MERCHANTS' LICENSE.

Do Not Cost by the Ogden Business Men Being Considered.

The case against A. W. Putnam to test the validity of the merchants' license system, was brought up before Justice Fitzgerald in the police court this yesterday afternoon.

The defense immediately submitted its evidence, after which the case was argued by Attorney Schoonover for the prosecution, and J. E. Bagley and M. D. Leseinger for the defense.

The defendant's attorneys argued that the present merchants' license ordinance was passed at a special meeting of the City Council on January 21st, 1881, and that the records fail to show that the members of the Council were given notice of the special meeting as required by the special meeting as required by the charter, and further that a regular meeting of the Council was held on January 21st, 1881, and the records show that it was adjourned till the next regular meeting, which fell on the fifth day of February following. As the special meeting was held between these dates, also that there is nothing on the records to show that the ordinance was ever signed by the mayor.

The plaintiff's attorney held that allowing these facts were true, still as the records go it is probable that the ordinance was executed in proper form and due notice was given to the members of the city council at that time or the city recorder would not certify to the book of ordinances, which was published by authority, that all had been properly passed and executed according to law.

The hearing lasted until nearly 7 o'clock when Justice Fitzgerald took the matter under advisement and will render a decision tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock.

COURT AT BEAVER.

The Charge of Judge Miner to the Grand Jury Yesterday Afternoon.

The term of the District Court at Beaver opened yesterday afternoon, Judge Miner on the bench. The grand jury was empanelled as follows: J. M. Mitchell, Sidney Burton, D. C. Tate, H. Brunson, P. E. Allen, Joseph Sawyer, John Twitchell, Oscar Calder, James Fennemore, William Low, John Van Vliet, Charles Mathews, Jesse Williams, Charles Lauemenbiel and Alfred Hunt. Mr. Tate was appointed foreman. The Judge's charge was lengthy, confining in addition to the usual statutory instructions, some specific directions regarding what should and what should not be indicted, the law discussed, it upon the jurors that they should not recognize wealth and station on one side nor poverty and adversity on the other. He dwelt somewhat upon the Edmunds-Tucker law, and said all officials and all who aided, abetted, assisted or encouraged others in violating it should alike be indicted. The million act of Congress, he declared, was becoming the prevalent in the Territory and should receive the jury's attention. The habit of special monopoly, circulating malicious falsehoods, also in the source of a great deal of crime, and whenever the evidence in such cases is sufficient the office should feel the hand of the law relentlessly there.

Charles Walker and David Golding pleaded guilty to unlawful cohabitation and were to be sentenced today.

Mary E. Marshall was granted a divorce from Heber C. Marshall on the ground of failure to support.

Frank Lundgren, John Graf and Joseph Heap were admitted to citizenship.

The petit jury will be drawn on Tuesday and it is expected that the trial will work begin.

Fair Work.

Hermann Bamberger, one of the D. & R. G. directors, has been quietly at work for some time endeavoring, and with good success, to interest the ladies of the Territory in his part of the Utah Fair—the women's department. He is trying to outdo all the other departments, and if the ladies all go to work, he will no doubt be successful. Many of the good wives and daughters of Salt Lake are receiving a note from the energetic supervisor, as follows:

WOMEN'S DEPARTMENT,
UTAH TERRITORIAL FAIR,
SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 5, 1892.

Some time intimated that you might be willing to assist such worthy an exhibit as the Women's Department of the Utah Fair, of which I am supervisor, I respectfully urge you to make an exhibit therein, and that you take in interest getting others to do the same.

There is no reason why the Women's Department should not outshine all others, and I think by united effort and by the assistance of new and old friends, success will be assured. I can already boast greatest many new houses in this department.

I enclose premium list and blank appearance entry.

Hoping you to advance for any assistance, I am very respectfully,

H. BAMBERGER,
Supervisor Women's Department.

Mr. Bamberger also expects a great show in the mineral department, specimens being promised from La Plata, Deep Creek, the Park and other places.

THE PARK EDUCATED AT TERRIFIC.

Dr. John R. Park started this morning upon a trip to the north in connection his collection for the educational department. Many others have promised to exhibit and that given by the city public schools, including what the Territorial exhibition will be. The doctor has started some of the schools with a circular of which the following is an extract:

A few days since I mailed you a copy of the premium list of the city public schools' share of the Utah Territorial fair, and said all officials and all who aided, abetted, assisted or encouraged others in violating it should alike be indicted. The million act of Congress, he declared, was becoming the prevalent in the Territory and should receive the jury's attention. The habit of special monopoly, circulating malicious falsehoods, also is the source of a great deal of crime, and whenever the evidence in such cases is sufficient the office should feel the hand of the law relentlessly there.

Please inform me as soon as possible of the part you will take in this educational display and the space you will probably need.

JOHN R. PARK,
Superintendent Class M.

Court Notes.

In Judge Zane's court yesterday afternoon, the case of the Salt Lake Realty Co. vs. David Jones was continued for the term.

M. H. Cluff vs. S. A. Campbell et al; ten days allowed the defendant to which to answer.

Bank of Commerce vs. William Groesbeck; judgment for the plaintiff.

D. D. Mallory vs. C. S. Reilly; decree of foreclosure entered.

In the case of O. H. Pettit vs. E. H. Parsons, in which the plaintiff sues the defendant for an alleged unlawful seizure of goods which were in the possession and claimed not to belong to Webb & Olsen, the jury yesterday afternoon after deliberating for some time, returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $100.

Henry Faber, the Walker House barber charged with violating the Sunday closing law, had a jury hearing by jury in Commissioner Pratt's court yesterday afternoon and was adjudged not guilty.

The preliminary examination of Capt. W. L. Davis was prevented with in Commissioner Pratt's court yesterday afternoon. Young Davis, who is now held as an accomplice, was fed on the Dodge Brock's cabin and similar robbery at small expense. At the suggestion of the assistant District Attorney Dow also in the case the charge which was only open in the killing of Brock. Davis said that there was no apprehension of fire that his life was in danger. Brock notified that he could get to the house he would kill Davis, but that was of no importance. Davis was sick that he intended to bed without bail to await the action of the grand jury.

The Commissioner remarked, in sentencing, that the only justification for such act is a cowardly fear of being in self-defense, and that in the case of Brock it did not appear that there was any real necessity in his being killed. The use of the bullets as shown was sufficient, and he did not think there was any justification as shown by the testimony for taking the life. There were two against one, it appeared, and he felt that the defendants should be bound. If there was any doubt as to the guilt of Davis, he was entitled to the benefit of it, and the court adjudged that Davis be held to answer the action of the grand jury without bonds.
