

FLOATING FRAGMENTS.

F. A. Pascoe wants a few good laborers. See advt.
 National song concert to-night, at the Salt Lake Theatre.
 The Directory of Ogden City and Weber County for 1883, is out.
 Those who attend the concert to-night will enjoy a rich treat. The eye will be gratified as well as the ear.
 Go by all means.
 Mr. Scott Anderson, at the request of several parties who have work of that class to do, has added the business of bill posting to that of sign, card and ticket writing.
 Bishop Hunter has been quite indisposed for several days. His household of friends will be pleased to learn that the respected veteran is recovering, being now able to leave his bed.
 On the 18th, at Anaconda, Montana, a young man named O'Keefe, shot and killed John O'Neil, aged 14 years. The parents of the murdered lad reside at Butte. The affair causes great excitement in the town where it occurred.
 The people of Cheyenne justify the lynching of the murderer Mosier last Sunday on the ground that the deed was done in a fit of passion and that the law would be brought to justice by the ordinary legal method. The excuse is not sufficient.

LOCAL AND OTHER MATTERS.

Primary Conference.—On Saturday, Sept. 29th, there will be a Conference of the Davis Stake Primary Association, at Farmington. It will open at 10 a.m.

Special Meeting.—We are requested by Chief Engineer Ottlinger to state that there will be a special meeting of the Salt Lake Fire Brigade at the Fireman's Hall, to-morrow evening, at 7.30 o'clock.

Ladies' Associations.—Sisters Anna D. H. Young and M. I. Hume have returned from a visit to the ladies' associations in Sanpete Stake. They were accompanied in their visit by Sister Minerva Snow.

This afternoon Sisters E. B. Wells and Helen Mar Whitney left for Nephi to attend Ladies' Conference at that place.

Relief Society Conference.—The Ladies' Relief Society Conference of this Stake was held to-day in the Fourteenth Ward Assembly Rooms. This morning the meeting was occupied in hearing reports from the several Branch Societies and remarks from Sister M. Isabella Horne.

This afternoon addresses were delivered by several prominent ladies.

An Escaped Lunatic.—Yesterday a demented man escaped from St. Mary's Hospital and has been wandering about ever since. He was only partially dressed, and had a slipper on one foot and a shoe on the other. Any one seeing him could not fail to understand his condition, and any person knowing his whereabouts should at once communicate the fact to the city police.

Ladies' Conference.—The Primary Conference of the Salt Lake Stake will be held in the Assembly Hall to-morrow morning, beginning at 10 o'clock. We are desirous to request the children to be prompt in attendance, and take their books with them.

The Young Ladies' Conference will be held at 2 o'clock in the afternoon, at the same place.

Sanitary Subject.—We learn that there will be a meeting at the City Hall next Wednesday evening, at 7.30 o'clock, of the City Council committee on quarantine and sanitary matters. The object is to hear suggestions from any of the citizens who have definite views as to the best measures to be adopted for the good of the city. All persons who have any ideas to offer in that line may consider themselves cordially invited.

Miller and Baker.—If there is a person in this city or adjacent who desires the services of a good baker and miller, they can obtain them by advancing the means to emigrate a man in that line of business and his family from England. The individual referred to would refund the amount expended for his own and family's passages in work. He belongs to an honest family connection, and we do not think there would be any risk in furnishing the necessary funds. Address, for further particulars, George Wager, 19th Ward.

Distressing Accident.—Brother William A. Warnock, of Monroe, Nev. Co., informs us of a very distressing accident that occurred at that place on the 13th inst. Emma Jane, the little daughter of Nephew J. and Sarah Bates, was climbing upon a chair when she accidentally fell backward into a kettle of boiling water that was standing upon the hearth. The poor child was fearfully scalded. She suffered extremely for 48 hours, at the end of which time she expired. Deceased, who was born Jan. 2, 1862, is described as an exceedingly bright and promising child. The parents, who were grief-stricken at the event, had the universal sympathy of the people of the town.

Last His Cow.—Day before yesterday Brother John Blake, of the 18th ward, lost a valuable cow by blowing, the byline having taken too much green lucern. He had only owned the animal a few days, having paid a round price for her.

The usual methods were resorted to for the purpose of giving the poor brute relief, but to no avail. Several years ago a country correspondent sent to the News a description of a specific for blowing in cows, which was published at the time. It has been since tried with the best results by numbers of people. It consists of simply pouring in the throat of the animal affected considerable quantities of butter-milk and ordinary saleratus, or taking

AN IMPORTANT ENTERPRISE.

SOMETHING IN WHICH THE CITIZENS ARE INTERESTED.

For some time surveyors have been observed operating near the mouth of City Creek Canyon and along the street on the "North bench," running parallel with the position formerly occupied by the old mud wall. Stakes have been driven along the locality, and the surveyors were evidently running a preliminary line. They were interrogated on the object of the movement by a representative of the News, but the answers were the reverse of elaborate, and as indefinite and unsatisfactory as the replies of a railroad official on the subject of a disaster on his road. Fortunately there were other sources of information, and from numerous individuals supposed to know, the news-hunter fished out sufficient facts to make a straight, and, we believe, reliable story.

We now understand that certain parties have in view the construction of a line of railroad through the upper part of the city, the initial point of which is the Utah Central depot, and the present main objective localities Camp Douglas and Red Butte Canyon.

According to the preliminary survey, it is proposed to run the road from the depot westward along North Temple Street, the line covering the aqueduct in the middle of the roadway. Reaching the head of the culvert it will curve northward and run up City Creek Canyon, crossing the stream, and after a sufficient elevation is attained, switching around to the south again along the side-hill above the 20th Ward ditch, coming out on the upper level a short distance below Prospect Hill.

At the east part of John Blakemore's place it will turn on to Wall street, which runs for a considerable distance parallel with the 20th Ward ditch, continuing on an easy, almost level, grade to Camp Douglas and Red Butte.

Of course, the building of this proposed railroad is contingent upon circumstances. The right-of-way has not yet been obtained, but we should think it will be, as the enterprise would be a general solid benefit to the city, although some local objections may possibly be raised.

We understand that, if nothing unlooked for occurs to hinder the consummation, the company proposing to construct the line will be incorporated within the next two or three weeks.

Among the objects of the road are probably the carrying trade connected with Camp Douglas, and to convey rock from Red Butte to this city for building purposes. It is stated that if rock can be laid down in town for say from $10 to $10.50 a cord, it will, on account of being cheaper, largely supersede brick and adobe in the construction of buildings; in its future growth Salt Lake would become essentially a stone city, and gradually assume that solid, substantial condition architecturally in harmony with its grand and grim surroundings in the heart of the Rocky Mountain.

There are some rumors regarding future objective points of the proposed road, among which is the Park, but that idea is enveloped at present in the dimness of uncertainty.

Should the road be built, and we believe it will, it will serve to dispel the season of comparative idleness that has for some time impregnated the business atmosphere, and for that reason will be hailed as a species of oasis by the mercantile fraternity of the community.

Missionaries Returned.—Yesterday afternoon we had a call from Elder Hyrum H. Evans, who returned from a mission to Great Britain on Monday last. He left here October 11th, 1881. On arriving at Liverpool he was appointed to labor in the London Conference, remaining in that field 18 months, operating with much pleasure and good success, baptizing 29 persons during that time. He was next appointed to preside over the Sheffield Conference, remaining in that position until his recent return.

Brother Evans went on a mission in 1876, but becoming somewhat discouraged, was released at his own desire. After his arrival home he was not satisfied with the step he had taken and made up his mind to return to the field and perform his duty. Consequently he received another call, to which he manfully responded by going abroad and doing a good work, returning with ample reason for being satisfied with his labors, and with the full confidence of his brethren.

We also were called upon by Elder Henry Leyland, who went to Great Britain at the same time, and also returned last Monday. Brother Leyland labored with good success for nine months in the Manchester Conference, in the Ashton and Oldham districts, where he baptized 14 persons. He was then appointed to labor in the Liverpool Conference, where, under his administration, 19 were added to the Church. He had a pleasant mission.

The Deadly Pistol.—We learn there was a shooting affray at A. G. Gregory's ranch on Lay Creek, Colorado, last Wednesday, between Jim Haley and Arthur Shookman, known as "Big Arthur." The particulars are very meagre, but it seems from those we have been able to gather they had some quarrel during the day, and on the range and on returning to the ranch went out to the stable to settle it with pistols. Arthur was shot three times and died Thursday, while Haley received two shots and is seriously wounded. Arthur is the man who exchanged shots with Constable Finley here in town about a month ago, and was generally believed to be a pretty hard case.—Rocky Mountain Journal.

United.—Elsewhere in this issue will be found a notice of the marriage of Mr. Charles Layton, son of President G. Layton, and Miss M. A. McMaster, daughter of Brother W. A. McMaster. A pleasant reception was held at the residence of the parents of the bride last evening, there being between 60 and 70 guests. We wish the worthy couple the usual compliments.

The Mammoth Card.—The mammoth card—comprising 500 square feet of surface—painted by Mr. W. C. Morris, the well known letterer and general house painter, is finished. It is a pictorial sign, the equal of which can not be seen elsewhere between the Missouri River and the Pacific Ocean. Mr. Tryon, who is an acknowledged judge, states that he never saw anything in the line equal to it for brilliancy and harmony of color, and we quite agree with him. It stamps Mr. Morris as a genuine artist in his line, and adds another to his many triumphs of skillful workmanship. Crowds of admiring people gather at the Old Elephant corner, Second South Street, to view it, and the encomiums expressed are plentiful and highly complimentary to the artist. We congratulate him on his success.

New Directory.—We acknowledge the receipt of a copy of the "Directory of Ogden City and Weber County, for 1883." We have taken pleasure in glancing over its contents, and unhesitatingly pronounce it a credit to the compilers and publishers, Messrs. Leo Hensell and Frank J. Cannon. In addition to the directory proper it includes a concise, clearly and tersely written historical sketch of Ogden and the County of Weber, giving a very readable narration of events in consecutive order. The story is comparatively free from the intolerable purchases common to volumes of that character, and gives a good deal of interesting information. The mechanical appearance of the book is also comely, and we hope the enterprise of the two gentlemen named will be rewarded by a liberal sale of their book.

At the Fair.—Among the many features of interest at the Primary Fair this afternoon, was the performance upon the organ of a piece of music composed by Miss Orle Childs, of the 13th Ward. The youthful composer, who played her own production in a manner quite skillful and pleasing, is a child of thirteen years. A slight omen of the musical future which our melody-loving community is destined to attain.

Among the visitors at the children's fair to-day, were two gentlemen from East India, who were quite delighted at what they saw, and made several purchases of articles on exhibition.

A SLENDID REMEDY FOR LUNG DISEASES.
 Dr. Robt. Newton, late President of the Eclectic College of the City of New York, and formerly of Cincinnati, Ohio, used Dr. Wm. Hall's Balsam very extensively in his practice, as many of his patients, long living, and restored to health by the use of this invaluable medicine, can amply testify. He always said that so good a remedy ought not to be considered merely as a patent medicine, but that it ought to be prescribed freely by every physician as a sovereign remedy in all cases of Lung diseases. It is a sure cure for Consumption, and has no equal for all pectoral complaints.
