NEWS OF THE WEST

A Wife Murderer Under Sentence Death at Denver.

A LARGE CELEBRATION PLAN.

Orchards Bear Down with Fruit—Centennial Roser in Circulation—Etc.

The orchards of the Grand valley are asked to be propped up under the weight of maturing fruit.

It is reported that the cherry crop at Milton, Ore., will be a failure. Most of the cherries were taken in Denver, Omaha and Salt Lake.

Near Silver Cliff, Colorado, Jacquet mice is turning out the finest yields 72 per cent less sugar yielded in the last. It can stand a quotation of 40 cents for silver.

Numerous tenpin alleys and quoiters are in circulation in Idaho. Now, which lawyer comes to think that a counterweight plant is being operated in the neighborhood.

The Fort Collins, Colo., Express advertised farmers that for a time only every day seekers had to help in the sugar beets. There are few accomplished farmers in Larimer county. From $2.25 a $3.50 per day and board is being paid, and the harvest of the beet crop is proceeding very slowly on account the scarcity of help.

The "industrial army" business does not show an improvement so far, the first says the Sioux City Journal. May reports speak too the Austin, Tex., Citizen, which says: "Two-thirds of been no of citizens of the United States, that are employed at the lower element of the European laboring classes are have slipped into the country by the skin of their teeth. If there ought to be preserve any authority at all and not permit state lines to be wiped out, the executives of the different states must resort to drastic and decided methods to suppress organized invasions."

The Rexburg (Idaho) Silver Hammer is ready to make the prediction that before eighteen months have passed gold mining will not form the least of the important industries of Fremont county and upper Snake River valley. Where all this fine fine gold comes from there is undoubtedly rich ledges, and with machines to save the fine gold, which if not already accomplished, certainly will be, we may look for a genuine mining boom and a home market for the surplus products of our farmers. The man, woman or child who says that the part of Idaho has not got a grand future before it, don't know beans.

James Berry, of Talon City, Idaho, met with quite a serious accident, says the Idaho Democrat. While he was riding on the range between his home and the table he was caught in a thunder shower and was struck by lightning. He was not dangerously injured; but was knocked senseless. The strangest part of the accident was that Mr. Berry was not knocked out of his saddle, but when he recovered his senses he was still riding the horse which was on a dead run and about two miles from where the accident occurred. When he got home from Mr. Berry was rapidly recovering from the shock but still carried the marks of the lightning's stroke.

Pat Phillips, convicted of the murder of his wife and under sentence of death at Denver, maintains his appearance of stolid indifference to his cell at the county jail. The motion for a new trial has not yet been argued by his attorneys, says the News, but he appears to have no interest in the case. He prays three times each day, eats his meals regularly and has greatly increased in appearance. He takes little and absolutely refuses to say anything to strangers. He confidentially told the jailer that his murdered wife called upon him each night and remained with him a few minutes. The trouble upon which a new trial is asked are that the jury was prejudiced and that the court erred in giving instructions.

A young man named Williams was picked up by the police a few days ago, while loafing around Pueblo, and taken up before Police Judge Conner, where he plead guilty to a charge of vagrancy and was sentenced to ten days in the chain gang. He proved a rather easy customer, says the Pueblo Tribune, and to keep him from running away a ball and chain was fixed to his ankles. Monday he managed to free himself from his bed with his pick and made his escape. That night he attempted to board a departing freight in the yards but fell under the wheels and had one foot cut off. He was destitute and was sent to the county hospital where he is being cared for. He claims to be from San Francisco.

Captain J. H. De Lamar, the well known miner, is expected in this city at an early day to have an order for a large concentration plant says the Denver News. The machinery will go to the Ferguson gold district in the southeastern part of Nevada, where the capitalist's latest syndicate is operating the Jim Crow and Heather mines. The plant will be large enough to handle 100 tons of ore per day, and it is expected to extract 92 per cent of the gold. To develop the section properly a railroad 150 miles in length is projected. This would connect with Caliente in N. Nevada. Stockmen are trying to the Salt Lake and Denver smelters a large supply of gold ores. The Union Pacific grade from Salt Lake in the direction of Los Angeles would be used. Captain De Lamar says the capital for the projected rail way is already secured. He goes from Denver direct to New York in connection with the enterprise.

Has Four Hundred Doctors.

The mikado might supply an inter esting contribution to that eternal discussion on modern medicine which continually breaks out afresh in one or more of our exchanges.

His Japanese majesty has, according to the London Telegraph, adopted a "new way" with men not always satisfactory relations, and yet that right in times, to a certain extent, effectual.

Finding his mother-in-law to be suffering from serious illness, the emperor recently promoted to that lady's bedside one doctor after another, until more than 400 had been summoned to treat her.

There is at present no estimation of the unhappy lady's disease, so that she evidently possesses an unusually strong constitution. But it is impossible to believe that she will be able to withstand much longer the united efforts of the 400 Japanese medicine men.

The real mikado would seem to have as fond a love in professional life as he has so appreciative of the merits of "Scientific Doctoring" as his late predecessor of the throne.
