NOTICE.

On the first day of October next there will be an entire change in the management of the DESERET NEWS. The paper, however, will continue to be non-partisan in politics and will remain the official organ of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-day Saints.

FRAGMENTS.

MAYT LYON is now sole proprietor of the barber shop in the Templeton Hotel building. See advt.

THE trial of the case of George W. Crosier et al. vs. Orlando Pratt and wife resulted, in Judge Zane's court yesterday afternoon, in judgment for the plaintiffs for $300, with interest at 8 per cent.

COURT BAILIFF George Walton, familiarly known around the courts as "Uncle George," left this morning for Washington, D. C., whence he goes to attend the national encampment of the G. A. R.

TWO morning John Doe and Harry Olsen emerged from the penitentiary, having completed their sentences of one and a half and two years respectively for burglary. Doe was sent up from Provo and Olsen was committed from the Fourth District court at Ogden.

A SMALL blaze occurred about 8:30 last night in a carpenter's shop on First South and First West streets. It began in a pile of shavings, and the roof had just caught fire when the brigade arrived. The flames were soon extinguished, very little damage having been done. The origin of the blaze is not known. There was no one in the shop at the time of the outbreak.

Police Court.

The list of offenders before Judge Kester this morning was so very slender that before 10:30 he was emboldened to adjourn court, and betake himself to the Republican convention.

Dave Jones plead guilty to a charge of drunkenness, sentence suspended.

Ed. Ryan, charged with being drunk, was fined $5.

William Woodcock, who was charged with petty larceny, was discharged.

A Pleasant Reception.

The wedding reception of Mr. and Mrs. Heber S. Cutler, held at the residence of the bride's mother, last night, was a very pleasant and enjoyable affair. The house was thronged with guests, mostly relatives of the newly wedded couple, who teemed with happiness as they received the heartiest congratulations of their friends. The supper provided for the occasion was all that could be desired, and the hours flew swiftly as the company engaged in pleasant sociable conversation. The wedding presents were numerous and elegant.

Bishop Kesler Convalescent.

We were greatly pleased today to receive a visit from our old friend Bishop F. Kesler of the Sixteenth ward, who is convalescent after a long siege of illness. During the attack he got so close to the other shore that it appeared as if a little puff from a gentle breeze would land him there. But he is here still, and attributes his recovery to the blessing of the Lord. The Bishop is feeling feeble, but, considering the ordeal through which he has recently passed, looks much better than one night expect. His many friends will be pleased to learn of his recovery.

For Ann Arbor.

Brother Joseph D. Harris of Monroe, Sevier county, is in town. He is on his way to Ann Arbor, Michigan, for which place he will start in a day or two to enter upon a law course, for which he has natural capabilities. These, aided by a good physique, youth, strong determination and stick-to-it-iveness will doubtless bear him on to the goal of his ambition. His brother Hyrum accompanies him. We wish them godspeed.

Brother Harris reports Sevier county in splendid condition, prospects better than ever before and a general good feeling. The "Liberal" party there has really dissolved, its members chiefly going to the Republican party.

Live Stock Points.

In addition to the $1,000 offered in premiums for buildings at the World's fair, the American Southdown Breeders' association will give $250 at the first stock show held in connection with the fair.

Prickly heat in sheep is sometimes mistaken for scab. But prickly heat pustules in time break and disappear of themselves, while scab eruptions never do.

In France dogs, cats and old horses are fed to poultry. The flesh of these animals is boiled to shreds, barley or oat meal sprinkled in till a thick broth is made, and then the mixture is fed to the chickens. The flesh of worn out old horses that do not die from disease might be healthful for poultry, but the time ought to be drawn at dead dogs and cats.

The colt is a good selling horse in the fashionable market. A colt to be fitting horse must be raised by "heavy and elegant men," and is described as a strong, medium sized horse. He should have high, oblique shoulders, as low, straight, upright shoulders are uncomfortable, making the rider sit too far forward. The best selling colt in the American market is 15 to 16 hands high and weighs from 1,050 to 1,200 pounds. But if you breed horses for the fashionable market, remember that they must be shown all things stylish and high stepping. A flash of a horse in action is as much look as a flash of a woman or man.

John Coleman, of Iowa, says he lost 100 pigs in three weeks one year, and this was the price he paid to learn that it would not do to overfeed sows after farrowing.

In sheep breeding a record of the pedigree of ewes is advocated in Great Britain.

Old fowls, both cocks and hens, make better soup than young ones.

"CANNON CHOSEN."

Today's Proceedings.

The convention re-assembled at 10 o'clock this morning and a quarter of an hour later was called to order by Chairman Sells.

Charles Crane, of Millard, arose and asked the indulgence of the convention. He said that he had introduced a resolution last evening in regard to the veto power of Governor Thomas. He now believed it should be withdrawn.

On motion the action whereby the resolution was adopted was reconsidered and the resolution withdrawn, only one negative vote being cast.

THIRD BALLOT.

The chair now announced that the third ballot would be commenced. It resulted as follows:

County	Cannon.	Bennett.	Rutherford.
Beaver
Box Elder	12		1
Cache	22		2
Carbon	6
Emery
Garfield
Juab	4		4
Kane

Utah	1		16
Wasatch
Washington
Weber	1		15
Total	108	116	72

Great excitement now prevailed. The fight between the Utah and Weber county delegations raged long and loud and it was the chairman tired to restore order.

A FOURTH BALLOT

was proceeded with and resulted as follows:

County.	Cannon.	Bennett.	Rutherford.
Beaver
Box Elder
Cache	22		2
Carbon	6

Total	108	116	72

Necessary nomination, 95.

"NO CHOICE,"

cried the chairman, and again disputes were furious and Colonel Sells became impatient and said that he would declare the convention adjourned unless order was observed.

BENNETT WITHDRAWS.

Arthur Brown took the platform and said that he had been instructed by Judge Bennett to withdraw his name and ask his friends to support George Rutherford. (Deafening cheers for five minutes.)

FIFTH BALLOT.

The chair announced that Cannon was elected, and the Weber County delegates fairly yelled themselves hoarse while they distributed Cannon badges among the other delegations.

Will I. Stuart of Salt Lake succeeded in being recognized by the chair after an effort of several minutes' duration. He moved that Cannon's nomination be made unanimous. The motion was put and carried amid cheers for Cannon, Republicanism and Utah.

Booth—In behalf of Utah County we claim the right to make the motion just carried.

The motion was accordingly re-put and again carried.

The Weber delegation then gave three cheers for Utah county and a like number for Sutherland. Three more gave three cheers and a tiger for Cannon.

TO WAIT UPON CANNON.

On motion a committee of three, consisting of Messrs. Martin, Crane and Booth, was appointed to wait on Mr. Cannon and inform him of his nomination.

COLONEL SELLS VOTES IN.

C. O. Whitmore offered the following as having been written by Colonel Sells:

I hereby protest against committing the Territorial Republican party in favor of immediate statehood. Coming events will take care of that question. I do not believe that this is the time or the occasion to urge statehood for Utah Territory. I more regret still that this protest against a stalking-horse be made a part of the records of the proceedings of this convention.

Colonel Ferguson—I am proxy for Colonel Sells in this convention. While he has occupied the chair I have earnestly sought to discharge my duties before this convention in an honest and manly way, but I certainly cannot agree with the sentiments of Colonel Sells' protest. We, as Republicans, boast of the education and intelligence we possess. That being the case, we should know how to govern ourselves. A year ago a distinguished Southern writer, George W. Cable, in an able article stated that Utah had sufficiently shown that three and a half times as much money per capita as in the Two Carolinas. (Applause.) Yet would any one dare make the assertion that those States should be made to wait for admission for fear of the union? No. They before there and so does Utah. (Great applause.) I am opposed to the protest.

There were numerous cries of "vote it down," when Colonel Sells explained that there was no necessity for a vote either favoring its adoption or rejection. He asked that it be simply filed as a portion of the record of the proceedings of the convention. Permission was given.

TERRITORIAL COMMITTEE.

The following were then elected members of the Territorial committee:

Beaver—John N. Murdock.
Box Elder—S. A. Bird.
Cache—W. H. Spelding.
Davis—Joseph T. Maloy.
Emery—H. A. Nelson.
Garfield—John F. Chidester.
Juab—Thomas Fox.
Kane—James Lewis.
Millard—Charles Crane.
Morgan—F. R. G. Welsh.
Rich—Wesley K. Walton.
Salt Lake—James Devine.
Sanpete—Anton H. Lund.
Sevier—William H. Clark.
Summit—Abner Eldredge.
Tooele—A. C. Shields.
Uintah—L. Holbrook.
Washington—Orlando Slack.
Weber—Abbott R. Heywood.

LAND COMMISSIONERS.

James Peterson of Richfield, Joseph T. Jones of Provo and Joseph Hewitt of Logan were chosen as commissioners to locate university lands.

CLOSING APPEALS.

At this juncture the committee returned accompanied by Cannon. The latter was given a warm welcome and was introduced to the audience by Colonel Sells.

MR. CANNON

said: This is the first convention at re-constituted Utah to nominate a delegate to Congress. It is sentimentally fitting and proper that the Republican party should be the pioneer. Gentlemen of the convention, I meet you in the same spirit that you have nominated me. You may be poor in some of the qualities that should go to make up your delegates. But I do not look to them—love for Utah and Republicanism. (Prolonged applause.) This magnificent convention is only a presage of Republican success. If our hearts and best efforts enter this coming campaign as they did this convention, we will sweep this Territory with victory from Logan to Bedie. (Applause.) One thing is certain, Utah will see political truth. The inevitability of Republicanism will be made manifest. Young Utah has been honored; old Utah must not be forgotten. Veterans of Republicanism, when the day for a larger political fabric dawns in this Territory, you will not be neglected. You have heard the pledge, and it will not be broken. Republicanism offers to intelligent citizens freedom of thought and ballot and reward for full one its prizes. It says that it is the duty of the government to provide and protect labor as far as possible. Americans by birth and adoption are best fitted for carrying out these ideas. Republicanism is no longer a mere fetiche uncertainly in Utah, but a living, moving, progressive and beneficial power. Its destiny is to direct our land and make it politically free. Gentlemen again I thank you.

TUMULTUOUS APPLAUSE.

Three cheers were again given for Cannon, and the latter proposed a similar number for President Harrison and Republicanism. This was responded to with alacrity and the structure of Thespian art fairly shook. The convention then adjourned.

Mind Reading in Britain.

Linear superstitions lingered until a late period in the British islands. A writer of the seventeenth century says: "In Yorkshire, etc., northward, some country peoplednow worship the New Moon on their bare knees, kneeling on an earthfast stone. And the people of Athol, in the Highlands of Scotland, the worship the New Moon." Speaking of the Irish, he continues: "A rather so to they worship the moon. I know not, but when they first see her after the change, they commonly bow the knee and say the Lord's Prayer, and near the water address themselves to her with a loud voice after this manner, Leaving us as well as thou found out me!"

Sylvester O'Halloran, the Irish historian, speaking of the corresponding customs of the Phenicians and Irish, "and their deities were the same. They both adored Bel for the sun, and Diana for the moon, the house of Rimmon which the Phenicians worshiped as (like our temples of Freelin in Meath), were seated on a hill, as our temples are."—London Standard.

When Two Rainbows Are Seen.

When two rainbows are sometimes seen at once, one outside the other, the inner one is very low, as it is called, is always the brighter, and the red band of color is always on its outside, the outer or secondary bow is much fainter in color, and the red band is always on its inside. This is because in the primary bow the sun's rays are refracted once, while in the secondary bow they are reflected twice, which makes them fainter in color and turns them upside down. In one rainbow we see the rays of the sun entering the raindrops at the top and reflected to the eye from the bottom, while in the other we see the rays entering the raindrops at the bottom and reflected from the top whence they reach the eye.—Brooklyn Eagle.

How the Eyes Catches Seals.

Mr. Dyer lives on a small island near Seven Hundred Acre Island, Hoodsen. He takes a pole several feet in length, to which is attached a number of common codfish hooks with lanyards several feet in length. The hooks are baited with a herring. This contrivance is anchored and floated, the hooks being just below the surface. The seals in swallowing the herring become hooked. Mr. Dyer has taken a large number in this manner.—Boston Argus.

TODAY'S COURT RECORD.

The Docket Soon Wiped Clean in Judge Zane's Department.

AN ADJOURNMENT TAKES TILL MONDAY.

A Singular Replevin Suit, Involving the Ownership of a Farrowing, in a Justice's Court.

There were three cases set down on the docket for trial in Chief Justice Zane's court today, but as two of these were stricken from the calendar and one was continued by consent there was little else for the court to do, and the session was consequently a very brief one. The petit jury were dismissed for the day about 10:30, with the intimation that they would not be called again until Monday morning. Tomorrow Judge Zane will sit and hear the usual Saturday morning motions.

CODE IN!

This morning, George Adams, an Englishman, and now a resident of Juab county, was admitted to citizenship, as was also Charles W. Rogers, a New Zealander, now of Salt Lake.

MORE JURORS WANTED.

An open venire for six petit jurors was issued, returnable on Monday next, at 10 a. m.

DISMISSED.

The case of John Ferguson vs. John S. Scott et al. was dismissed.

CONTINUED.

That of August Larson vs. the South Goleta Mining Company was continued by consent.

REMOVED FROM THE DOCKET.

The suit of George M. Scott et al. vs. A. Hanlon was removed from the docket, marked "no issue."

THEY WHOSE IS IT?

An interesting legal point will be raised in Justice Cox's court next Monday afternoon, when the hearing of a replevin suit will be taken up in which William W. Taylor et al are the plaintiffs and the Rev. J. W. Sanders, former pastor of the African Methodist church in Salt Lake City, is the defendant. It would appear that plaintiffs are the trustees of the church named, and that during Mr. Sanders' incumbency a one-story frame dwelling was built, as a parsonage, upon a lot owned by the church, at a cost of about $60. Quite recently Mr. Sanders was appointed pastor of a church at Albuquerque, New Mexico, and while making preparations for his departure to the new field he removed the house to a lot belonging to himself, situated in another quarter of the city. The church trustees, as plaintiffs in the present suit, hold that the "parsonage" (as it is termed) was erected out of the funds of the church, and claim the right to immediate possession. On the other hand the ex-parson insists that he erected the premises with private funds, and therefore has a perfect right to move it about where he pleases, and, in fact, do what he likes with it. Attorney Kroeger represents the plaintiffs and Jay and Sheets are the pastor's legal advisers.

The hearing was to have been had this morning, but, on application of counsel, has been continued till Monday.

MUSEUM IN PARTS.

The grand jury were in session for about an hour this morning. The court reporter of the News observed to Mr. C. R. Barrett, the foreman, "You have had a short sitting today." "Yes," replied he, "but we are getting through some work, I can tell you."

WHAT, SUE!

There are some more divorce suits pending and may be heard of publicly a few days hence.

NOTHING SAID NOW.

The question, "Who is to be the new Marshal?" seems to have been dropped altogether out of sight. Meanwhile, things in Marshal Parson's department go on as usual.
