MINES AND MINING.

Work of the Brokers in the Pit of the Exchange.

RESOLUTION OFFERED BY AIRS

The Fee Bill to be Protested Against by the Exchange—New Mining Incorporations.

At today's morning call, Mr. E. H. Airs putting notice to the brokers which were made yesterday over the fee bill now before the Legislature, offered the following resolution, which was unanimously adopted both by a vote of the brokers in the pit and also of the spectators in the lobby.

Resolved, That it is the sense of this exchange that the bill now pending before the Legislature in the shape of amendments, is opposed to the interests of brokers, is opposed to the best interests of the mining industry in this state, and that the members of this exchange pledge themselves individually to stand by and support the passage of such bill. It is hereby made the duty of the president of this exchange to appoint a committee to draft a protest against the bill as it now stands.

In accordance with the provisions of the resolution, Mr. G. S. Hooper, who was acting as chairman, appointed Messrs. Airs, Ryan, Brady, Kent, Frank Harris, John W. Donnellan, Carter, Robinson, Ross, Egan and Pendergast to act as the committee to draft a protest which will be filed first in the way into the legislative halls in a day or two.

At the close of the call it was announced that there was still a deficiency in the office fund to defray the expenses of Judge Colfax's trip to New York, and the brokers were requested to come forward and donate liberally to the same. It was quite apparent that they highly appreciated the labors of Judge Colfax in behalf of Utah's mines and mining interests, who in less than five minutes totally had been subscribed by the brokers in attendance.

The call was a good one, and with shares of stock received just prospectus time, and between 300 and 400 being in attendance in keeping their quotations firm.

Under-old Excess receive the most sales, $15, the offer of the stock at any figure did not materialize. Days were going with $7.50 bid, but at $8 was the figure demanded, the holders evinced nothing.

East Colorado Gate quoted quite a flurry, and a number of demand for shares of 50 shares were made. One block of 500 was offered for sale at 15 cents, while 50 cents was bidded for 100 shares, but no takers of the stock held out for 50 cents. It closed with 50 cents being asked for 100 or more shares.

Nevada was traded in quite extensively, 500 in all had, on a trade or two made. Commencing at the week asked $7.75 for it, from which figure they constantly refused to remain, while some of the brokers who were just coming for the street, made a bid of $7.65, but to no purpose.

Monmouth was traded in a business-like manner, 100 shares being in the market and between $1.15. Fifty shares were offered at $2.10, but as that was not a round lot, $2.12 remained opposite the stock, indicating the figure at which 100 or more shares could be bought.

Ontario got a bid of $26.50, while the cabinet at which it is offered remained a blank. The trading on Saturday with the stock was quite active and $27.25 shares were sold down at $25.50. The trading was resumed at $27 at which $26.25 was wanted for the property. Fifty shares of Utah at 60 cents bid were sold at $1.05, but the offer did not meet with any success.

On the unlisted call Little Pittsburg took the lead, and indeed rather to speak, as having transactions in it, 10,000 shares at having transactions in it, 10,000 shares at a bid of 15 cents, with a demand for more at the 15 cents, with a demand for more at the 15 cents. One hundred shares of Horn Silver sold at 75 cents, with a demand for more at the 75 cents. The following figures were as follows:

Wonder Gold Mining company.

This company has just completed its organization with a capital stock of 1,000,000 shares of the par value of $1 each. George Q. Cannon is president, Angus M. Cannon, vice president, Lewis M. Cannon, secretary, John W. Donnellan, treasurer, F. J. Kelly, manager and superintendent. The properties of the company join the eastern boundary of Dr. Lambert's Stockton lead group, and also join on the eastern line of the Bingham-Grand at Mercur, and are on the top of the great ore chute which has been worked up about 3,000 feet and is in the richest vein, upon which is estimated that at least five million tons in gold has been already produced and hauled out within a few minutes ride of the property, valued at from immense six hundred to one thousand dollars per ton. The Wonder Group comprises the following claims, viz: the Wonder, North Star, Mary E. Mary E. No. 2, Old Orient, and the fraction of the Navigator, containing about 10 acres. Title perfect.

There is one shaft 100 feet deep upon which a steam hoisting plant is being now erected. A double compartment working shaft is being started. Three hundred thousand shares of the stock is reserved for the development of the property and running a mill, one-half of which is subscribed for. Mr. Queary, the manager, is one of the most skillful and experienced men in the country, and his associates have made a large cash investment in this, and he will devote his best energies to the rapid development of this great mine.

In addition to the cash advance by Mr. Queary and his friends, the management have deposited $500 in cash to pay the work as fast as done and means can be obtained, and have ceased to place any more battle shares, but have offered a share of the treasury stock at the price of 50 cents per share, but reserve the right to raise the price at any time without notice. Dickson & Richards Dentelian and George Downey have been appointed as the sole agents for the sale of the treasury stock.

THE CAREY GRANT.

and purposed water rights in practical actual use, is already being felt in the greater value of land values.

With first class land and an ample water supply at less than dollars per acre competition forces down our best and water under the older irrigation systems in the State.

It will do more than that, in the very near future, which Utah farmers may be well ready to realize and prepare for. With good land and plenty of water in eastern Idaho at about the same per acre as our Utah farmers offer to take wheat and pick cotton and hay at fifty dollars and over?

Thoroughly authority, the effect on importance of the Carey grant to Utah would have.

If the river should be established at Blackfoot as we think it should be now it is one of other and stronger reasons of location of advantage at most.

It is price higher than $5 can be built to established, to what extent would the attachment of the Carey grant give an advantage over the homestead privilege at the $1.25 per acre privilege under the lower act? And for heavy subscribers of the Stock—who are now planning under their fair—money sale to which must the preparation of land, water or is contemplated under Carey grant will protect the best people in spite of the land grants to the Pacific? Does it not appear that the Utah land grants should be used to the best advantage and which land policy would be more or neither who are now selling State lands, put the interests of actual settlers and industrious people, if should be considered most of the benefits of State settlers. It is well worth while on the Carey grant would tend to reduce present land values or prevent the State from securing a fair price for its land, the existing government by Utah in the establishment of the grants for State institutions and the support of the common schools.

In the consideration of this subject the following data may well be considered:

The total grant for common schools to four sections in each township or one-sixth of the total area of the State; the universities or grants for public buildings amount to 1 million acres, the estimated total area 1 million State selection of irrigation (including good lands in Indian reservations) is about 5,500,000 acres, that is after as this you amount may expire over acreage spaces will have to be subtracted; that is reduce reserve of acreage for the State, the total 10,500,000 acres, being considered of the above acres grants to settlers (actual), that is the general conditions the most influence grant can be to the only time with valuable land; but as for the present operation of existing lands in Utah less than a million acres is available for irrigation, and of the available water supply is wanting; owing to the unfortunate complications and conflict of authority now existing, there is but little hope of any general irrigation legislation at this session of the Legislature.

Under the circumstances and considering the interests of all concerned, I believe the Carey grant would be accepted, but that its application would be limited to such irrigation as may be clearly shown to be of equal or greater advantage to the utilization of the miscellaneous grants in the state.

AMUSEMENTS.

The Plays at the Local Theaters Last Night.

Lost Array drew only a medium house last night at the Grand. The play, which was produced at the Theater a couple of seasons ago by local society amateurs, is familiar. It is the old story of a neglected wife who finds a kindred spirit in her husband's friend. The play as produced last night, despite the fact that there was a slight tendency to drag in places, held the interest of the audience during the development of the plot.

The overtures were well sustained, and this may be said of every member of the popular stock company.

Miss Warren as the Countess Armande Clouet—, the neglected wife with romantic tendencies, portrayed a role which has been heretofore demonstrated as her peculiar forte, her features and facial expressions materially assisting in heightening the illusion. Walter Edwards made a Rigolboche Chambrier being greeted with a hearty round of applause on making his entrance.

Wm. Ingersoll appeared for the first time in the role of the Viking, Sir Gustav Hagarre, the globe trotting writer in search of an ideal, was solid intelligently. Hugh J. Ward with a heart of a Roman and a face of a comic singer, as Hector, showed up well, in fact the work throughout was so well, down among his fellow actors of the company.

Harry Hallaway was seen to advantage in the role of Baron Gravier. Mon Henry also was seen to her best as Hélène, the captivating little step-daughter.

Mr. Edson and Miss Cook, although being cast small parts, as an Irish caricature and his Dorcy, materially assisted in the presentation of the play. Catherine Jerome and Alice Courtney included minor parts in the role of dowagers at dagger drawn. Tucker was assigned to a small walking part.

AT THE LYCEUM.

The Two Orphans was played at the Lyceum last night to a fair house, and it was very well received by those in attendance. The piece is well known to theater-goers. As presented at the Lyceum this week, it was hardly fair to pronounce it a great attraction. The various characters are well portrayed, and the costumes and scenery are handsome.

Mr. Binker and Miss Mae Hall, the former as the cripple, Pierre, and the latter as the blind orphan girl, played their roles with acceptable cadence. Mr. Binker and Miss Hall, Mr. Hayes and Miss Layton, as Chevalier de Vaudrey and Henriette, were said up to their usual standard. Mr. de Will Jennings as Jacques, gave a very striking characterization of his role. Mr. Jennings is steadily gaining in favor. Nellie Drury was seen to several advantage as Frou Frou. In Frou Frou she was at her best. Mr. Williams as the valet shows altogether too little respect to his supposed superiors, it being difficult at times to realize which is the master and which the servant, but nevertheless he is intuitive and amuses the public in his own way. Mr. Hyde has been last night in a splendid rendering of the character of police, but he needs a more imposing presence to complete the picture. The two Lyceum stock have improved greatly since the writer saw them, some years ago, in their native company. Miss Rowe was a satisfactory Julie and Mr. Hill gave the role of the doctor quite well.

Tomorrow at the matinee for the last time, and the last time for a week, the Two Orphans will be played at the Lyceum.

The recital of the world-famous pianist, Paderewski, will take place at the Tabernacle tomorrow evening, commencing at 8:15. The new is popular on all Calvin's piano pieces, and the invitations are that the Tabernacle will be filled to its utmost capacity.

Following Paderewski comes Sousa with his famous marine band on Friday and Saturday.

MINOR MENTION.

The passenger and other traffic between this city and Mercur is increasing daily.

All of the boats of adjacent mountains will open and between on Wednesday night of each week.

The City council meets in regular session tonight. The interesting matters will engage the attention of the session. The Fire will probably be the selection of a majority but on account of the absence of Mayor Bransford, several members are aspiring to the office. The street in the 17 Ward, Sidney Innes notwithstanding, for which footscraper documentary evidence has been accumulated since the last meeting.

Suits and German Saints.

A short time since one of the names of Jacobs Latter-day Saints who had died in the Swiss and German mission were published in the Deseretnews. Immediate was received from friends and relatives of these deceased people in relation to work, if any, had been done for them in behalf of the Temple. After the information should be obtained. It was stated that friends and relatives of the departed were desired to do service work in the Temple, and application, be intimated with the necessary particulars to enable them to receive this relief. A number of communications have been received and have been handed to Arnold H. Schulz, president of the missions of the Swiss and German Saints, by whom the preliminary details will be attended to as needed. From now onward all communications concerned with the subject should be forwarded to him, His address is 928 E. Ninth South St., Salt Lake City.

POLICE COURT.

C. A. Ernst Fined $20 for Killing Jefferson Rhodes's Registered Dog.

On complaint of Jefferson Rhodes, C. A. Ernst was brought into the police court this morning charged with having killed, in the city limits, a registered dog, the property of the complainant.

The defendant pleaded not guilty, and the prosecution placed on the witness stand several small boys, who testified that they saw Mr. Ernst, who has a chicken yard in the vicinity of Eighth South and Twelfth West streets, shoot at the dog last Saturday afternoon about 5 o'clock. The witnesses stated that it was about 50 yards and then from the top of them it had and shortly afterwards died.

The defendant, who was represented by Attorney Wallace, did not choose to offer any testimony, this being to contain to think he had a justifiable one, inasmuch as the dog had been guilty of coming into his premises and disturbing his poultry. Justice Wallace found him guilty and imposed a fine of $20, which was promptly paid.
