TRAVELS AMONG THE PEOPLE.

Elder Francis M. Lyman and Andrew Jenson Have a Pleasant Experience.

Heber, Wasatch Co., Utah, Nov. 16, 1898.

To the Editor:

In company with Elder Francis M. Lyman of the Council of the Apostles, I left Salt Lake City on the morning of the 10th inst. We journeyed by rail to Provo, where we were met by Elder Moses Thatcher, who conveyed us by buggy to Heber City. Here we were joined by Elder Thatcher in the chaise and four, and drove to Elder Abram Hatch, ward President.

On the next day (Saturday, Nov. 12) we continued to Midway, where we spent the Sabbath, and were joined by Elder M. F. Cowley, President of Wasatch Stake, who drove us back to Heber, on which occasion we had the pleasure of visiting the Tabernacle of the Latter-day Saints for about the first time, and of hearing President Lyman, who was formerly resident here, and President Cowley, who has been prominently active in Utah County and Utah Stake, who had previously acted as President of Wasatch Stake, and who was ordained President of the same by President Lyman, and President Cowley, who was ordained President of Wasatch Stake by President Lyman, and President Thatcher, who was ordained President of Utah Stake by President Lyman, and President Thatcher, who was ordained President of the Twelve Apostles by President Brigham Young, and President Lyman
