purchasers, was are subject to taxes, and interest on their stock of goods, which they must necessarily carry. When an eastern merchant sends out a drummer with a basketful of samples—inches around from one country store to another, subject to rent, taxes or license, and contributes nothing toward the support of the state, county or city, and then has the audacity to ask that a law be passed to insure equal division among creditors in case of an assignment, and that the owner on the same plan privileges of making preferences, as I state in my dispatch, it would take much more—I mean in the West, so no one would or could afford to lend money without security, and as most of our people have no security to offer other than their stock in goods, they would simply have to retire from business and leave the field to those with sufficient capital to do business without borrowing. Hence, that all the people with whom I am acquainted have all of their capital invested in goods, which of course cannot be used as security when they are subject to daily change, which must be the case in selling goods. Again, so many would lose money where he would have to pay pale with other accounts in case of a failure, as it would be impossible, for example, a merchant starts in business, he opens an account with a bank and another with a wholesale merchant. As is usual he purchases from time to time during the year, and the profit on each sale averages at least 10 per cent. Suppose only three purchases are made during the year. The total profit would amount to 30 per cent. The banker, at the end of the same period would have only 10 per cent, so that is no average rate of interest. Now, if the merchant were to fail at the end of the first year, the wholesale merchant would go in at an advantage of 20 per cent over that of the banker at money loaned, and at the end of two years 40 per cent interest of the banker's 10 per cent, and so on, hence money will not be loaned where preferences are prohibited by law.

The Chamber of Commerce of this city passed similar resolutions which have been forwarded to our Utah senators.

With the hope that you may be able to detect the hollow mask, it covered this law, be patient to your constituents, I remain

Sincerely yours,
(Signed.) W. S. McCORNICK.

OLD MUSIC HOUSE ASSIGNS.

A Variety of Causes Contribute to the Retirement from Business of Coulter and Sualgrove.

Musical circles were very much surprised and business men somewhat so this morning when a notice bearing these unwelcome words was posted on the glass facing of the front door of the Coulter-Sualgrove music house: "E. S. Sualgrove assignee."

The firm was a comparatively old and well known one throughout the inter-mountain country, having been organized in 1885 at which time it succeeded to the business of Daynes & Coulter. It was incorporated in 1891 with Fergus Coulter as president and manager and C. R. Sualgrove as secretary and treasurer. On account of partnership troubles that found their way into the courts where they are now pending, Mr. Coulter in 1894 withdrew and assisted in the organization of the Daynes & Coulter firm with which he is still identified. New officers were chosen to manage the affairs of the old company and they were still in charge when the unfortunate crisis came today.

Up to price time this afternoon no list of liabilities and assets had been filed with the county recorder as is usual in such cases and it was intimated that none would be. The liabilities are said to be approximately as follows:

Salary account	$ 4,200
Deseret National Bank	[illegible]
Bank of B. Salt Lake	[illegible]
Due payable	[illegible]
Due Eastern creditors	[illegible]
Contingent goods	[illegible]
Profits unaccounted	[illegible]
Total as given	$[illegible]

Various unsuccessful attempts were made to find and interview the president of the company on the subject and the figures as set forth above and ascertain the amount of the firm's assets. The News was also called to locate the assignee. It was stated, however, at the office where he is employed that matters were scarcely in such a shape yet as to warrant any statement for publication. It is known that the company's assets will reach a good figure and the contingent goods will materially reduce the showing made. The salary, bank and rent accounts are said to be included in the preferred creditor class. The cause assigned is given as strong competition in the musical line, inability to make collections, together with a variety of other unaccumulated conditions.

AMUSEMENTS.

GRAND.

An exceptionally large Monday night audience assembled at the Grand last evening to witness the performance of Metea. This is the third time this drama has been given by the Grand stock company in a year and a half, but it has lost none of its former popularity. The strong scenes were literally applauded and numerous curtain calls were tendered in. Jessie Kennedy Vera Herbert is certainly the leading she has done more and she was fully appreciated. Madge Carlock is always good and she gave a finished piece of work in the part of Lady Delby. The Raphael de Corsaro Walter S. Wilde was gay, as was expected in King's Lead Jerry, but he never able as he did in Mr. Bryant's [illegible] Mr. Bryant [illegible] is the best thing he has done [illegible] Sarah Truax as [illegible] Dunbar de Sparkes and Harbert Darcy as Fadrin Louis Angelle [illegible] ously, as did Clara [illegible] in their respective parts. Hobbs gt more to prove a heavy rather than wear.

THE LYCEUM.

The production of Dion Boucicault's romantic drama The Colleen Bawn gives evidence not slight of good acting and commendation were on the part of the players at the Lyceum last night. A pleasant step at the beginning of the first scene in the school set, the play went smoothly. Wallace Mouse and a couple of other new faces were in the cast.

Messrs Brinker, Greene, Lotzie, Cryer, Miss Gleason and Miss Hall filled the parts well and some good work. Jean Wemer, who is the possessor of a melodious tenor voice, was pleasingly in the member who was no naughty only his manner and interpretation of the role of Father Tom left the impression that he would appear to better advantage in a [illegible] Nellie Denny as the [illegible] of Mrs Cheyne and Shirjeh showed that she is a social member of the company and gives evidence of versatility. Between acts Mr. and Mrs Daniel sang in a delightful and artistic manner. Perhaps the gallery gallitoes. The new management are evidently making a good thing for patrons and the management are evidently good entertainment. The house last night was the largest seen there for some time.

BOXING.

A Tom to Chicago is one of Sight's best promotions, and what their are no possibilities in the ring, [illegible] the persons for which it was created—in cause. The sale of seats opens at the box office this morning. The engagement commences Thursday night next.

This will be Harry Corson Clarke's last week at the Grand, he having been notified by Mr. Pixley that he must be in San Francisco on Monday next to begin rehearsals for the role he is to come in Pixley's production of the new play he has secured.

Bond Brothers' Circus.

Will Campbell, press agent for Bond Brothers' circus which expects to visit city on Friday and Saturday next, is in Salt Lake today. He says that while his people have been the recipients of some very harsh comments, that they have also received some very commendatory notices, in proof of which he exhibited a number of leading papers containing accounts of their performances. He adds that the encounter with the citizens of St. Johns, Kansas, took place, but declares that the story was largely overdrawn. He says that they have some very clever performers.

The Summer Festival.

There was a fair attendance of citizens at Calder's Music Palace last night to discuss the merits and feasibility of the proposed midsummer festival. George W. Snow presided and J. Wash. Young acted as secretary. After an interchange of ideas a committee on finance was appointed in the persons of H. F. Mulcaster, J. P. Meakin, W. E. Hubbard, J. Wash Young and Alma Kain. The committee on Thursday evening next is to report as to whether or not in its opinion sufficient money can be raised to insure the success of the enterprise.

Judge Powers En Route Home.

Judge Powers, it was learned today, left Washington last night for home and will arrive here on Friday. He made an argument in the United States Supreme court yesterday in the case of Leak vs the Rio Grande Western railway, appearing for the plaintiff.

Leak was run over by a Rio Grande train at Bingham Junction about five years ago and was very badly injured. He brought suit in the Third district court to recover $20,000 damages. The jury returned a verdict of $15,000. Judge Zane, the trial judge, regarded the sum excessive and reduced it to $12,000. The railway company appealed the case to the Supreme court of the Territory which affirmed the action of the lower court. Then the company appealed again, this time to the Supreme Court of the United States. The judgment with interest now amounts to over $14,000. It is not likely that a ruling will be had before October next.

McCarty Will Preside.

Judge McCarty will take up the hearing of the criminal calendar in that division of the Third district court at 2:30 this afternoon in place of Judge Hiles, who left for Ogden last evening to spend a few days with Judge Kimball.

Missionary Farewell.

An entertainment will be given in the Seventh ward meeting house tomorrow evening, May 6th, of a missionary to Elder A. Jesse A. Peterson who is to shortly depart for Sweden to engage in missionary work. A excellent program has been arranged, including vocal and instrumental music, and some of the leading talent of the city have kindly volunteered to appear, and those who attend are assured a rare treat.

That

Extreme tired feeling affects nearly everybody at this season. The feeble exertion puts the tissues grow weary, the energy gets lower and lower. Some men and women endeavor temporarily to overcome that

Tired

Feeling by great force of will. But this is unwise, as it pulls powerfully upon the nervous system, which will not long stand such strain. Too many people "work on their nerves," and the result is seen in the feeblness which is marked "nervous prostration," in every direction. That tired

Feeling is a positive proof of calm, cool, pure blood, for, if the blood is rich, full, vitalized and vigorous, it imparts vitalizing energy to every nerve, muscle and tissue of the body. The necessity of taking Hood's Sarsaparilla for that tired feeling is therefore apparent to every one, and the good it will do you is equally beyond question. Remember that

MINES AND MINING.

The Bulls and Bears Score a Good Day in the Pit.

TRADING BRISKER THAN USUAL.

Some of the Stocks Suffer a Slump in the Surprise of the Brokers—Slight on a Reverse.

Despite the drizzling rain and the unfavorable condition of the weather today, the stock brokers were out in good numbers and transacted considerable business on 'change. Yesterday was rather an "off" day because of the coldness in trading, while the same term could be applied to the proceedings today with equal appropriateness, to that trading was more than ordinarily brisk. Some of the stocks suffered considerable of a slump, while others took a bound upward, both movements apparently bringing great surprise to some of the brokers.

The Brick Consolidated scored the first sale in an exchange of half a thousand shares. The Delve were strong and received good bids, but the opposite quotation seem to be "out of sight," and all attempts at creating business were stubbornly and successfully frustrated. Joel Ridgway, time honored favorite in a transfer of 500 shares at 30 cents, but said the buyer knows at the time what he shortly afterwards learned, he would have let it alone at that figure. Before the stock was passed it could have been gathered in plentifully at 41 cents—six cents less than had been paid for it—while the bid put upon it was 35.

Four Aces also suffered a slump and 1,000 shares was unloaded at 25 cents. No more could be unloaded at that figure, however, although no bids equal to that for which it was sold were made. Holders of the stock took a stand for 27½ cents. Mercur showed strength and stability and 200 shares changed hands in three sales. The figures at which it was bought, remained quite close to the $8 mark. Mammoth was also firm, but buyer and seller failed to get close enough to record sales. Meanwhile was relieved of 100 shares at $2.70.

O the unlisted stocks Richmond Anacondo was the favorite, selling at figures indicative of a failing tendency. The transfers aggregated 7,000 shares, some of it going at a little above 8 cents and some a little below that figure. Five hundred shares of Electric sold at 80 cents per share.

The closing figures were as follows:

SLEPT ON A BONANZA.

Colonel Henry P. Bristol, Who Was in Salt Lake a Short Time Ago, Speaks of His Early Career.

"Yes, sir, for nearly two years I slept on the gold fields that have made the Mercur mining district in Utah famous. But that was in 1858 and '59, and had I known of the riches underneath me at the time I would have gone the army and would probably today be a happy Westerner." Thus spoke Col. Henry H. Bristol at the Ogden Hotel last evening, says yesterday's Denver Republican. Colonel Bristol arrived in Denver yesterday and is stopping at the Brown Palace hotel. He is accompanied by Mrs Bristol and her sister, Mrs. William G. Carpenter. The party is returning to their home in New York from California, where they passed the winter.

Colonel Bristol marched with the Pierce in the summer of 1857 with Johnston's army, and during the early part of that year passed through Salt Lake City. He was in command of the 2nd Infantry at Camp Floyd, during the winter of 1857-8, when the Fifth infantry was taken out of the [illegible] in the spring of 1858. He was in the infantry at Camp Floyd, near Salt Lake City, Camp Floyd is where the Mercur mining district is located, and it was during the time he was in that camp that he made that discovery he referred to.

Two years later the Fifth infantry was transferred to Fort Leavenworth, Colo., where it remained until the year 1861, when it went to Kansas, and later, along the line of the Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe road at Fort Dodge and Larned. The colonel enlisted in the service of the army in 1857, and after 22 years he was retired, and is now living in one of the pretty suburbs of the great metropolis.

"This is my first visit to the West since '58," remarked Col. Bristol last evening. "Mrs. Bristol and Mrs. Carpenter have never been west of the Mississippi river before, and when I tell them that I was fighting Indians in this country over a quarter of a century ago they hardly believe it. I have been wonderfully surprised along the whole journey, and it seems that nothing but settlers are in store for me. If anyone in my regiment would have told me during the war that I would live to see Denver with a population of 150,000 people, and that it would be the metropolis of the West, built up with the great modern improvements known to-day, I would never have believed it. Now I see it with my own eyes.

"It seems but yesterday to the time I passed through this locality. Then the traditional Indian was as frequent as the buffalo. As far as the eye could reach game of all kinds could be discovered. We traveled through herds of buffalo, and some of the herds were so large that they actually were down the banks of the Platte or Arkansas rivers in a single crossing of either stream. The Fifth infantry contained a famous scout. He was my captain, H. B. Marshal. Many a day I have seen him shoot down as high as a dozen buffaloes in succession. Capt. Marshal was an enthusiast about the West and predicted a great future for this state, which was then a territory."

The South Swansea.

Articles of incorporation were filed with the county clerk this afternoon by the South Swansea Mining company. The amount of capital stock is $150,000 divided into shares of the par value of $1 each taken as follows by the incorporators: J. T. Uren 5,000 shares, W. Wheeler 11,500 shares each, C. V. Wheeler and L. E. Riter, 20,000 shares each and W. H. Farnsworth 200 shares. J. T. Uren is president, J. M. Wheeler vice president, C. V. Wheeler treasurer and W. H. Farnsworth secretary.

The company owns the South Swansea and the West Swansea mining claims situated in the Tintic mining district.

Dips and Spurs.

The directors of the Hecla Mining company held a meeting yesterday afternoon at which time Mr. Joseph Smith was installed as general manager. Mr. Smith left for the property today.

A movement is on foot to convene a conference of mine-owners and employes on or about May 15th. The purpose of the proposed meeting will be a thorough discussion of the new eight-hour law, to the end that the miner and employer might come to an agreement which will obviate any conflict between them. The law is looked upon by many as unconstitutional and if it can be agreed upon, it may be tested in the courts.

Licensed to Wed.

Deputy County Clerk Miss Beedall issued marriage licenses today to the following persons: Junius A. Burt, aged 20, of Salt Lake, and Sylvia A. Bolton, aged 18, of Granger; to John G. Sharp, aged 30, and Lydia C. Millgate, aged 18, both of Mill Creek.

M. I. League Notes.

The socials to the members of the Mutual Improvement League will be given tomorrow night at 8 o'clock.

The League membership is fast increasing and the movements around the old Social hall are decidedly lively.

The free library and reading room is largely visited now and is a favorite resort for the sons of literary turn of mind. All the great magazines are on file there, and the daily papers are eagerly sought for.

A new calendar system has been issued by the League, showing an executive class system for the year 1896.

Personal Paragraphs.

A. J. Warner of Ogden is at the Cullen.

C. J. Jones of San Francisco is a late arrival at the Templeton.

Fred E. James of Price has his autograph on the Knutsford register.

C. L. Brown, a well known citizen of Oakland, Cal., is stationed at the Templeton.

G. Mitchell of New York, H. M. Adams of Portland, Oregon, and A. E. Gill of Boston arrived at the Knutsford today.

Gladness Comes

With a better understanding of the laws of health and a better knowledge of the best remedies to promote health, pleasant efforts—rightly directed. There is comfort in the knowledge that so many forms of sickness are not due to any actual disease, but simply to a constipated condition of the system, which the pleasant family laxative, Syrup of Figs, promptly removes. This is the only fruit remedy with millions of families, and is everywhere esteemed so highly by all who value good health. Its beneficial effects are due to the fact, that it is the only remedy which acts pleasantly and thoroughly yet without debilitating the organs on which it acts. It is therefore all important, in order to get the beneficial effects, to note when you purchase, that you have the genuine article, which is manufactured by the California Fig Syrup Co. only and sold by all reputable druggists.

If in the enjoyment of good health, and the system is in perfect healthful condition, laxatives are then not needed. If afflicted with any actual disease, one may be commended to the most skillful physicians, but if in need of a laxative, one should have the best, and with the well-informed everywhere, Syrup of Figs stands highest and is most largely used and gives most satisfaction.

PARLEY'S AND THE PARK.

Traffic Over the Narrow Gauge Through the Canyon.

Park City Thriving—New Houses—Proposed New Opera House and Mormon Meeting Houses.

There is considerable travel between Salt Lake and Park City nowadays, most of it being by way of the Utah Central railway. The freight business of the road is not heavy, the combine of the big railways shutting the little one out, and having reduced the operating force by about twenty-five men. But the passenger traffic is more convenient by the Utah Central route through Parley's canyon, there being one train each way daily. Parley's is now putting on it summer cars, and the ride through the canyon is decidedly pleasant. The train is composed of plain cars, with cane-bottomed seats and an absence of upholstery that is notable, but the ride is not long or tiresome. The train passes through a beautiful section of the Salt Lake valley, last now clothed in rich verdure surmounted by the beautiful coloring of peach and apple blossoms. Entering the canyon defile after the State prison is passed, it threads its way along the base of towering peaks, crossing and recrossing many times the dashing mountain stream, and going back and forth into and out of ravines past the few hundred acres of cultivated lands at what is known as Hardy's, up to the summit where, at the present time it goes for miles among the snows that have not yet cleared from the sheltered hillsides. From the summit there is a winding down to its base, then a climb up the park to a point 3,500 feet above the station in the city, and 7,700 feet above sea level; the stopping place is at the north end of Park city, which rises gradually above this point to nearly up to the Ontario mine, 8,500 feet above sea level.

At present the Ontario mill is shut down for repairs, and will be for a week or more; but the operations at the great mine, some of whose workings are 1,000 feet down the shaft, go steadily on. Connected with the regular work of the mine the great drain tunnel—which now sends out a large stream from its mouth, three miles from the mine—is being pushed over toward the Daly and is now about half way there. It will tap the Daly 750 feet below the lowest workings in that mine, and will drain that body at new ground for working. It is anticipated that the tunnel extension will be completed this year.

There were about 1,000 men employed at work, and there is still hope that the big concentrator talked of will be erected soon; but there is nothing definite known of the plans of the promoters, if indeed there are definite intentions.

The great Marsac mill is kept in steady operation as the ore from the Daly. At the Ontario mill the amalgam process of reducing ore is in vogue, but the Russell leaching process at the Marsac is in much more favor. At the Marsac is produced silver 999.5 fine—the purest in the world.

There is considerable prospecting going on about Park City nowadays, and all the big mines but the Crescent are working. There is some work being done by a few tenants at the Crescent, but not much. The city, however, is full of hustle, and there is lots of work. Nearly or quite 5,000 people dwell there, and just at present there is not housroom for many more. Rents are high—owing to there being few vacant houses. The need for additional dwellings may be suggested by this, and the further fact that in April over fifty dwelling houses were erected in the city and many more are going up.

The largest building now proposed for the place is the new opera house, the plans of which are ready. Its erection will cost $30,000. It is intended to be three story, and one of the finest in the city. Of other substantial buildings the city now has three schoolhouses which would be a credit to a much larger place.

About two years ago the Latter-day Saints organized a branch there, and now are in a flourishing condition. They have a splendid Sunday school, with an average attendance of 150. The presence of mothers of families is a notable feature of the school which could be imitated in other localities. The attendance at the Sunday evening meetings of the Saints is so large that at each meeting the available standing room is taken, and often people have to go away because they cannot gain admission, owing to the place being filled. This is a difficulty that let those to charge to consider the advisability of erecting a new meeting house, and last week the plans therefor were completed. The proposed structure will be 80x50 feet, and the upper room, adjacent from Park avenue, is intended for meeting purposes. The lower story is to have an entrance from Main street, as well as from the interior of the meeting room, and is to be used for Sunday school purposes. It will be [illegible] large hall and three [illegible] on. The cost of the whole will be about $4,000.

Most of the buildings in the city are of wood, and a fire is liable to do considerable damage at almost any time, but the city is well supplied by water and has a good system of fire hydrants which reduce the danger from the devouring element. Good order and good health prevail generally among the inhabitants. This season has been very backward there and the people are quite ready for spring weather, which is just coming upon them. For the coming summer the prospect for business and employment are good.

MINOR MENTION.

The City Council meets tonight. Electric light, natural gas and other matters will be discussed.

All of the committees of the board of education will meet in joint session tomorrow night beginning at 8.

An empty purse that was picked up on Saturday evening has been left at this office for the owner.

Elders Wm. Green and Arthur Towsend of the Fifth ward, leave on this evening's train for Great Britain.

In the police court today Justice Wenger sentenced five drunk and a similar number of days each in the city jail.

The board of managers of the Salt Lake Press club will meet at their rooms in the Atlas block promptly at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

A large load of ties blocked street car traffic on East Temple and First South streets for a couple of hours this forenoon. In crossing the main line of the road the wheels of the wagon were wrenched off.

Million pictorial exhibition, embracing a collection of new views on the early days of Utah and temperance, will be given in the Fifteenth ward hall this evening for the benefit of the Second Mutual Improvement association.

STATE NEWS.

The four wards of St. George will be consolidated into one.

District court opened at St. George on Monday, May 4.

At the Parowan conference, two persons voted against the recent address to the Saints.

The St. George Union of April 2 reached Salt Lake May 1. We need a railway to Dixie to improve the mail service.

MORE GOLD OF EUROPE.

New York, 5.—Heidelbach, Ickelheimer & Co., set to ship $1,000,000 in gold Thursday's steamer. Baring, Magoun & Co. will ship to Germany the same day $550,000 in gold coin by account of Kidder, Peabody & Co., Boston.

LITERARY NOTES.

Camille Flammarion, the celebrated French astronomer, contributes to the May number of the North American Review an esoteric ring paper on "Mars and its Inhabitants." M. Flammarion regards our Martian neighbor as more advanced in planetary life, and inhabited by beings more intelligent than ourselves.

The cover design for Book News is by Mansfield Parrish, and poster lovers may have a copy of it, with wide margins, by sending two cent stamps to the publishers. The May Book News is as big a [illegible] spring morning. The detachable frontispiece is a portrait of Miss Anne Hagerworth Warner, author of "Through Colonial Doorways, Colonial Days and Dames, etc. Dr. Talcott Williams talks helpfully of new books, and she letters from New York, Boston, Chicago and London, gossip in touch with the book world. Over two hundred and sixty new books are noticed and many pictures brighten the pages of this unique magazine. John Wanamaker, publisher, Philadelphia.

STOCKS AND MARKETS.

New York Stock Market.

New York, May 5.—Work market opened dull and irregular. Sugar was conspicuous for a decline of ¾ per cent. The current dividend on sugar was reasonably assured after its fall, and sharp fluctuations were reported in the leading shares. Rubber and leather preferred rose 2 points.

Market continued weak and lower, being influenced by reports of a reduction in rates for future shipments of gold. Thursday, despite the advance of 1-16 made in the lower-ascent, exceptional bids on gold freights.

A mirror could not lie if it wanted to. The glass has nothing to gain by flattery. If the cause of health and plumpness of beauty are leaving your face, your mirror will tell you so. You can see for yourself you are in danger of losing the admiration which is every woman's due. You may not really realize it, but health is the greatest beautifier in the world. Lotions, plasters, creams and cosmetics cannot make a complexion as health can. They cannot hide the story of ill health. They merely confuse it. Health draws its charms of eyes and skin, in redness of lips and tender of manner and expression. Disease is proved positively by the absence of these things. When a woman sees the indications of ill health in the face, she may with almost absolute certainty look for the cause in some of the female diseases, congestions, and derangement of the organs distinctly feminine. These things in themselves are in some degree related, and numerous of all the sickness of women come from them. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription will cure permanently and positively any so-called "female complaint." Dr. Pierce's Pleasant Pellets will cure constipation. There is no reason in the world why a woman should not be perfectly healthy. It rests with herself. If she will take the true wonderful remedies, and follow a few hygienic measures, she may become perfectly strong and healthy in all ways. She will gain in health, strength and flesh. Hollows and angles will give place to fullness and grace. She will be that noblest and most beautiful of all creatures—a perfect woman. All druggists sell Dr. Pierce's medicines, but if you care to know more about them and to know all of the grandest medical truths, send a one-cent stamp to cover cost of mailing only, and a complete copy of Dr. Pierce's 1008 page book, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser" will be sent post-paid. It is a veritable medical library, complete in one volume. Several finely illustrated chapters are devoted to the consideration of diseases of women and their successful home treatment. Address, World's Dispensary Medical Association, 663 Main St., Buffalo, N. Y.

TURNING GRAY AND THREATENED WITH BALDNESS

The Danger is Averted by Using

AYER'S HAIR VIGOR

"Nearly forty years ago, after some weeks of sickness, my hair turned gray and began falling out so rapidly that I was threatened with immediate baldness. Hearing Ayer's Hair Vigor highly spoken of, I commenced using this preparation, and was so well satisfied with the result that I have never tried any other kind of dressing. It stopped the hair from falling out, stimulated a new growth of hair, and kept the scalp free from dandruff. Only an occasional application is now needed to keep my hair of good, natural color. I never hesitate to recommend any of Ayer's medicines to my friends."—Mrs. H. M. Hanson, Aurora, Neb.
