TO DOWN IRELAND.

The Arrest of Tynan Regarded as a Plot Against That Country.

HOW IT WAS BROUGHT ABOUT.

The Pinkerton Agency Keeps a Full Report of all Secret Meetings in Chicago and New York.

LONDON, Sept. 15.—A representative of the Associated Press has made some inquiries at Scotland Yard as to the methods pursued in shadowing the prisoners and as to how it happened that the authorities were so well informed of the plans of the plotters in advance. It was stated there that the work had been done in the United States by the Pinkerton agency, who had for years forwarded every week the fullest reports of every meeting of any revolutionary body in the United States, particularly in Chicago and New York. The exchange maintained on golden terms in these cities is remarkably complete. There is a full file in Scotland Yard of all resolutions, documents, etc., pertaining to the gatherings, and full descriptions of the members and their actions.

Though the action of the police in these cases was precipitated, owing to the heavy drinking and foolish talking of Tynan, there has been the greatest possible activity on their part since, in order to round up the minor plotters who have been touched by Tynan and the critisms.

It is a notable fact that the police authorities of Paris express great scorn at the idea that there was any connection between the plot that Tynan may have concocted and an attempt upon the life of the czar. The elaborate tale of collusion between the Fenians and the continental anarchists and Russian Nihilists is laughed at in Paris, although the authorities of Scotland Yard are acting on the story as soon as they can get their own in order to influence the French authorities to surrender Tynan.

The suspicion is broadly hinted that the story of Tynan being implicated in a plot against the person of the czar was concocted for no other purpose than to appeal to the political sympathy of France towards Russia to effect consent in the extradition of Tynan.

Orders were given late afternoon that Edward Dell should be continuously watched, as it is feared his hard drinking will bring on an attack of delirium tremens. As an unfitted prisoner having plenty of money, he is allowed to enter everything he desires, except drinks.

The Irish leaders in London and Dublin regard the streets of the alleged dynamite posters with consternation. A project has been on foot ever since the adjournment of Parliament to obtain the release of Tynan and other political prisoners—a project which was encouraged by the recent action of the government in releasing from Portland prison Thomas Gallagher, Albert O. Whitehead, John Dillon and Thomas Devaney. It was intended to inaugurate a great demonstration in behalf of the prisoners, and an agitation in the press followed by a fierce attack on the House of Commons in January. The disclosures in connection with the arrests are considered unfavorable to the success of this plan.

In an interview the president of the Amnesty association said: "The arrests are a matter of indifference to us, except for their probable effect on the Irish movement. The followers of Tynan are the scum of Ireland, and this association will not raise a penny for their defense. It cannot compromise itself by any connection with them."

The Dublin Independent this morning says: "The so-called plot is more like a plot against Ireland. The release in France of the Irish political prisoners accused of dynamite offenses had no sooner called forth some protests in England than these sensational arrests in connection with a new plot are announced. We emphatically protest against the deliberate effort being made to turn the public opinion of Ireland and the unfortunate victims of tyranny."

The Associated Press has a dispatch from Montague-au-Mer, which says Tynan was taken before the police magistrate this afternoon and was remanded to the authorities, subsequently to the receipt of Thomas Henry Burke and Lord Frederick Cavendish, in Phœnix Park, Dublin, in 1882. Tynan is a young man of about twenty years, with a face like the czar, and is 5 feet 10 inches in height. He is of medium stature, with a stubbed patriot.

"As Poland, however, is in the same case in Europe as Ireland, it may not do to lean too much upon the suicidal chart on the eve of the czar's visit."

EXPENSIVE DELAY.

ST. PAUL, Sept. 15.—That delay is expensive when caused by actions intimidating those who would take their place in the employment of the United States circuit court of appeals in the case of the Empire Transportation company, appellants, vs. the Philadelphia & Reading Coal & Iron company. A shipment of coal sold and to be delivered within the time specified in the charter, and damages were asked, but the court holds the delay, caused by "the strike of the employes of the charterer, of which grievance or warning, and as organized and successful off at on their part to prevent by threats, intimidation and violence, other laborers who are willing to do so, from discharging a vessel," is excusable, and the charterer is not liable for damages.

The Leadville Strike.

LEADVILLE, Colo., Sept. 15.—The Miners' union publishes the following: "The business men have expressed a desire to see the strike settled, and to see it settled amicably. They have also expressed themselves as in favor of the $3 scale of wages. The Miners' union is ready and willing to assist in bringing about a settlement so that the mines may open up and prosperity once more return to the camp. In order to do this, to bring the city back to its old position, the Miners' union will agree to lease all of the down-town mines, paying to the owners thereof 25 per cent royalty. The union will drain these mines, operate them and pay the standard scale of $3. For the faithful performance of this the union agrees to sign a bond in the sum of $100,000.

He—the Silver Orator Is Maligned—at a Poetry with Gold.

SAN RAFAEL, Mo., Sept. 15.—Secretary Carlisle has written a letter on the subject of the maintenance of the parity between gold and silver. He says in part:

Silver coinage has been so limited by law and the policy of the treasury department that the amount minted has not been sufficient to drive the more valuable coin, gold, out of use and thus destroy the basis of our monetary system; and so long as the two metals are at unequal commercial value, at the ratio established by law, this limitation upon the coinage is, in my opinion, absolutely essential to the maintenance of their parity in effecting exchanges.

The implied obligation of the government to preserve the value of the money which it coins from its own edition and for its own use, and which it issues its citizens to receive in exchange for their property and in payment of their debts, is a plain one, and it is a matter of regret that any effort should be made to turn the public attention from the unfortunate results of such a policy.
