JEALOUS HUSBAND FATALLY SHOT.

A Woman's Red Memory Causes the Loss of $1,000 in Diamonds—Colorado Man Killed.

The trial of David and Green Fisher, the alleged western Colfaxes on the charge, began in Glenwood Springs on Tuesday.

Wm. Rockhock, at Ouray, Colo., was killed on Tuesday, at the Vulcan mine at Newcastle, by being caught between a car and timber stable.

Yu Hop, a wealthy Chinese doctor of Stockton, Cal., died Tuesday night under circumstances which indicate that he was not a victim of poison but he was not a Chinese woman with whom he was intoxicated.

The Los Angeles, Cal., Express states that Miss R. Lee Murray, of that city, lost about $1,000 worth of diamonds and pearls and rings on Wednesday. She visited the ladies' toilet at the city hall to wash her hands. She removed the rings and forgot to put them on her fingers again, and discovered her loss as she was leaving the building, and when she went back the rings were gone. The detectives are working on the case.

Mrs. Carrie Cunningham of the Christlieb staff, who was in point of improvement for nearly a month a few days ago, has been made a honorary member of the San Francisco Press Club in recognition of the stand she took in the Dalton trial, as well as of her professional successes. She resigned, as stated in the dispatches, to divulge the name of the person who gave her the information upon which she based the story of Mrs. Caroline S. Lees, notwithstanding the intimation of Judge Murphy at the time that she was losing an issue with the court which might compel him to deal harshly with her. Mrs. Cunningham proceeded in her refusal, and, upon further deliberation, Judge Murphy concluded that her client was well taken and she was not imprisoned.

The citizens' ticket recently elected in Oakland, Cal., evidently was a reaction in baiting nominees who are willing to restrain themselves within the limits of decency, to say nothing of their ability to govern a large municipality. During several succeeding sessions of the city council there rows have been in progress, and the job has not frequently passed. Here is a sample of the speeches, taken from the minutes of Councilman Bassett on Monday evening: "Now, look here," he said, "I do not like Dr. Buckbee to try to shut me up. I will not be spoken to by you or any one like you. I tell the best you can do would be to act like a gentleman and not interrupt me. You believe have been telling that I am the mayor's lackey. I'm sick of the mayor's lackey. The man who hints at that is a liar. Now you, Mott, and you, Bunkhead, and you, Towle, that is meant for you."

The son of Lon Harris, the Southern Pacific detective, who was killed by Anthony Ancff at Boulder Creek, Cal., about a year ago, was shot and fatally injured Tuesday, at Sacramento. The shooting was due to jealousy and too much liquor. Jack Harris had a fracas at the depot last July and used U. S. Marshal Barry Baldwin and prevented him from using his revolver. Harris and L. E. Callendine, the man who shot him, have been the warmest of friends for years. The latter was in the roto-shaving business and Harris used to assist him. It seems that Harris, apparently without cause, was jealous of his wife. Today night he began drinking and by 9 o'clock was considerably under the influence of liquor. He went home and not finding his wife there took a revolver and started in search of her. In the meantime L. C. Callendine was returning to his home, and chanced to overtake Mrs. Harris, who was her way home. They got as far as Tenth and N streets when they saw Harris coming toward them. As soon as Mrs. Harris saw her husband she exclaimed, "Here comes Jack; he will kill me." Just as she spoke Harris began shooting at her. He fired two or three shots and then began firing at Callendine, coming closer all the time. The second shot struck Callendine in the right hand and he also drew his revolver and began firing at Harris. The two men were close together by this time and Callendine's first shot took effect in Harris's groin, ranging upward toward the liver, inflicting a fatal wound.

OBITUARY NOTES.

MARK COOK.

On Saturday, September 21st, 1895, about 8 o'clock in the evening, Mark Cook, one of Bountiful's oldest and best known citizens, passed quietly and peacefully away at his home, while surrounded by all of his family and quite a number of his friends, after an illness of about two months, of Bright's disease, being in his seventy-sixth year.

He was the son of George and Armine Collier Cook, and was born on November 24, 1819, at Chilton, Somersetshire, England. His boyhood days were spent in school and working in the coal mines. At the age of twenty-three he married Ann Brown, and eleven years later he and his family came to Utah, having previously joined the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints. He crossed the Atlantic in a sailing vessel, and the plains with ox teams, arriving in Salt Lake City in the fall of 1854. He settled in Salt Lake until May, 1856, working part of the time in the Bell Daily's sawmill, getting out rock for the foundation of the Temple, and assisting in building the Tithing Office, which he has ever actively resisted.

He was the father of eight of his children, two sons and eight daughters, two only living, six boys and four girls. He has fifty grandchildren and eleven great grandchildren.

He passed through a great many hardships and trials such as were incident to early pioneer life. He went out to meet Johnston's army at Bear River in 1857, and again at the time of the Move. He was one of the men who helped to build the new Tabernacle, crawling down Salt Lake City wall, after inside spice a miner, to the sides that Beautiful tabernacle in light of.

His first wife died July 23rd, 1862. She was the mother of fourteen children—six boys and eight girls. On October 1st, 1863, he married Esther Lowder, who has borne him four sons.

The funeral services, which were held in the Bountiful tabernacle Monday, September 23rd, were well attended. The speakers were Elders Henry Sampson, E. T. Clark (Farmington), Judson Tolman, Thomas Briggs, C. R. Jones and David Stoker; all spoke very highly of the character of Brother Cook, stated that he was always willing and ready to help to advance the work of the Lord in this earth. The casket was nicely decorated with bouquets made of flowers in season. Twenty-five vehicles followed the remains to their final resting place in the Bountiful cemetery.—Davis County Clipper.

EDWARD SIMONS.

Last Saturday, October 5, at 11:30 o'clock, another of Bountiful's old pioneers departed this life—Edward Simons. His death was caused by chronic dropsy. He was one of Bountiful's oldest inhabitants, having been here since shortly after his arrival in Salt Lake Valley, which was in 1852. He had been sick for about five months, but was able to be about to the day of his death. He was born in Glamorganshire, South Wales, September 28, 1816, being the son of Daniel and Anna Gabriel Simons. He lived in the town of his birth until 1841, the year he started for Utah. On board of ship, when crossing the Atlantic, he married Mrs. Jane Hollis. He was the father of nine children and has thirty-two grandchildren. He was one of the first workmen on the foundation for the Salt Lake Temple, also he went with others that volunteered to go south protecting President Brigham Young from the hostile Indians. He was in the Indian war in Sanpete last, he was always ready and willing to stand in the defense of truth. He was a faithful guard in the time of the Echo canyon war with the rest of the Saints. He was wounded in the time of the Move. He was a faithful donor to the last cent to advance the interest of the kingdom on the earth. Funeral services were held at the Bountiful tabernacle last Monday, at 2 p.m., upon which occasion Elders C. R. Jones, Wm. Muir, H. S. Grant, John Waite, Samuel Bryson, Bishop Call, Thomas Briggs and John Barlow spoke. The closing prayer was by David Lewis. The deceased leaves a wife, seven children, and many friends to mourn his loss. His remains were interred in the Bountiful cemetery to await a glorious resurrection.—[Cor.]

A Wonderful Conqueror.

No disease is more common among the people than scrofula. Handed down from generation to generation, it is found in nearly every family, in some form. It may make its appearance in dreadful running sores, in swelling in the neck or goiter, or in eruptions of varied forms. Attacking the mucous membrane it may be known as catarrh, or ever lodging in the lungs it may be, and often is, the prime cause of consumption.

In whatever form scrofula may manifest itself, Hood's Sarsaparilla is its invariable foe and conqueror. This medicine has such powerful alterative and vitalizing effects upon the blood that every trace of impurity is expelled, and the blood is made rich, pure and healthy.

Confusion as to the choice of a blood purifier is unnecessary. There is but one best blood purifier, and that is Ayer's. This important fact was recognized at the World's Fair, Chicago, 1893, being the only blood purifier admitted to be classed on exhibition.

To remove the constipated habit, the only safe treatment is a course of Ayer's Pills, followed by a laxative diet. Most other cathartics do more harm than good, therefore leading physicians recommend Ayer's Pills, especially as a family physic.

PAUSE AWHILE!

ONLY ONE DAY LONGER

You Must Act Quick

This was one of the sayings of the mythical "Poor Richard," the veritable author being dear old Benjamin Franklin of kite flying fame. The essay of this philosopher was a triumphant illustration of the wisdom of his maxim. By its constant exercise, and supplemented with diligence and earnest purpose, Franklin became a valued servant of his country, as well as person. By Rich, Robust, Renowned and Reverenced.

The same or similar possibilities are open to the young man here delineated. He is literally on the threshold of life, and all its "great pennyworths" are bidding for his preference. The choice now offered to him for a Dime is suggestive of the various paths he is free to choose:

YOUNG MAN PAUSE AWHILE!

The outlay of this very Dime may be

A Step Taken, A Habit Formed, A Purpose Initiated

That will mark the course of your years for good or evil to the end. On the one hand you pass among the idlers of the world, the men of slighted opportunities or vicious habits. This is the way of ruin. It leads to the valley of the shadow of death. It was this and its results that gave rise to the bitter epigram that

Youth is a Blunder, Manhood a Struggle, Old Age a Regret

Turn the other way, for pity! God only gives us youth ONCE! If you do not resolve now for character and self-culture you may never have the chance again. In the ranks and occupations of the Home University League you will be absolutely safe. The industry which this implies is grateful as well as gainful.
