WOMAN'S CONFERENCE.

It Will be Held in the Hall Used by the Constitutional Convention.

Because the century of the city and county Guide, the hall where the Constitutional Convention was held has been secured for holding the sessions of the Woman's Suffrage Conference. The ladies interested in the conference have also been assured by one of the gentlemen who were in the convention, which adjourned sine die a year ago, somewhat, that the evening sessions will be held in the evening, meeting on Wednesday, the ladies will take the hall for a week in Ogden, where they will hold a meeting on Wednesday evening.

The most time and have to be taken from the national and local officers to the conference so far the time is very short. Only two days remain.

A meeting in the Theater on Sunday night, Mrs. Anna Howard Shaw and Miss Anthony will probably address. Everybody is invited.

Today's Probate Court.

Little was only one order made in the probate court this morning. It was in the matter of the estate of Eliza Wright, deceased. Judge McCarty directed an order for the sale of certain personal.

A "Saint" The Cause of It.

A middle-aged man about 50 years of age, who gave the name of F. J. Pelto, and his home as St. Louis, Mo., was arrested at the Rio Grande depot yesterday afternoon, suspected of being insane. He had a revolver in his possession and had caused a great deal of trouble among the other passengers by his strange conduct. He was turned over to Chief Harris and taken to the city jail. He was seen later by County Physician Wright, who after examining the suspected man, pronounced him insane on a hope score, and sent to the asylum. Again it has up to Pelto that "it was thought that he ought to be discharged after another examination."

Police Court.

Henry M. Fox forfeited $5 in the police court for riding a bicycle on the sidewalk. H. J. Hartnell was fined $5 for the same offense, and J. W. Powers pleaded to a similar charge and was sent to jail.

J. G. Dixon, charged with disturbing the peace and riding a bicycle on the sidewalk, was discharged.

Jane Doe, charged on the charge of using obscene language, was discharged.

John Doe, G. W. Hankins and Frank Fitzpatrick were on trial this afternoon for assault and battery on Joe Hankins, whose jaw was broken in a few days ago.

Fine Kindergarten.

The Lion kindergarten, which opens in the Eighteenth ward chapel on Monday, could then only accommodate fifty-one children. Another room has now been secured and twenty more children can now be enrolled. Another session of the school session will be opened on Monday next in the Fourteenth ward.

AMUSEMENTS.

Tivoli. Wind up the season, for the present at least, which is good and good, and evening. The present income Saturday has gone over a week so the company will probably play a night in Ogden next week. It is one of the prices of our attractive dramatic companies. That just as they are coming to perfection, their season ends. Last night, the audience was as smooth and steady as if the play had been going a fortnight. Spencer and the house and the chorus play it in a way, but Lil Hugg at the opening night was more boisterous. Mr. Kraus had the orchestra in good shape, and they had the stage excellent support. Mr. Robinson showed decided improvement, as did Mr. Jennings, whose excellent makeup and general composition of his part are still, however, about at his usual accomplishments. Mr. Pyne, too, continues to show up in and show more in his acting. Mrs. Robinson, Miss Hyde, Mr. Wardour, Mr. Newman and Miss Sheppard all were very professional, and the chorus girls continues to be respected as the prime moving force. Mr. Lindsay's very good in the way he conducts on their stage work, and he deserves for it. It is to be hoped that Pitcide will be seen at more than once more, when there is a large audience to see and enjoy the way of a "Vivian." The total strength that he has shown is [illegible]

The Minstrels. The Tennessee's Pearls, were in better fitting to giving an interesting bill than on the day we saw them last Tuesday. Some changes have been made, and the bill is much better than it was. The Tennessee's Pearls, particularly the good looking chorus of the opening scene, were happy as ever. Tonight comes the professional season, the company is now are early. Sight.

Theater. Vivian Wells closed in "Lost Paradise" last night, registered at the Knickerbocker and then adding into the Theater and witnessed an act of Pinero. He is in and today, suffering somewhat from a cold, and consequently his voice is not strong, which is a company with the results, he leaves the following program at the Theater.

Same Over Till Saturday.

The legal argument which was to have taken place this morning in Judge Sloan's court between Attorney Morris Wolcott and Manager Libby of the Stockgrowers' Protective association has been postponed until next Saturday afternoon. In the meantime Mr. Wolcott is endeavoring the witnesses preparatory to the hard fight which he intends to make in behalf of Prentice in his effort to be free. The facts are related in the case were reported in Tuesday's issue of the News.

Wonderland.

There is a change in the program at Wonderland, to-day, first of a new class of music, in the theatorium. It comes from Denver and is the creation of Mr. V. A. Hoel, and consists of the pay "Go to my Wife" very catchy. The curio hall exhibitions are to be in the usual standard of excellence. Next Saturday afternoon is set aside for the children, when both the [illegible] will be open to them for the real.

Convention Echoes.

The great majority of the Democratic Convention delegates have departed for their homes. Those who remained to get away with were tired to do so last evening but from the morning, and by now are back to their business, business and commercial.

Engineering Clerk Smith has been the recipient of numerous congratulations over the results of his work, time and painstaking work in copying the Constitution. Only one mistake in his whole undertaking was so conspicuous, and that occurred in the transposition of one word, for another, which is scarcely pardonable. The word either should in no way be justly attributed to him, as he followed the copy which was furnished him from the secretary.

Congressman Hammond, of New Jersey, is remarkable for not only talks about the 23d of the present month.

Runaway and Collision.

A runaway, serious in its character and destructive to its owners, in a small way, occurred on Second West street in the northwestern part of the city shortly before noon today. A vegetable peddler, who had just come to town, allowed his team to stand untied in the street so he went into house to house taking orders. He did that, as the sequel showed, last each location, for his horses took fright and ran at full speed for a couple of blocks, when they came to a parked stand, still by children with a stand for individually assuming the wagon and breaking for harness.

Suicide Liberty's Funeral.

The funeral of Sam Liberty, the despondent and unfortunate victim of Hecatomb who suicidally terminated his earthly existence by shooting himself yesterday, as chronicled in last evening's News, will be held from Kirsch's undertaking parlors tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock. The remains will be forwarded to Worcester, the former home of the deceased, for interment.

STAKE CONFERENCES.

PROVO.

Provo, Utah, May 8, 1895.

First Federal Court.

In the Federal court this morning, Judge Boreman heard the following motions:

James H. Moyle for the Provo Commercial and Savings bank, in the matter of the application of the receiver for an order to pay the expenses of the receivership. Granted.

Joseph Jenkins, of Salt Lake, for the receiver, made a motion for the case of J. W. N. Winchester vs. Daniel H. Dow et al. Granted. The defendant Dow claims that jurisdiction in the case should be in the district court of Utah county, and not in the Federal court. The motion was argued and submitted.

The Provo Woolen and Knitting Company has commenced suit against the National Bank of the Republic, T. A. Clawson, William Groesbeck and John T. Sullivan. The plaintiffs allege that the Bank of Utah, T. Southey of Salt Lake, is in possession from meeting the Provo Woolen Company in the National Bank of the Republic. The suit was commenced on Saturday, and Monday will tell the facts. Judge Boreman, of the National Bank of the Republic, and John T. Sullivan, the Bank of Utah, refused to accept the case.

Another Lady S. D.

The Evening Herald's Anna Eugene has talked to my about a lady who was born in Provo and who was a member of the first graduating class of the Brigham Young academy. Miss Clarissa Hale, the name, is now known as Mrs. Carrie Hodges, and has resided in Provo for the second time. Mrs. Carrie Hale, the name, is the Provo State University, where she has just been graduated in the medical department of the Illinois University. Mr. Miss Hale has been in a medical office in Salt Lake City for a while, and will work as a physician and surgeon in a practitioner, and will continue work with the success she is well entitled.

Hon. Frank J. Cannon.

Hon. Frank J. Cannon addressed an enthusiastic meeting last evening in the court house, here, under the auspices of the Greater Utah club. The meeting was called to order by Judge Boreman, and Judge Cannon was introduced by Prof. Lindsay. Judge Cannon's address was a strong one, and was received with great enthusiasm. The Provo Herald's report of the address will be found in the Evening News.

A number of town and city lots have changed hands recently, and in several cases a good deal of money has been realized by the sellers. It is a good sign, and these lots are generally speaking, the best property on the market. Provo Bulletin.
