FRAGMENTS.

Hoyt Concert (special session) Wednesday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Jewess of the Press Club is reported to be improving so soon are the other sick members of the family.

WANDELL & ADAMS the well known law firm have removed to rooms 217 and 219 in the McCornick block.

The county clerk issued a marriage license this morning to Dick Tomlinberg, 23, and Mayo Atkeson, 21, both of Ogden.

MISS HAZLEHURST, who was so tenderly assaulted by her husband on Sunday night, is said to have passed the danger line and her recovery cannot be considered doubtful.

The Salt Lake bunco sharper is beginning to compare of late days. The fact is that his opportunities for turning crises have not been quite so numerous of late, and of course he varies his sensations accordingly.

Rumors of an over the various bodies of water to and about the city now and good skating can be found on some of them and the exhilarating sport is now being indulged in by youngsters to a considerable extent.

The usual sign of actual winter weather is to be had at most when snowflakes blind the air and sopping winds blow around the corners in a manner that caused pedestrians to draw their outer garments more closely around them.

Broke His Arm.

That doctor are not accident proof has again been proven and that to a painful manner by a well-known member of the medical fraternity. The unfortunate individual in his haste to Dr. Bonnell who had the misfortune to break his left arm above the wrist. The doctor was engaged in this pastime instructing a job of putting up and lighting a stove pipe. To do so he was obliged to stand on a rickety table, which toppled over throwing him to the floor with great severity resulting in the injury indicated. A brother physician, Dr. A. R. Smith, attended to the setting of the broken member.

CONSISTENT POLITICS.

A Liberal Democrat Who is a Believer in the Doctrine that to the Victor Belongs the Spoils.

An interesting story is being told in the quiet part now in which a prominent Liberal Democrat of this city is the central figure. As the story goes he was accosted by a friend the other day who has been holding a lucrative appointive position under the city government for nearly four years, and who, apparently, from his efforts, is anxious to secure a fine lease on his job. The friend asked for his endorsement for reappointment at the expiration of his present term of office, but was nonplussed when he received a positive denial. "You ask why I don't endorse you? Well then I'll tell you," said the politician. "I believe firmly in the doctrine that to the victor belongs the spoils. We fought the other side and were squarely beaten and I think that we should take our medicine like men. Not one of us applied to anything better or a result of the election than courteous treatment in common with all other citizens. In the light of what has transpired I must decline absolutely to endorse anyone who is in office under the party chosen yesterday. While I wish you well in your business undertakings I do not think you are entitled to reappointment and therefore I cannot say that I wish you success in your efforts to secure it. There is ample time yet in politics and there should be carte blanche there."

COUNTY COURT BUSINESS.

The Salaries of County Officers Passed Upon at Last.

Considerable work was done by the county court after the NEWS report went to press.

The officers' salary question was taken up at 4 o'clock and after a protracted discussion the following was passed:

"Whereas, The Territorial legislature of 1892 endowed the offices of city recorder and city treasurer and provided for the assessment and collection of city taxes by the officers of the respective counties and by virtue of the said enactment the fees of the legislature of Salt Lake City handled obligations to pay a fixed sum of the total amount of taxes collected for said city each year; then such sum is presumed to be in payment for assessing, extending the tax rolls, making requisitions, collecting and turning over the city properties of the tax; therefore, be it

"Resolved, That the sum be added to the salaries of the respective county officers charged with the assessment and collection of taxes and that when so strained and extended the salaries of the various officers of Salt Lake county for the year 1893 shall be as follows:

County clerk	$[illegible]
County assessor	[illegible]
County treasurer	[illegible]
County recorder	[illegible]
County sheriff	[illegible]
County assessor	[illegible]

Then another lengthy discussion of compensation of deputies, clerks and assistants.

Much time was occupied with the consideration of numerous claims against the county, and the clerk was instructed to communicate with Counselor Hardy on the subject.

A communication from George R. Squires & Co., of Bingham, asserting that the jurisdiction of justice courts within a county without a city was fixed. The county attorney has already given his opinion that warrants issued to received for liquor licenses.

Upon a report from Sheriffman Morris, the petitions of Joseph E. Morris and Chas. Hawley for the appointment of a justice of the peace and a constable, were granted. Joseph E. Morris was appointed justice and Charles Hawley constable.

High Council.

A special meeting of the High Council of the Salt Lake Stake of Zion is called for Wednesday, November 22nd, 1893, at 7:30 p. m. A full attendance of all the members is requested. ANGUS M. CANNON, President of Stake.

U. P. TRAIN SERVICE.

A Number of Very Important Changes to be Made by the Company.

WILL TAKE EFFECT ON SUNDAY.

The Cache Valley Train Will Leave This City at 5:15 P. M. Daily—Regular Trains on the Utah Nevada Again.

The important changes in the local railway service on the part of the Union Pacific which the NEWS made ago, announced would be instituted in the near future in anticipation of the executive edicts of the Southern Pacific and for other reasons but recently by the company itself, will take effect on the 25th inst., Sunday next. Chief Clerk Spencer today furnished the following statement which gives the arrival and departure of trains and all detail information to the travelling public:

There will be no change in time of arrival of Limited Fast Mail which now reaches Salt Lake at 9:00 a.m., the Fast Mail for the east, however, will leave Salt Lake at 7:00 a.m. instead of 7:30 a.m. This change is made for the purpose of meeting Chicago early enough to make connection with all of the fast trains from Chicago to points east, certain lines having the early eve fixed the time of their trains and will reach the Union Pacific in time to reach New York at least eight hours earlier than heretofore.

The local train for Ogden and intermediate points will leave Salt Lake at 9:00 a.m., arriving in Ogden at 10:40 a.m. The train now leaving Salt Lake for Ogden at 5:00 p.m. will remain as at 5:45 p.m. and will make connections with the Southern Pacific train for San Francisco. This will be a through train for all points in Cache Valley, leaving Ogden at 6:00 p.m. and arriving in Logan at 8:00 p.m.

The Atlantic Express now leaving Salt Lake at 6:30 p.m. will leave at 7 p.m. carrying mail of the Boise and Portland sleeper. Connections will be made with the train at Cache Junction for points in Cache Valley, arriving at Logan at 12:10 a.m.

The Butte express now arriving in Salt Lake at 10 a.m. will arrive at 10:10 a.m., connection will be made at Cache Junction with the train by a local train from Cache Valley points and to accommodate Butte a special passenger train from Cache Valley points will leave Logan at 6:30 a.m., arriving at Ogden at 8:30 a.m. and Salt Lake 10:10 a.m.

The Pacific express now arriving in Salt Lake at 11:00 a.m. will hereafter arrive at 4:00 p.m. The change in time of this train is occasioned through the change of transit for Southern Pacific trains out of Ogden which now leaves at 4 p.m. instead at 3:00 p.m. A local passenger train will be run from Ogden to Salt Lake leaving Ogden at 6:15 p.m. arriving at Salt Lake at 7:25 p.m.

It will be seen from the above that on and after Sunday next there will be two trains each way between Salt Lake and Cache Valley points; the regular passenger arriving at Salt Lake at 10:10 a.m. and returning meeting Salt Lake at 2:45 p.m.

Through coaches between above points will be run on these trains.

In addition to the above changes, arrangements have been made for daily train service, Sundays excepted, between Salt Lake and the terminus on the Utah Nevada branch.

Sunday School Union.

There was a very fair attendance at the monthly meeting of the officers and teachers of the Deseret Sunday School Union last evening in the Fourteenth ward assembly hall, Supt. T. G. Driggs presiding. The opening prayer was offered by Elder George Gluck.

The lecturer of the evening was Prof. Geo. H. Brimhall of the B. Y. Academy at Provo, his subject being the "Loaves."

The speaker started out by saying, "There can be no true education without divine assistance." No one method can be set down as being the only proper system of teaching the youth, as circumstances and conditions have to be taken into account, but to be successful there must be systematic study of the subject in hand. The leaflet in the hands of the teacher suggests three questions in the mind of the pupils—the youngest one will say, "What is it?" Those older will say, "How does it work?" while the more mature will say, "What is the reason of its working?" The primary then went on to describe how these various questions should be answered by the teacher and gave a practical illustration of his method of teaching from the leaflet. In the assembly, the questions being, for the women, a close studying from the leaflet. The lesson concluded last evening was the baptism of our Savior, by John the Baptist, and various questions and answers were given to and answered from the body of the hall. The speaker advised the use of maps to show the country of the places where the Savior's ministry transpired, and several descriptions of the cities, giving the scholars to understand that the spot on the mountain where, for the second time, it was that the appearance of the place spoken of did not look like the transpiration on the map. He also recommended frequent questioning of the pupils and drawing out from them their own home in regards to the subject treated of, and also familiarizing the students with the Bible by having them frequently refer to it, finding chapter and verse.

He paid a high tribute to those who had engaged in making the leaflet what they are and said should be in every school, and made the practical study of the various classes.

The Union Choir gave rendering three beautiful selections.

After transacting the meeting adjourned for one month.

Notes and Mortgage.

It was seven o'clock last evening when Judge Dalton, without a jury, took up the hearing of the case of Blackburn Bros. & Spindler vs. Charles A. Nelson, Thomas H. Stevens and A. H. Kelly. The plaintiffs claimed $[illegible], alleged to be due on 37 notes secured by a chattel mortgage on certain printing material and fixtures. The material appears to have been purchased by C. Sam Nichols, and Kelly and Stevens were his security. In a supplemental complaint it was alleged that Nichols sold the material to Stevens and Kelly, and that they agreed to pay the amount of the notes since the original complaint was filed. The defendants, Stevens and Kelly, in their supplemental answer, stoge that they signed the notes only as sureties, and received no consideration therefor, and deny that Nichols had sold the material to them the consideration referred to, or that they had promised or agreed with Nichols or the plaintiffs to pay the notes mentioned. The defendants further allege that for some time prior to the date of the notes Nichols purchased from the plaintiffs the said personal property, and owed them the sum of $[illegible]. Plaintiffs were pressing Nichols for payment, and later the plaintiffs, through their agent, Charles F. Bates, and C. S. Nichols, conspired and delivered together to deprive, injure and defraud defendants by representing that the property described in the said mortgage was worth between $1700 and $[illegible], and that Nichols was forgiven to sell the same within a few days, when in fact it was not worth to exceed $700. Hence defendants allege they were damaged in the sum of $[illegible], and ask that the notes be surrendered into court and canceled and delivered to them.

The case was submitted without argument.

Sympathy for the Parents.

There is wide spread sorrow among the many friends of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Walker, over the death from typhoid fever of their youngest daughter, Sybil. The deceased was a beautiful child, tender and true. Her years were bright and sunny and she was the love and idolatry of all who knew her, and now that she has departed from this life, a cloud with the crimson lining over the dark that she has been summoned into the unseen world. Always frail and delicate, she was the constant recipient and object of special attention and latest and the sympathy of the community will go out over her well tried in so small degree to make less poignant and lessening the sorrow that has come to the bereaved parents.

NON-PARTISAN SCHOOL CALL.

First Precinct Citizens Follow in the Wake of the Third.

The citizens of the First precinct, actuated by the same desire to keep politics out of the approaching school election as the voters of the Third municipal ward, have issued the following call:

The undersigned, residents and voters of the First precinct in Salt Lake City, representatives of the various political parties, do hereby call for a mass convention of the voters of said precinct for the purpose of nominating a non-partisan candidate for a member of the board of education for said First precinct, the date of said convention to be announced later. We believe that it is for the best interests of the schools of this city that they should be in the hands of a non-partisan board of education.

Report Denied.

London, Nov. 20.—In response to inquiries in reference to the story of the order received by the admiral commanding the British fleet in the Pacific that no British war ships shall enter the port of San Francisco except under exceptional circumstances, because of the noisy demonstrations there, the officials at the admiralty office say they place no credit in the story. They say no orders have been given the admiral not to allow the ships to call at San Francisco for coal, although he naturally could order that his vessels should not enter the port if he deemed it necessary. The whole story is believed to be based upon the fact that the war ship Royal Arthur will not call at San Francisco.

SHORT TELEGRAMS.

At this hour, 9:30 a.m., Jonesville, a thriving suburb of Birmingham, Ala., is on fire. A dozen costly villas are in ashes and others are on fire, and the wind blowing forty miles an hour. The damage, if the wind continues, will reach $[illegible]. The fire department is powerless to handle the flames.

Gun Island, N. L., the site of the government bonded station, was the scene of another disaster this afternoon. Seven workmen engaged in making an excavation for the erection of a gas engine factory, were buried under a dozen feet of earth through the caving in of a bank. John Hedinger was killed outright and the more will probably die. The remaining men are all painfully hurt.

At the fire yesterday afternoon in a tenement house on Gifford street, Lewiston, Me., Mrs. Albert Dubois and her two children, three and five years old respectively, were in an upper chamber, unable to escape, and all were smothered to death.
