"NOTHING doing" is the invariable answer to the question of the newspaper men among the officials around the courts in the Wasatch building just now. Next Monday however, the business of the February term of the Third District Court practically begins, and then there will be plenty going on. On that day Judges Zane and Anderson will call the calendars for ways of a preliminary. There are several interesting cases for trial during the session of the court.

THE better feeling of the land continues now William Hinchliff vs. Harrison Sperry, equal the whole of section 4 and 5 in the United States Land Office. Mr. Sperry took up a quarter section of land near Salt Lake, Tooele County, as desert land. Mr. Hinchliff contests the entry on the ground that the land is not desert. Nothing of importance was in regard to the litigation done by Mr. Sperry. It was expected that there would be a large crowd to-day in the close of today's proceedings.

"PUBLIC OPINION," the bantam weekly of Washington, New York, has just announced the offer of three cash prizes of $100, $50, and $25 respectively for the best essays upon the question, "Resources and development of south Dakota, with a brief review and outlook, describing its soil, climate and capabilities for an agricultural and pastoral state." The book is neatly bound in cloth and has some 300 pages and about considerable attention. The particulars may be had by addressing the publishers of Public Opinion at either New York or Washington.

AS had been predicted, the Women's Suffrage Association held at the Theater, last night, was in every respect a brilliant success. Some two hundred ladies were there, crowding the growing focus of Polly Pry, and applauding to the dozens each and every one of the speakers. The entertainment was highly entertaining and everyone who attended had a right of satisfaction. It was a time of congratulation, not of regret, and the gathering may be expected to one of the most successful events of the kind ever held in Utah. Further was among the interested spectators.

Reliefs and Appointments.

The following is transcribed from the Millennial Star of January 24th:

Elder John P. Benson is honorably released from his labors as Traveling Elder in the Scottish Conference, to return home. The cause of his release is his continued ill health.

Elder Charles Schindler is honorably released from his labors as Traveling Elder in the Swiss and German Mission, to return home.

Elder John C. Cutler is appointed to preside over the Manchester Conference.

The nomination of C. S. Crane as deputy recorder was unanimously confirmed.

THE REPORTS AND O. K.

Report of the committee on fire department recommending that the reports of the chief of the fire department for January and year ending December 31, 1890, be received and filed and that the yearly report be published. Adopted.

MERCHANTS' LICENSE.

The following resolution from the Chamber of Commerce was received and read.

Resolved, That it is the sense of the Board of Directors of the Salt Lake Chamber of Commerce that the recommendation contained in City Treasurer Walker's annual report to the Mayor and City Council of Salt Lake City, that merchants' license be abolished, be hereby endorsed and that the City Council be requested to make such change. Committee on finance.

Mr. Pembroke called attention to the fact that the Great Salt Lake & Hot Springs Railway Company had constructed such a grade on Third West Street that the people living on that street were indignant over it. The grade was so high in some places that it was impossible to drive over it, and he thought it was an outrage. Referred to the city engineer.

FRANCHISE ACCEPTED.

A communication from L. C. Hamilton, in which that gentleman signified his acceptance of the franchise recently granted to him by the Council to construct and operate a street railway on Second South Street west, was read and filed.

The city engineer stated that it was the practice of owners of subdivisions to have their plats approved, after which they neglected to file them for record. The matter was referred to the committee on municipal laws, with instructions to submit an ordinance governing the same.

POLICE OFFICERS' SALARIES.

The ordinance creating the offices of captain of police and three duty sergeants was read twice and laid over for one week.

The ordinance provides that the mayor, by and with the consent of the Council, shall appoint from the police force, a captain of police and three duty sergeants; the captain shall receive $150 per month and the three duty sergeants $110 each per month.

POLICE OFFICERS APPOINTED.

Mayor Scott then sent in the following nominations:

Captain of Police—W. H. Parker.

Sergeants—John Donovan and Ed Jeanley.

Committee on police.

AS TO TAX REFUNDERS.

An ordinance relating to pawnbrokers was read and laid over for one week.

The ordinance provides that any person who loans money on personal property or buys such property on condition of selling it back again to the pledgee, or who loans or advances money on personal property by taking a chattel mortgage thereon, is a pawnbroker; that no person shall engage in the business without a license; that any attorney, all persons, before receiving such a license, shall produce to the Mayor or Council evidence of their good character; every person receiving such a license shall pay into the treasury a tax of $100 per annum, and no license shall be issued for a less period than six months; every pawnbroker shall keep a memorandum of all articles received, the amount loaned on them and the name of the person pawning them, and this shall be open to the inspection of the police authorities; every pawnbroker shall deliver to the chief of police each day except Sundays, a description of all goods received; no pawnbroker shall receive any greater rate of interest than 24 per cent, nor charge upon any loan and exceeding $25, or 36 per cent, per annum upon any loan exceeding the sum of $25; no pawnbroker shall receive any article in pawn from a person who is intoxicated or who is known to be an habitual drunkard, a child or any person under 21 years, or from any person under the age of twenty-one years; nor shall any pawnbroker employ any clerk under the age of sixteen years; no sale or redemption of any goods before the hour of 7 a.m. or after 6 p.m. Any person failing to comply with the ordinance shall, upon conviction, be fined in any sum not less than $20 nor more than $200 for each offence, and upon second offence, the Council may revoke the license.

RESERVOIR SITES.

The following resolutions were submitted by Mr. Pembroke:

Whereas, The United States government asked two years ago appropriated funds to provide for the selection of reservoir sites in certain sections of the country, and

Whereas, That Utah lake was selected as a site for such reservoir by the government for that purpose, and

Whereas, Senator Sherman did recommend and secure the withdrawal from purchase and settlement of all government lands in the vicinity of said lake, which action position should be made by Congress to purchase contiguous lands for the purpose of storing water therein, and

Whereas, By bringing to the city a great quantity of Utah Lake water we shall be enabled to increase our supply of water to the extent of many millions of gallons daily, which will be of immense value to this city, therefore be it

Resolved, That as agent be appointed to wait upon the proper committees of Congress to urge the passage of a bill for the purpose of the establishment of this government reservoir.

Mayor Scott appointed a committee consisting of Karrick, Parsons and Pembroke, to look the matter up and report.

A Land Case Ruled Upon.

Copy of a ruling by Secretary of the Interior Noble to Commissioner Groff of the General Land Office relative to the act of Congress of August 30, 1890, which act amended several land laws, was received by the United States Land Office officials yesterday. The important feature is that the act in question applies to mining and coal land entries as well as to agricultural land entries. The act will enable those withdrawing all reservoir sites and land susceptible of irrigation from such reservoirs was seen to work a horrible, once it is effect withdraw all lands from entry within the arid region. Congress is expected as to make it apply to entries in land been already selected by the geological survey for reservoir sites, but it is amended all land entries that are perfect, companies could acquire title to more than six acres under all the acts. At first this was presumed to apply only to agricultural entries, such as preemption, homestead, desert and timber culture entries, but the ruling now made by the Secretary of the Interior is to the effect that it applies to all lands, including mineral and coal lands.

More Work for the Lawyers.

In the Third District Court yesterday, John M. Grow entered a suit for divorce against her husband, Henry Grow. The complaint alleges that they have been married thirty-two years, and have thirteen children. Notwithstanding that defendant is making $200 per month by the practice of medicine at Ogden, he refuses and refuses from supporting his wife, and the five children who are under age. She prays for a decree and an allowance for support.

The Salt Lake Power, Light and Heating Company has also filed a suit against the Salt Lake Sanitarium Association, praying for a judgment in the sum of $1,000 for injuries done.

The third suit is that of W. C. Stilwell, Peter M. Butts, T. C. Burns and John Stallman, who set up the fact that they are the owners of the Pahin mining claim, which lies in close proximity to the Northern Spy mine. That the claim is valuable on account of the water on it, and that the Northern Spy people have broke in on them and taken water, without consent, to their damage in the sum of $500. For this they ask judgment and pray for a restraining order.

RAILWAY WRECK.

Caused By the Collision of a Freight and Passenger Train.

A collision between a freight and a passenger train occurred on the Utah Northern at 9:55 o'clock yesterday morning. The passenger train, the Salt Lake and Butte fast mail, which pulled out from the depot at 9:30 a. m. Just as the passenger train rounded the curve near the Anheuser Busch bottling works, an extra freight from the north came thundering along.

Both trains were running at a good rate of speed, and it was an impossibility to stop. The engineers saw a collision was inevitable, but were not startled. The baggage car of the passenger train and a box car of the freight were badly demolished, and were astride of the track. Fortunately no one was injured, although one of the brakemen of the freight was thrown from a car by the force of the shock, but landed on his feet unhurt.

A gang of men were soon at work removing the wreck and placing the derailed cars on the track. The work occupied nearly four hours, and the passenger train was delayed in consequence. It is stated that the engineer of the freight train was running on the passenger train's time, and was responsible for the collision.—Standard

The following premiums are paid in middle Sweden for the killing of beasts and birds of prey: For a fox killed between April 1 and October 1, 35 cents; for an eagle, $1.35; for a hawk, 45 cents; and for a crow, 90 cents.

POLICE COURT.

A Dealer in Second Hand Goods Fined.—A Relieved Prisoner Arraigned.—Other Business.

Harry Wolf was arraigned in the Police Court today for failure to record the purchase of second hand goods. He pled guilty to the charge and asked the leniency of the court, stating that he was not aware that the law required a record of such purchases to be kept. Hereafter he proposed to keep within the law.

Justice Laney, in reviewing the case, informed the defendant that the keepers of second hand stores and junk shops are a source of much trouble to the police, inasmuch as they befriend and shield petty thieves by purchasing stolen goods from them without making a record of the transaction. Invariably when arraigned in the courts they plead ignorance of the law.

In this instance, however, Justice Laney believed there were unusual extenuating circumstances and imposed upon Wolf the light fine of $5 and costs.

Joseph Zan Zotta, a native of sunny Italy, plead guilty to being inebriated drunk. He was sentenced to fifteen days' imprisonment at hard labor.

Wm. Smith, Charles Marshall and Joe Collins, a tough trio of drunks who were apprehended last night on the I. X. L. saloon, were also sentenced to fifteen days' confinement each in the city jail.

Dan Daily, who was arrested on the charge of inebriety on Monday night, and who was subsequently taken up a street on policeman, appeared for trial. His head was fearfully bruised and swollen and presented a ghastly and shocking sight, as the blood trickled down his face from a long scalp wound. Daily was assessed in the sum of $5, in default of which he was remanded to jail, where he will remain until the law is satisfied. It is alleged that Daily resisted arrest, but such a claim does not justify an officer in clubbing the face of his hapless victim until it is made unrecognizable by his best friends.

May and Frank Smith, two females of unsavory reputation, are under arrest for vagrancy.

Bogus Check Fiend.

The bogus check fiend is again plying his profession. Last evening a smooth talking and well dressed young man entered the Fourteenth Ward store, on Third South Street, and bought a bill of goods amounting to $6.80 and ordered the articles sent to A. C. Watson, 223 north, Fourth West Street. In payment for the articles purchased he presented a check on the Deseret National Bank for $15, payable to bearer. Not having sufficient money in the till to make proper change, Mr. Simpson, the proprietor of the store, informed the fellow that he had better lay something else. "Very well," said the sharper promptly, "send me three dollars worth of coal oil instead." Mr. Simpson demurred at parting with oil of the small change, and the fellow commenced to manifest nervous and uneasy. The proprietor's suspicions was aroused and he now refused to accept the check under any consideration. The sharper then follow beat a hasty retreat and suddenly disappeared in the darkness.

In order to satisfy himself, Mr. Simpson today made an attempt to find the address given by the sharper, and found that no such place exists.

Salt Lake Theatre.

We need make no apology to again calling the attention of our readers to the treat in store for lovers of the legitimate drama at the Salt Lake Theatre. There are but few actors today who can properly delineate Shakespeare's men and women, and of these Mr. Warde and Mrs. Bowers are notable examples. The peculiar construction of "Henry VIII." requires exceptional talent, which they undoubtedly possess.

Mr. Warde needs no special commendatory mention. He has won eminence and esteem in his calling. Assisted by such a distinguished artiste as Mrs. Bowers, and supported by a large company of well-known performers of tested merit, the most perfect artistic results may be relied upon.

Matinee night will be given "Henry VIII." On Friday night "The Merchant of Venice and "Katherine and Petruchio" Saturday matinee, "Virginius" Saturday night, "Macbeth."

The Tabernacle Choir.

The new platform being now completed and the three hundred seats fixed, it is necessary that every member of the Tabernacle choir attend the next two rehearsals, in order that all may receive instructions in regard to the future place under the new arrangement.

It has been decided to reopen the Tabernacle with an entertainment, for which the choir has been busily rehearsing for some time past. In order that every voice may count to the fullest extent, it is imperative that members attend all rehearsals.

EVAN STEPHENS, Conductor.

THE charge against T. C. Aldrich, of embezzling the sum of $1,000 belonging to Ben Wimmerson, has collapsed. Money was never brought, shortly after the case was called in Commissioner Pratt's court yesterday afternoon, attorney Critchlow, President of the Silver Spoon Building Association, had arrived in the city, and on his explanation he was discharged. The case was settled by the parties. Berkeley moved that the complaint be dismissed. Commissioner Pratt said he would expect the discharge of the defendant.

The steamer Argo, of Helsingfors, Finland, was wrecked the other day off Aalnaga, Denmark. Of the crew, fifteen men and three women were saved, two were frozen to death in sleigh, and one had been washed overboard.

The poor fellow had no money on hand. But just in time, he received a registered letter from America, containing a draft for seven hundred kronor, the payment in full of the original debt. The debtor also wrote a few lines asking forgiveness. The recipient's joy is easy to be imagined.

Why They Failed.

The Chicago Tribune has been having what it calls a symposium of failures—that is, of people who are poor and miserable. They give to The Tribune their reasons for their misfortunes in life. The letters are interesting, but the result is not all to the taste of the editor, who thereupon proceeds to torture the miserables on his own account.

He is struck with the disingenuousness of the failures. They are disposed to blame everybody else for the fact that they have not got on well in life. The "reasons and excuses" are very far-fetched. The Tribune's definition of a failure is a person who, at the close of Methuseleh's, middle-aged woman of this be who when he began, and who died advanced at least a little beyond the accompaniment of his father, who has failed to make a decent and comfortable living, and who leaves nothing behind to impress on him. In such case, indeed, he has been debarred by accident or circumstance more than the immense majority who have to be a failure in the current that he lives below the average of his fellows.

The Tribune's manuscript on the causes of failure which the miserables in its sanctum fling in, tends to the same point. They assign the desire to get rich by short cuts and without hard work. Some of the hardest working men in America today are among the millionaires. Idleness is another cause of failure. But there is one cause of failure more than all the rest probably, and that The Tribune does not lay sufficient stress on. That is want of pluck. It is the one who cannot be knocked down and stamped on that is the man who succeeds at last. Fate may make a football of him for fifty years, but he will yet come out right side up and make his fortune. If people only would be more pluck and more there is in simply holding on and never giving up there would be more rich men and women in the world by far than there are today. If one plan is not successful it simply shows this was not the right way, not that the man who failed in making it work has exhausted his powers. To the man who knows with any sense it shows anything but that.

The Tribune editor writes:

The case of accuracy in a possible cause of failure. Such is the product during of money and his published investment. There is no more sure to congratulate than that of living within one's income, saving a portion of it and placing it where it will increase by interest and profit. There is no more need to be incompetent than being honest and industrious, and hoping to make up a streak of luck at the beginning of the year.

Another frequent cause of failure is the lack of ability to recognize the real opportunities and improper management of the business. Many of the failures, if one's thought were so clear and well ordered, there would be fewer failures. This, however, is not a reproachful cause, and it is a pity that it is a special gift, and sometimes an insuperable obstacle. We could not give it to ourselves.

There are the principal causes of failure in the lists of those unfortunate people, considerably from, considerably fewer than we should have expected to find in the same general order as the most common. We do not assert, however, that those who have failed are a fair representation of the general mass of the population. They are only to assign the causes of failure in the right case. They are not numerous enough to do that, and we do not wish to give up to themselves that the fault is their misfortune, and that of their friends, their persons or the world's.

The Vocalion

Is the most wonderful musical instrument of the age. It possesses the full power and sweetness of a large pipe organ twice its size without the large expense and great susceptibility to climate always found in pipe organs. The greatest organists, both at home and abroad, say the Vocalion is the wonder of the age. and Prof. C. J. Dayton selected personally a Vocalion for the Twentieth Ward chair. Taggart & Chamberlain have the exclusive agency for Utah. Terms cash, or they will be pleased to show all their friends this magnificent instrument.

Several years ago Chamberlain & Co., of Des Moines, Iowa, commenced the manufacture of a cough syrup, believing it to be the most prompt and effective preparation yet produced for coughs, colds and croup, that the public appreciate true merit, and in time it was certain to become popular. Their most sanguine hopes have been more than realized. Over three hundred thousand bottles of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy are now sold each year, and it is recognized as "The best made," where ever known. It will cure a severe cold in less time than any other treatment. For sale by Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept.

Damaged Furniture Sale.

P. W. Madsen has completed the sale of furniture damaged by the late fire in the Hooper & Eldredge block. The stock was in the cellar of the Western Shoe and Dry Goods Co., and hence was only damaged by water. On Monday, February 9, in the basement of the store Mr. Madsen will commence the sale of all this stock, which consists of a great assortment of baby carriages, bed room sets, chairs and tables. Everything must go, and parties on the lookout for bargains in furniture should be on hand promptly next early Monday morning at the well known furniture house in Masonic Temple. The sale will continue throughout the week, and everything is marked down to sell. 6dtf

If Your House is on Fire

You put water on the burning timbers, not on the smoke. And if you have catarrh you should attack the disease in the blood, not in your nose. Remove the impure cause, and the local effect cannot follow. To do this, take Hood's Sarsaparilla, the great blood purifier, which radically and permanently cures catarrh. It also strengthens the nerves. Be sure to get only Hood's Sarsaparilla.

SUMMONS.

In the District Court in and for the Third Judicial District of Utah Territory, County of Salt Lake.

William Wasilev, Plaintiff.

Mary Ann Wasilev, Defendant.

The People of the Territory of Utah send Greeting: To Mary Ann Wasilev, Defendant:

You are hereby notified that you are required to appear in an action brought against you by the above named plaintiff in the District Court of the Third Judicial District, in and for the County of Salt Lake, and to answer the complaint filed therein, within ten days after the service on you of this summons (not including the day of service) after service on you of this summons, if served within this county, and if served out of this county, but in this Territory, within twenty days, or within forty days if served elsewhere, or judgment by default will be taken against you according to the prayer of said complaint.

This said action is brought to have a decree of divorce dissolving the bonds of matrimony between the plaintiff and defendant, plaintiff praying for the custody of the minor children of the said plaintiff and defendant, and for the plaintiff and defendant, and for the plaintiff and defendant, and for the
