Pacific, is visiting Salt Lake. He will deliver a lecture at the Assembly Temple on Friday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. The lecture are highly recommended. The subject will be "Ether Electricity, the universal force which controls."

Court Jottings.

Judge Zane has received his decision in the injunction suit of the First National Bank of Deadwood, S. D., vs the Greenwich company. His honor grants the injunction pending the final hearing of the case, defendants are restrained from selling, encumbering or mortgaging the company's property in any sum greater than $10,000, upon the identifie filing a bond in the sum of $10,000.

Hamel Dawes and Alfred C. Billing, who were arrested yesterday for voting illegally in the third precinct, have been taken before Commissioner Dall and released on giving $500 bonds each for their appearance on the 15th for preliminary hearing.

There are 10 cases on the calendar of the Territorial Supreme court for the term which opens on Monday next.

Gas Stoves.

Is the letter "g" low the letter "h" so indispensable that it is so difficult to find a pair of names without the former appearing as it is to find a complete sentence in which the letter does not appear? In the stove the value of it to the gas appearance in the material house, isn't great here, or is it really a useful letter? Beginning with our president, I find it as the first letter in the names of eight. The only president of the Confederacy also began his name with the "fifth vowel." As for the last of the vice presidents I find it is three, divided equally between the Christian and the surnames. Among the names of the presidents per use, of the one also occurs at times and among the speakers of the house it thrice. This letter of the alphabet of Cole prominent from first names with "J," and the word is to be proud of his surname. In the realm of journalistic research I find it not wanting. Harding, it seems, had of his staff Gaylord and Fulton, begin also with that first in between.

Besides the above we find it is the initial of nearly all the multitudinous of theosophy—viz, John H. Kinkaid, J. J. Astor, Jay Gould, J. M. Scott, J. S. Morgan, J. H. Hoppin, J. W. Garrett, John Wanamaker, J. G. Fair, John W. Mackay, J. G. Flood, John Arbuckle, J. B. Stetson, John Gallup, Joseph Pulitzer and dozens others.—St. Louis Republic.

John Scott, indicted with Patrick Connor on the charge of arson, but tried separately and found guilty of arson in the first degree, was sentenced to hard labor imprisonment.

When the prisoner was asked if he had anything to say why sentence should not be passed, he expressed himself as not having received a fair trial on account of the prejudice of the jury and the untruthfulness of the witnesses. The witnesses, he further stated, had a grudge against him on account of a bitter dispute which occurred some time years ago. The judge, however, after a brief review of the case, sentenced him as stated.

Scott's attorney moved for a new trial on the ground that the clerk had made a slight error in administering the oath to the jury which tried the case. Overruled. Sixty days were granted to prepare a statement for another motion for a new trial.

An Insulted Gentleman.

The following story is told of Hilliary Brown how differently an Dickinson and a gentleman will take a joke. An Englishman who had been drinking in the liquor joint and in the business: "An extraordinary thing happened to me some time ago. I took a pair of scissors out of my drinking hand at the end of the bar. The next year I was taking four spots and looked and found a very large joke. I felt something very hard behind him, so I opened him, and what do you think it was? "Impudence, your honor, Dr. Brown is right to your witness only for one thing." "What is that?" asked the judge. "Or every joke, your honor, that there never was a joke in any of the Hilliary lake cases the world began."

Afterwards the same Englishman tried the same story on a joke in Brown. When he asked him, "What do you think was inside the joke?" the joke replied: "Your mother and my father and the Duke of Argyle—and he's a far greater man than the king—would not have insulted me so. I'll tell you more anon." And he is waited.—Bowling Green.
