AT THE BOTTOM OF THE SEA.

The British Ship Senegal Lost in the Pacific.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 21.—The Italian ship Senegal is at the bottom of the Pacific somewhere in latitude 39.17 north, longitude 113.5 west, for it was in about that locality that C. Olsen, a sailor on the schooner Mary C. Ross saw her red light go out one stormy night at sea.

The Senegal was bound from San Diego to Tacoma with loose sand for ballast. She was a large iron ship of the latest design, and was considered one of the best in the English merchant marine service. The captain was accompanied by his young daughter, and the crew forward consisted of twenty-seven men.

Olsen was on the deck of the schooner during the whole of that night at sea and he says that the storm that tossed the little ship about was the worse he had experienced in a score or more of years that he has spent on the ocean. The Senegal, he says, was sighted just as darkness was closing in beating up against a freshening northeast gale. By midnight the gale was at its height. Olsen said he soon began to watch for the gleam of the Senegal's light. It seemed to him in his dread of a death at sea like a ray of hope. Several times he missed the light when the waves rode the crest of a wave, but the Senegal was then down deep in the through of the sea; the next time it would appear. The danger increased and every man had to hang on for dear life. Just before day began to break the red light of the big ship appeared for the last time. Then Senegal rose on the crest of a wave as a much more serious than its predecessors came down upon them. The red light gleamed, then went out for an instant. It reappeared for a moment, then was lost altogether. In vain the crew of the schooner watched for it. It had gone out forever and with it went the lives of all her crew.

International Cricket.

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 21.—The international cricket match between Lord Hawke's and the All-Philadelphia elevens began shortly before noon. The Englishmen have lost three wickets for fourteen runs.

The Whisky Trust Crisis.

PEORIA, Ills., Sept. 21.—Just how serious the crisis that confronts the whisky trust is, may be imagined from the fact that the directors were summoned by wire to a special meeting today, although the regular meeting would have been held Tuesday. The officials are very secretive as to what is being done. President Greenhut says he knows of nothing that would require the immediate dissolution of the company. It is claimed the eastern distributing company has the trust where it can squeeze it, and is making the most of the opportunity. It is alleged that the anxiety about the company is only a cloak for its efforts to wring further concessions from the trust in its hour of extremity.

Resisting the Collection of Taxes.

PRINCETON, Ky., Sept. 21.—A fresh shipment of fire arms has been made to Union county to arm the taxpayers of Sturgis and Caseyville precincts, who are resisting the collection of the railroad tax. About 700 are now armed with Winchesters and dynamite, and they are patiently awaiting the arrival of Collector Blackwell and his 100 armed deputies. Captain Blackwell is expected today, but he will hardly begin his work before Monday.

A TREMENDOUS CRASH.

The Sausalito Runs Ashore Causing Great Damage.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 21.—Going at the rate of fifteen miles an hour and with a full head of steam the N. P. C. R. R. company's new steamer, Sausalito, crashed into the new slip and depot at Sausalito, and did damage to the amount of $10,000. The big slip and hydraulic apron were demolished. The huge concrete blocks that support the apron are a mass of ruins as well as the entire lifting gear of the apron. Captain Wilson, who is one of the most careful pilots on the bay, gave the signal to stop when about 300 yards from the mouth of the slip, but the steamer kept ahead at full speed.

The big steamer hit the spring piles with such force that the noise of the collision could be heard all over the town. The bow of the boat was smashed to splinters, the restaurant was completely wrecked, as was also the cat and sailing gear, damaging the steamer to the extent of $5,000.

All this time efforts to stop the boat's machinery were of no use, and for five minutes the steamer's powerful machinery kept pushing her farther under the apron, and tore the lower portion of the boat into splinters. The force of the crash wrecked the storehouse of the company, situated nearly twenty feet from the slip, and dispersed a track twenty-five feet from the pier head.

TROUBLE ABOUT HAY.

It May Cost a Naval Commander His Commission.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cala., Sept. 21.—The Chronicle has the following special:

VALLEJO, Cala., Sept. 21.

Commander McCalla, naval equipment officer at the Mare Island Navy yard, had an altercation with Robert Gore which may cost the commander a trial by court martial and possibly his commission. The trouble arose over the contract for supplying hay. The price named in the bill was $9.10 a ton. Gore went to the navy yard to collect the bill. The contractor informed McCalla of the object of his visit. McCalla told Gore he was supplying civilians of Vallejo with hay at $8 a ton. This Gore denied and hot words followed, Gore informing McCalla that he was no gentleman and also said something about the commander's uniform being a shield against personal chastisement. The commander peeled his uniform off and cast it upon the floor, at the same time he moved toward the door, which he unlocked and secured the key. These preparations were too much for Gore, who pounced on the door and cried for help. As no assistance came, Gore began to run around the room, overturning chairs and furniture, while the commander gave chase.

Gore finally put his shoulder to the door, burst it open and ran for his life. Official attention will be drawn to Gore's narrative.

Several held the horses while their companions robbed the twelve passengers. When the police arrived the toughs were in retreat and only two were caught.

FOR HARMONY.

Efforts to Adjust the Differences Between Railroad Companies.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 21.—Another effort is to be made to adjust the differences of opinion that have so long interfered with the amicable relations between the Southern Pacific company and the Atlantic and Pacific railroad company. Both companies have appointed representatives, who are to meet for conference at El Paso next week. The gentlemen authorized to speak for the Southern Pacific, namely: J. C. Stubbs, T. H. Goodman and J. A. Fillmore, have left for the scene of their labors.

One of the main points of contention between the two corporations has been in regard to granting of "side rides" to through passengers without extra charge.

A DUEL TO DEATH.

One Combatant Falls After Receiving Twenty-one Wounds.

THE OTHER KILLS HERSELF.

Jealousy Leads to the Double Tragedy—The Cause of It All Disappears.

SWIFT, Ala., Sept. 21.—Edmonia Anderson and Irene Washington, colored, fought a duel to death last night with knives. The cause was a white man, Ben Olsen, whose affections both claimed. The two fought like tigresses until Irene Washington fell dying with twenty-one stab wounds. The Anderson woman, whom Olsen had discarded, then stabbed herself. Olsen has fled.

Wheat Still Lower.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—The bears jumped on the market again so hard that before noon yesterday's low record, 55¼ for December wheat, was lowered ⅛.

Competition for the Mexican Trade.

SAN FRANCISCO, Cal., Sept. 21.—The Chronicle says: The Pacific Mail company is to have a competitor from the Gulf of Tehauntepec to San Francisco and one which will prove a formidable rival to the old line for the Mexican trade. The franchise has been granted by the Mexican government and in a few months at farthest the steamers of the Compa del Ferro Quarril Occidental de Mexico will run into San Francisco. Several steamers will be run on the line which is an extension both and south of the Occidental company now operating between Guaymas and Mazatlan in conjunction with a railroad running from Culiacan to Altata in the state of Sinaloa. The new line will immediately greatly increase the commerce between Mexican points and this city.

Carpenters in Convention.

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 21.—The carpenters' international convention today decided not to make war on the Knights of Labor and the amalgamated carpenters in Chicago, unless they strike first. The convention will not pass a resolution requiring that the transactions be printed only in English. A resolution will be passed which will favor a full discussion of politics looking to a new party, but no political party will be endorsed.

HIS CONFESSION.

William Myers, Arrested for Murder, Makes a Statement.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 21.—William J. Myers, arrested here last night for the murder of Forest Crowley, near Atlanta, made a long statement today to the effect that the murder was committed by Brown Allen, a gambler. He says Allen got him completely under his control and induced him to entice Crowley to a lonely place. This he did by telling Crowley that he had mules to sell. He sent Crowley into the woods where Allen was concealed. In a few minutes Allen returned with a pocket book saying, "Here, take your share; I've killed him." Myers says he took $31 and left $11.

Bicycle Records Broken.

WALTHAM, Mass., Sept. 21.—At the Waltham track today John S. Johnson broke the world's bicycle record for the half mile in 54 2-5 seconds. In the same trial the world's tandem record was broken; time, 29 4-5 seconds. Harvey Davidson, of Toronto, created a record for class "A" making a quarter unpaced in 29 1-5 seconds.

On Change.

NEW YORK, Sept. 21.—Speculation opened fairly active with sugar, whiskey and gas leading in the transactions. Sugar after a gain of ⅛ broke 1⅛ to 91¼; distillers declined 1 to 10¼, and Chicago Gas ½ to 7½.

The market became strong under the influence of good buying. Reports from semi-official sources of the regular dividend to be declared on the Rock Island, caused an advance of 1½ per cent; it receded ⅛ on account of the rumor that the directors' meeting might be postponed until tomorrow. Sugar made a gain of ½ before noon, and and advanced ⅛.

Owing to a reduction in the Rock Island dividend the price broke to 61⅝ a decline of 3 per cent from the highest and of 1½ on the day. About 3 o'clock sugar declined 1 per cent and the general list ⅛ @ ½.

SYRACUSE, N. Y., Sept. 21.—F. P. Searl going against the record from Chicago to New York, arrived here at 9:30. He left Clyde at 5:45 a. m. today and rode on the railroad track. He punctured four tires and fell down a railroad embankment, twenty feet, but was not seriously hurt. He is still ahead of the record 10 hours and thinks he will arrive in New York on Sunday, 4 or 5 hours ahead of the record.

Laying of the Corner Stone.

The corner stone of the new building to be used by the Collegiate Institute was laid yesterday afternoon with appropriate and interesting ceremonies. After the singing of a fitting selection, Dr. McNiece, president of the board of trustees, directed attention to the importance of the work which called for the assembling together of people who were interested in the great cause of education. Ex-Governor Thomas was then introduced, and spoke upon the importance of high education in the state, his address being happily adapted to the occasion and calling forth many words of approbation. Mr. Thomas was followed by Dr. Wishard, who chose as his theme, "The Importance of the Christian Element in Education." After the reading of a historical sketch of the Collegiate Institute from its inception to the present time, the ceremonies attendant upon the laying of the corner stone were hurried to an interesting finality, and the exercises were brought to a close.

HAUERBACH WANTS $500.

He Alleges Breach of Contract Over A Season's Engagement.

Suit was brought in the Third district court this afternoon by J. A. Hauerbach against George Calder, of Mill Creek, in which the sum of $500 and costs are demanded.

Plaintiff's attorney is J. M. Hamilton.

Hauerbach is a professional musician of this city. It is alleged that in April last he entered into a written contract with the defendant to furnish a band of music or orchestra at Calder's Park during the season of 1894, commencing May 30th and lasting until the closing of the grounds. The consideration was to be $50 per week. Plaintiff says he continued to furnish the band, which comprised himself and four other musicians with whom he had contracted until July 12th, when the defendant summarily discharged them without any reasonable cause and refused to allow him to complete his contract. Plaintiff says he has thereby lost the wages which he would otherwise have obtained, viz., $10 per week, besides being liable for the services of the other four musicians, at $10 per week each, during the unexpired term, and which the defendant wholly refuses to pay, they having been unable to obtain employment for the remainder of the season. This at Calder's park was up to and including September 5th. Hence defendant places his damages at $500.

HOME MADE MANTEL.

A Handsome Piece of Furniture for a Salt Lake Residence.

C. F. Murray, the ornamental woodworker, has just completed an elegant mantelpiece at his shop No. 25 west, South Temple street. It is eight feet four inches high and five feet wide, and is made of cherry. The design, while not very elaborate, is strikingly beautiful. The lower part has an ornamented column on either side, and the upper section is provided with a handsome plate glass mirror. The manufacturer claims it is the best piece of furniture of that kind ever made in Utah, and a glance at it forbids any disposition to dispute the claim. It was intended to have it on exhibition at the Fair, but as the gentleman whose residence it will adorn wants it in place, Mr. Murray will have to be satisfied to place his exhibit without it. Regarding the cost of the furniture, Mr. Murray says he is ready to, and does, duplicate Chicago prices with freight added.

WILL SHIP 3,000 SHEEP.

Eighteen Car Loads of Fine Mutton to be Sent to Chicago.

John C. Sharp and Charles McBride, of Tooele county, were in the capital today making preparations to send a train load of Utah muttons to Chicago on Monday next.

Seven days will be required to make the trip. That includes three stops. Just what these muttons will bring is not known, as the market is somewhat uncertain at present. On Friday, a week ago, similar sheep sold for as low as $2.25 per head. On Monday of this week they brought from 75 cents to one dollar above that figure. All depends upon the demand, and, said Mr. McBride today, two or three days make a great deal of difference, as to the income effect.

Mr. McBride will take the flock through himself. They number something over 3,000 and will fill eighteen cars. They were summered on the Sanpete mountains and are in good condition.

Dramatic Club Entertainment.

The Deseret Dramatic company played to standing room only in the Twenty-second ward meeting house last evening on the occasion of a complimentary benefit tendered to Miss Rose Fishman, the ward organist, who is slowly recovering from a severe attack of typhoid fever.

The company is composed entirely of Twenty-second ward members who, as amateurs, have been hiding their light under a bushel. The performance opened with a humorous curtain raiser, Poppleton's Predicament. Then came the four-act drama, The Prodigal's Return (? Better Than Gold.) Manager Shin is to be congratulated on the staging and presentation of the piece, the climaxes being worked up in good style. Mr. C. H. Booth's rendering of Dick Gordon was an agreeable surprise to the audience, showing good talent and conception. Mr. H. Gardner also did well in the dropping scene, as Gilbert Hancock. As to the ladies, Miss Whipple and Miss Hyde divided the honors in a pleasing style. Altogether the entertainment was a success both artistically and financially.

The exhibits are arranged in an artistic and pleasing manner. The exhibit of each and every department is a credit to the young ladies. MISSING FROM HOME.

The Whereabouts of Little Sidney Reeves Unknown to His Relatives.

BELIEVED TO HAVE PERISHED.

It Is Thought That He Was the Unfortunate Boy Who Died From Exposure in the Mountains Near Kanosh.

On the 19th of the present month the NEWS published a special dispatch from Kanosh, Millard county, to the effect that a boy whose name was supposed to be August Mart Peck, had been found dead in the mountains near that place.

The story of the discovery of the remains and the incidents connected therewith were related in substance as follows: That on the 30th of August the lad who was 14 or 15 years of age, went into the mountains northeast of Kanosh, in company with Anthony Paxton Jr., to a sheep herd where he went to work. After one week of herding on trial he was engaged to care for a bunch of rams nearer town and was to board with Anthony Paxton Sr. On Sept. 6th the boy determined to go to town [illegible], which, it appears, [illegible] against the wish of [illegible] Paxton Jr. But the latter procured a horse for him and escorted him to the top of the mountains. Before separating he took the precaution to urge the boy to keep the trail leading to the valley. Two days later Frank Paxton, who was at home, concluded to go to the herd. He climbed the trail that the boy had started down on. Young Paxton had not gone very far into the mountains when he found only a few feet from the trail the horse that the lad had led for town. There appeared to be no marks of violence about the animal and its death was a mystery. The saddle and bridle had been removed and placed under a tree. Paxton continued on to the herd expecting to find the boy. Failing to do so he returned home next morning, organized a searching party and went back into the mountains to hunt for the boy. The search that day was unsuccessful. Next day a larger crowd turned out and the boy's lifeless body was found about a mile from where his horse was discovered.

It seemed to be the impression that the lad became enveloped in a dense storm cloud and perished from exposure. Such were the findings of the coroner's jury.

Just who the boy was could not be learned. It is known, however, that he went to Kanosh from Provo. But it was also known that the Garden City was not his home.

There was one man in this city who became interested and even anxious on reading the account of the sad case as it appeared in the NEWS. That gentleman was John A. Reeves, chief clerk of the Union Pacific freight department, who it would seem had good cause to be interested in the case as he suspected that it was his little brother Sidney Reeves, who had disappeared from the home of his parents some time before, near the mouth of Little Cottonwood. It is related that the little chap had received unusually harsh treatment at home and decided to leave. He went south to find a situation at herding sheep. That is all that is known as to his intentions. The description as to size, clothing, age and general appearance of the boy who died in the mountains were identical with those of Sidney. All efforts to get trace of the latter have failed so far. Today it was learned that Mr. Reeves went south over the Union Pacific yesterday taking with him a photograph of his missing brother which he proposed to show to the kind ladies who dressed the little fellow in his funeral clothes preparatory to being laid away, for the purpose of quieting his fears or confirming the awful suspicion that has distressed himself and family so much of late. He was at Kanosh today and his return is looked for by his colleagues in the Union Pacific office with very grave concern. They are all, however, very firm in the belief that unfortunate August Mart Peck is none other than Sidney Reeves.

A Mean Wretch.

The Ellis eight-year-old son of Deputy Sheriff Matthews, whose parents reside in the Ninth ward, was sent to the ward store to make a purchase this morning. As he was walking along a burly fellow, whom he did not see, grabbed, snatched a purse containing half a dollar from his hand and got clear away with it before the child could inform anyone. His father, as soon as he learned of the theft, started out in search of the contemptible rascal, but could obtain no trace of him.

Back From the East.

Messrs. Frank J. Cannon and N. W. Clayton, who went East about ten days ago on business connected with the Utah Company, returned home at an early hour this morning. Neither gentleman could, however, be found in town today.
