THE FLOODS.

Damage Estimated at a Million Dollars at Least

PITTSBURG, Feb. 18.—This afternoon the Allegheny River reached thirty-five feet seven inches, but since then it has slowly receded. With noon it had fallen one foot. Within noon all down-town streets were closed to heavy teams and all trucks washed away, while quite a number of streets flooded to the sewer door, and thousands of cellars were flooded, and water ran by the front door. The fall below a million dollars. The people living along the river have suffered so much that appeals for aid have been issued. The building inspector says the flooded districts have sustained very little injury in the way of school grounds. Considering the amount of rain fall, the damage has not been so great as at first feared.

The damage to railroads is being rapidly repaired. Reports from all sections of the country show that the damage done and the people are returning to their homes to repair the damages, which in most cases are far greater than expected.

AT JOHNSTOWN

So low is great, the foundations of many houses being undermined. Street car lines are running again and the mills will be open tomorrow. The destruction of bridges was a serious loss and difficult to some of the city will have to communicate by wagon for some time. The leading communities below are heavy losers.

A dispatch from Wheeling, West Virginia, says the river is still rising tonight, but it is reported from above to have begun falling. The damage at Wheeling is great. The whole of Wheeling Island Seventh ward, is flooded, and tonight the wind of its inhabitants are sleeping in another part of the city. In south Wheeling hundreds of workingmen's houses, and several factories are immersed, and in the railroads consider many months are gone. Business is almost entirely suspended. No trains are arriving or departing and the depots are underwater and the railroad yards flooded. The two principal hotels have water in the first floor, and the guests are obliged to go in and out the windows.

Reports from the Ohio river show a glass of pottery districts also show heavy loss. No loss of life, however, is yet reported.

ALLEGED CONSPIRACY.

Jay Gould Searchingly Wants to Wreck the Memphis Company.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—Director Hughes of the Louisville, New Albany & Chicago Railroad Company, made a comment to the Associated Press in regard to the suits for a receiver for the road begun by W. A. Alley of New York. He declares that the general charges in the bill are false, and that the specific charges amount to nothing. He says the minutes of the road show the fact that the present management refused to pay a claim of Alley for commissions for the sale of bonds of the corporation some years ago, on the ground that there was no agreement with him touching the matter.

THE "EVENING POST'S" INFORMATION.

The Evening Post's information said the lease was part of an attempt to defend the company out of so much money. The directors, it was also stated, did not understand anything about the company's business that they did just what the president wanted to do, and that all they knew about the matter was that the stockholders voted to make some extension in Indiana, all of which it was expected would cost much less than $7,000,000.

In a talk with a Post reporter Hughes

REGRETTED THE ABOVE STORY.

He declared that there had not been any such spending of dividends, and additional issue of stock had been announced or even suggested. About a year ago the bonded debt was increased by $2,000,000 to $12,000,000, and the amount of the additional bonds was used in paying indebtedness had been paid off and a saving effected on interest charges. Hughes also declared that no company was to under circumstances financially.

In the affairs in connection with the suit for receiver in Chicago, Alley claims a conspiracy existed between Gould and Henry S. Ives, of Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton lines, to wreck the Memphis company.

Mr. Hughes, when seen today, made the following statement: "I have been informed that such suit is brought and have been repeatedly told since Henry Crawford secured his connection with this company that he was preparing a sensational suit. The charges are fictitious and sensational."

Another officer of the Memphis said: "The cause of this difference, and consequently the fact that Henry Crawford was formerly general solicitor of a railway (the Indiana Midland) which he declined to defend on the ground of an excessive valuation. Had the management consented to take the case, the present suit would never have been brought. Crawford is behind the proceedings."

Henry S. Ives would not talk on the subject.

Arrangements Completed—Arrival of Rev. F. E. Sherman.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—General Weaty, Commander-in-Chief of the Grand Army of the Republic, has issued the following order: "All posts of the Grand Army of the Republic are ordered to meet the funeral train of General Sherman at the intermediate stations en route from New York to St. Louis and escort the remains as they pass by."

Lieutenant Commander Meredith arrived off Fifth Island this evening. The Grand Army, Thomas, will thus be in time for the funeral.

Rev. Thomas Ewing Sherman arrived at the residence from the connecting at an early hour this (Thursday) morning. President Harrison and party arrived in New York early in the evening. Peace, he said, was a necessity for Central America, and there was no reason for war. Barrios's government was satisfactory to Honduras.

The Connecticut Democrats.

HARTFORD, Conn., Feb. 18.—When a communication from Governor Bulkeley was read today from Governor Bulkeley making several appointments, a motion was made by Pitt (Dem.) to reject the communication and it was lost by the person who sent it. It was so ordered.

Various unsuccessful attempts were made by the Republicans to correct the journal yesterday so that it should record the message from Governor Burkeley on the death of Sherman.

A joint resolution, introduced by Senator Shannon, appointing a committee of both houses to attend with the Governor and staff at the funeral of General Sherman was voted down by the Democrats after a long debate. No attention was paid to the communication from General Burkley.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—In the absence of the speaker the House elected Pigeon of Illinois Speaker pro tem.

A motion was offered that the rule of Colombia appropriation bill and on the military academy appropriation bill.

The House then proceeded to further consideration of the Indian appropriation bill. The amendment to carry into effect the allotment agreement with the Creek Nation and other Indian of Indian was agreed to. The bill then passed.

The House then went into committee of the whole on the postoffice appropriation bill.

In the general debate Glover (Mo.) spoke against the shipping bill, and Rice (Ga.) spoke.

Cummings (N. Y.) advocated his motion to strike out the paragraph of the bill of the Java to Hawaii.

O'Ferrell (Va.) argued against the shipping bill. In the course of his remarks he touched upon the silver question and declared that Grover Cleveland was deeper down in the heart of the democracy of the country than any other living man. Whatever his position might be on silver coinage, when the national convention spoke in 1892 he would endorse the principles of the platform, whatever they might be. Without disposing of the bill the committee rose and the House adjourned.

THE BASEBALL FACTIONS.

Some Hot Talk Concerning Thurman who is Deposed.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—Only a few weeks ago the baseball factions were making many over a settlement of all difficulties and a national agreement adopted, providing for a board of control to settle all questions. The national board of control held a meeting in Chicago last week, and as a result of its giving Stoney, Nietbeer and Mack to the National League, the American Association, at a meeting here today, deposed President Allen Thurman of Columbus, and elected in his place Justice Kilgour of Cincinnati. A committee of five, consisting of Stoney, Nietbeer and Mack, notified Secretary Young of the National board that the American Association withdraws from the National agreement at once.

There was not talk in the meeting about Thurman, who only a few weeks ago was hailed as the savior of the National game. Thurman was accused of having been faithless to the Association's interests in the board of control meeting.

Kilgour was being replied acceptance of the presidency, and a committee was appointed to arrange a schedule, etc., to report tomorrow. There was the adoption of a guarantee fund, which will most effectually sell all efforts of the League to injure the Association by making it expensive to the owners of Association clubs. Fifty-five per cent of the capital stock of each club will be deposited with the president to prevent its participating in the fight.

Johnson of Columbus and his clubs were admitted to membership.

Jones, Charles Sneider, John Kelly and J. F. Mauslar were chosen umpires.

RAILROAD EARNINGS.

An Annual Report of the Chicago and Alton Road.

CHICAGO, Feb. 18.—The twenty-eighth annual report of the Chicago & Alton road shows the gross earnings the past year were $7,520,993. The total disbursements for the same period, including operating expenses, taxes, etc., $7,250,139, leaving a balance of $91,117. The gross earnings show a decrease of $60,862, and the operating expenses decreased $109,134.

President Blackstone refers in plain terms to the secret rate cutting last summer, whereby the Alton lost much business. The agreement between the Southwestern Missouri River lines, he says, fell very far short of realization. Depicting the tendency of state legislation against railroads, he says, in a group of nine western States west of Indiana, in which about one-third of the whole railroad mileage of the United States is located, we find that in 1889 more than four-fifths of these roads failed to earn any dividends for their shareholders, and that the capital stock representing such non-dividend earning roads amounts to more than one thousand million dollars. "And yet," adds President Blackstone, "in the legislatures of several States in the group there are one or more bills under consideration designed for a still further reduction of railroad earnings.

WASHINGTON NOTES.

Enrollment in Public Schools—Other Items.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—The census office has in the press a bulletin showing the general results of the public schools of Arizona, California, Connecticut, Delaware, Florida, Georgia, Maine, Maryland, Massachusetts, Montana, North Carolina, Ohio, Oklahoma, South Dakota, Vermont, Virginia, Wyoming and eighty-three cities. The most striking showing of the bulletin is the comparative growth of population and school enrollment in Arizona. In New Hampshire, Maine and Virginia, for one year, there has been a slight decline in the public school enrollment. The relative gain in population and school enrollment is shown in South Dakota.

The following figures are taken from the table:

State or Territory	Per Cent of Increase in Population	Per Cent of Increase in Enrollment
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]
[illegible]	[illegible]	[illegible]

The rates of men to women among the teachers in the States and Territories under consideration varies from a minimum of ten men to ninety-two women in Massachusetts to a maximum of 1,000 men to 1,000 women in South Carolina. If the colored teachers of South Carolina are taken separately, the rate appears to be 100 men to 1,000 women. Over the Southern States approach the ratio of Massachusetts, while Ohio shows a higher ratio of men than any other Northern State, closely followed by Arizona and Pennsylvania.

REPRESENTATIVE WEST of Idaho today introduced a resolution, the preamble of which sets forth that certain national banks are issuing to loan institutions except upon contracts payable in gold, which leads to discredit the currency of the country. The resolution therefore provides that any national bank which shall degrade the currency of the country by demanding other than lawful money shall forfeit its charter.

RELATING TO SUGAR.

Acting Secretary Nettleton has modified the treasury regulations relating to the duty of sugar so as to require samples representing in shade or color sugar known as D. D. S., instead of 15 D. R., to be furnished to the examiner of sugar for use in determining the dividing line between sugars which may be delivered free upon examination at the wharf, and those which shall be held for future examination.

NOT YET RATIFIED.

Mendonca, the Brazilian minister, was seen in regard to a cablegram from Bahia that the reciprocity arrangement with the United States was not yet ratified and was not likely to be. The minister had no information about the situation at Bahia, and did not care to discuss the cablegram. He stated that his correspondence to his government on the subject of the treaty had been favorable and there was nothing to be said up now. It was evident, however, that no fears were entertained about the Brazilian treaty. President Fonseca did not call the ministers to the palace until 11 o'clock today, and it was known that the treaty could be carried out, and it goes into effect April 1st.

Tearing Prosecution, Bismarck Sends All His Important Documents To London.

BISMARCK CAUTIOUS.

He Sends all His Papers for Safe Keeping to London.

PARIS, Feb. 18.—Figaro today says Prince Bismarck has sent four boxes filled with important documents to London, and says that the ex-Chancellor took this action in view of the possibility of being prosecuted for his utterances and alleg. disclosures upon foreign affairs.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The Pall Mall Gazette this evening publishes a dispatch from its Berlin correspondent, stating that Bismarck is convinced the report published as to the Emperor's "impudence concerning his grandfather" is true, and an invention of Bismarck's enemies.

The Standard's correspondent at Berlin says Emperor William has distinctly stated that he had no intention of prosecuting Bismarck.

THE IRISH STRUGGLE.

The Financial Dispute Will Probably Be One Feature of It.

LONDON, Feb. 18.—The financial dispute between the Irish factions is likely to be one of the features in the coming Irish struggle. When $40,000 was received from the Lorgan fund a month ago, $25,000 went to the Campaign Committee, and $15,000 to the Parnell Defense League. The McCarthyites say the latter sum is too much, and furthermore contend, instead of being devoted to the evicted tenants, it was used to meet an overdraft on the Liberation fund.

T. P. O'Connor declares that McCarthy must have known when he signed the release that the fund set apart for the tenants was merely overdrawn. The McCarthyites assert, on the contrary, that he left Boulogne believing the money was to be devoted to the evicted tenants only.

The question arises whether there was a misconception at the conference or whether O'Brien thought he was acting within the lines of the agreement in adjusting the bank account. The McCarthyites insist in their declaration that the fund was to be used for the tenants. In an interview, Justin McCarthy denies the story of a fund solely for the tenants.

DUBLIN, Feb. 18.—The Freeman says the overdraft on the Hibernian Bank must have included the expenses of Parnell and salaries of Leaguers.

GERMANY AND FRANCE.

The Empress Frederick Undertaken a Mission to Paris.

PARIS, Feb. 18.—Empress Frederick, accompanied by Count Seckendorff and Countess Perponcher, arrived in Paris tonight. She was met by Count Munster and proceeded to the German Embassy. It is admitted that she will visit the leading studios of Paris, and use her influence with the French artists to induce them to take part in the Berlin exhibition. It is understood her visit is at Emperor William's express desire to aid in the entente cordial between the two countries, and to forestall Italy and Austria should they secede from the triple alliance.

Ex-Empress Eugenie arrived tonight at the same station. The crowd mistook her for the ex-Empress of Germany, and she was followed to her carriage by a silent and respectful multitude.

CAUSE OF THE FAILURE.

Demand for Large Sums of Money by a New York Bank.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18.—The immediate cause of the failure of the American Loan and Trust Company was a demand for a large amount of money made by a savings bank, the entire city which the company could not meet. The bank examiner states that he gave no order to close doors, and the general feeling seems to be that the company will pay the depositors in full and have a balance left.

Three savings banks, one in Syracuse, one in Rochester and one city outside bank demanded payment of deposits amounting to $600,000. The institution could not pay one, at the request of one of the savings banks, the superintendent took possession. Later he sent for Bank Examiner Cahill, who is now in charge. No statement can be had yet.

The evening Bank Examiner Preston said the closing of the bank was brought about by by certain savings banks. "The amount which I expect to pay was between $200,000 and $300,000. The company had not the amount, and while the officers were discussing what had other be done, I came here, ascertained the facts and took possession. When the institution was figured up last Friday the assets were $2,116,000. The amount loaned on collaterals was $1,441,000. The liabilities amount to $2,424,920 and the apparent deficiency is $308,700."

"Since the suspension today," said Mr. Preston, "I have been waited upon by influential men and have reason to believe it is possible that certain securities which I estimated at a low figure may be PAID IN FULL.

If this is done the deficiency will be reduced to $175,000. I believe then the remainder will be made good by the stockholders, and the institution be placed on its feet. I am confident the depositors will be paid in full."

The Attorney-General initiated proceedings today for the appointment of a receiver. The indications tomorrow will decide whether the suit will be pressed.

G. D. Baldwin, alleged to be the former president of the American Loan and Trust Company, with Chas. C. Hobbs, is charged by James C. Mix with fraud and conspiracy in procuring the franchises, contracts and patents of the Electric Railway Signal Company, New York, and the American Railway Signal Company of Illinois. Baldwin is president of the Automatic Telegraph Railway Company.

But Joel denied the assertions and said how he deserted her and her children after going to Seattle. Judge Campbell, in Tacoma, the named Jones' bill, and ordered him to pay $50 a month to the wife. Since then he came here. Judge Collins ordered the same written up, and Joel will probably be punished for perjury.

THE SILVER QUESTION.

A Vote on the Free Coinage Bill to Be Taken Tomorrow at Noon.

IS THERE ALSO A GOLD OR BANK POOL?

The Price of Silver Governed by the Price in London, New York and San Francisco.

By Telegraph to the News.

FREE COINAGE.

Francis Newlands Announces His Argument in Its Favor.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18.—Francis Newlands today resumed his argument before the House coinage committee in advocacy of the free coinage of silver. Newlands and Bagnell and Walker consulted each other on the question that the former pieces of products always rose and fell with the advance and decline of silver.

Bartine and others wanted to know how long the examination would be kept up, and another wrangle ensued.

Williams of Illinois moved that the meeting close with today's session.

Tracy of New York, as a substitute moved that the hearings cease at 1 p. m. Friday, and he adopted the suggestion of other members that a vote should be taken at 1 o'clock Friday on reporting the bill.

Williams said he would vote for the proposition of Tracy under protest, because he could not help himself.

Bland made a similar statement, so by unanimous consent it was agreed that

HEARINGS SHOULD CEASE

Friday noon, and that a vote on the bill should be taken at 1 o'clock that day.

Warner of Ohio called attention to the charge that the advocates of free coinage were not willing to be questioned, and stated that he was willing to answer any inquiries which might be made. Walker asked if he was not one of the national silver executive committee, and when Warner responded in the affirmative, Walker inquired how much money had been expended to promote silver legislation.

Newlands interrupted with the remark that he had given a statement of the expenditures to the silver pool investigating committee, and advised Warner not to answer the question.

Warner declined to give the amount, but declared that five dollars had been expended by the good people and half a dollar spent by the silver men. Warner declared he represented no people, and said he had been advocating the cause of silver ever since he had learned of its demonetization.

Warner stated that he proposed to vote against the bill in its entirety if there was any knowledge of the existence of any

GOLD OR BANK POOL.

Warner's response was in effect that he had no knowledge except that which was in the public press.

The proceedings agreed upon today by the House coinage committee to govern its action upon the Senate bill is carried out, it will make it impossible to pass the bill in any form which the President declines either to approve or disapprove it.

The period of time between 1 o'clock Friday and noon of March 4th is just one hour less than the ten days, exclusive of Sunday, that the President can be permitted to retain a bill without returning it to Congress.

The Acting Assistant Secretary of the Treasury, in answer to a Senate resolution, says the basis of which to estimate is the daily quotations of silver in London, New York and San Francisco. The market price the Secretary estimates from a comparison of these prices and the prices at which silver is offered for sale to the government, accepting the lowest offer, providing they do not materially exceed the highest market price in the three named cities. Nettleton further states that no silver bullion has been purchased by the government outside of the United States, but considerably large quantities of silver bullion have been delivered on purchases by the government from parties residing in the United States.

A cough should never be neglected. If it persists for some time you can call you cough hacking, and it sticks by you longer. Ballard's Horehound Syrup is the best remedy in the world for Pneumonia, Bronchitis and all throat and lung troubles. If you have any throat trouble, call for Ballard's Horehound Syrup and take no other. Zions Co-operative Mercantile Institution, Agents. 1*

There is no danger of a cold resulting in pneumonia when Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is used as directed "for a severe cold."
