FRAGMENTS.

A PATENT was issued at Washington yesterday to Benjamin F. Brown of Salt Lake, for a safety invention for a railway car.

THE Judges of the Territorial Supreme court will probably take an adjournment at the conclusion of next Friday's session.

THE Letter Carriers' excursion, which concluded with a ball in the great dancing pavilion at Saltair last night, was a very quiet and pleasant affair.

ASSISTANT Superintendent George Goddard, of the Deseret Sunday School Union, goes north this week to attend the Sunday school conference to be held at Paris, Idaho, on Saturday and Sunday next.

THE hearing in the Frank Dyer estate, so far as concerns the accounts of the executrix, was to have taken place this morning in the Probate court, but by arrangement between counsel the matter went over until July 27.

NOTHING has yet been heard from the military authorities at Washington in reply to Colonel Grant's letter with reference to the recent shooting of Leonard at Fort Douglas. So District Attorney Judd informed a representative of the NEWS today.

THE long delay on the part of the City Council before getting to work last night necessitated the holding of another meeting this week. Had it not been for the incomprehensible tardiness of the members the table could easily have been cleared of all business last night.

LOGAN arguments in the Farley's estate conflict case were continued this morning from yesterday, before Referee Parley L. Williams, whose report on the proposed hearing will be awaited with interest. It is expected that the case will be submitted some time today.

A STRAWBERRY and ice cream festival was given at the Old Farm House at Forest Dale last evening and was thoroughly enjoyed by the large number of people present. An excellent concert program was rendered, and the affair closed with a pleasant dancing party.

THE Eleventh Ward Sunday school will hold a fair for the benefit of the school in the ward meeting house, to commence on Tuesday, June 27th, at 2 o'clock p.m., and continue on Wednesday, June 28th. The fair will be held under the auspices of the Sunday school teachers.

SMALL fruits are crowding into the market now, and the busy housewife is made happy by putting down fresh fruit for winter use. Today fresh picked strawberries came down in eight and nine cents a quart, by measurement. Gooseberries are at 10 cents. The cherries and raspberries in the market are California fruits.

THIS has been the "thinnest" day in the Territorial Supreme court since the present term opened. Beyond the judges, their clerk, two reporters, the sergeant and the court bailiff, the last named of whom dozed most of the time, there were not half a dozen persons present at any one period of the morning.

FIVE months the franchises of the Salt Lake and Ogden Gaslight and Electric Light company "hung fire" and was fought over in the council. For the past year Wendell Bennett has had an application for a franchise before the council similar to the one referred to. Now that it has been taken from the pigeonhole in which it has so long slumbered the "knowing ones" say they will fight it to a finish.

THERE was received at the Governor's office last evening the proclamation issued by Governor Boutwell of Massachusetts, forbidding the importation of sheep into that state from Oregon, Washington, California, Nevada, Wyoming, Idaho, Colorado, Utah and New Mexico, as he has reason to believe that sheep from all of these states and territories "are liable to bring with them the disease known as scab and other loathsome and contagious diseases."

AMUSEMENTS.

Mark Murphy will, with the assistance of his company of comedians, present their latest New York success, O'Dowd's Neighbors, at the Salt Lake Theater on June 26th and 27th. O'Dowd's Neighbors is one of those theatrical productions for which you cannot find a name in the dictionary. The management boast that they have the largest farce-comedy company traveling this season. There are no less than thirty-two people in the cast. Sam J. Ryan, who has the second best part in the piece, is a clever comedian, and was the original in the part of Marcus McNabb. Additions to the company this year are Miss Clara Throgg, Miss Annie Perdue, Miss Minnie Wallace, Miss Emma Winton, Miss Rose Leigh and other ladies. Miss Jennie Murphy, who plays the part of the Widow Reilly, is a favorite among comic opera stagers.

BANQUET AT GARFIELD.

General Clarkson and Colonel Trumbo Honored by Prominent Republicans.

The excursion and banquet given by Chairman Crane of the Republican Territorial committee in honor of J. S. Clarkson and Colonel Isaac Trumbo last evening was an elaborate affair.

The party was made up of between forty and fifty Republicans and they went out to Garfield in a special train. On reaching the beach they all hied themselves into the waves and enjoyed themselves immensely. On leaving the water they went to the dining room where a splendid banquet followed.

Judge Bennett acted as toastmaster and responses were made as follows:

"Utah," Angus M. Cannon; "The Republican Party," General Clarkson; "Why Republicanism is Right," Col. Trumbo; "The Judiciary," Judge Miner; "The Republican Campaign in Utah," Charles Crane. All enjoyed themselves and returned on a special train at 7 p. m.

FILLMORE HAPPENINGS.

Two Sad Deaths.—Serious Fire.—A Meeting House of Onyx.

Correspondence Deseret News.

FILLMORE, June 19.—Quite a gloom has brooded over us for a number of days past owing to several cases of sickness of women, and two deaths. Mrs. Mercy Cron Callister, the twenty-year-old wife of John W. Callister, died on the evening of the 13th under circumstances that created great sympathy for the young husband, who was 200 miles from home in Nevada. Messengers were sent by team to inform him of his wife's sickness. Dr. Tilson came down from Payson on the 12th and gave encouragement for her recovery but hope was slighted in death. Bishop T. C. Callister started off in the night to bear the sill sadder news to his young brother, whom he hoped to meet at Deseret, thirty-five miles away. Not finding him he got a fresh team hired by Brother Dan Black and drove it ninety miles that day, and the same team seventy miles more the next day. The Bishop tells how he prayed to the Lord to sustain that team that they might endure the heat and thirst of that long and tedious journey. Our God does not sleep and doubtless heard his prayer. When Johnny saw his brother he cried out: "Tell me the worst, I know my Mart is dead, or you would be at her side!" The young man was entirely prostrated with grief and fatigue when he arrived here.

The funeral was a large one, as the young lady was a great favorite in public esteem and a school teacher of remarkable ability. For a number of terms she has taught in Kanosh, and possessed that special charm of commanding obedience with attractive admiration. She was the daughter of the well known and respected Jacob Croft, who sat like a familiar monarch in the face of death, this being the twelfth child that had fallen before the reaper's sickle, with the last one sobbing at his side; four wives had been gathered in, and the lonely whitened octogenarian sat and mutely wept, the embodiment of faith in God and the Gospel restored to earth in this dispensation, sustained by the peace of a virtuous life and the comforting influence of the Holy Ghost.

Sunday at 8 o'clock a. m., Milina, wife of Brother Alma Greenwood, died after years of suffering. About ten days since she was stricken with paralysis and has shown little signs of consciousness since. She was thirty-six years old and leaves three children. Brother Alma has the sympathy of all.

About 3 o'clock p.m. on the 17th, the corrals of Jesse Milligale were discovered on fire, on the west side of town. The wind was blowing directly towards the house and it seems almost a miracle that the building was saved. Another house near by in direct line with the wind contained a very sick aged sister and another an invalid and blind. The poor creatures became somewhat excited at the smell and sound of the burning. Brother Milligale lost besides his corrals a plow, two sets of harness and a young horse which was literally cremated—quite a loss for a poor man.

The Fillmore creamery has just started up. Some difficulty is experienced in obtaining sufficient milk for successful operation. This institution certainly ought to be fostered by the people, and give the proprietors, who have put their money into it for public good, a chance to redeem their promises of producing an article that could be eaten with a relish, in distinction from the fearful mucilaginous article of unmeaning strength made in most of the one-cow dairies and miscalled butter. Some of this stuff would make oleomargarine melt with shame at being classed with the same article.

Your esteemed historical correspondent recently gave us a deserved reminder of the antiquity of our meeting house, but this very close observer seems to have overlooked the fact that we have the partially prepared foundations of two meeting houses in repose. It is now suggested that we build one entirely of onyx, as a very large body of that beautiful stone has been discovered near by and many of our citizens are carrying a polished specimen in their pockets. Such an edifice would certainly be a resplendent attraction to the weary traveler as he approached the capital from the west. A. Bunn.

Back from Europe.

Elder Joseph F. Schoenfeld of Brighton, Salt Lake county, returned from a mission to Europe on Sunday last and paid the NEWS a visit yesterday evening. Elder Shoenfeld left his home for the Orient August 29, 1891. He labored in Turkey for the first six months, but on account of ill health was transferred to the Swiss and German missions. He also spent six months in Switzerland. The remainder of his mission was in and near Dresden, Germany. He reports having made many friends and with others allayed much prejudice. A new field of missionary work was opened in the last named section and the prospects are that it will be a very fruitful one.

Elder Shoenfeld enjoyed the performance of his ministerial duties exceedingly and returns to his home in the best of health and spirits.

Wonderland.

Tomorrow is regular change day at this resort, and the Ideal Opera company will enter into the last week of its prosperous and successful season of comic opera, presenting the Bohemian Girl. A novel attraction will be given in curio hall, Professor Choveis presenting for the first time in this city his wonderful performing bears. Dolphus Stage Williams, Edson and Manning will also be seen in something new.

E. K. Bassett's Singing Class will give the operetta, "Jack the Giant Killer," (integrated) with solos and duets, Thursday and Friday evening in the ward meeting house. Doors open at 7, performance commence at 8 o'clock.

A Pointer for Bicycle Riders.

Irvin W. Larimore, physical director of Y. M. C. A., Des Moines, Ia., says he can conscientiously recommend Chamberlain's Pain Balm to athletes, gymnasts, bicyclists, foot ball players and the profession in general for bruises, sprains and dislocations; also for soreness and stiffness of the muscles. Mr. Larimore has used two bottles of the Pain Balm and is enthusiastic in his praise of the remedy.
