FUNERAL OF FRANK HANSON.

Old Engineer Leaves the Throttle and Passes to His Final Rest.

The funeral obsequies of Frank H. Hanson, whose funeral occurred at the family residence yesterday, removes from this sphere of action one of the oldest locomotive engineers in the community. Mr. Hanson was one of the very first to pull the throttle over the Union Pacific, and has remained a faithful employe of the road ever since. He was at the time of his demise one of the oldest engineers in the service of the Oregon Short Line. He had a host of friends, and his loss is felt by a large circle of acquaintances. Never by his actions presumed patronage, he was always ready to do a favor for the humblest of his kin. The deceased engineer was married twice, but his first wife died long ago, and he was married for the second time to a lady who survives him. He was a member of all the fellow societies of the road, which attended the last sad rites.

The services were conducted by Bishop Holmes of the First ward, and the choir, under the direction of Prof. Evan Stephens, sang "Nearer, My God, to Thee." The pall bearers were Messrs. Thomas Sharp, George Ellis, Joseph Ellis, Robert Lee, Thomas Lewis, Alexander Irvine, Jr., and Joseph L. Taylor. As a fitting conclusion to the funeral obsequies, the deceased was laid to rest in Salt Lake City cemetery.

THE ART EXHIBIT.

A Creditable and Delightful Display of Home Talent.

The Wednesday evening, it is said, it came to the 25th floor of the Temple, nothing. Mrs Mace Wells, Mrs. Elder Wells Brown and Mrs. Blanche Lee, gave a very delightful reception to the ladies of the choir of Salt Lake Stake and invited gentlemen friends. The reception was held in the Assembly hall, and the ladies had charge of the entertainment. The ladies had prepared a very pleasant surprise for the gentlemen, and it was a very delightful one.
