THE GUARD'S OUTING

Utah's Boys in Blue Make a Splendid Showing Today.

MUSIC, MARCH AND CHEERS.

Excursion to Saltair, Where the Afternoon Was Being Most Pleasantly Spent at Press Time.

Utah's National Guardsmen presented a very imposing and creditable appearance this afternoon, as with martial tread and colors flying they marched through the principal streets of the city on the way to the depot to take the train for Saltair, where they will remain until a late hour this evening.

The unknown column of marchers which started at the R. Y. Trust company's building on Commercial street to the music of Ogden's famous band and a similar excellent organization from Provo, was much admired by the many hundreds of people who lined the streets and at intervals given hearty cheers. Much to the chagrin and regret of the local companies the First Regiment band did not turn out although it could have done so if it had, its presence would have added materially to the success of the occasion.

The different organizations—both local and visiting—began their rendezvous on Commercial street at 12:30 from after one they lined up for the parade, marched east to State street, up that thoroughfare to South Temple, along that street to East Temple, south to Second South, and thence west to the Rio Grande depot, where they took the 2:15 train for the lake. The men were kept in a body until Saltair was reached, where they again lined up, stacked their arms and were dismissed to spend their time in such amusement as they should see fit. Concerning the rifle practice Colonel Pace, commander of the regiment, issued the following order:

Captain G. W. Gibbs is detailed as in charge of rifle practice, and will see that the orders relating thereto are carried out. Upon the scores presented to him by the scorekeepers, he will decide which company team has made the best score, and which individual of the successful teams is the best shot. For target practice, captains of companies intending to take part will send in their rosters each to his respective company team, each member of which will be allowed one sighting shot and ten shots for a score. The commanding officer and one surgeon will be detailed to keep the score at the firing point, and one surgeon and one private to the target in the morning. As far as practicable, those men should be selected from companies and firing teams who are carefully kept by the keepers and noted over to them during the Fall drills. All officers and men will be allowed the number one to select a team. Target practice will begin at 2 p. m., and be held at the 200-yard range.

An additional order was also promulgated, as follows:

The command, as a body, will return to the city at 5 p. m. today. Individuals may be dismissed to return earlier on or by permission of their captains, having taken the necessary precaution for the security of their arms and equipment.

If circumstances permit, a dress parade will be held at sunset.

The Cache Valley companies were represented, as was also the Brigham City organization. The Ogden artillery, and troop, both with many friends, Captain Sandere's Farmington company, all of the local companies, those of the Provo organization, portions of those stationed at Mt. Pleasant and Richfield and possibly some others were in the line of uniformed marchers which made such a splendid showing and which, in case of necessity, would undoubtedly see to it that Utah's interests were successfully protected against any invading or local foes.

Child Poisoned.

Little Hazel Anderson, about 11 years old, daughter of A. J. and Isabella Anderson, was playing with some more children in the orchard belonging to Elizabeth Matthews, and while there she quite freely of some early pears. In about half an hour after partaking of them she began to feel quite sick at the stomach. Her aunt May was with her and immediately gave her some soda water in order to produce vomiting, which undoubtedly saved her life. After vomiting she was thrown into a violent fit and remained unconscious for one hour. Her father was called home immediately and administered all antidotes that he thought necessary and eventually produced circulation and the child appeared well enough to be taken home. In the meantime Mr. Anderson thought it necessary to consult Dr. Dunn at Tooele, in regard to the child's condition and started late in the evening, taking some fruit from the tree referred to with him. After explaining the circumstances to the doctor, he promptly decided that it was a severe case of poisoning resulting from the spraying of the tree. The doctor stated that in his opinion the fruit more or less partook of the poison and was dangerous to the public, and he did not approve of the law. The little girl is somewhat better. Mr. Anderson thought it his duty to publish the circumstance in order to caution the public against eating suspected sprayed fruit.—Tooele Transcript.

Music Reading At Night.

Notwithstanding the fact that Salt Lake is now renowned for her musical talent, the inducements and privileges offered to the public still go on. Prof. George Careless, who has been an ardent worker in Salt Lake's musical circles for years, now comes to the front and makes known his intention of organizing classes for the study of sight reading, thus helping those who have good voices but are deficient in reading music, to become able to read their music at sight. Prof. Careless is to be commended in his new departure and it is to be hoped that the musical people of this city will appreciate his efforts in this direction by having their names enrolled as members of his classes.

UNPRECEDENTED DROUTH.

Great Damage to Crops In Beautiful and Centerville on Account of the Continued Dry Spell.

A portion of Davis county is now suffering severe loss on account of the continued dry spell and scarcity of irrigating water. Never before in the history of that section has the condition in that regard been as bad as at the present time.

The trouble is the direct result of the small amount of snow which fell in the mountains early last winter. During the latter part of the winter there was an abundance of snow but as is always the case when it does set that time of the year it did not lack. So when warm weather came it melted quickly and ran to the lower levels.

East and South Bountiful and Centerville comprise the principal part of the drouth stricken region and in all parts of this section trees are apparently dying and prematurely ripened fruit dropping on the ground and rotting. The damage to early crops is very slight. An average yield of wheat has been harvested and the same is true as regards early vegetables. The great one will come from the dropping fruit, shriveling corn and blighted water melons.

West Bountiful being provided with numerous flowing wells is not so badly situated. But many of the wells are drying up and some of them have practically ceased flowing at all. Those which continue to give forth large streams are well patronized by the people of Centerville and East and West Bountiful, who spend most of their time in hauling water to irrigate their drouth stricken vegetation. The water is paid for at the rate of one cent per barrel and one well alone sells three hundred barrels per day.

Old Time Sociable.

An entertainment and good old time sociable has been arranged for tomorrow evening, August 20th, at the Eighth ward meeting house. The proceeds will go to the ward Sunday school. An interesting program of twelve numbers has been arranged, consisting of solos, duets, recitations and mandolin and guitar selections, some of the leading talent of the different wards of the city has been secured.

The admission is 15c, and 10c, and it includes ice cream and cake.

Republican Primaries.

The new system—in this section—of conducting political primaries was put in motion this afternoon under the auspices of the Republican county committee. Beginning at one o'clock primaries were held in every ward of the city, and each precinct of the county. The polls will remain open until nine p. m. and soon after their close it will be known who the delegates to the county convention which meets on Tuesday next will be. Strikers bearing the names of would-be delegates were so thick about the polling places of the city as forest leaves after an autumn windstorm.

GEORGE CRIPS'S DEATH.

"Insanity, Starvation and Thirst," the Causes Stated by the Jury.

Of the Demise of the Sheepherder Who Was Supposed to Have Been Killed by Rudy and Another North Point Boy.

Word was brought to this place August 4, at 10 a.m., that the remains of George Crips had been found that morning near Walter Miller's ranch, three miles from here. George was about 30 to 35 years of age, and stood about five feet five inches, was very stout built, weighing 200 pounds. He was a native of England. He had for some time past been engaged in herding sheep for a number of sheepowners of Kanarra.

On July 3 he left a herd of sheep belonging to George A. Williams & Brothers, for whom he had been herding, and began roaming around over the mountains, screaming and yelling, saying that one was after him to kill him. He called quite frequently at sheep camps and duties, but would refuse food and bedding when offered him. He remained in this condition for some time until sheepowners and other people became frightened. He was then arrested and immediately taken before the probate judge and examined as to his being insane. The doctors pronounced him insane without and the judge decided that he was not a fit subject for the asylum. He was therefore brought back to Kanarra and remained with R. H. Williams the most of the time while in town.

On July 22 he left town again. No one knew where he had gone. It was reported that he was seen on July 23rd about one-half mile from where he was found dead. The body was found by a boy of Mr. Marie's while out hunting for a cow. The body was badly decomposed, indicating that he had been dead at least ten days, but was untouched by any of the wild beasts or buzzards. He was lying on his left side in a natural position with his jumper hung over a sagebrush to protect him from the sun.

A coroner's jury, composed of W. W. Taylor, George A. Williams and W. C. Reeves, was empaneled and an inquest held over the remains, the verdict being insanity, starvation and thirst. The remains were interred Sunday afternoon, August 4th, about two rods from where they were found.

Crips came to this country as a tramp three years ago last March. He has lately been identified as a sheepherder, who was supposed to have been murdered by Rudy and another boy near Irongrain camps, in Salt Lake county. No blame can be laid to the citizens of Kanarra, as they would gladly have rendered him assistance should he accept.

NEPHI NEWS.

Cattle Thieves at Work.—G. P. Cutling Exposes.

Cattle rustlers are again at work in this section and their operations are becoming more and more bold. Last Tuesday, on the range south of Wales, Sanpete county, two men heavily armed had rounded up 150 head of range cattle and were moving them east and north.

Traveling Passenger Agent Warren, of the Santa Fe road, who was touring in that country, noticed the operations of the men and reported it at Manti. A posse was at once organized and started in pursuit of the men. They were arrested at Loma on Wednesday and proved to be Henry Malgren and Louis McCarthy, a son of Tom McCarthy well known in this section. The men were taken before Judge Oliver Christensen, and arraigned on a charge of driving cattle off the range and not returning them. Judge Chappell of this city, appeared for the prosecution, and D. D. Houtz, of Provo, for the defense.

Judge Chappell soon ascertained that the offense was committed in Sanpete county and dismissed the case. The men were at once rearrested on a warrant charging them with grand larceny. They were arraigned, pleaded not guilty and gave bail in the sum of $1,000 each for their appearance in Wales, today at 2 o'clock for a preliminary hearing.

North of here two men in the employ of the Nutter-Homer outfit, that leases the range in Strawberry valley, branded 112 head of the syndicate brand and drove them to Clear Creek station on the Rio Grande Western, they engaged cars for Omaha. Tim Calver, one of Nutter's foremen, discovered the absence of the men and cattle and got to Clear Creek in time to stop the shipment, but before he could secure the arrest of the men they had ridden off going in the direction of the bad lands, west of Lake Fork.

The Union Pacific railway has discharged all of its section hands, and hereafter the work of keeping up the roadbed, tracks and right of way will be performed by three gangs of men, kept moving up and down the road on work and boarding trains. This is in pursuance of a policy of retrenchment adopted by the officials of the road.

The laying off of these men works quite a hardship, not only on the men but also on the towns in which they reside. At Nephi the cutting off the monthly pay checks will be felt in the total of each month's business, but at Mona, Moro and the smaller towns north and south of us the effect will be even more severe.

THE VALTON PRATT CASE.

Very Conflicting Testimony Given—Story of the Complaining Witness.

This afternoon the police court has the case the City against V. M. Pratt for striking Rose Vickers, in dispute of.

Miss Vickers testified that she was in the house which she was renting from the mother of the defendant, Mr. Pratt came into the room and presented a pistol to her. She tell she would not have any ten days' notice, and he struck her twice. Her father then came into out of the house. Nobody struck his father, and he was in his right mind.

Mr. Vickers, an old man of seventy years, said that when the defendant came to his house he was in a drunken condition. What he said to his daughter he did not hear, but he saw the pistol in question.

Mr. Pratt took the stand. He went to serve a notice of an eviction upon the complaining witness. What he said to her—the visit Miss Vickers testified was made in his absence—he denied at this time and the matter stuck him in the jaw. He denied himself to her when she came to his house to see him with the intention of eliciting sympathy.

Frank Kittredge was placed on the stand to corroborate such testimony as Mr. Pratt had given.

Mr. Pratt, at a late hour, was completely vindicated by the court ordering the dismissal of the case against him.

There were a number of hangers of prostitutes, drunks, etc., and a number of continues over.

POLITICAL.

J. H. Harris respectfully announces to the Republicans of the Third judicial district of the State of Utah that he will be a candidate for the office of District Judge, subject to the nomination by the Republican judicial convention, and ballot.

Republican County Convention.

A convention of the Republicans of Salt Lake county is hereby called to meet at the 12th ward assembly hall, Salt Lake City, Utah, on Thursday, August 22, 1895, at 10 a. m., for the purpose of electing 107 delegates to the Republican Territorial convention, to be held in Salt Lake City, August 27th, pursuant to the call of the Territorial Republican committee, also to elect 107 delegates to the Third judicial district convention, to be held in Salt Lake City, September 18th, 1895, pursuant to the call of the Territorial Republican committee; also to nominate candidates for Representatives and five Senators for the Salt Lake county district; also to elect a County Republican committee; also to nominate a County Superintendent of schools, provided, however, that only delegates from precincts outside of Salt Lake City are allowed to vote on this proposition.

By order of the County Republican Committee.

SAM'L H. HILL,
Acting Chairman.
JOHN T. ALTON,
Secretary.

To the First Precinct Women.

To the Republican ladies of the First precinct: There seems to be a lack of enthusiasm on the part of the ladies of this precinct to register.

The courts have decided that you are voters. The Constitutional Convention has given you that greatest and highest boon of an American citizen, viz., the ballot. You certainly are derelict in the duties you owe to your country, your neighbor, your family and to yourselves to slip throw this greatest of all privileges of American liberty to the winds. Have we not had enough of Democratic misrule? Look around you, ye men and women; look upon the mechanic and laborer; behold the suffering for the necessaries of life—all from only three years of Democracy.

Lay aside false pride and false modesty and see that your names are placed on the registry list and help swell the majority that the grand old party of true Americanism will roll up this fall, so you can truly say, "We helped to make Utah, the youngest and grandest star in the Union of the United States, Republican."

Register and see that your neighbor registers for the great cause of protection and the coinage of silver—16 to 1.
