

TILLMAN TURNS HIMSELF LOOSE.

Practically Charges That Administration Is Not Acting in Good Faith.

TO GET RAILROAD LEGISLATION

Says Pennsylvania Railway Is at Head of Oppressors of the People.

Washington, Feb. 12.—The senate today adopted a joint resolution reported by Mr. Tillman from the senate committee on interstate commerce, which directs the interstate commerce commission to investigate the charge of discrimination and combination in restraint of trade made against the railroads. The adoption of the resolution was preceded by a speech by Mr. Tillman in which he practically charged that the administration was not proceeding in good faith to secure railroad legislation, because he was not satisfied with the president's advisers.

Among those he mentioned were Secy. Root and Senator Knox, the former of whom, he said, was an adviser of the "magnates" responsible for the development of the railroads. Mr. Tillman said that he was not satisfied with the president's advisers, and that he was not satisfied with the president's advisers.

TILLMAN'S RESOLUTION.

Mr. Tillman then called up his resolution regarding railroad discrimination with a view to asking immediate consideration of it. Before doing so he explained the resolution by saying that it was very comprehensive and covered a wide field. He said that the language of the resolution was largely the same as that of the resolution presented in the house a few days since by Mr. Gillespie.

Giving his reasons for asking for the inquiry, he said that he was convinced that the railroads were the oppressors of the people, and that he was not satisfied with the president's advisers. He said that he was not satisfied with the president's advisers, and that he was not satisfied with the president's advisers.

A STUPENDOUS FARCE.

He believed there should be a remedy but added that the present proceedings in a Congress are a stupendous farce. He said that he was not satisfied with the president's advisers, and that he was not satisfied with the president's advisers.

When you look farther you find the Pennsylvania railroad at the head of the list of the oppressors of the people. Hence he contended that the people were being "bamboozled" by the talk of protecting the masses against the classes. He confessed that "with such cooing he was inclined to snuff at the dish that it set in the United States."

KNOX INTERRUPTS.

Mr. Knox was not in the senate chamber when reference was made to him, but he came in before the South Carolina senator had proceeded far. He immediately interrupted Mr. Tillman to make him say he had been entirely mistaken in saying he had been an attorney for the Pennsylvania railroad. "I never sustained that relationship either permanently or temporarily, directly or indirectly at any time during my career," he said. He added that he would not consider such connection at all improper.

Mr. Tillman expressed satisfaction over the denial, saying to Mr. Knox that he "would respect him more for the balance of his life."

Continuing, the South Carolina senator said that the three principal lines of the south of the Potomac were in a merger which was controlled by the Pennsylvania and the New York Central. He then spoke of the conditions in West Virginia, and said that, notwithstanding Gov. Dawson's predecessor had called attention to the violation of law in that state, the attorney general had done nothing about it.

PENNSYLVANIA LEGISLATURE.

The people were, however, becoming aroused. "Even the poor, besotted Pennsylvania legislature, owned body and soul by the Pennsylvania and the Reading, had shown signs of life by adopting a resolution as to the control

LET YOUR STOMACH HAVE ITS OWN WAY.

Do Not Try to Drive and Force it to Work When it is Not Able or You Will Suffer All the More.

You cannot treat your stomach as some men treat a balky horse; force drive or even starve it into doing work at which it rebels. The stomach is a patient and faithful servant and will stand much abuse. But when it does before it "balks," but when it does you had better go slow with it and not attempt to make it work. Some people have the mistaken idea that they can make their stomachs work by starving themselves. They might cure the stomach that way, but it would take so long that they would have no use for a stomach when they got through. The sensible way out of the difficulty is to let the stomach rest if it wants to and employ a substitute to do its work.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will do the work of your stomach for you and digest your food just as your stomach used to when it was well. You can prove this by putting your food in a glass jar with one of the tablets and sufficient water and you will find food digest in just the same time as the digestive fluids of the stomach would do it. That will satisfy your mind. Now, to satisfy both your mind and body take one of Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets after eating—at all and what you want—and you will feel in your mind that your food is being digested because you will feel a "turbance or weight in your stomach; in fact, you will forget all about having a stomach, just as you did when you were a healthy boy or girl."

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets act in a natural way because they contain only natural elements of the gastric juices and oils. It makes no difference what condition the stomach is in, they are right ahead of their own accord, and do their work. They know their business and surrounding conditions do not influence them in the least. They thus relieve the weak stomach of all its burdens and give it its much needed rest and permit it to become strong and healthy.

Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are for sale by all druggists at 50 cents a box. They are so well known and their popularity is so great that a druggist would as soon think of being out of alcohol or quinine as of them. In fact, physicians are prescribing them all over the land, and if your own doctor is real honest with you, he will tell you that Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets are earth so good for dyspepsia as Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

of the coal output by the railroads, as if everybody did not know that the anthracite output is and has been for years controlled both as to quantity and price." He declared the Pennsylvania road to be "the head devil in the whole policy of monopoly," and, referring to the Baltimore & Ohio's policy in West Virginia, he said that road had practically told the public that it might be "damned."

He declared that a very strenuous effort had been brought to bear on the president to grant to the railroads the privileges of appeal to the courts before the orders of the interstate commerce commission could be put into effect. He had even heard that threats were being made that the president must yield, "if he stands firm and does not yield then they will have more confidence," he added.

Mr. Foraker asked Mr. Tillman if he did not believe there should be provisions for review by the courts and Mr. Tillman replied that he believed in it if properly provided. "Otherwise," he said, "the poor devil of a complainant will be bullied and dragged from one court to another until he is forced into bankruptcy."

In answer to further questions by Mr. Foraker, Mr. Tillman said he was not satisfied with the Hepburn bill, and he added that he intended to offer amendments to remedy the situation in West Virginia.

He asked Mr. Foraker if he was going to vote for the house bill, Mr. Foraker replied in a sentence, "I am not," he said.

SENATE UNDER A CLOUD.

The South Carolina senator then went on to say that the senate was under a cloud and should take steps to clear its good name. "The newspaper press associations, however, controlled, and I have my suspicions on that point," he said, "and have educated the people to believe that Theodore Roosevelt is their only friend here, and that the senate is the single tool of the corporations unless it takes their line dixit."

He declared that the Hepburn bill had a loophole in that a freight train might be driven through, and added: "You will never stop the movement till you put some millionaire in prison, and put the stripes on him."

He said that he had asked the interstate commerce commission to make the inquiry called for by his resolution because for one reason, the senate has not the time, and because, "We know better how not to do it than anybody on God's green earth."

He then proceeded to give reasons why he thought the president could not be depended upon to serve the interests of the people.

GOES FOR PAUL MORTON.

Speaking of Mr. Morton, Mr. Tillman said that he had resigned from the navy "with the confession of rebate on him, made by his own mouth, and the proof hanging over him."

"He is promoted," Mr. Tillman continued, "and made head of the great insurance organization in New York which has been made the stamping ground for as dirty a lot of thieves as ever walked God's green earth. And they sent a man with this nice clean record and put him in charge of these scores of hundreds of millions, which are the savings, so to speak, of widows and orphans, who have policies in that company."

WHITE HOUSE IMMACULATE.

"Yet here we go," he went on; "the White House is immaculate. I do not doubt Theodore Roosevelt's integrity and patriotism. As I stated the other day, he is monstrously persuaded by some people who get around him and 'honey fuggle' him with flattery, and whatever their methods may be, he stands by his friends. He gave Morton a certificate of good character."

Mr. Tillman then referred to a dinner recently given at the White House to the executive committee of the Republican national committee, and said:

AFTER J. A. MCCALL.

"The president has been elected nearly a year and a half, and never has it been found necessary or desirable to bring these friends of his, these true and tried lieutenants and counselors in his last race for the presidency, to dine with him. The inevitable conclusion, in my mind—at least it ought to be if it is not—is that these people were brought together to confer how the money could be raised to help poor old McCall out of the bag into which he has sunk, and refund the $13,000 which he stole from the policeholders of the insurance company and contributed to the campaign funds of the national Republican committee. For surely this man McCall is not going to be left in the lurch and run the risk of bankruptcy or of being sent to the penitentiary because of the fact that his love for the Republican party got him into this trouble." He closed as follows:

JACKSON AND ROOSEVELT.

"The other day somebody here made an allusion to the comparison between Andrew Jackson and President Roosevelt. Let us look at Andrew Jackson, never put Nicholas Biddle in his cabinet. In his fight against the money power he fought to the bitter end. He used no blunders; he used a budget. The president had no need for any campaign fund, but his lieutenants did. Mr. Biddle collected it. Mr. Cortelyou spent it. Mr. Cortelyou is now in the cabinet, and, as I said, the trusted friend and attorney of the money power in New York—Ellhu Root. I acknowledge he is a very bright and great man and I admire him. But Andrew Jackson never would have taken as a cabinet officer a man so closely allied with Nicholas Biddle in the national banks."

SENATORS' OBLIGATIONS.

"So we have a condition in this country today which should make every thoughtful man pause to see whether or not it is possible that the members of the senate have the grace of patriotism and regard for their obligations of office. In other words, they took, to take up all these questions relating to the public welfare, this railway rate business, this railway discrimination, this railway monopoly business, this destruction of private property without due process of law, simply by denying the right to ship coal and all that kind of thing. I say we need an investigation. We want the facts. We want the interstate commerce commission to do the best it can with the bill now before it. We have agreed among ourselves to bring it in next Friday, or to bring in something, so that the discussion here on the floor may proceed along the line of enlightenment for the people of the country and other senators as to what is in the bill and what is not. I would rather keep it in committee until we get the facts from the interstate commerce commission upon which we could base an amendment to prevent public carriers from combining on any product or any coal which is to be shipped over their line, thus relieving us from this life-long monopoly which now oppresses the life blood of Pennsylvania in the anthracite region and is feeding upon the bituminous region of Pennsylvania and West Virginia and the Atlantic coast. The board generally, by which the people are held up and compelled to pay from one to two dollars a ton more than is a just compensation for the coal, in order to put more in the pockets of the millionaires in the pockets of Cassatt and his allies."

When Mr. Tillman concluded, Mr. Elkins asked and obtained permission to have printed in the records the Virginia and the Pennsylvania railroads to make connections with other lines, saying that they entirely relieve the state from the charge of disgrace made against it for not having enacted adequate laws on the subject.

Mr. Tillman's resolution was then adopted without division or opposition. The senate went into executive session at 4:30 p. m., and adjourned seven minutes later.

CACERES WILL WITHHOLD HIS RESIGNATION.

New York, Feb. 12.—A cable dispatch to the Herald from Santo Domingo says: "Yielding to the solicitations of his friends, Gen. Caceres yesterday promised to withhold his resignation, which he had intended to offer on the opening day of the session of the chamber of deputies. It is likely that he will retain office until the United States treaty is ratified, providing he finds that there will be no delay in bringing up the measure."

JOSEPH ARTHUR III.

New York, Feb. 12.—Joseph Arthur, the playwright, is seriously ill, following an operation for a lesion in both kidneys. The operation was apparently successful and hopes of the patient's recovery are entertained.

UPRISING IN CHINA.

Col. Chan Chee Thinks There's No Truth in Stories.

New York, Feb. 12.—A special to the Herald from Springfield, Mass., says: "Regarding the anti-foreign outbreak predicted in China for Feb. 2, Col. Chan Chee, director of the Imperial military academy at Hunan, China, who is one of the high commissioners touring this country, said last night: 'I do not think there is a word of truth in it. In the first place, the reform associations are without the money to conduct the uprising which they are said to have planned. Secondly, they are without the power to put such plans into operation even if they had the money. If such a thing were brewing, the government would have discovered it long ago and put the conspirators under arrest."

BOTH FOOD AND MEDICINE.

We like best to call Scott's Emulsion a food-medicine. It is a term that aptly describes the character and action of our Emulsion. More than a medicine—more than a food, yet combining the vital principles of both. It is for this reason that Scott's Emulsion has a distinct and special value in all wasting diseases. There is nothing better to remedy the troubles of imperfect growth and delicate health in children. The action of Scott's Emulsion is just as effective in treating weakness and wasting in adults.

EMPLOYEES WANT WEEK WITH A SUNDAY IN IT.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Employees of the traction lines in Chicago began an agitation yesterday to secure a "week with a Sunday in it." As a rule the men now work seven days a week. Occasionally they are allowed 2 hours' rest in a fortnight, but such a vacation is irregular. The union has declared the system to be unsatisfactory. When the existing agreements with the companies expire, May 1, the demands for one day off each week is likely to constitute one of the chief points of dispute.

Between 10,000 and 12,000 street car men are interested in the weekly "day off" agitation. They comprise 90 per cent or more of the employees of the surface lines.

NEWSBOYS FED.

New York, Feb. 12.—Half a thousand newsboys and homeless waifs were fed by their friend, F. Delano Weeks, last night at the Grace Memorial Home. The boys went to table in relays of 50. After they were fed there was a vaudeville show.

The boys sang patriotic and popular songs and enjoyed themselves immensely. Letters of regret were read from President Roosevelt, Mayor McCallahan and Robert T. Lincoln. The following telegram was sent to the president: "The boys of Grace Memorial Lodge, House of the Children's Aid society assembled to celebrate the birth of Abraham Lincoln, respectfully send their thanks and express deepest gratitude for the president's kind letter just received. His remembrance of us will never be forgotten and will also help us to be good and loyal citizens." (Signed)

"KID BETTS," "LIFE ADAMS," "SUNNY JIM," "KID BISCUIT," "CANAL BOAT JOE." These signatures were not attached as a joke. They are the only names these boys themselves know.

A MORAL WAVE IS SWEEPING OVER CHICAGO.

Chicago, Feb. 12.—Chief of Police Collins will issue a general order to the department today instructing all police officers to see that no boy or girl under 18 years old is allowed hereafter in a public dance hall unattended by his or her parents.

Beginning Thursday night, when an ordinance regulating immoral plays and moving pictures, will be in effect, the police also will close all theaters where scenes of vice, degradation and crime are depicted unless the plays are taken off the boards.

DOWNWARD COURSE.

Fast Being Realized by Salt Lake City People.

A little backache at first. Daily increasing till the back is lame and weak. Urinary disorders quickly follow. Diabetes and finally Bright's disease. This is the downward course of kidney ills.

Don't take this course. Follow the advice of a Salt Lake City citizen.

Mrs. Sarah Pearson, rear of 542 Elizabeth St., says: "I honestly think I inherited kidney complaint attacks of which I have had for years. Many a time I have been over-anxious about my own condition for the persistent aching just across the loins, which radiated toward the shoulders, which hurt when I stooped and straightened after stooping or lifting anything, often kept me in misery. When there was added to it backache, trouble with the kidney secretions and dimness of vision, I knew my kidneys required attention. I had used a great many remedies for kidney complaint, some of which may have had a slight effect, but from none did I obtain half the satisfactory results as from Doan's Kidney Pills, procured at the F. J. Hill Drug Co's store. This remedy acted directly on the kidneys and cured me completely. In hopes that my testimonial may induce to use Doan's Kidney Pills all who have kidney trouble, I unhesitatingly allow it to be published."
