

PROVISIONS OF HOUSE MEASURES

Substance of the Bills Introduced Yesterday Afternoon in the Lower House

TO PROTECT STRIKE BREAKERS.

Thompson's Bill Seeks to Establish Seven Experimental Farms—Tax On Mines.

Nine bills were introduced in the house yesterday afternoon. One of them provides for the protection of strike-breakers, while another enlarges the law on housebreaking and still another seeks to establish seven experimental farms in different parts of the state, the cultivation of arid lands may be determined. The substance of the bills presented follows:

ON HOUSEBREAKING.

House bill No. 8 by Joseph, was introduced by request of the county attorney of Salt Lake, and makes it "housebreaking" to enter a room or other apartment with intent to steal. The present law does not cover cases of sneakthieves who enter rooms in lodging houses or hotels.

TAX ON MINES.

House bill No. 9 is that by Mr. Joseph, referred to in last night's "News." It provides that the tax on the net annual proceeds of mines be made to cover coal not used for railroad purposes, coke made from coal or bituminous matter made from ore not taxed, which is deemed a product of the mine, and all products sold commercially other than for medicinal purposes, of mineral jakes and springs. This bill will impose a tax on the salt harvested near Salt Lake.

TO PROTECT STRIKE BREAKERS.

House bill No. 10, introduced by Mr. Austin of Utah, is an act to prevent violence to employees, and provides a penalty for a violation thereof. The bill reads:

"Section 1.—It shall be unlawful for any person or persons in this state who shall by threat of violence to or bodily harm, prevent any person or persons from entering or remaining in the employ of any company, corporation or individual.

CHANGES OF VENUE.

Kuchler introduced H. B. No. 11, an amending section 1 of chapter 12, laws of 1903, relating to changes of venue in civil and criminal actions in municipal courts, providing for change of judge in lieu thereof, and for the continuation of cases to the district court, where the judge of the municipal court is disqualified, and providing for a judge pro tempore in municipal courts, in certain cases and fixing his compensation.

SERVICE OF PROCESS.

Kuchler introduced H. B. No. 12, an amending section 5 of chapter 12, laws of 1903, providing for the service of process shall run from municipal courts. The bill amends the chapter mentioned to read as follows:

"All process from municipal courts shall run to the sheriff or any constable of the county, in criminal actions in which the city is plaintiff, also to the chief of police or any policeman of the city, provided that in civil actions in which process is to be served outside of the county in which said court is located, process shall run to the constable of the county in which said process is to be served."

EXTENDS JURISDICTION.

H. B. No. 13, also by Kuchler, amends section 6, chapter 12, laws of 1903, making the civil jurisdiction of municipal courts the same as that exercised by courts of justice of the peace, and in addition thereto, and courts to have jurisdiction in all cases arising in the county in which said courts are located, over which any courts of justice of the peace throughout the state would have jurisdiction.

FOR FIRE INSPECTORS.

Mr. Carroll introduced H. B. No. 14, entitled, "An act providing for fire inspectors in incorporated towns, providing for their appointment, prescribing their duties and providing for compensation for their services." The bill reads:

"That the board of county commissioners of each county shall appoint a fire inspector, except in incorporated cities and towns, for every precinct in their respective counties, whose duties shall be to inspect, at least twice each year, all chimneys, fireplaces, hearths, stoves, stovepipes, heaters, ovens, furnaces, boilers and apparatus used in and about buildings and manufacturing plants, and cause the same to be removed or placed in a safe condition. Each inspector shall keep a true and just account of the time spent in the discharge of his duty, and shall present a copy thereof verified by oath, to the board of county commissioners, and upon its approval by them the inspector shall be entitled to $2 per day, to be paid out of the general fund of the county, for every day's service so rendered."

EXPERIMENTAL FARMS.

H. B. No. 15, by Thompson, is a measure to establish seven experimental farms in the dry regions of the state, where tests are to be made of various plants and seeds in order that the method of cultivating dry and arid lands may be determined. Each farm must be in a different county, and the sites are to be selected by the board of trustees of the Agricultural college. An appropriation of $17,500 is provided for.

TO PROTECT MINERS.

H. B. No. 16, by Curtin, prohibits the use of explosive oil in coal and hydrocarbon mines, and regulates the storage and use of powder in such mines. The bill defines the standard of illumination to be used and requires ears and other machinery to be oiled outside the mines, where possible. Lubricating oil must not be allowed to gather on the ground.

TWO KINDS OF BURGLARY.

Mr. Weeton of Utah has in course of preparation a bill amending sections

PRINTING BILLS STARTS A DEBATE

Some Representatives Thought
They Could Remember Points
In New Measures.

BUT THE MAJORITY DIDN'T.

Large Number of Bills Introduced and Referred—Joseph Resents Resolution from the Senate.

When the "News" report closed yesterday afternoon the house was in the midst of a discussion on the printing of bills. This waxed warm for some time and afforded many of the members an opportunity to speak, a privilege which some were not slow to take advantage of. The discussion evinced the fact that the house is composed of not a few who are talkers, and the chances are that before the close of the session, some will have become famous for their much speaking.

ONLY ONE DAY LEFT.

You are cordially invited to meet a Fountain Pen Expert from the works of the well known makers A. A. Waterman & Co., New York, who will explain many interesting things about Fountain Pens, exhibiting some recent and valuable improvements.

NOT MANY THERE.

Reduction of Telephone Rates Did Not Bring Out Much of a Crowd.

Last night's meeting at the Commercial club, of the Citizens' committee appointed to confer with the two telephone companies relative to reduction in rates, was suggestive of the description of a "mass meeting" once described in the New York Sun, viz.: "The meeting was large and enthusiastic—their is to say the chairman was large, and the secretary was enthusiastic."

There was but a handful of "business men" present to hear the report of the committee. The report stated that the proposed reductions of both companies as already published, but the committee had no recommendation to make as it would not be binding upon anybody. Discussion showed that anything like concerted action on the part of the business community was hardly possible, and such action as might be taken must be purely individual.

A communication was received stating that a petition would be presented General Manager Campbell of the Light and Railway company, asking for better Jordan river service. The communication was returned to the writer as beyond the jurisdiction of the committee.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy Absolutely Harmless.

The fault of giving children medicine containing injurious substances, is sometimes more disastrous than the disease from which they are suffering. Every mother should know that Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is perfectly safe for children to take. It contains nothing harmful and for coughs, colds and croup is unsurpassed. For sale by all druggists.

DARING CITY HOLDUP.

Robber With Gun Robs Business Men
And Makes Good His Escape.

Just before 7 o'clock last evening, a daring holdup was committed at the grocery and meat shop of E. J. and E. M. Hubbard, 84 east First South street. There were two robbers. One went into the store while the other stood watching outside. They secured $40 in cash and made good their escape.

HARRY OBJECTS.

A communication from the senate announced the passage of S. J. No. 1, eliminating the purchase of pen knives and fountain pens for the use of the members of both houses.

This brought Joseph to his feet in an instant. "Mr. Speaker," he thundered, "I didn't know the senate was the keeper of the house, and I object to their dictation in this matter."

The gentleman was ruled out of order as there was nothing before the house, the resolution itself not having been presented.

This brought forth an amendment from Miller that the rules be suspended and the resolution read and passed. The amendment was voted down, after which the original motion was not and carried, and the resolution was referred to the committee on contingent expenses.

GOVERNOR'S MESSENGER.

S. C. R. No. 1, by Gardner, providing a messenger for the governor, was read and passed under a suspension of the rules. Later the governor appointed Willard Dine as such messenger.

NEW BILLS.

The following bills were then introduced, read by title, and referred to the committees named:

H. B. No. 8—Joseph, extending the statute defining housebreaking to the

HABIT'S CHAIN

Certain Habits Unconsciously Formed and Hard to Break.

An ingenious philosopher estimates that the amount of will power necessary to break a "Tolo-long" habit would, if it could be transformed, lift a weight of many tons.

It sometimes requires a higher degree of heroism to break the chains of a pernicious habit than to lead a forlorn hope in a bloody battle. A lady writes from an Indiana town:

"From my earliest childhood I was a lover of coffee. Before I was out of my teens I was a miserable dyspeptic, suffering terribly at times with my stomach."

entering of rooms, apartments and tenements; judiciary.

H. B. No. 9—Joseph, to tax the output of coal, coke and minerals not taxed at present; mines and mining.

H. B. No. 10—Austin, making it a misdemeanor to threaten or intimidate employees of any individual or corporation; judiciary.

H. B. No. 11—Kuchler, providing that municipal judges may sit in judges' court temporarily, appointed from the last when reason exists for a change of venue; judiciary.

H. B. No. 12—Kuchler, to authorize the service of civil process from municipal courts by city officers; judiciary.

H. B. No. 13—Kuchler, extending the jurisdiction of municipal judges in civil matters to the county in which the court is situated; judiciary.

H. B. No. 14—Carroll, providing for the appointment of the inspectors in counties outside of incorporated towns; municipal corporations.

H. B. No. 15—Thompson, to establish experimental farms to demonstrate the best method of reclaiming dry or arid lands; agriculture.

H. B. No. 16—Curtin, to prohibit the use of powder in coal and hydrocarbon mines; mines and mining.

There being no further business before the house a number of members were excused (Monday, after which the house adjourned till 2 p. m. today.

TESTIMONY IN THE

SMOOT HEARINGS

[The following testimony in the case against Senator Smoot came too late for our last issue so is continued today that our readers may have it entire.]

At the afternoon session, Frank Martin, an attorney of Boise, Ida., said he had lived in Idaho since 1886 and had served as secretary of the state Democratic committee.

Mr. Worthington asked Mr. Martin what he knew of trips made to Salt Lake to enable the political aid of the "Mormon" Church. The witness said he never heard of any trip of that character. The only "Mormon" the Democrats have nominated for a state office since statehood was dropped by a fusion of the party with the Populists, and only one Republican "Mormon" had been named so far as the witness knew.

Mr. Martin said he never had known of any instance of "Mormon" interference with the politics of Idaho. He had heard it charged that "Mormon" influence had defeated former Gov. Morrison for renomination, but he believed so per cent of the people did not credit the charge. The witness expressed the opinion that it was an announcement by Senator Dubois that he intended to push the Smoot investigation that provoked the "Mormon" controversy of the last campaign.

"The Mormons felt," said Mr. Martin, "that Senator Dubois, to aid himself politically, was trying to disfranchise them. They did not oppose the adoption of a plank which would include all of the sexual crimes, but were opposed to a declaration against polygamy and polygamous cohabitation alone."

Mr. Jackson, the Democratic chairman, had placed across the street a banner bearing the words: "We are for men, not for sheep." The Republican candidate for governor was a large sheepowner. Mr. Jackson had invited him (Martin) to speak for the Democrats, but the witness desired to discuss national issues, whereupon Mr. Jackson insisted that the people were tired of hearing about the tariff, that they wanted to know about "Mormonism." According to the witness, any Democrat who declined to talk against "Mormonism" was not permitted to go on the stump.

Mr. Martin gave testimony concerning the character of the campaign conducted by Mr. Clay, the Democratic candidate for Congress, who is said to have cast serious reflection on the morals of "Mormon" women and girls, to show that the "Mormon" had cause, outside of ordinary political questions, to boycott the Democratic party in the last campaign.

In regard to the charges made by witnesses for protestants that the courts in "Mormon" counties are controlled by the Church, Mr. Worthington read a statute which gives the governor authority to designate any county judge to go into any other county and hold court. According to the witness, the governor had once acted on this statute. Mr. Martin said Senator Dubois, in the campaign, was accompanied by Hyde Stalker, a Republican, but asked the people to vote for former Senator Helfield for governor.

Under examination by Chairman Burrows, Mr. Martin said that at the time he was secretary of the state committee the question of what would be the attitude in relation to the "Mormon" Church had been discussed, but only as other organizations, such as the Miners' union, were taken into consideration.

Mr. Martin, at the conclusion of his testimony, volunteered the statement that personally he favored prosecuting those who continued polygamous cohabitation, but the majority of Gentiles believed the best way was to "let the old fellows die off."

James H. Brady of Pocatello, Ida., chairman of the Republican state committee, said there were between 5,000 and 8,000 "Mormon" voters in the "Mormon" counties, and between 12,000 and 14,000 "Mormon" voters in the state, and that the entire vote of the state was about 72,000. He said the last campaign was not fairly started before it developed that the Democrats were not fighting polygamy, but "Mormonism."

Senator Dubois, he said, tried to turn all "Mormon" votes into the Republican column, and as chairman of the Republican committee witness tried to get all the votes he could by circulating copies of Senator Dubois' letter to former Gov. McConnell, to the effect that he believed that all "Mormons" were criminals.

The witness said he was satisfied that Judge Parker, the Democratic candidate for president, was sacrificed by the Democrats wherever it was possible to get a vote for Helfield, the Democratic candidate for governor.

Mr. Brady said that he had made a careful investigation of the number of polygamists in Idaho, and to the best of his information there were only 56. The younger "Mormons," he asserted, were opposed to polygamy.

"It is all bosh," said the witness, "to say that 'Mormons' get everything they want in Idaho—just, if they do, they want very little."

He denied that "Mormons" had anything to do with the denial of a second nomination to former Gov. Morrison. J. W. N. Whitcomb of Provo, Utah, testified that he was not a "Mormon" nor a member of any church, but that his wife was a member of the Congregational church, and he attended with her. He was examined in relation to political affairs in Utah and also concerning the prosecution in Utah on charges of polygamy. His examination had not proceeded far when the committee adjourned until tomorrow.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy the Best Made.

"In my opinion Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is the best made for colds," says Mrs. Clara Walker of Porterville, California. "There is no doubt about its being the best. No other will cure a cold as quickly. No other is so sure a preventive of pneumonia. No other is so pleasant and safe to take. These are good reasons why it should be preferred to any other. The fact is that few people are satisfied with any other after having once used this remedy. For sale by all druggists."

Aches and Pains.

You know by experience that the aches and pains of rheumatism are not permanent, but only temporarily, relieved by external remedies.

Then why not use an internal remedy? There is no doubt about its being the best. No other will cure a cold as quickly. No other is so sure a preventive of pneumonia. No other is so pleasant and safe to take. These are good reasons why it should be preferred to any other. The fact is that few people are satisfied with any other after having once used this remedy. For sale by all druggists."
