

SUNDAY SCHOOL UNION MEETINGS.

Stake Workers Get Together and Discuss the Teaching of the Little Folks.

EVILS OF SUNDAY EXCURSIONS.

Members Take Hold of the Weekly Officers' and Teachers' Meeting.

The Salt Lake Stake Sunday School Union held its monthly meeting in the sixteenth ward chapel last evening. Elder C. R. Felt presiding, and Second Assistant Supt. Thos. J. Howells conducting the exercises. The opening song was "Beautiful Day," and "Our Mountain Home." Prayer was offered by Asst. Supt. Hugh Ireland of the Fifteenth ward.

Supt. Henry Gardner of the Twenty-second ward, gave an excellent report of his school, commending the teachers for their earnest and efficient efforts to reach the hearts of the children. Weekly teachers' meetings are held, in addition to which the teachers meet with their classes one night during the week and assist them in preparing their lessons, resulting in a marked improvement in preparation, which now averages 85 per cent.

In the superintendent's department a paper on the "Evils of Sunday Excursions" was read and discussed, the discussion being quite an expression in favor of the weekly half-holiday as a solution of the evil mentioned. The subject of home preparation by father and mother was the main theme in the class departments. In addition to which the matter of developing lessons was considered in the second intermediate department. The members of which agreed to meet in the Seventeenth ward hall on the evening of June 26, for a practical test. The subject of "Review" was considered in the primary department, and practical primary work on songs, stories, and rest exercises was done in the kindergarten department.

The secretary's department went into the duties of the secretary, the discussion being led by Sister Amy Smith, who presented a paper thereon. The chorister department on songs and marches in the Sunday school.

After singing "Peace be still" and benediction by Elder Samuel E. Hamer of Pioneer stake, the meeting adjourned until 8 p. m. Monday, July 15.

PIONEER STAKE.

The regular meeting of the Pioneer Stake Sunday School Union was held last night in the Seventeenth ward assembly room. Asst. Supt. W. A. Wetzel conducting the exercises. After singing and prayer by Elder Albert E. Paulson of the Sixth ward, the classes retired to their respective rooms, where class work was reviewed and instructions given by those in charge. In the superintendent's department the matter of weekly officers' and teachers' meetings was discussed, and the report made that 10 out of the 13 schools of the stake had unanimously agreed to meet weekly. The other three had not acted on the proposition.

On reassembling, the meeting was addressed by Elder J. H. Burrows of the general board, who offered a number of valuable suggestions and commended the workers on the good start they had made in the new stake. A motion that the present report of the stake M. L. A. be accepted at Salt Lake, was carried unanimously, and after singing, the benediction was pronounced by Elder C. H. Carlquist of the Fifth ward.

ENGLISH STAKE.

The English Stake Sunday School Union held its second meeting last night in the Twenty-first ward meeting-house. It was very gratifying to the superintendent to witness the interest shown in the Sunday school work which was made apparent from the large representation of the schools. After the usual order of procedure the classes recited and took up their department work and a very lively interest was manifested in every department. During the months of July and August the meetings will be held at 8 p. m.

HAS NOT YET RESIGNED.

Brigham S. Young Still a Member of the Board of Education.

For the reason that he will not leave the city before . . . Member Brigham S. Young withdrew his resignation from yesterday's meeting of the school board. He will tender it just previous to his departure. Besides the well known names mentioned last evening as probable candidates for Mr. Young's place, friends of Atty. W. R. Hutchings, who is leaving the city, are also mentioned.

At the special meeting yesterday, a resolution was passed providing that a bonus of Salt Lake's school population be taken this summer. It is deemed necessary in order to apportion the school tax.

A committee, consisting of Messrs. Doeghan, Chessman and Glaugue, was appointed by President Moyle to arrange for the last payment on the West Side High school. The installment amounting to $50,000, is due the city on July 1.

FOR DEATH OF A BOY.

Surprising Verdict in Case of the Drowning of Roy Larkin.

The jury which heard the evidence in the case of Anna M. Larkin vs. the Utah Beach company, which was tried in Judge Stewart's court, yesterday afternoon returned a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $6,000. The action was brought to recover $15,000 for the death of Roy Larkin, the 14-year-old son of plaintiff, who was drowned while bathing at Salt Lake on the night of July 2, 1903. The boy was in bathing with his cousin, Ross Wells, and Miss Mary Pomeroy, when they were overtaken by a heavy wind storm which swept them away from the pavilion. The young lady succeeded in getting back to the pavilion and left Ross Wells to help Roy, who was unable to swim. The two battled against the sea for an hour, and just about dawn was dawning. Mr. Wells was found floating on Antelope Island the next day, but it was several days before the body of Roy Larkin was found.

A GREAT SOAP SAVER

Every housewife knows it takes as much soap to soften the wash water as it does to do the washing. We want her to know that a teaspoonful of

DOCTOR A. A. STANLEY.

Interview With the Man Who Will Lecture on "The Parsifal" Tonight.

Dr. A. A. Stanley, professor of music and dean of the medical faculty at the University of Michigan and conductor of the great May festivals at Ann Arbor, arrived last night, from the east, and registered at the Knutsford. He was met down the Rio Grande road by Organist J. J. McClellan of the Tabernacle. Prof. Stanley's first pupil at Ann Arbor, and the two came on to Salt Lake together.

A "News" representative met Prof. Stanley at the hotel this morning and secured a very pleasant chat with him. He is on his way to Berkeley, Cal., to deliver 72 lectures on the subject of music before the summer school of the state university. He said that on his route at this point to lecture on "The Parsifal," the great Wagnerian work now attracting so much attention, and which is proving the means of engraving the Wagnerian cult firmly upon the ethics of music in this country. Prof. Stanley will lecture in the Tabernacle at 8:30 this evening, and the fact that he approves of the performance of the great dramatic opera in the United States will lend additional interest to his descriptions. It will be remembered that Madame Nordica, when here last summer, expressed herself as rather against the opera's introduction here, largely because of alleged injustice to colored voices with which to illustrate, and he will be assisted by Organist McClellan and Willard Wolfe, Prof. McClellan playing the "Parsifal" overture.

Prof. Stanley has been at the head of the music department of Michigan for 16 years, and did most of his studying previously in Germany. He said that there had been many Mormon students at Ann Arbor in the different departments, and all had proved good students and strong characters. Among the more notable Utah students in his department were J. J. McClellan, Miss Arvilla Clark and David Mann. There were others, but just at the moment he could not recall the names. There are 350 students in the various branches of music at Ann Arbor, some being from Europe.

When asked about the development of organ music in this country, Prof. Stanley said its appreciation was increasing, that more students than ever were in that specialty, and the public was coming more and more to enjoy that class of musical effort. Then the fact that organ manufacturers are coming to agree as to the exact location of stops is something upon which organists can justly congratulate themselves, for there have been no two organs alike in this respect, and an organist had to learn the stop locations for every organ he plays on. The professor thoroughly believed in the "echo organ" feature, the radical, convex pedal box, and a high wind pressure for the solo organ, stating his organ had seven inches pressure. "As to 'mixtures,' they are the hoodlums of the instrument," he said. "Whose principal virtue is that they make a noise, and the tendency has been to cut down the number of ranks, so that in some late organs they have practically disappeared."

As to playing orchestral or piano music on the organ, Prof. Stanley had his doubts about the ethical propriety of doing so. He favored rather the organ music for organs, as there is a style of composition specially adapted for this class of instrument, and the scores written for the piano and orchestra hardly fit into organ registration. There is an abundance of fine organ scores, so there is really no necessity for infusion of other instrumental scores into organ repertoire.

Dr. Stanley does not lay much stress upon musical degeneration. He says doctors

OREGON A LAND OF MUCH PROMISE

President Smith Says the Saints There Are Prosperous and Happy.

ARE BUILDING A TABERNACLE.

Residents of La Grande and Vicinity Have a Friendly Feeling Towards The "Mormons."

President Joseph F. Smith and party returned from a ten days' trip to Oregon on Sunday last, whither they went for the purpose of attending a conference of the Union states. The party left here June 10 and went direct to La Grande, where they arrived the morning of the 11th. The conference convened that morning at 10 o'clock, with a large attendance, which continued during the two days' session. The fact that the hall was entirely too small to accommodate the vast assemblage, emphasized strongly the need of a commodious meeting place, and before the conference adjourned these presenters expressed themselves in favor of pushing the new tabernacle now in course of erection, to a speedy completion. The foundation is now in and represents an expenditure of $3,000. To complete the structure will require from $5,000 to $6,000.

The meetings of the conference were addressed by a number of the bishops, the presidency of the stake being held by Elder L. J. Jordan, who was thoroughly united in their labors and have the entire confidence and good will of the people. That the people were interested in the conference, is evident from the fact that some came from Indian Valley ward and the Payette country in Idaho, some 200 miles distant, to attend the meetings. A Mutual Improvement conference was held on Sunday evening.

FRIENDLY FEELING EXISTS.

A pleasing feature of the meetings was the large number of non-Mormons in attendance, and the friendly spirit manifested by all. These presenters gave excellent attention and the business of the conference was transacted by unanimous vote. The La Grande papers gave good accounts of the meetings, calling attention to the fact that it was the largest conference ever held by the Latter-day Saints in Oregon, and to the great need for the early completion of the new tabernacle.

The Union stake is presided over by Elders F. S. Bramwell, C. W. Nibley and L. J. Jordan, who are thoroughly united in their labors and have the entire confidence and good will of the people. That the people were interested in the conference, is evident from the fact that some came from Indian Valley ward and the Payette country in Idaho, some 200 miles distant, to attend the meetings. A Mutual Improvement conference was held on Sunday evening.

VISIT TO PORTLAND.

On Tuesday President Smith and party took a drive of 12 miles to the south end of the valley and attended a meeting of the Union ward in Union, and recently the county seat. The meeting was addressed by Elders Bramwell and Nibley of the stake presidency, Elder Seymour B. Young, and President Smith. After the meeting the party went to Hood River and thence by steamer to Portland, sailing through the locks, the construction of which was superintended by William Young. The day in Portland was spent visiting the park, cemetery and other places of interest, the party while in the park standing on an eminence and getting a beautiful view of Mount Hood, Mount St. Adams and Mount St. Helens. Ordinarily such a view is not had in Portland, but, on this day, the clouds were a clear day and afforded them this rare opportunity, which was much appreciated. They left Portland for home Friday evening.

OREGON NEVER BETTER.

President Smith has visited Oregon a number of times, he says he has never seen the country as it looks today. There is an air of prosperity in all sections visited, and the people are thoroughly satisfied with the prospects before them. In La Grande there is a friendly feeling on the part of business men toward the Latter-day Saints and their relations are of the most agreeable character. The sugar works are on the outskirts of the city and the best fields surrounding them never looked more promising than they do at present. In a recent election La Grande won the county seat from Union, an older but much smaller town, but it is said that the election will be contested as the Union do not propose to submit willingly to the change. The visitors had a most delightful time, and return home well pleased with conditions in that section.

REPORT OF CONFERENCE.

As evidence of the friendly feeling existing toward the "Mormons" in that locality, the following report of the conference is reproduced from a recent issue of the La Grande Observer:

The quarterly conference of the Union states of the Latter-day Saints was held in the L. D. S. meetinghouse on Saturday and Sunday 11th and 12th, sessions being held at 10 a. m. and 2 and 7:30 p. m. of each day. The conference was the largest ever held by the Latter-day Saints in Oregon and gave evidence of the great need for the completion of the new tabernacle, that is now in course of erection, and from the present indications it will not be too long before it will be ready for occupancy.

WISE WORDS.

A Physician on Food.

A physician of Portland, Oregon, has views about food. He says: "I have always believed that the duty of the physician does not cease with treating the sick, but that we owe it to humanity to teach them how to protect their health especially by hygienic and dietetic laws."

"With such a feeling as to my duty I take great pleasure in saying to the public that in my own experience and also from personal observation I have found no food to equal Grape-Nuts, and that I find there is almost no limit to the great benefit this food will bring when used in all cases of sickness and convalescence."

"It is my experience that no physical condition favors the use of Grape-Nuts. To persons in health there is nothing so nourishing and acceptable to the stomach especially at breakfast to start the machinery of the human system on the day's work. In cases of indigestion I know that a complete breakfast can be made of Grape-Nuts and cream, and I think it is necessary not to overload the stomach at the morning meal. I also know the great value of Grape-Nuts when the stomach is too weak to digest other food."

"This is written after an experience of more than 20 years, treating all manner of chronic and acute diseases, and the letter is written voluntarily on my part without any request for it." Name given by Postum Co., Battle Creek, Mich.

large but will be well filled as soon as it is finished. Notwithstanding the busy season of the year Saturday morning saw the premises and street adjacent to the church well occupied by teams and conveyances of people who had left their work for a day, in order to take part in and listen to the teachings of this conference. There were representatives present from all the wards in the valley, from Baker City, Emmett, Brannwell and Indian valley in Idaho, the representation being also the most complete of any conference ever held in Oregon. President Joseph F. Smith and Elder Seymour B. Young of Salt Lake city were also present and spoke at each of the sessions.

Considerable church business was attended to, including the sustaining of the Church officers by the vote of the people and the passing of a resolution that we continue the work on the tabernacle and push it to completion as fast as possible. Reports of some of the wards and organizations were also submitted, showing the steady growth and improvement of the conditions in all the wards and organizations.

Many interesting topics and doctrines were treated by the speakers and were listened to by appreciative audiences, and although the day was warm and the house crowded to its utmost capacity there was no uneasiness shown by the audiences when the session passed the time limit of two hours, and all seemed anxious to hear the discourses to the last word.

The subjects of some of the discourses were "the charity we should exercise for the faults of others, the beneficial teachings of Mormonism," the world's ignorance of Mormonism, maintenance and care of children, duty and law of preparation, resurrection and marriage."

The beautiful singing was a noticeable and pleasant feature of the entire conference and shows the result of a great deal of careful training and study on the part of the choir and its director, Mr. W. K. Davis.

It is to be regretted that the Latter-day Saints have not a larger place in which to meet, as many people went away before the time of commencement of both the Sunday sessions, not being able to obtain seats or even get inside. The new tabernacle is certainly needed and its completion is anxiously awaited.

The reception and dance given at the post last night by Capt. and Mrs. J. E. Woodward in honor of the newly arrived officers, was a brilliant and delightful affair. The amusement hall and officers' club were used for the event, and both were elaborately decorated with the national and regimental colors while Filipino curios and many other oriental nick-nacks together with palms, vines and flowers, contributed to make the scene effective. Refreshments were served in the officers' club which was especially attractive in its unique and tasteful decorations. The hosts were assisted by a number of the officers and their ladies, and also a number of friends from the city. A large number of city guests were present, who, with the fore people, numbered something like 200.

CONTINUAL STRAIN.

Many men and women are constantly subjected to what they commonly term "a continual strain" because of some financial or family trouble. It wears and disfigures the body both mentally and physically, affecting their nerves badly and bringing on liver and kidney ailments, with the attendant evils of constipation, loss of appetite, sleeplessness, low vitality and dependency. They cannot, as a rule, get rid of this "continual strain," but they can remedy its health-detracting effects by taking frequent doses of Green's August Flower. It tones up the liver, stimulates the kidneys, insures healthy bodily functions, gives vim and spirit to one's whole being, and eventually dispels the physical or mental distress caused by that "continual strain." Trial bottle of August Flower, 25c; regular size, 75c. At all druggists.

PE-RU-NA CURES CATARRH OF KIDNEYS EVERY TIME.

Mr. George King.

MR. GEORGE KING, Deputy Sheriff of Rensselaer Co., N. Y., for years was a well known merchant of Troy. In a letter from No. 45 King St., Troy, N. Y., he writes:

"Peruna cured me from what the doctors were afraid would turn into Bright's Disease, after I had suffered with catarrh of the bladder and kidney trouble."

"Peruna is a blessing to a sick man. Eight bottles made me a well man and were worth more than a thousand dollars to me. I cannot speak too highly of it. It is now four years since I was troubled, and I have enjoyed perfect health since."—George King.

Mr. Joseph Mackin, 112 Lockwood St., Providence, R. I., writes: "As I saw so much about your remedy in the papers, and I had doctored a year without getting any better, I thought I would give Peruna a trial. I bought a bottle of it seven months ago and to my surprise I felt much better. The doctors called my ailment catarrhal trouble and kidney trouble. I took seven bottles of your remedy and it cured me."

If you do not derive prompt and satisfactory results from the use of Peruna, write at once to Dr. Hartman, giving a full statement of your case, and he will be pleased to give you his valuable advice gratis.

Address: Dr. Hartman, President of The Hartman Sanitarium, Columbus, Ohio.
