SPECIAL REMARKS.

Lithographic Display—The awarding committee beg to state that the two displays, viz., Kelly & Co.'s and the Salt Lake Lithographic Company's, are in their opinion of equal merit, and therefore suggest that the money award of $20 and the gold medal of $10 be equally divided between the two competitors.

Photographic Display—The award of $20 to be given for the display of C. R. Savage; but, considering the excellence of the exhibit of Sainsbury & Johnson, the committee suggest that they be given a gold medal inscribed for "meritorious display."

A. Lambourne's Exhibit—The awarding committee (Mr. Lambourne outside) decide that inasmuch as there was not an exhibit of oil paintings by any one person justifying the award of the $50 prize, that this prize be not awarded. The committee, however, recognizing the excellence of Mr. Lambourne's exhibit of art works, award to him a special premium of $20.

Three excellent paintings, viz., "Yosemite Valley," "Black Canyon of the Colorado" and "Pastoral Scene in Utah," all by Prof. F. Eisele, deserve special commendation, though not entered in competition, as the artist was a non-resident of Utah.

H. J. Faust & Son, city (Holstein [illegible]), milk cow, second premium. Quality: 15 15-16 oz. butter.

(Signed) M. MINER.

In the butter test, the cream was separated by the De Laval separator, and from the amount of separated cream more butter should have been placed to the credit of Lelank, R. T. Burton's entry. We are of opinion there must have been an error in separating, as care was exercised equally in all entries.

M. MINER,
SMITH FARGUS,
Supervisor Cattle.

The special gold and silver premiums will not be ready for delivery until Nov. 1st.

Are Cucumbers Spoilt Muskmelons?

"If any dogma finds general acceptance among horticulturists," says Professor L. H. Bailey, "it is that muskmelons are rendered insipid and worthless by cucumbers growing in their vicinity. Most growers suppose that this influence is immediate, and a few hold that it appears only in the offspring of supposed crosses between the two species. Several years ago my observation led me to doubt this influence, but definite experiments were not undertaken until last winter, when a house of forced melons and cucumbers gave a good opportunity to make cross fertilization. In these trials I failed to produce melons when the flowers were pollinated either by the white spine or the English forcing cucumbers.

"Last summer the work was undertaken in the garden under the best of opportunities. Ninety-seven muskmelon flowers of various varieties were fertilized by cucumber pollen of many kinds. No fruits developed. Twenty-five cucumber flowers were fertilized by muskmelon pollen. Only one fruit developed and that was seedless. These figures certainly indicate to me that melons and cucumbers do not cross, and that the influence thought to exist of one upon another is fictitious."

Have More Than One Pair of Scissors.

Too many people fail to keep a proper supply of scissors in the household. It is false economy to allow a single pair to do all the work. The workbasket should be furnished with long, slender shears for general cutting, short buttonhole scissors to do their own work, and a pair of small scissors for general use. There should be a special pair of scissors to clip papers, if any of the family keep a scrapbook, as nothing injures scissors so quickly as using them to cut paper and cloth indiscriminately.

In the country you want scissors by the dozen. There should always be a pair of scissors in the kitchen for trimming lamps and for various other uses there. Neither scissors, knives nor any other steel instruments should be heated, because in doing so you run the risk of taking the "temper" out of the instrument, and if once out it can never be restored.

The fact that the "temper" is gone is shown by the steel turning blue. An experienced cutler can sharpen an instrument which has lost its "temper," but it will not remain sharp for any length of time, and the process of sharpening needs to be repeated indefinitely and frequently, until it becomes burdensome.—New York Tribune.

A Conscientious Editor.

We advertise at present for a firm whose preparations have proven to be all they claim in our own family. We refer to Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. We stand up for this medicine because we have tested it. This is not an advertisement for the medicine, it is simply our testimony regarding it after a fair trial.—*Hinsdale (Pa.) Happy Hoosiers.

Wm. Timmons, postmaster of Idaville, Ind., writes: "Electric Bitters has done more for me than all other medicines combined, for that bad feeling arising from Kidney and Liver trouble." John Leslie, farmer and stockman, of same place, says: "Find Electric Bitters to be the best Kidney and Liver medicine, made me feel like a new man." J. W. Gardner, hardware merchant, same town, says: Electric Bitters is just the thing for a man who is all run down and don't care whether he lives or dies; he found new strength, good appetite and felt just like he had a new lease on life. Only 50c. a bottle, at A. C. Smith & Co's Drug Store. 2

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtain, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption, and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption; she bought a bottle, and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use, and after taking ten bottles found herself sound and well, now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottles of this Great Discovery at A. C. Smith & Co's Drug Store. Large bottles 50c. and $1.00. 2
