NEWS OF THE WEST.

The Notorious Outlaws, Evans and Morrill, Still Dodging the Searchers.

GHASTLY FIND OF A DEAD BODY.

Beware of Counterfeit Goods—Discovery of the Skeleton of a Stone Indian Squaw, Etc.

In Tucson, Ariz., pretty girls are employed as waiters in the saloons.

At Yuma, Ariz., a politician has sued the Western Union for $10 for delivering him an insulting telegram.

At Florence, Colo., the war between the oil companies has knocked another 5 cents off the price of petroleum.

Five hundred umbrella trees have just been planted along the streets of Phoenix, Ariz., addition. It some times rains there.

Robert Smith, the proprietor of the Rock Springs (Wyo.) Miner, is contemplating the publication of the Miner as a daily paper.

At Trinidad, Colo., the Sunflower creamery is run to its full capacity, and Trinidad papers urge the establishment of more creameries.

There are good prospects that the town of Lander will soon be lighted by an light in place of incandescent, as now, says the Gazette of that town.

Silver City, N. M., has lost its postmaster, Harry W. Lucas, who suddenly disappeared three weeks ago. It is feared he has met with foul play.

Lander, Wyo., last week, defeated a proposition to bond the district to build a new school house. Hard times and high taxation defeated the bond proposition.

A Somerville, Colo., correspondent reports only one farmer and eight cows wintering at the Uncompahgre, the scene of ex-Senator Brown's bonanza. They expect a lively season when the snow melts.

La Jara puts in its claim for the prettiest bed and pork packing establishment in the San Luis valley. The La Jara people claim to be the best hog raisers in the valley.

More than 1,000 rabbits were killed in the Arkansas valley within a hundred miles of Pueblo last week. The farmers now begin to realize the danger their young crops were threatened with next spring.

Canon City, Colo., apples were in such great demand that all that buyers lugged for sweeps and Ben Davis sold at $4.25@$4.50 a barrel. Too much fruit will have a tendency to make this year.

Leadville, Colo., has 67,027 acres of placing land assessed at $1.31 an acre, and 172,684 acres of agricultural lands assessed at $0.10 an acre. The total land assessment is $227,855.

Northern Arizona will make a great display of its ornamental cactus and turpitine wood at the Milwaukee Fair. The Rose woods of Arizona will cut an important figure in manufactures before long.

Medicine Bow range of mountains, Wyoming, are destined to be a scene of busy mining excitement next spring. At Rawlins several thousand ounces of gold placed on sale have been up and down last month by capitalists.

Brighton, Colo., farmers have generally agreed that grain farming must be abandoned and their land be used for diversified crops. The profitable experience of C. H. Kennedy, of Brighton, in raising onions, squashes and other small crops has opened the farmers' eyes.

Needy people severely comment on the payment by J. Dooley of the estate of the sum of $3,000,000 of counting notes of his son-in-law, Prince Colonna, when one-half that sum of Newark money would have built irrigation canals sufficient to make the state prosperous.

Fort Collins papers dispute Denver's estimate of their million output and assert that Larimer county farmers market their fat stock in Chicago early in spring and realize much above market price. They will realize not less than $250,000 this year from grain raised stock and hogs.

John Northister, an aged and decrepit German, who arrived in Boise city several days ago from Salt Lake, has applied to the city for assistance, says the Boise Statesman. Northister says he walked most of the way from Salt Lake. He has arrived badly frozen and he is almost dead from exposure.

Trinidad, Colo., is hopefully looking forward to the commencement before March 1, of the Trinidad and San Luis Valley railroad. This is said to be a section of the Rock Island road now graded from Liberal, Kans., to Emery Gap on the Fort Worth road. The Rock Island is certainly nearer to Trinidad.

An exchange says there is great anxiety among the quicksilver miners at New Almaden, Cal., lest the Wilson tariff bill should be adopted and all work put out of work. A wagonload of quicksilver quietly left the mine for San Jose has been signed by all the men at the mines, as well as at similar mines in California and forwarded to Washington.

At Missoula, Montana, on Saturday night flames were seen leaping from the building occupied by the Missoula Steam Laundry. The alarm was responded to quickly by the fire department, but the frame structure was a mass of flames before the engine arrived, and nothing could be done except to protect surrounding property. Destruction of the building and contents was complete. The property was valued at $4,500 and was insured for $2,000 only the previous week.

Some woodchoppers on Dr. Brewer's ranch, eight miles south of Orico, Col., unearthed the dead body of a man lying in the woods on Tuesday. The man had no clothes on above the waist and his throat was cut from ear to ear. In his right hand was a dirty pocketbook and he covered with blood and it is supposed he committed suicide. From letters on the body it is learned that the man's name was Holton. He was a laborer on the ranch. No cause is known for the suicide.

During the installation ceremonies of the Knights of Pythias at Pueblo, Colo., a few nights ago, a man named Martin Lewis, suddenly fell to the floor in a convulsion which strongly resembled those attending the description of poison falls the system. He was assisted from the hall and an emetic administered which he vomited copiously to be able, with assistance, to walk to the hotel and retire. He attributes the attack to eating some spoiled meats on the cars, having left Sacramento without supper.

The Sundance (Wyo.) Gazette says: John Anderson informed us he recently found the skeleton of a Sioux Indian squaw in the vicinity of a deserted cow ranch on Donney creek. The remains were at the time of death wrapped in several blankets and calicoes of this a buffalo robe. All these things had decayed. On the robe were found eight metal tenpenny nails in the figure seven dice. There was also about a peck of glass beads found with the skeleton.

A dispatch from Fort Collins, Colo., says the short course in agriculture promises to be a great success from the start, and a large number is going to attend from other states. The attendance upon these lectures is voluntary, but a record is made of the necessity of the college of each person taking the course. The function of the college is extended to those taking the work of the short course, the intermediate work is extended there desiring to work along special lines in all subjects pertaining to agriculture.

Went with a traitor sentence for the notorious outlaw and jail breaker, Evans, Merrill Smith's posse reached Pine Ridge, on Tuesday afternoon, having abandoned all hope of finding their men on the north side of Kings river, where they had been searching a full week. A report was started which severely threatened a young society. It says that Evans and Morrill were seen in Squaw valley last Thursday. This place is south of Kings river, near the Tulare county line. According to the report Evans and Morrill stopped at the house of a man named Cornell and after taking Evans' horse saddled herself and Morrill had a rifle and a shotgun. They had the appearance of good treatment and plenty to eat.

If You Have
Scrofula, Sores, Boils, or any other skin disease, take
AYER'S SARSAPARILLA
the Superior
Blood-Purifier
and Spring Medicine.
Cures others,
will cure you

Walter L. Price & Company
Continental Market,
Poultry, Fruits, Vegetables
Highest prices paid for poultry and produce
Orders promptly filled.

GRAND
CHARTER
OAK
STOVE LEADS
ALL OTHERS
Uniform Excellence,
Superior Workmanship
and Perfect Operation.
Will do better work
with less fuel and last longer than any other cooking apparatus
made.
SOLD BY
Z. C. M. I.
AND ALL THEIR BRANCHES.
THE BEACON BOOK MANUFACTURING HOUSE OF THE WEST
BECKTOLD & CO.,
GENERAL
Book Manufacturers
and Book Binders.
202-212 Pine Street, ST. LOUIS.
Blank Books, Stationery, Lithographing, Engraving, Printing, Binding, Ruling, Paper Ruling, Stamping, Embossing, Lithographic Stones, Etc.
Binders to the Trade.
Binders to the Trade.
Binders to the Trade