Pima Indians May Buy Liquor Like Other Citizens.

SHOLTO DOUGLAS ON THE STAGE

An Editor Killed by a Train—Musical Director's Divorce Suit—A Manager's Debacle.

Word has been given out that there will be a large reduction in the Union Pacific working force, owing to a falling off from the autumn business.

The Nogales, Arizona, Oasis says: The shipment of olive pees to Spain and Cuba is becoming quite an important branch of commerce in Sonora.

A Josephine county, Or., milliner one morning missed five of her most costly birds' heads. The mystery was explained by the discovery of her two pet kittens cold in death, having been covered by the life-like appearance of the trimmings into a fatal catquest.

The Sinaloa and Sonora Irrigation company has completed five miles of the work of construction on the great canal from Yaqui river, and are making preparations to resume work and push to completion the other one-half.

J. H. Shepard, a pension agent and Grand Army veteran, at Oakland, Cal., is dangerously ill from an attack of heart disease caused by a dream. He suddenly awakened under the impression that he had a lighted lamp in his hand. He arose and before he was thoroughly aroused he struck his head violently against a door. Shepard is aged and has since been very ill.

The dead body of a man was found Monday morning, near the Southern Pacific railway track, about two miles south of Bakersfield, Cal. It is thought he was murdered. A severe fracture on the back of his head caused his death. He appeared about 40 years old, was dark complexioned and a laboring man. From appearances he had been dead several days. The name, Albert Hyer, was marked in his hat.

John Thomas Hill, better known as J. T. Hiller, musical director of the De Wolf Hopper opera company, which appeared in Salt Lake City a few weeks ago, filed suit Monday in San Francisco for divorce from his wife Emma Grace Hill, known to the theatrical world as Jeanette St. Henry, now a member of the Pauline Hall opera company. Plaintiff alleges in his complaint that his wife wilfully deserted him in November, 1894, and refuses to live with him.

John H. Kuerston, secretary of the Druids' Hall association of San Francisco and editor of the Druids' Journal, was struck by the 11:20 o'clock local train at Market street in Oakland Monday night and killed. The accident occurred while Kuerston was in company with a party of friends with whom he had been spending the evening. The train came along without warning, and Mr. Kuerston had no idea of its approach until too late to get off the track.

Lord Sholto Douglas, son of the Marquis of Queensberry, made his first appearance on the stage at San Francisco on Monday night, in the comedy of The Governor. He had no lines to repeat in the piece. The San Francisco Chronicle says of the event: Sholto's appearance was the funniest part of the show, which was supposed to contain three acts of comedy. The lordly scion uttered speech. He never opened his chasm of speech. Not a line was prescribed for him, and it was well, for no 10,000 lines been his part not one of them would he have been able to utter. The cast scheduled Lord Sholto for the part of "Witness to nuptial settlement."

George N. Dewey, once a prominent local photographer, kept a Los Angeles, Cal., police sergeant and two officers at bay for an hour Monday morning with a double-barreled shotgun. The reason officers sought to deprive him of liberty was because he was considered dangerously insane. The officers realized that to make an assault meant death to one of several of them, so they settled down to a siege at long range. Finally Mrs. Dewey succeeded in wheedling her husband into giving her the gun, and the officers then took him into custody. He was examined by a lunacy commission in the afternoon and committed to the asylum.

By a ruling of Judge Baker at Phoenix, Arizona, on Monday, in the United States court, Pima Indians were recognized as citizens of the United States. The tribesmen nearly 300 years ago were declared subjects of the king of Spain by royal edict and the rights of citizenship have been guaranteed them by the treaties wherein Arizona was ceded to the United States. The point was raised in a case wherein a prisoner was charged with selling liquor to a Pima Indian. The court instructed the jury to acquit if it was found that the defendant's transaction was with a Pima Indian. The matter will be finally passed upon by the supreme court in January. The decision affects many thousand Arizona Indians.

Horace Greeley once said: "The way to resume is to resume," speaking of again putting gold into circulation after the war. But you may say "resume" any number of times to that torpid liver of yours and it won't budge until you take Simmons Liver Regulator. Many people seem to forget that Constipation, Biliousness and Sick Headache are all caused by a sluggish liver. Keep the liver active, 2
