

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

The Territorial Supreme Court met yesterday afternoon and adjourned until tomorrow.

Brother Wm. Clegg is announced for the 4th Ward to-morrow Friday evening in Original Recitations. Meeting at usual time.

The funeral services of Mother Whitney will be conducted at the Salt Lake Assembly Hall to-morrow, beginning at 11 a.m.

Arizona wants immigrants that can handle the pick. Salt Lake can supply them.

A man gathering mushrooms was told that they were poisonous. "I am not going to eat them myself; I sell them at the hotel."

The forenoon a heavy storm set in. The heavy flakes have been unusually large. The streets are covered with a thick coating of snow, and are compelled to use them hereafter. This will be a saving on fingers and hands.

The bees are swarming, and there's no end to them," said farmer Jones, coming into the house. His little boy George came in a second afterwards and said there was an end to one of 'em, and it was red hot.

A young man named Bird has shown us an oil painting he has executed. It shows considerable merit for a beginner, the principal point being the expression upon the faces of the subjects, a couple of nudes.

The monthly meeting of the officers of the Y. L. M. A. will be held Saturday 18th at 2 p. m. at the residence of Mrs. Maria Dougal, opposite the "Latter-day A. All interested are invited to attend.

MARY A. FREEZE.

A school-teacher asked, "What time is large enough to carry off a man? Nobody knew, but one little girl suggested 'a lark.' And then she explained. 'Mamma said papa wouldn't be home until Monday, because he had gone off on a lark.'"

A young man proposed for the hand of a beautiful girl. As she hesitated about replying, he said, "I await your answer with bated breath." The girl, who is in a good deal of humor, said, "Well, sir, man, you will have to wait your breath with something besides Valley Tan whiskey and Limburger cheese to catch your humble servant."

A medical writer says the healthiest nation to live with is the least (to the north). People who keep near should bear this in mind. There are some people who suppose it is also best to live with the least to the north, when sleeping. Many people now-a-days, lie a great deal while awake, and they don't seem to be particular about the direction of their heads, so long as the lying is about the "Stomach."

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

The Remains.—Those who desire to view the remains of Mother Whitney can do so at privilege between 10 and 11 a.m. to-morrow, at the Assembly Hall. They will not be seen after the services begin.

Fatal Result.—William Wyatt, who was shot at Silver Reef on Sunday morning, died at one o'clock yesterday morning. Van Stanz and Mix, the parties charged with the homicide, have been committed to await the action of the grand jury, on a charge of murder.

Sister Derr Dead.—It will be seen by a notice in another column that the wife of Brother William Derr, who has been ill for some time past, died last evening. The funeral services will be held at 1:30 p. m. to-morrow, at the 10th Ward School-house.

One of the Oldest Members.—One of the few members who were baptized in the same year the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints was organized, Ives C. Panner, Lincoln County, Nevada. We refer to Clarinda Stanton, wife of Daniel Stanton, who was baptized by Oliver Cowdery, November 30th, 1830. Mother Whitney, who died yesterday, embraced the Gospel in the same year.

The Edmunds' Bill.—Edmunds' anti-polygamy bill is to be voted on at 5:30 p.m. to-morrow. Senator Edmunds appears to manifest indecent haste in pushing this outrageous measure. He is working to prevent speech-making or discussion on the bill. This is probably because the hideous character of the measure would be exhibited by ventilation and its passage be thus impeded, or perhaps tarred by the more thoughtful in the senatorial body.

A Change.—It will be seen by a new advertisement in to-day's issue that the firm lately known as Lattimer, Taylor & Co., has undergone a change, and will hereafter be known as T. J. Rounsey & Armstrong. Everything in the building line can be obtained from this house of the best quality and at reasonable terms as anywhere else. The members are so well and favorably known that it is needless to state that they are in every way reliable, doing a strictly legitimate business.

Cattle Stealing.—We learn from our correspondent, W. H. at Huntington, Emery County, that a couple of young men at that place had an examination on a lately had an examination on a charge of grand larceny. By the evidence given, the case seemed to be plain against them. The crime consisted of shooting cattle on the range. An animal had been dressed and the quarters hid in some rocks; the hide and part of the head had been burned, but enough of the head left to identify the ear marks, showing the animal to belong to the Miller Bros. of Mt. Pleasant. Another animal belonging to Wm. H. Gentry had been shot down but left untouched. The accused were hauled over in the remarkably small sum of $200 to appear before the grand jury at Provo.

DEATH OF MOTHER WHITNEY.

As stated in the NEWS, the demise of Elizabeth A. Whitney, familiarly known as Mother Whitney, occurred shortly after two o'clock yesterday. The cause of death was, as well known, general debility produced by old age. Her last illness was very protracted, and, considering her enfeebled condition for an extended period, it is remarkable that she held out as long as she did. During the several weeks past the longest of life seemed so dimly that her death was momentarily expected.

Although her memory is embalmed in the esteem and affection of thousands, her loss to her friends is softened by the comforting assurance that to her death came as a sweet and happy relief to herself. She was not only ripe in age, but in wisdom, embellished with one of the most gentle and heavenly dispositions ever possessed by mortal man. Her husband was an element of trust, foreign to her nature, and in this as well as many other particulars, her course was worthy the emulation of the daughters of Israel.

Elizabeth Ann Whitney was the wife of Bishop Newell K. Whitney. She was born in Derry, New Haven County, Conn., Dec. 29, 1804, and was the eldest child of Gibson and Polly Bradley Smith. She received in early life the most judicious training and was carefully educated according to the customs of her period. When about 18 years of age she went with a maiden aunt to Ohio, and subsequently became acquainted with Mr. Whitney, a young merchant, to whom she was married October 20th, 1823, by Rev. Mr. Badger, a Presbyterian minister. Some time after their marriage they both joined the Latter-day Church. Mother Whitney was baptized in November, 1830, in the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints, and has ever been a faithful and devoted member.

She was designated in the early days of the Church, "the sweet songstress of Zion," by the Prophet himself. She was among the first members of the Church in this dispensation who received the gift of tongues, which she always exercised in singing. The Prophet Joseph said that the language was the pure "Adamic," the same that was used in the Garden of Eden, and declared that if she kept the faith it would never leave her. It never did, and those who have heard her sing will never forget the sweet and holy influence that accompanied her exercise of this heavenly gift. The last time she sang in tongues was on the day she was 81 years old, at the house of Sister Emmeline B. Wells, the latter having got up a party in honor of the anniversary of her birthday.

We may here state that Sister Wells and the deceased were bound to each other by the closest ties of affection and friendship, which never were broken till the moment of separation by the visit of the angel of death.

At a meeting in Kirtland Temple for patriarchal blessings, presided over by Joseph Smith, senior, Sister Whitney sang in tongues and Elder Parley P. Pratt interpreted, the result being a beautiful hymn, descriptive of the different dispensations from Adam to that of the latter days. Had we space at command we would give it here.

She was the second of her sex that received the endowment, being a High Priestess in the House of the Lord, in which capacity she officiated until lately, when she was compelled to relinquish her labors on account of failing health. In her position it was her privilege to bless hundreds, and it might be said to say to many of the daughters of Zion.

Bishop Whitney and family left Kirtland for Missouri in 1835, but hearing the Saints were being driven from that State they remained in Carlton, Ill., during the winter of 1835-36, and in the spring of 1836, went to Nauvoo.

In Nauvoo Mother Whitney endured much hardship and privation but never murmured against her lot; always cheerful, and looking on the bright side, encouraging her husband in the performance of every duty, although she might be left destitute and alone. At the time of the organization of the Relief Society in Nauvoo, Mother Whitney was chosen and ordained as first counselor to the president, Emma Smith, which position she filled with honor and credit. At the time of the exodus from Nauvoo she crossed the Mississippi river on the ice in the dead of winter with a family of little children, and from sleeping in a tent on the frozen ground, she contracted a cold which settled in her lungs, producing rheumatism from which she never entirely recovered, but has always suffered more or less. Her youngest son, Newell M., was born at winter quarters, and she passed through such scenes of sorrow and suffering as no pen can portray. Her two oldest sons, Hiram and Oliver, were among the pioneers of '47. Bishop Whitney and family came to the valley in Hester C. Kimball's company, arriving here in October, 1843. In September, 1859, Bishop Whitney died, leaving her with a family of nine children.

She was gifted with many of the most amiable qualities of womanhood—kindness, meekness, humility, the power of self-sacrifice and the spirit of peace seemed to rest ever upon her. She has often been alluded to as "the comforter," so powerful have been her efforts to help others. Her ministrations among the sick and afflicted cannot be numbered. During her recent illness she often said, "Father's time is the best time," and again, "I am to suffer all that I ought to suffer." She had the most careful attention and nursing from her daughter, Mrs. Mary Jane Groo, and other dear relatives and friends.

She has been the mother of eleven children—seven sons and four daughters—six now living. She has thirty-two grandchildren and thirteen great-grandchildren.

Deceased was said to be the second oldest member of the Church at the time of her death. Her individuality and course of life were so pure, noble and every way estimable, that the recollection of her exalted life will live in the memories of those who still remain.

The services will be conducted at the Salt Lake Assembly Hall, to-morrow, Friday, at 11 a. m. Seats will be reserved for the officers of the Relief Society.

Not in Emery.—Last month we gave details of the killing of David L. Blizard, by young Snyder, at Ashley Fork, which place was stated at the time to be in Emery County, which is not the case, being located in Uintah County, of which latter county Mr. Johnson, who brought the prisoner to this city, is a sheriff. John L. Blizard is sheriff of Emery County. A gentleman who resides in Emery County, in forms us that that portion of the Territory is best enough without being credited with the evil perpetrations of its near neighbor. We willingly take the late homicide off the shoulders of Emery and place it on the back of Uintah.

Murder Case.—The time of the District Court was occupied this morning in empanelling a jury to try the case of the People, etc., vs. Jos. Biddlecomb, indicted for the murder of a young man named Jensen, in Tooele County. The trial began at two o'clock.

Reports Wanted.—Superintendents of Sunday Schools are requested to send in their annual reports for 1881 to their State Superintendents, if they have not already done so, before the end of this month, so that the State Reports can be forwarded to the Deseret Sunday School Union as soon as possible.

George Goddard, Asst. Gen. Supt.

Corrections.—In yesterday's report of the Tooele embezzlement case, Mr. Burnmaster was charged with being engaged in the withdrawal of the records from the delegates elect. Such, however, is not the case. Mr. Burnmaster endeavored to persuade Martin and Bird to perform their duties in delivering the records to the officers elect.

Another error also appeared in stating that a posse of 30 men took the offices by force. No force was used, the duly elected and qualified officers merely assuming the duties of such, without the formal receiving of the records.
