THE STORMS CONTINUE

A Number of Houses Washed from their Foundations; Cattle and Horses Swept Away.

UTICA, ILL., DEVASTATED BY A CLOUDBURST.

Four Lives Lost in a Terrible Rain Storm Reported from Neligh, Nebraska.

By Telegraph to the News.

A TERRIBLE RAINSTORM

Sweeps Through the Illinois River Valley.

PEORIA, Ill., June 18.—A terrible rainstorm swept through the Illinois river valley last night, doing great damage to the crops, gardens and fences.

In Hilton, across the river from here, a number of houses were washed from their foundations and the people fled in their night clothes to the railroad grade and hills.

At Farmdale, seven miles east, the water raised in the houses to the depth of three feet. Herds of cattle and horses and many hogs and chickens were swept away. The loss for a large distance are utterly ruined.

The only fatality reported occurred in Copperas creek valley, in Fulton county. When the flood rushed down the valley a farmer named Gray became alarmed, and, taking his three boys, aged 12, 8 and 5, he started for the hill. His wife refused to leave the house, taking refuge on the roof. When Gray was half way across the valley a floating log struck and partially stunned him. The three boys were drowned and Gray marvelously escaped. His wife was rescued this afternoon. The damage to the railroads, bridges, etc., will be very heavy.

ALMOST DEVASTATION.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Utica, Illinois, a busy little cement and brick manufacturing town, was almost devastated by a deluge last night. Shortly after noon the clouds broke north of the town over a high bluff and a flood poured through the valley. The water was six feet deep in the main street. Outbuildings were carried away and residences and buildings badly damaged. Fortunately, there were no fatalities, but the pecuniary damage will amount to many thousands of dollars.

HUGE DAMAGE.

LINCOLN, Neb., June 18.—A terrible rain storm is reported from Neligh, Neb., much damage being done. One man was drowned.

At Tilden three young children were drowned while trying to cross a ravine on their way home from school.

Pedro Montt Accredited to the United States.

CITY OF MEXICO, via Galveston, June 18.—Pedro Montt, who is commissioned to obtain the recognition of the Chilean insurgent cause from Mexico, is also accredited to the United States.

A special dispatch from Guatemala says a plan has been discovered to annex Guatemala to the United States. Some of the most prominent officials and principal coffee planters are interested.

GUATEMALA, June 18.—Ex-Minister of Foreign Affairs Angustino does not believe the rumors of a plot to annex Guatemala to the United States, and referring to the probability of another war, he stated that President Barrillas was consulting the interest of all the Central American republics and trying to maintain peace.

LONDON GOSSIP.

The Prince of Wales and Lady Brooke.

LONDON, June 18.—Last week did not close without the gossip-mongers having fresh food for talk. Strange rumors have been afloat both in clubs and drawing rooms to the effect that the exposure of Lady Brooke in connection with the recent scandal was inevitable and that legal steps had already been taken against the prince and himself. Sir William Gordon Cumming's friends scouted the idea of having been the cause of his ruin. The fast friends of a faster prince, however, emphatically deny there is any truth in the matter and says that it is nothing but the malicious talk of jealous society women. Recently at a select social gathering where royalty and its satellites were not present, it was open talk that the threatening clouds which had been overhanging for so long a period had by no means dissipated. The relations between the Prince of Wales and Lady Brooke have been the subject of special comment. Society at first nobody has openly accused the pair of any undue intimacy, yet it has been repeatedly hinted if Lord Brooke were to take a long journey he would long ago have put a stop to the repeated interviews between his wife and the heir apparent. It is also well known that the Princess of Wales has strongly objected having Lady Brooke's society forced upon her at the dinner parties she simply ignores her.

A few years ago rumor had it that Lady Brooke had become smitten with the handsome guardsman, but that Sir Wm. Gordon Cumming being aware of the close relations between his friend the prince and the lady in question, met her advances coolly. Lady Brooke has always been known among her friends as a woman who will have her way, cost what it may. She is considered a woman who will never rest until she has brought ruin upon any person who hates her. Her past has been such as to give color to the unfavorable comments made on her character. All London knows her married life is not a happy one. Lord Brooke has always been an insignificant man, who has no other motive excepting having been the college chum of the late Prince Leopold, duke of Albany.

Lady Brooke before her marriage was Miss Maynard. Her father, Col. Maynard, left an enormous fortune, of which only the smaller part went to his widow, who soon after his death became the wife of the Earl of Rosslyn. Lord Brooke is the eldest son of the Earl of Warwick of Warwick castle. He is undoubtedly the poorest peer in the United Kingdom, and consequently was last October when his marriage with Miss Maynard came off. It was hailed with delight by the earl and family.

A few years after their marriage rumors began afloat concerning an imminent social scandal, in which the names of several prominent statesmen, officers, etc., were connected with that of one of the wealthiest and most beautiful ladies of the English aristocracy. It did not take long before these rumors assumed great consistency and it became an open secret that Lady Brooke's reputation was at stake. Not less than fourteen co-respondents were named, among them, as usual, the gay prince, the Duke of Marlborough and even Lord Randolph Churchill. The affair was hushed up, and the only man who saved his reputation in the matter was Lord Randolph Churchill. The rest carried the stigma of the affair until the scandal, like many others, had died out. It seemed then not little short of a miracle that the pure, sweet, simple girl, who but a few years ago appeared to be the essence of truth, goodness and purity, should be brought into court with no less than fourteen co-respondents so shortly after her marriage.

Another interesting fact is that Lady Brooke was the intimate friend of Lady Colin Campbell. The foul air which infects the circle of her intimate acquaintances and the unmentionables of her bed and toilet have certainly much to do with the vagaries and eccentricities of her present life. Ever since she beautiful and in some ways talented woman became prominent in society, she has been the public leader of a very fast set at London, Ascot, Sandown and Goodwood. In racing circles she is known as the "lady plunger," and many a "cooky" has some house with his pockets filled with crisp bank notes after her ladyship has had a bad day. Some years ago she spent a season at Monte Carlo, and there, too, she tended to have lost a large amount of her father's wealth. The real cause why Lord Brooke did not push the divorce case for the above is known, but it was hinted the old Earl of Warwick objected to having his unfarnished name dragged into court. Apart from this Lord Brooke's next brother, Captain Fulke Greville, was acting as ringing leader to the Prince of Wales' latest son, and it is likely that a good deal of influence was brought to bear upon the heir of Warwick castle from that quarter. Furthermore, Lady Brooke's stepfather, the Earl of Rosslyn, holds at present the post of captain of the queen's body guard of gentlemen-at-arms and he is one of the most conspicuous figures of London society. An excellent sportsman and an agreeable peer, he has not the highest opinion of himself. He is, however, not popular and is often sneered at. His sister is married to Count Munster, German ambassador at Paris. Lord Brooke was in his seat in the house of commons last night for the first time in months. His presence was commented on in view of the prominence of his name of late in current gossip. Simultaneously with his lordship's appearance in public he became the announcement that his wife, Lady Brooke, is undisposed and will abandon all her engagements for the near future. People who believe Lord Brooke is at least to bring suit for divorce naming the Prince of Wales as co-respondent, are pondering over these developments, curious to see if they reflect any possibility of the rumor of a court proceedings.—Herald.

A Fall from a Balloon.

PARIS, June 18.—A professional aeronaut made an ascension from Levilanie yesterday, being accompanied by two other persons. Their ship stuck fast from the ground the aeronaut, who had been fixing something outside the car, lost his balance and fell to the ground, being totally injured.

The balloon shot up with the other two men, neither of whom had the slightest knowledge of how to handle it, and hence long was out of sight. This morning nothing had been heard of them. They were given up for lost. Under the circumstances, descended unharmed at Versailles nearly fainthearted and badly frightened.

A Sovereign's Opinion.

Mr. John Caragher, a merchant at Caragher, Fulton county, Ohio, says that St. Patrick's Pills are the best selling pills he handles. The reason is that they produce pleasant cathartic effect of having been the cause of his ruin. The fast friends of a faster prince, however, emphatically deny there is any truth in the matter and says that it is nothing but the malicious talk of jealous society women. Recently at a select social gathering where royalty and its satellites were not present, it was open talk that the threatening clouds which had been overhanging for so long a period had by no means dissipated. The relations between the Prince of Wales and Lady Brooke have been the subject of special comment. THE MARRIAGE.

Of General John M. Schofield to Miss Georgia Kilbourne Solemnized Yesterday.

PRELATE MILWAINE PERFORMS THE CEREMONY.

The Happy Couple Leave on a Special Car for San Francisco.

Telegraph to the News.

GENERAL SCHOFIELD'S WEDDING.

Only Intimate Friends and Relatives Witness the Ceremony.

KEOKUK, Iowa, June 16.—The marriage of General John M. Schofield to Miss Georgia Kilbourne, daughter of the late judge of the United States, to Miss Georgia Kilbourne, of this city, was solemnized in St. John's Episcopal church here at high noon today, the officiating clergyman being R. U. Millwaine. As far as consistent with the high rank of General Schofield and the social prominence of his bride, today's wedding was devoid of display, the only military features being that the general and staff appeared in full uniform. Only intimate friends and relatives of the contracting parties witnessed the ceremony. The city was handsomely decorated for the occasion.

Just before 12 the wedding party left the house of Miss Kilbourne's mother. The inside of the church was tastefully decorated with bouquets of calla lilies and evergreens studded with roses, and there was an abundance of other cut flowers. The canopy was covered with silk flags which adorned the entrance to the marriage.

The bride wore a superb costume of white corded silk with demi-train, Louis Quinze jacket and veil to match. Her hands were encased in white gloves, and she carried a silver prayer book. Mrs. Kilbourne, the bride's mother, gave her away.

At precisely 12 o'clock Prelate R. U. Millwaine pronounced them man and wife. He was assisted in the ceremony by Bishop Perry of the Episcopal diocese of Iowa. The ceremony was impressive and beautiful. Prominent persons in attendance from abroad included General Schofield's sister, Mrs. Wise, Miss Caroline Wise, Mrs. Edward Kilbourne's daughters, Jennie and Celia and Edith, William Fyffe of Chicago, Captain C. A. Schofield of Washington, D. C.; Lieutenant A. D. Andrews, Lieutenant T. N. Bliss and Miss Andrews of New York; Rev. James Schofield and two relatives of Independence, Iowa; Honorable and Mrs. Hiram Barney of New York; U. S. Schofield of Washington, son of the groom; Mrs. C. J. Ball of St. Louis, George H. Drew of Kansas City, W. H. Fee, John Squires and R. P. Bradford of St. Louis.

At the conclusion of the ceremony the bridal party left the church.

The wedding breakfast was partaken of at the home of Mrs. Kilbourne from 12:30 till 2:00 this afternoon. Those holding invitations were received at the family residence.

Promptly at 2:45 Company A of the Second regiment, National Guards, and Camp of the Sons of Veterans escorted General Schofield to the hotel Keokuk, where a public reception was held. Four to five hundred children, each carrying a small flag, were presented in addition to the veterans and officers.

Late this afternoon General Schofield and bride, together with Lieutenants Andrews and Bliss, left on a special car for San Francisco and other Western points.

Rumors of Revolution in Portugal.

LONDON, June 18.—Rumors of a revolution in Portugal have caused a drop in Portuguese 3 per cents of 11 and a heavy decline in the Portuguese railroads.

Dunham Appears in Court.

CHICAGO, June 18.—H. W. Dunham of the insolvent commission firm Dunham, Carrigan & Co., appeared in the County Court this morning to answer the rule requiring him to show cause why he should not be adjudged guilty of contempt in disposing the appointment of a receiver for the firm by the circuit court, after the firm's affairs had been taken cognizance of by the county court.

Dunham denied that the county court had any jurisdiction in the matter at issue and declared that the recent transfer of real estate by him for a nominal consideration was in the nature of an assignment by preference, and said his private property was pledged for the liquidation of the firm's liabilities. Four hundred thousand dollars was enough to settle them in full.

After some arrangement, the matter went over until tomorrow.

The Nicaragua Canal.

DENVER, June 18.—The annual meeting of the Nicaragua Canal Construction company was held today at the office of the company in this city. The following directors were elected for the ensuing year: President Warner Miller, of New York; Samuel Thomas, New York; Aymar Embury, New York; President of the Illinois Central railway, W. Seward Webb, New York, president of the Wagner Palace Car company; Vice President Thomas G. N. N. Fairbank, Chicago; George W. Davis, of New York, general manager of the company; J. P. O'Donaghney, New York; H. B. Slaughter, president of the American Construction and Dredging company; J. W. Miller, secretary of the company; Henry B. Hoyt, New York; Henry A. Hoyt, Washington; Gordon McDonnell, New York.

Germany's Finances.

BERLIN, June 18.—In the Prussian diet today Herr Miquel, imperial minister of finance presented a statement the substance of which is the following: The result of the current financial year gives warning that the government must exercise caution, for although there accurate showed a deficit of 17,500,000 marks the whole of this would soon disappear in increasing expenditures. He added: "We have left not a penny behind us." Prussia's greatest strength lies in the prosperity of her finances and this can only be obtained by economy. The improvements which have just been made and others which are still in progress in connection with the railroad system of the country were, said the minister of finance, "the chief current outlay and they show an increased expenditure amounting to 37,000,000 marks over the estimate." The house approved them.

Tea Clubs.

CHICAGO, June 18.—The famous Clover club of Philadelphia was the guest tonight of a newly formed body of similarly festive Chicagoans, known as the Fellowship club. Besides children there were a number of distinguished guests, and the gathering promptly set out to break the record of the kind of fun that has made the Clover club famous. Henry Wallerson, Mayor Washburne and Sol Smith Russel had at midnight accomplished the feat of finishing their speeches and other well known gentlemen were being singled out to run the gauntlet of merciless fun makers.

THE FACTORY BILL.

Children Under Eleven Years Prohibited from Working in the English Establishments.

A PHILANTHROPIC REFORM OF IMPORTANCE.

Comments of English Papers upon the Matter; The Government Said to be Disgraced.

By Telegraph to the News.

THE ENGLISH GOVERNMENT

Defeated on the Sweated Factory Bill.

LONDON, June 18.—In the debate in the Commons today on the factory bill, the amendment of Boston (Liberal) to prohibit children under 11 years of age from working, was agreed to by a vote of 202 to 186. The government was thus defeated. The majority included a few Conservative members.

Burton's amendment will affect 150,000 to 200,000 children in the kingdom now employed in the manufacturing districts as half-timers. It is a philanthropic reform, but was opposed by the bulk of speakers, who pointed out the labor of their offspring. The Liberals argued that the abolishing of child labor would provide more work for adults.

Morley challenged the government to say whether they opposed Burton's amendment or not, whereupon Home Secretary Matthews intimated that the government would not accept the amendment. The object of the clause might still be defeated by an amendment, but it is expected the government will accept the situation.

Lord Hartington, Sir Henry James and a few other Gladstonians voted with the majority, while Liberals formed the bulk of the dissentents voted with the majority.

The News, commenting upon the matter, says: "Truly Secretary Matthews is a costly luxury to the state. The defeat of the government will seriously damage the prospects of every Unionist candidate in the next general election."

The Times says: "We cannot pretend to regret that Burton's amendment was carried. Nevertheless, the unpleasant sheriff of the ministers was incurred by an attitude neither honorable nor and not altogether straightforward. The rejection of the amendment after our action at the Berlin conference would have exposed Englishmen to the contempt of all the nations of Europe."

The Standard says: "It is a pity that Matthews refused to allow the government supporters freedom to vote and act as they pleased."

A Treasury Deficiency.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—It is said that the treasurer's statement, to be issued tomorrow, will show a deficiency of $600,000, instead of the usual net cash balance. This is the first time this has occurred since the present form of statement was adopted by Treasurer Jordan.

In making this calculation, however, no account is taken of $22,000,000 on depositional banks or of $20,000,000 in silver in the treasury. The expenditures so far this month have been $8,188,924 in excess of the entire revenues of the government during the same period, amounting to $21,322,962. These were exceeded by pension payments alone, which amounted to $28,812,115.

Treasury officials say the expenditures during the remainder of the month will be light and the receipts will be sufficiently heavy to overcome the present excess of expenditures and leave a small surplus for the month. These same officials say the treasurer's statement tomorrow will not include the receipts during the past two days, and if it did an actual surplus of two million dollars would be shown instead of an apparent deficiency.

The Silver Question.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—Secretary Foster, in his speech written for delivery at the Ohio Republican State convention, paid particular attention to the silver question and made a special point in regard to coinage, calling attention to the fact that after July 1st it would be discretionary with the secretary of the treasury whether silver coinage continued or not.

A great many applications have been offered the secretary on this, including a strong sentiment against suspending silver coinage, and it is within the secretary's power to decide coinage will continue after July 1st for a while at least.

Fatality Studded.

CELINA, O., June 18.—Mary Price was waylaid on the road this morning by two men, who dragged her into a thicket and attempted to outrage her. Her cries brought her brother Elmer. The latter was fatally stabbed by the miscreants, who then escaped. They were captured this afternoon and lodged in jail. Popular excitement is high.

Hear Most Wanted.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Her Most's serious have been notified to produce him in court tomorrow, when he will be sentenced to the penitentiary.

A Horrible Fight at Fort Marie.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Chief Mate Lowell of the steamship "South Portland" from Jamaica ports tells the story of a horrible fight at Fort Marie which has reached the Port of Boston. Natives of the town, had become involved in a bitter feud and decided to fight it to the death. In the centre of a given enclosure a space was cut off and at each corner stood one of the men. They were stripped to the waist and each man grasped in his right hand a knife with a blade several inches long.

For a moment the men stood glaring at each other, then the word was given and the fight began. It was a case of every man for himself with a vengeance. Lowell says, without any exception, it was the most fearful sight he ever saw. In five minutes it was all over. When the police arrived three men had killed almost every recognition by twins the eyes. The fourth man was so crazed by his wounds that before the police could lay hands on him he drove his own knife through his heart.

The Railway Telegraphers.

ST. LOUIS, June 18.—At today's meeting of the Order of Railway Telegraphers, after a long debate the anti-strike clause was eliminated from the constitution. A joint committee was then appointed to formulate a plan for the amalgamation of the Brotherhood of Telegraphers and the Order of Railway Telegraphers.

Duval Pays for the Presents.

BALTIMORE, June 18.—William H. The whole lot was the heaviest yearlings, paying $4000 for a chestnut filly by sir Modred, out of Mollie Walking; $3000 for a brown colt by Sir Modred, out of Lodoa, and $2000 for a black colt by Hidalgo, out of My Love.

The number of yearlings sold during the evening was sixty-one. The sum realized was $59,125, and the average $968. The total sum realized by the whole sale was $85,825, an average for the 119 head of $721.

To Carry on the War.

WASHINGTON, June 18.—The official vouchers from Chile state that the House of Deputies has passed a bill authorizing the President to levy a forced loan of $20,000,000 to carry on the war. The measure now has the approval of the Senate. Under authority of Congress, all gold and silver in the treasury of Chile, composing what is known as the nitrate reserve, will be sold at public auction.

A Suggestion.

If you are troubled with rheumatism or a lame back, allow us to suggest that you try the following simple remedy: Take a piece of flannel the size of the two hairs, saturate it with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on over the seat of pain. It will produce a pleasant warmth and relieve you of all pain. Many severe cases have been cured by this means. The Pain Balm can be obtained from Z. C. M. I. Drug Dept. 8

Permanent Hopeless, Yet Saved.

From a letter written by Mrs. Ada E. Hurd, of Groton, S. D., we quote: "Was taken with a bad cold, which settled on my lungs, caught me in and finally terminated in consumption. Four doctors gave me up, saying I could live but a short time. I gave myself up to the Great Physician and I could not stay with my friends an earth I would meet my absent ones above. My husband was advised to get Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. I gave it a trial, took in all eight bottles; it cured me and thank God I am now a well and hearty woman." Trial bottles free at A. C. Smith & Co's Drug Store. Regular size, 50c. and $1.00. 4

AN ARTIFICIAL LAKE

Bursts Behind the Zufallferner Mountain in Tyrol and Floods the Valley.

IT CAUSES A SHOCK LIKE AN EARTHQUAKE.

The Cause of the Bursting of the Lake.—Much Property Destroyed.

By Telegraph to the News.

FLOOD IN TYROL.

A Small Lake Burst Its Confines and Inundates a Valley.

VIENNA, June 18.—The artificial lake, 1000 feet long, 350 feet wide and 40 feet deep, formed by the Martinell glacier behind Zufallferner mountain, in the Tyrol, burst its confines today and flooded the valley.

The huge volume of escaping water caused a shock like an earthquake, so the surrounding country, said the police was deafening. As the inhabitants anticipated the accident and had made preparations it is hoped no fatalities were caused, but reports from many villages, which have been inundated, are anxiously awaited. Much property has been destroyed. The bursting of the lake was due to the softening of the glacier which is 1200 feet in thickness.

Dunn's Decision.

NEW YORK, June 18.—Jere Dunn, the referee in the Slavin-Kilrain glove contest, rendered a formal decision tonight. He awarded the fight to Slavin, but declared that Kilrain was not knocked out. Bets that the contest would not last ten rounds have been contested. Dunn says that Timoney's decision was an unfortunate mistake after the gong got out of order by not calling out the seconds that elapsed while Kilrain was down. He then states that he considers himself officially at fault in not keeping his eyes turned towards the centre of the ring at that time in order to see for himself how quickly Kilrain got up. He explains the fact that his back was toward Kilrain by saying he felt it his duty, on account of Slavin's method of fighting to watch the Australian to prevent him from fouling. Dunn states Slavin always showed a desire to go to and dog Kilrain the instant he came from falling down. Dunn pole himself on record as being against such tactics and says he would have decided against Slavin had he completed the set in the sixth round.

This evening in the hotel Slavin and Mitchell, who seemed to have been drinking, made a good deal of noise and indulged in a rough house way to Jere Dunn that he had been afraid to decide Kilrain was knocked out because his (Dunn's) friends had against that decision. Dunn said he felt he only got a bad reputation from such people as the men who were talking, his character would always be of the best. Slavin was requested to leave the hotel and did.
